ENROLLMENT INCREASE HAS BEEN ANNOUNCED

60 Men And 345 Women In Attendance: Up 36 Over Last Years Enrollment

With a number of late registrants still expected to enroll, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, announces an enrollment of 405 students at the end of the regular registration period at the college. The figure is an increase over the 369 students attending a year ago.

Figures released by Miss Gertrude L. O'Brien, college registrar, show 60 men and 345 women in attendance. This total is composed of 133 seniors, 61 juniors, 169 sophomores, 20 graduate students, 5 special students, and 77 freshmen. The latter figure is 26 percent above the number of freshmen enrolled in 1952-53.

Additional students are also expected when registration is held in November for the second quarter of the college year. At that time, undergraduate men will be accepted for a full program of shop and drawing courses. Men and women will also enter the graduate program at that time.

Of Stout's student body, 604 students are from Wisconsin. The remainder come from 15 other states and from Ecuador, Japan, Formosa, Guam, Hawaii, and the Philippines. It is believed that the $200 out-of-state tuition now being required of non-resident students is helping to build Stout as it curtailed the number of out-of-state enrollees.

Veteran enrollment at the college totals 111, of whom 91 are receiving 11 benefits. Of this group, 54 veterans are attending under Public Law 50, enacted during Korean hostilities. Public Law 346 is still aiding 29 veterans. An additional 5 are enrolled under Public Law 16 and 3 more under Law 894.

Highlighting Stout's 62nd year of educational endeavor is the prospect of occupying the new college library in November. This $650,000 structure, housing 60,000 volumes, is of modern design and is the most modern arrangement. The building will contain such long-desired facilities as a reserve reading room, a memorial room, seminar rooms, a textbook exhibit room, an audio-visual room, and book repair center.

Plans are also underway for construction of a $700,000 dormitory to house freshman girls attending Stout. Part of the food service of the college will be located in the dormitory building. In other buildings on campus, extensive renovation and equipping are being carried on.

These improvements include new student teaching laboratories, a new clothing and textile center, and a revamped nursery school. Improved lighting is being installed in many laboratories. New laboratory and classroom equipment has also been purchased.

Three new teachers have been appointed to the college faculty. Arnold G. Nelson, who is completing his doctorate at the University of Minnesota, will be assistant professor of English. He holds a Bachelor of Arts from Hamline University and a Master of Arts from the University of Minnesota. He has taught at Hamline, the University of Minnesota, and the University of Wisconsin's Freshman Center at New Richmond.

Nelson was former editor of a nationally-circulated non-denominational Sunday School paper and has been a free-lance contributor of magazine articles. He is completing his doctorate on an advanced graduate fellowship of the American Council of Learned Societies.

Instructor in the clothing department of Stout's Division of Home Economics is Mary Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Clark of Menomonee. A graduate of Menomonee high school, she received both her Bachelor of Science and Master of Science from Stout. She has also taken work at Michigan State college.

Miss Clark taught in the schools of Niles, Michigan, Eau Claire, Barron, and Whitefish Bay. In addition to service with the American Red Cross, she engaged in commercial work in Minneapolis and Philadelphia. During the past year, Miss Clark has been studying clothing marketing with the Dayton Company of Minneapolis.

Assistant librarian at the college is Robert A. Elftmann. He holds a Bachelor of Arts from the University of California and Master's degrees in Science and in Arts (Library Science) from the University of Minnesota. Mr. Elftmann is now engaged in advanced graduate work at Minnesota. He comes to Stout after being librarian at State Normal and Industrial College, N. D.

Mr. Elftmann has also been principal of Ojess, Minnesota, high school and has held library positions at the University of California, the New York Public Library, and the biological-medical division of the University of Minnesota library. He is a past commander of the Odessa American Legion post and was Department Chairman of the Minnesota American Legion's Committee on Recreation.

Employment opportunities for Stout Institute alumni continue to be excellent. By last June, every home economics graduate had already been placed. With very few exceptions Stout's home economics graduates accepted teaching positions in Wisconsin. Salaries for first-year teachers without previous experience ranged from $3,000 to $4,000 for nine or ten-month positions.

Every industrial education graduate of the 1952-53 class has also been placed. Many have accepted teaching positions, while others have been attracted by the economic opportunities of industry. Salaries for this year's Stout industrial education graduates

STOUT GRADS ARE JUDGES IN FORD CONTEST

Recent naming of 30 judges who selected winners in the nation-wide 1953 Industrial Arts Awards competition of the Ford Motor Co. indicates a high percentage of Stout Institute graduates among the judges.

According to the announcement which named the judging teams, each of the 30 persons was "carefully selected on the basis of experience, competency, and general reputation in the division he will judge." Representatives of both education and industry, from all geographic areas of the United States, are included on the team.

The three-men teams were assigned to each division of the Industrial Arts Awards. Judges reported to Dearborn, Michigan, and remained three days to evaluate thousands of entries from the nation's schools. Director of Educational Services for the entire Ford industry is Dwayne Barich, a Stout Institute graduate of 1953.

Other Stout Institute graduates among the judges include Philip W. Ruel, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout; E. L. Barnhart, assistant industrial arts at Kansas State college; Roy A. Radtke, supervisor of industrial arts for the Milwaukee public schools; E. D. Meyer, associate professor of industrial arts, Oregon State college; H. P. Gerber, chairman of industrial and fine arts at Northern State Teachers college; Claude E. Nihart, supervisor of vocational and practical arts for the Los Angeles schools; and George Bowers, engineering sales representative of the Carborundum Corp.

New members of the National Advisory committee for the Awards have also been announced. According to the statement which named committee members, "all are prominent in the field of industrial arts." Of the eight new members from throughout the United States, three are graduates of Stout Institute.

These graduates include E. L. Barnhart, E. D. Meyer, and Ira C. Madden, who recently won the "Teacher of the Month" citation of the Detroit Teachers association. He also holds the "Master Teacher" award of the Michigan Industrial Education association.

NOTICE

The date of the 1953 Homecoming has been set for October 10. A parade has been planned for the afternoon. In the evening the Stout vs. Stevens Point game will be followed by a dance in the high school gym.

A STOUT COED WORKS IN PRINT SHOP

ELLEN RUSSELL is pictured above operating a linotype machine. She sets type for the Stoutonia which is routine work for her.

TURKEY WILL BE SUBJECT OF CONVO

The Stout Institute Assembly Lyceum Committee will open its fall series of convocation programs this Wednesday, September 23, 1953 with a speaker, "Where Does Turkey Stand?"

Mr. Dosogru, who is of Kurdish descent, was educated at Robert College, the American University at Istanbul. Following his college education, Mr. Dosogru studied political science at Ankara University. Since that time he has been active in the newspaper business.

He served as representative for Ankara on the United Press and as a representative for Reuters, the British News Service. He served on the ECA Information Office at Ankara and wrote many articles reflecting the effects of the Marshall Plan in Turkey. He was editor of the monthly magazine of the United Nation's Human Rights Society of Turkey. At the present time he is writing a book on Turkey. This is scheduled for publication soon.

Mr. Dosogru has very comprehensive information sources, observations, and thoughts concerning that part of the world. He is recognized as highly accurate and authentic. He is typical of the new generation which has developed with the modern Republic of Turkey.

DR. JARVIS IS CONSULTANT AT WORKSHOP

Acting as resource consultant for the recent three-week pre-registration workshop of Layden Community high school, Franklin Park, Illinois, has been Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at The Stout Institute.

Theme of the 1953 workshop was "Obtaining a Philosophy for Layden That is Operationally and Educationally Sound." To attack the problem, members of the staff worked in large and small group meetings. Dr. Robert Harnock, curriculum director of the Milwaukee public schools, was procedural consultant.

Dr. Jarvis worked with special interest groups and departmental personnel in the industrial area. He advised participants in that area on problems growing out of the workshop challenge and served as a resource person for that group.

The 1953 workshop was the eighth annual event of its kind in Franklin Park. It is designed to encourage faculty participation in thinking through and solving problems which teachers have identified as present in their school system.

Each year, the workshop committee, which selects the workshop theme, is elected by members of the faculty. A problem inventory is also used to determine the interests of the faculty.

ELLEN RUSSELL IS PRINT SHOP LINO OPERATOR

Ellen Russell, a junior coed at Stout Institute here, is a home economics student who can really do more than cook and sew. Yes, Ellen spends part of her time bonding over a hot linotype as well as a hot stove. Almost any time of the day Ellen can be found at the linotype machine in the college print shop, helping set type for the college newspaper.

Strangely enough, Ellen is as surprised as anyone else with her present position, usually the halliwick of the strong, silent mules. When she answered a "girl wanted" notice from the college Dean of Women, she was sent to see Lloyd Whydowski, head of the Stout Printing Department. Then, in less time than it takes to put on a printer's apron, she was on her way to becoming the first girl linotype operator ever trained at Stout. "I guess the printers adopted me," she laughs.

Ellen comes from a farm near Augusta, Wisconsin. She enrolled at Stout to study home economics, and will be graduated next year as a teacher of high school home economics. Miss Russell started her training on the linotype as a freshman. Mrs. Whydowski needed a girl to train for the work, because selective service was taking many of his male printers. Ellen was first selected as a linotype trainee, and then started learning to set type by hand, to feed a press, and to master other basic fundamentals of printing. By last summer, she was sufficiently skilled on the linotype to work for her home town newspaper. During the college year, Ellen pays most of her expenses with the money earned at the print shop.

However, being "Ellen Russell, Girl Linotype Operator" has not interfered with the extra-curricular activities of the pretty coed. She is president of Stout Christian Fellowship, plays in the college band, is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, and is literary editor of the school yearbook. Needless to say, this schedule, plus her regular classes, keeps her busy. But as Ellen puts it, "I get more done when I'm busy."

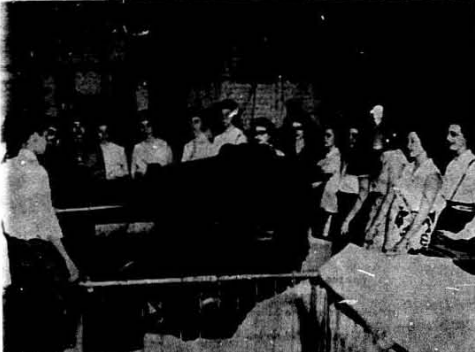

In spite of all her extra-curricular effort, Ellen is an excellent student and takes keen interest in her classes and in her future in home economics. "I like the linotype work," she says, "and there's always enough variety to keep me from getting bored. But I'm really a home ec teacher at heart. As much as I enjoy my part-time work, a printshop just can't compete with a kitchen."

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The Stoutonia wishes to extend its heartfelt wishes for a successful school year to both the new and returning students.

The Stoutonia will be working throughout the year in cooperation with the Stout Student Association on various projects including homecoming, student elections, unification of the student body in social affairs, as well as school work. During the year we hope to reflect the true spirit of the school and its activities and to print material of interest to the students, faculty, and alumni of Stout.

This is the students' paper. It is hoped by the editorial staff that they will take a personal interest in it by keeping the staff informed of events to come during the school year.

First and foremost, the paper is, as stated in the masthead, "more than just a newspaper—it is an educational experiment written to inform, enlighten, and to give its staff members experience that conforms to good journalistic principles and practice."

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

Willis Capps opened the first Governing Board meeting September 12 at 5:00 p.m.

It was decided that the expenses of the all-school fall picnic be divided evenly between the senior class and SSA.

There was to be a meeting on Thursday of the SSA and class officers to discuss the financial matters.

When the new library is completed, the SSA will have a new office in the right hand portion of the old library. Student's wives and husbands cards are to be issued the same as last year.

The new dormitory plans are uppermost in the minds of many. A recommendation is being sent to Pres. Fryklund to suggest that a social room be included in the plans for the new dormitory. This would be for the use of both men and women.

Another vacancy has appeared in the SSA. Gary Grainger, past vice-president is now in service. Before he left, he completely organized the activities for freshman week. A letter of thanks is being sent to him for the excellent work he did.

A new vice-president will be chosen from the junior class. All nominations must be in Monday, September 21. Voting will be done by the Board the following evening, September 22.

Fifteen students are to be selected to fill vacancies in six committees such as the Student Welfare and Library Committees, which you will read about in future articles.

S.S.A. WELCOMES ALL STOUT STUDENTS

To all upperclassmen, transfers, and Freshmen!

Welcome back to Stout. It is wonderful to see so many smiling faces. We are truly sorry that some have had to postpone their coming back to Stout until Uncle Sam finishes his course of instruction.

This year promises to be an exciting one and full of parties, dances, picnics, and the inevitable classes. We are off to an excellent start.

Homecoming is earlier than usual; therefore we must hustle to select our queen and homecoming theme, and to prepare for the alumni who will be coming back to see Stout fight her way to victory over Stevens Point.

The S.S.A. and the Student Governing Board and Advisors want to extend not only this welcome, but also a helping hand. Please feel free to ask any of the members of the board, the advisors, or the S.S.A. officers if you need help or information about Stout. If you know about problems, come in and discuss them with the members of the governing board. As they say, "We are your elected representatives, and we want to help you in the best way possible."

Every year the family of Stout grows larger and larger. We as members of that family must do our best to keep it a happy one. So here is to a happy year ahead!

STOUT BAND MARCHED IN DAIRY DAY PARADE

The Stout marching band made their first appearance of the season last Saturday afternoon, the occasion being the recent Dairy Day Parade. About forty members reported for the event. A reward of twenty-five dollars was accepted by the organization for their participation.

Much talent has reported to the director, Vieter Hardt, thus far. However, some sections could be stronger. A urgent call is being made, especially for an experienced snare drummer.

Future events scheduled for the marching unit include maneuvers at football games, including homecoming.

From the ranks of the marching band will evolve the concert band. This group will present three concerts. The reward of their work will come when they will accompany the Symphonic Singers on their annual spring tour.

Among the teaching positions which Miss Johnson has held are those in Rice Lake, Wis.; Vulcan and Norway, Mich.; and River Forest, Illinois.

For her doctoral dissertation, Miss Johnson wrote on, "An Experiment in Adaptation to Pre-college Experiences in Clothing Classes."

STOUT GRAD WINS DIETETIC SCHOLARSHIP

Phyllis Allman, a Stout Institute coed from Phillips, Wisconsin, has been named the 1953 scholarship winner of the Wisconsin Dietetic Association. Announcement of the award was made by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of The Stout Institute division of home economics.

Purpose of the scholarship, which is offered annually by the Dietetic association, is to encourage women to take advanced training in the field of dietetics. The scholarship winner is chosen from among outstanding home economics graduates in colleges throughout Wisconsin.

On September 1, Miss Allman began a dietetic internship at the University of Colorado hospital in Denver, Colorado. Such internships are available to Stout dietetics majors, for the dietetics curriculum of the college meets the requirements of the American Dietetic Association. Thus Stout dietetics graduates are admitted to internship training in all ADA approved hospitals in the United States.

Miss Allman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmore L. Allman, Phillips, has been active in extra-curricular activities at Stout, in addition to ranking highest scholastically among women majoring in dietetics. She also ranked fifth highest in her entire graduating class of 131 members.

She is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron national honorary organization in home economics, president of Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, and a member of the college Home Economics club. In the musical field, Miss Allman has been equally active. She has been a member of the Girls' Glee club at Stout and drum major of the college marching band. In addition, she has played the French horn with musical groups in this area.

While maintaining a high scholastic average at The Stout Institute, Miss Allman has held summer positions in business and industry. For the past year, she has put her home economics training into practice in commercial food demonstration work.

TWO ALUMNI ACCEPT NEW POSITIONS

Two Stout Institute alumnae have accepted new positions recently. Miss Helen Tirpach (B.S. '49) has been named assistant state supervisor of home economics for the State of Oregon. Following her graduation from Stout, Miss Tirpach taught high school home economics at Ladysmith, Wisconsin. She will now be located at Salem, Oregon.

Phyllis Bartonic Jellich (B.S. '50), formerly drum major of the college marching band, is now conducting a weekly column, "Talking Shop with Phyllis" in the La Crosse Register, a religious newspaper for north-central Wisconsin. Before her marriage, Mrs. Jellich taught in the schools of Marshfield, Wisconsin.

VERN ETSCHIED NAMED DISTRICT MANAGER

Vern Etscheid has been named western district manager of The Welding Engineer, with headquarters at 520 N. Michigan, Chicago. He replaces Thomas H. Barry, who has left the company to work for Chilton Co., Inc. Mr. Etscheid is a graduate of Stout Institute, (Dip. 1923) Menomonie, Wis., and has done post-graduate work at the University of Minnesota. Before the war he was in charge of trade training in the Hammond, Ind., public school system. During the war he was with the War Department in an overseas liaison post with the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He supervised shipment and storage of engineering supplies to and from ports of debarkation and various Army depots. After the war he was co-ordinator of industrial and trade education for the city of St. Paul, Minn., and also represented Acorn Refining Co., in the Twin Cities area. In 1949 he went to work for the field circulation department of the McGraw-Hill Publishing Company. No stranger to the welding arc or torch, Mr. Etscheid once worked as a welder at a plant in Hammond, Ind. He also taught a course in the fundamentals of welding for the Duluth public school system.

CLASS OF '43 PLANS TEN YEAR REUNION

This year's homecoming is a special event for the class of 1943. It is the year in which they will hold their ten year reunion. A decade ago the alumni of that group went forth to face a war-filled future. Because so many of that class did not finish in 1943, but had to wait until after being discharged from military service to graduate, all members who should have finished in 1943 will be included in the honored 10-year class.

Thus all persons entering Stout in 1939 or transferring to Stout to be in the 1943 graduating class will be honored, whether they graduated in 1943 or at a later date. The 1943 class faced numerous problems in getting a college education; this will be their chance to be recognized for their efforts.

At present a committee is composing a mailing list so that all persons of the class will be contacted. Further information will be given to the 1943 members at a later date.

BLUEDEVILS LOSE TO GREAT LAKES

Stout's Bluedevils opened their season against Great Lakes Naval Training station. The Bluejackets, sporting a star studded lineup, handed the Stout men a 55 to 0 drubbing.

The inexperienced Bluedevils were hampered by several fumbles which Great Lakes quickly used to their advantage. The Bluedevils were unable to make holes into the giant line of the Bluejackets which boasted an average of 217 pounds.

The highlight of the Stout offense was a 75 yard punt return by half-back Tom Baker which was called back because of a clipping penalty. The only other time the Bluedevils threatened to score was on a Woolfer to Hanson pass which connected on the nine yard line but the Great Lakes line held.

PALLAS ATHENES HOLD PICNIC MEETING

The members of Pallas Athene had a picnic on Saturday, September 12, at Riverside Park.

Highlighting the picnic was a water melon seed spitting contest. Last year's champion (name withheld) was again the unquestioned winner. After a picnic supper and an informal meeting, the girls sang around the fire.

The new officers for the year planned the picnic. They are President, Avis Resenberg; Vice-President, Jo Fritz; Secretary, Pat Jensen; Treasurer, Ginny Lathrop; and Historian, Barb Clemons.

The graduate program of The Stout Institute is also flourishing. During the last twelve months, 72 graduate students have been in attendance. Last year's graduating class was the largest since the program was begun, leaving many opportunities open for persons now interested in entering graduate work. Graduate enrollment for first semester will be carried on at the college until September 12.

Persons with a Stout Institute master's degree are finding excellent positions open to them. An increasingly large number go directly into college teaching. Others are entering all levels of vocational education as teachers, coordinators, and directors. Supervisory work in state vocational programs or in industrial concerns is also proving very attractive.

High salaries and a variety of job locations are available to all Stout Institute graduates because of shortages in Stout's areas of specialization. The constant demand for more home economists, teachers, dietitians, home economists in business, agricultural extension agents or commercial demonstrators frequently finds the Stout placement office with 12 job openings for every available graduate. Graduates in industrial education, especially those with specialization in metals, have no difficulty in finding satisfactory, well-paying positions.

In addition to preparing students in the fields of home economics and industrial education, The Stout Institute offers splendid training to pre-professional students, special students, and students who plan on later transfer to another college or university. Stout has complete facilities and well-trained teachers to provide accredited college credits in liberal arts, the physical sciences, the social sciences, and other academic fields.

Y.W.C.A. GAVE FIRST TEA OF SEASON SEPT. 15

One of the most unforgettable teas of the season is the Big-Little Sister Tea which was held Sunday, September 15, by the Y. W. C. A.

Amidst decorations of fall colors the freshmen girls became better acquainted with the upper class women and were introduced to many of the faculty members.

Small cookies, mints, nuts, and tea added to their enjoyment.

Nobody knows about your integrity, your sincerity, your talent, or your good will unless you give out samples in action.

STUDENTS JOIN IN DAIRY DAY EVENTS

Dairy Day has passed, and proved to be another event in Menomonie in which The Stout Institute joined with the town in making a successful occasion.

Many wonderful things happened in Menomonie on Dairy Day. At 10:00 a.m. the Marie Gifford Cooking School was held in the Stout Auditorium. With our own Dean Dirk as Mistress of Ceremonies. Two of our girls, Mary Lou Anderson and Betty Kleist won gifts.

At noon many hungry people, including Stout students, were found eating a lurch of cheeses, beans, milk, bread, butter, and ice cream.

That night the Butter Ball was held as a climax to another annual Dairy Day celebration.

525 ATTENDED 1953 SUMMER SESSION

An enrollment of over 450 persons participated in classes, workshops and conferences of The Stout Institute's 1953 summer session, according to figures released by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college.

Students enrolled in a variety of courses in industrial education, home economics, and vocational education. In addition, a number of persons worked toward advanced degrees in The Stout Institute graduate program.

Outstanding administrators and teachers of vocational education joined with members of the regular Stout Institute faculty during the summer session. Dr. Joseph R. Strobel, assistant commissioner for vocational education of the U. S. Office of Education and a Stout Institute graduate of 1923, was convocation speaker and educational consultant.

Also as educational consultants were Dr. Arthur B. Mays, professor emeritus of industrial education at the University of Illinois, and Dr. Homer S. Smith, head of the industrial education department at the University of Minnesota.

Dr. John L. Feirer, head of the industrial arts department at Western Michigan College, taught several courses during the session. H. W. Teichroew, trade and industrial education coordinator for the St. Paul Vocational school gave courses on conference leading and acted as educational consultant.

Leaders of the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and adult Education were also on the staff of the Stout summer session. In addition to C. L. Greiber, state director of Vocational and adult education who spoke to the session, the following members of his staff were conference leaders, consultants or teachers:

H. C. Thayer, chief of trade and industrial education; Martin Wesolowski, supervisor for trade and industry; Arthur Larsen, supervisor of occupational information and guidance, and Frank Woerdehoff, specialist on teacher training.

Participating also were the following members of the staffs of Wisconsin schools of vocational and adult education: Norman Mitby, La Crosse; Irene Braun, West Allis; Emma Anderson, Manitowoc; Alta Bethke, Appleton; Myrtle Statz, Madison, and A. D. Mathison, Milwaukee.

Five special convocations were offered during the session, featuring nationally known educators and political analysts. Other summer offerings included driver education courses and professional work conferences for trade and industrial instructors in Wisconsin schools of vocational and adult education, sponsored by the Wisconsin State Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

SELECTIVE SERVICE TEST TO BE GIVEN

Below is an important announcement concerning the filing of applications for the Selective Service College Qualification Test.

Applications for the November 19, 1953 and the April 22, 1954 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to take this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following the instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately, in the envelope provided, to Selective Service Examining Section, Educational Testing Service, P. O. Box 586, Princeton, New Jersey. Applications for the November 19 test must be postmarked no later than midnight November 2, 1953.

According to the Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

MR. OZDOGRU SPEAKS ON TURKEY AT CONVO

A substitution was made for the convocation Wednesday. Cuneyd Ozdogru was unable to leave Turkey so the State Department allowed Nuvit Ozdogru to speak in his place.

Mr. Ozdogru is a graduate of Roberts College in Istanbul and a graduate of the University of Washington and the University of Wisconsin. He presented firsthand knowledge of Turkey and its problems.

QUARTETTE TO ENTERTAIN AT FIRST LYCEUM

The Assembly-Lyceum committee last year did a very fine job in selecting this year's numbers. There are always at least three students on the committee. Last year the students were Milt Benner, Iris Ruf, and Colleen Ceminsky. They were all very active and helpful in choosing this year's program.

The first Lyceum, or evening program, will be October 12. It will be the Pro Arte Stringed Quartette, who came here from Europe and who are well known internationally. They have been connected with the University of Wisconsin's "artists in residence" for several years.

On October 16 the Lion's Quartette from the Twin Cities will give their selections of classical, religious, light opera, humorous, and popular songs.

Bar-Ilan, a pianist, will play for the Lyceum on November 20. He was born in Israel and made his debut there at the age of ten. He is now in the United States, and has been a Student at Juilliard School of Music in New York. It is said that he will probably be included in the ranks of today's famous pianists.

The University of Minnesota Players will be back again on January 8.

On March 19 the University of Minnesota will again visit us. This time it will be their eighty piece band.

A mixed calendar has been selected for this year's convocation. On October 14, Edwin L. Baron, a hypnotist, will put on the program. This will be a novelty number and may be quite exciting. "Artic Holiday" will be the subject of the illustrated lecture November 18. Another speaker, Mr. Groseclose, will be here February 10, and Mr. Von Zahn, a lecturer, will be here on March 10. "Our Fabulous Great Lakes" will be the subject of the illustrated lecture by Clifford Kamen, March 31. On April 14, Red Ormsby will give a talk on baseball.

The first musical convocation will be October 21. It will be a pianist-marimbist combination, Musser and Chenoweth. On December 9, the Blue Jay Singers will be here from the University of Wisconsin. Betty Ann Clayton, soprano, and Herbert Lane, tenor, and their accompanist have been chosen for the convocation of January 13; and Libby Jones, a harpist, will be here from the University of Wisconsin on March 24.

It looks as if we can look forward to a year of excellent programs for both the convocation and Lyceum numbers. The Student-faculty committee spent a great deal of time on the plans. They will be kept busy during the year on the mechanics of executing these plans and thinking of a new series of programs for the coming year.

NOTICE

There is still room for 6 or 7 trainees in the driver training class. If you wish to be taught how to drive a car so that you may get your driver's license, contact Mr. Kranzsch, Room 23, Bowman Hall.

HOMECOMING QUEEN WILL BE ELECTED

Homecoming is just around the corner, and with it comes the selection of a Queen and a Homecoming Theme. The Queen candidates will do their campaigning Saturday, September 26, at 12 noon. Balloting for the Queen and the Theme will be held in Harvey Hall, Thursday, October 1, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. A five dollar prize will be presented to the writer of the best of the 32 entries which were turned in.

FRED FISCHER MEMORIAL FUND IS ESTABLISHED

Announcement of establishment of the Fred Fisher Memorial Loan Fund, in honor of a Minneapolis man who graduated from The Stout Institute and died in the Armed Forces, has been made by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout.

The loan fund was established by the student governing board of the college with a fund of $500 presented by Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fischer in memory of their son. Ensign Fred Fischer graduated from Stout Institute in June of 1952 and died in the U. S. Naval Hospital in Yokashuka, Japan, in November of that year.

While at Stout Ensign Fischer was a member of Epsilon Pi Tau honorary scholastic organization in industrial education, the Radio club, the Ski club, and the Stout Symphonic Singers. He was president of the latter group in his senior year.

Loans from the fund will carry no interest and will be for a maximum four-year term. Applications for loans will be considered by a committee of three students and a faculty adviser. To be eligible, a student must have been in residence at Stout for at least one academic year and possess a one-point grade average.

Recipients of loans from this fund will receive a letter telling the history of the fund and outlining the provisions of the loan. Ensign Fischer's picture will appear at the top of the letter.

Upon recommendation of President Fryklund, the Board of Trustees of The Stout Institute recently accepted the gift and the plan of operation.

DAVID BARNARD TAKES LEAVE OF ABSENCE

On leave of absence at the University of Indiana until next September is David P. Barnard, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout and head of the audio-visual education center at the college. Mr. Barnard is working on his Doctorate of Philosophy in audio-visual education at Indiana.

In Mr. Barnard's absence, Lloyd Whydetski, head of the department of printing, has taken over the teaching of photography classes and also photography production work. Ray Cornwell, instructor in industrial education, is teaching the audio-visual classes and is production adviser for this year's Tower.

ARTICLE BY DR. AGNEW IS IN MAGAZINE

Author of "The Mississippi and Missouri Railroad, 1856-1860" in a recent issue of the "Iowa Journal of History" is Dr. Dwight L. Agnew, head of the social science department at Stout Institute.

The article deals with the successes and failures of promoters building the Mississippi and Missouri, known as Iowa's first railroad. Dr. Agnew describes the optimism which accompanied plans for opening the railroad and the evil influences of promotional and financial ineptness, the panic of 1857, and the outbreak of the Civil War.

According to the findings discussed in the article, the Mississippi and Missouri barely managed to survive the Civil War and in 1886 was sold to the Rock Island Railroad for $2,100,000.

The "Iowa Journal of History" is the official quarterly publication of the State Historical Society of Iowa. Dr. Agnew has contributed to earlier issues of the publication.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

October 10 makes another Homecoming with the Blue Devils meeting the tough Stevens Point Pointers in what promises to be one of the seasons most exciting football games. But Homecoming affords more than just the witnessing of a football game. For you students who are new to Stout this year you will find that Homecoming includes an exciting parade, the Homecoming Dance, one of the biggest dances of the school year, breakfasts and teas sponsored by the various social organizations on campus, and the choosing of the queen to reign over the festivities.

Homecoming every year also brings back many of the Stout Alumni. It is the one date in the social calendar which every Stout graduate tries to make. It affords an opportunity to see old faces and meet new friends, to notice changes that have taken place in the physical plane and on the campus as a whole.

But naturally students, homecoming cannot be a success unless everyone of your combined efforts can be put into it. Much planning and hard work must be undertaken by members of all classes in order that the 1953 Homecoming can be one of the best Stout has ever had. It is through the work, the planning, and your untiring efforts that something even greater and better happens to you. For you can help yourself socially by participation in school activities, new friends are made and co-operative attitudes become a large factor in your social success. This is the way to become a part of your school.

Most of you know that October 9, the Friday before Homecoming, is a holiday for students because of the annual teachers convention held at Eau Claire. No doubt many students being relatively close to home will want to go home for a three day vacation. But remember, if you do go you will be shirking a duty that is yours to fulfill. So let's all stay in Menomonie during the Homecoming week end and make the 1953 Homecoming the best ever.

NINE DELTA KAPPA MEN ARE IN SERVICE

The armed forces and graduation have taken nine men from the ranks of Delta Kappa Sigma. They are Gary Grainger, James Heideman, Leonard Oluno, Richar Kresse, Clarence Lamers, Richard Lenhardt, Richard Wegeman, De Wayne Nevin, and Jerold Quilling.

We wish to express our best wishes to these men and hope to see them again as returning veterans or alumni.

Roger Hanson attended the Midwest Convention at Whitewater which was a meeting for all Delta Chapters. The meeting lasted one day and votes were cast as to the advisability of expansion.

Sigma once again looks forward to a year of social activity and "Service with a smile." Watch for those red coffee pots at football games.

To be more kindly, more sympathetic, more considerate of others. This will fill your life with a constant glow of happiness.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

Tuesday evening, September 22, the Governing Board launched into a long business meeting.

Plans for the Homecoming parade were discussed. There is a possibility that the Michelbrook float will be rented for the Queen's float. This could replace the sedan chair formerly provided by Arts and Crafts. The cost would be shared by the SSA and Arts and Crafts. The matter was tabled for further investigation.

The first picnic of the year, the senior-freshman picnic, has increased in attendance to the point where it has come to be recognized as an all-class picnic. Recommendations were to change it to an all-class picnic with all classes sharing in the expense. The problem will be referred to the social committee.

Representatives from the Traveler's Insurance Company spoke to the group about the matter of accident insurance. Doctor's fees up to $750 would be covered, plus allowance for dismemberment. Coverage would be for any type of accident, either on or off campus. On a yearly basis the fees would be $15 for women, and $18 for men. On a nine month basis the fees would be $11.75 and $13.50 respectively.

The election of a new vice president was the important new business of the evening. Roger Hanson was chosen in a close decision. Seven contestants participated. Roger has been the junior representative to the Board. He will be replaced by Delores Sauey.

CLASS OFFICERS ARE ELECTED AT ASSEMBLY

Last week in student assembly, the election of class officers took place. The officers chosen by each class are as follows: Seniors: president, Barney Styer; vice-president, Jim Kichelski; secretary, Nancy Hanshus; and treasurer, Roy Willmarth. Juniors: president, George Fink; vice-president, Kay Wedin; secretary, Delores Sauey; and treasurer, Diane Klemme. Sophomores: president, John Oakeson; vice-president, Bob Noltner; secretary, Ardis Carr; and treasurer, Doris Hutchinson. Freshman: president, Ray Pearson; vice-president, Maurice Ellis; secretary, Wanda Johnson; and treasurer, Della Medin.

HOME EC. CLUB WILL HOLD FIRST MEETING

The first Home Economics Club meeting of the year will be held Monday, September 28, at 7:30 in the cafeteria. All Home Economics students, the freshmen through seniors, are invited to attend. The Home Economics Club is a professional club on campus, and throughout the year a variety of programs and speakers is presented.

Miss Carrison will be the speaker of the evening at this first meeting. She will present "Travel Talks," an illustrated presentation of her summer experiences in European countries.

Upperclassmen, activity points have been removed from Home Economics Club membership, so come and join. Freshmen, we would like to get acquainted with all of you too, so let's see you there!

LIBRARY TABLES REFINISHED

The tables in the library were refinished this summer. The work was done by the students, with Mr. Roen in charge of the project. The old varnish was removed and 3 coats of new varnish applied.

ROGER LOWNY IS INJURED IN POOL

Roger Lowney, a freshman, had an accident in Stout's pool Saturday, September 12. He misjudged the distance to the board while doing a back flip and hit his head on the corner of the board.

The accident was quite serious, and several stitches were required. Roger spent a day at the infirmary, but is now well on his way to recovery. Now that his "space helmet" bandage is gone, he resembles any other normal freshman boy.

BLUDEVILS SHUT OUT 19-0 IN OPENER

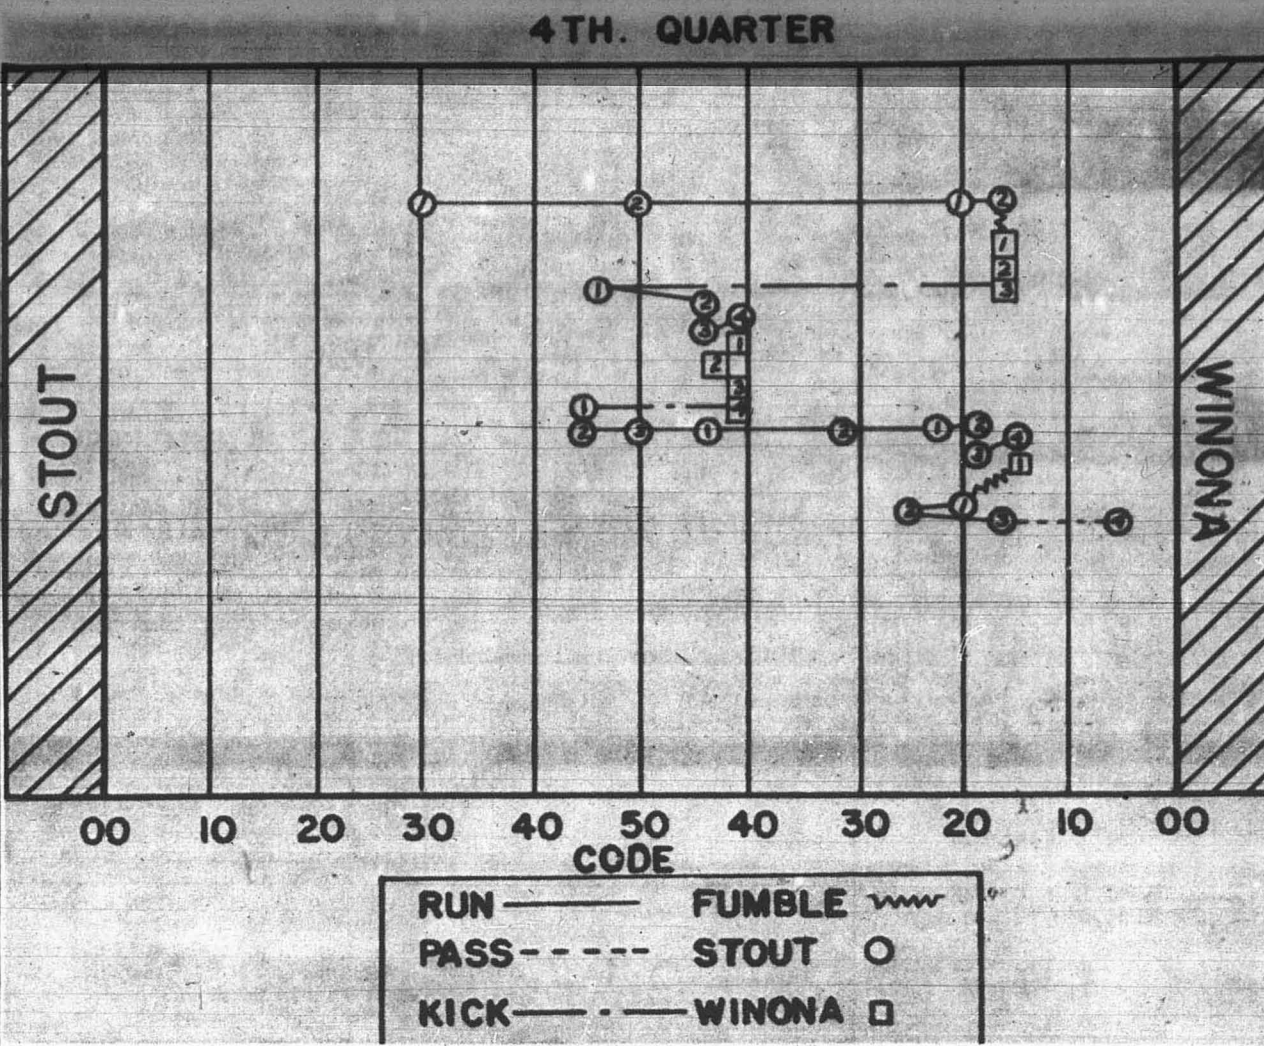

Stout's Bluedevils in their home opener against the Warriors of Winona were shut out 19-0.

Again as in the Great Lakes game fumbles spelled the difference in the opening half. Stout handed the Warriors their first touchdown on a fumble on their own 17 yard line. From there it took the Winona team only five plays before their star halfback Grabeau crossed the goal line with the first score of the game early in the second quarter. The kick for the extra point was good and Winona led 7-0.

Winona then kicked off to the Bluedevils and again a bad break made the big difference as Noltner threw a pass that was intercepted by a Warrior and carried to the twelve yard line of Stout. From that point Winona passed into the end zone for their second touchdown. The kick was wide and the Warriors led 13-0.

In the later seconds of the first half the Bluedevils seemed to come to life. Led by Neil Hoepfner who broke in several times to spill the Warriors for large losses and drive them back into their own territory. Here the Warriors were the ones to fumble and the Bluedevils recovered. A pass by Skip Wick to Harry Sauer made it first down for Stout on Winona's 15 yard line. With only ten seconds remaining in the half the Bluedevils were unable to cross the goal line as time ran out.

PHI SIGS ELECT AGERLIE PRESIDENT

At the first business meeting of the school year, the returning members of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity elected Oliver Agerlie as president for the remainder of the year.

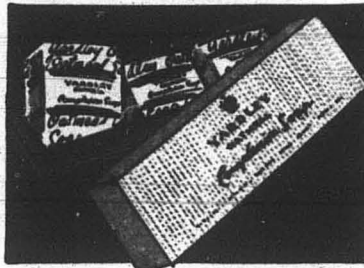

Agerlie, a senior from Menomonie, will fill the vacancy left by Willis Capps who was voted president of the Stout Student Association. Capps replaced Jack Luy who resigned to join the Army at the close of the 1952-53 session.

Al Ochs, a second semester senior from Peshtigo, was elected to fill the position of historian vacated by Agerlie.

Other business for the fraternity consisted of organizing pledging for the organization, planning for the annual Homecoming breakfast, and discussion of the yearly dinner dance.

ALL FORMER MEMBERS OF EITHER THE OLD K.F.S., OR THE PRESENT PHI SIGMA EPSILON ARE ADVISED THAT THE HOME-COMING BREAKFAST IS TO BE HELD AT THE ANCHOR CAFE ON SUNDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 11; BUT THAT THE TIME HAS BEEN CHANGED TO 10:30 DUE TO A CONFLICT LAST YEAR WITH ANOTHER ORGANIZATION. Members, pledges, and past members will be served a breakfast consisting of scrambled eggs, ham, and other items.

defense on the part of the Stout line backers. Steve Hansen played a great game of backing up the line. It was also Hansen's punts that again and again helped hold back the Warriors.

The longest run of the night by Stout came in the final quarter when Tom Baker romped for 28 yards. But again a fumble stopped the march for pay dirt. It was an all freshmen backfield that showed some of the best running of the night. This backfield was made up of Ron Lewis at quarter, Baker and Gale Johnson at halves, and Bill Nessler at full.

Stout threatened to score in the final seconds as Bob Noltner threw to end Jerry Henderson who fought his way to the five yard line of the Warriors. So close but again the clock ran out as the game ended. The final score Winona 19, Stout 0.

BLUDEVILS LOSE DON WOELFFER BY INJURY

Don Woelffer first string quarterback of the Bluedevils is out for what may be the rest of the season. Don, who injured his right knee before the Great Lakes game, suffered further injury in the Winona game. The cast on the leg will not be removed for three weeks and chances are very doubtful that he will be able to play then.

The loss of Woelffer early in the first quarter of the game was a blow to the offense of the Bluedevils.

Coach Wink now is faced with the problem of finding a new quarterback to replace Woelffer. Hopeful candidates for the position are Bob Noltner a sophomore from Waterloo and freshman Ron Lewis from Richland Center.

RIFLE CLUB MEETS TO ORGANIZE FOR YEAR

At a member gathering meeting of the Stout Institute Rifle Club, held in the upper gym of Bowman Hall, Wednesday evening, September 21, at 7 o'clock, new members were introduced to the activities of the organization and to the returning members of the club.

Charles Stubbs, president, introduced the old members and explained the function of the club, activities of the organization, and workings of the rifle team. Old members and Stubbs then answered any questions that the new members had in regard to the club and its activities.

The following old members attended the meeting: Oliver Agerlie, Willis Capps, Janice Hornickel, Jim Leader (Grad), Barbara Post, John Rynders, Barbara Rushing, Jacqueline Sorenson, and Charles Stubbs. Several new members were also present.

The Rifle Club, which is a Class A organization affiliated with the National Rifle Association, has $5,000 worth of equipment which consists of five .22 calibre target rifles, six calibre .30 (M1) military rifles, six steel bullet traps, and numerous other items.

Homecoming festivities will commence Friday night, October 9, and will take place throughout that evening and the next day, Saturday, October 10. The highlights of the event will be the crowning of the Queen and the football game, which will be followed by a dance in the High School gym.

Following the welcome the massed visiting bands will put on a demonstration. After the game there will be a dance at the Menomonie High School gymnasium, sponsored by the S. S. A. Music will be provided by the incomparable Cliff Kyes.

Saturday afternoon Menomonie will be host to visiting bands from all over the state. Each fraternity, sorority, and organization will be urged to enter a float in the parade. Floats will be judged for the most beautiful, the most humorous, and the most in keeping with the theme. There will be first, second and third place awards given in all categories, and cash prizes will be awarded to winning floats.

Friday night will mark the beginning of the Homecoming festivities. A spectacular bit of pagentry will take place in the Stout auditorium at 8:00, when the Queen will be crowned. After the coronation the Queen will introduce her court. The homecoming royalty will then lead a torch-light parade to the Fair Grounds, where the co-captains of the football team will light the freshman bonfire. After a rousing pep rally, all the students will participate in a snake dance back to town.

Convocation, Wednesday, September 30, marked the date of the presentation of Queen candidates.

MRS. BISHOP HOLDS SPECIAL CLINIC HERE

A noted home economics specialist in clothing construction techniques, Mrs. Edna Bryte Bishop, presented one of her special clothing clinics before more than 100 northwest Wisconsin home economics teachers at The Stout Institute on Thursday.

Arrangements for the clinics were made by the State Clothing committee, in cooperation with the Wisconsin Home Economics association, and by the Division of Home Economics of The Stout Institute, under the direction of Dean Alice J. Kirk.

Basis for Mrs. Bishop's techniques is her successful adaption of streamlined commercial clothing construction techniques to clothing construction skills for home use. Mrs. Bishop's procedures have been designed to save time and effort in constructing clothing, both for the home economics teacher and her students and also for the homemaker.

The Stout Institute clinic is one of four being conducted by Mrs. Bishop for home economics teachers throughout the state. In order to locate the clinics so that all teachers may attend without inconvenient travel, Mrs. Bishop offers her series of demonstrations in the Milwaukee, Stevens Point, and Madison areas, as well as at The Stout Institute.

First of the clinics, devoted to teaching fundamentals of clothing construction, was held in 1948. In 1949, Mrs. Bishop stressed construction of tailored garments and in 1950 featured fitting techniques.

HOMEcoming RALLY TO BE WEDNESDAY

On October 7, at ten o'clock a pep rally will be held in the auditorium. At this time a speech will be given by the 1953 Homecoming Queen, and Coach Wink will introduce the members of the football team. The band will also play several selections and the cheerleaders will lead the students in several cheers. Let's all be sure to attend this pep rally next Wednesday.

Every year, a week before the homecoming game, Lynwood Hall is open to the general public who are interested in getting a bird's eye view of the boys dormitory.

On October 4, 1953, from 3:00 to 4:30 p.m. Lynwood Hall will be open to the public for inspection. Refreshments and entertainment will be furnished by residents of Lynwood Hall. Come One !!!! Come All !!!!

BE SURE TO COME TO DUFFY'S TAVERN
TOMORROW NIGHT

Marie Strodthoff, a sophomore from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been chosen to reign over the 1953 homecoming. Members of her court will be: Colleen Ceminsky, Joanne Fritz, Janet Peter, and Kay Wedin.

Marie, who was co-sponsored by the F.O.B. and Phi Sig fraternities, is a member of W.A.A., The Stoutonia, Home Economics Club, and the Lutheran Student Association.

Colleen Ceminsky is a junior from Montgomery, Minnesota, sponsored by the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority. She is a member of the Home Economics Club, the Assembly Lyceum Committee, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Newman Club, and Editor of The Stoutonia.

Belleville, Wisconsin, is the home of Joanne Fritz. She was sponsored by an independent group. Joanne is a member of the Pallas Athene sorority, Home Economics Club and the band.

Janet Peter, from Minot, North Dakota, was sponsored by the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority. She is a member of M.A.P., W.S.F., Home Economics Club, and the band. She is also a member of the Tower Staff.

Kay Wedin, a junior from Grantsburg, Wisconsin, was sponsored by the W.A.A. She is a member of The Stoutonia, the Home Economics Club, L. S. A., and the Hyperian sorority of which she is secretary.

AUDIO-VISUAL AREA NEEDS STUDENT HELP

The Audio-Visual department is in need of a student assistant to make broadcast tape recordings of musical events. This is a good chance to make a little extra money by working several hours a week, and to help both yourself and the school. Anyone who is primarily interested in learning this type of work and is not in band or choir is asked to see Mr. Cornwell as soon as possible.

DR. SALYER IS NEW HEAD OF MEN'S DORM

The freshmen staying at Lynwood Hall this year will quickly learn what the word "Booooo" means. Dr. Salyer and his famous trademark are now living at Lynwood.

Dr. Salyer has taken over Edwin Sefiert's position as resident head of the men's dorm. This position requires someone with diversified experience plus the ability to handle men who are attending college for the first time. Dr. Salyer, through his past experiences, is well qualified for this position.

CHEERLEADERS ARE ELECTED AT ASSEMBLY

At the student assembly on Wednesday, September 30, eleven cheerleading candidates went through their paces and led the student body in cheers. Out of the eleven, the students voted upon six, thus electing the following cheerleaders for 1953-54 school year: Rita Jackson, Judy Benson, Roberta Harris, Joyce Fraedrick, Bill Byer, and Ed Steineke.

This year Joyce Fraedrick will again help lead the Stout cheering section. Joyce is a sophomore from Weyawega. During her three years of cheerleading in high school, she won several letters plus gold and silver pins.

Judy Benson is a freshman from Spooner. She has had experience in cheerleading while in high school.

This year we have two fellows on the cheerleading team. They are Bill Byer from Fish Creek, and Ed Steineke from Omro. Neither of them has had any experience in cheerleading, but by the looks of things it is quite certain they will do a fine job.

Another winner was Rita Jackson. She is a freshman from Independence, Wisconsin, where she was a cheerleader during her four years of high school.

The member of the longest standing on the team is Roberta Harris. She is a senior from New Castle, Indiana, beginning her fourth year of leading cheers at Stout.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Do you realize that homecoming is only one week away? There are many projects that must be completed in this short time and also school assignments that must not be forgotten, so we should all be thinking ahead. Careful planning must be done now so everyone will be ready when the alumni return.

The bonfire must be built, floats have to be constructed, town decorations put up, and the gymnasium decorated for the dance. These various activities will provide an opportunity for each student to display his or her talent. The S.S.A. officers have spent many hours on the plans for homecoming. They have laid the groundwork—the rest depends upon the cooperation of the student body.

Each class will be working on their assigned projects. Through the active participation of every member, the classes will contribute greatly to the success of the 1953 homecoming. Let's start our plans now so we are prepared when the big week-end arrives.

NEWMAN CLUB ELECTED OFFICERS SEPT. 27

The first regular meeting of the Newman Club for this school year was held at St. Joseph's school on Sunday, September 27, at 6:00 p.m. Miss Callahan, Father Butz, and Mr. Hughes were the speakers at this meeting. Miss Callahan told the members about the plans of the Inter-religious Council for this year.

Election of officers were held and those who were elected are: President, Don Walters; vice-president, Larry Bruno; secretary, Jane Gargulak; and treasurer, Mary Kane.

It was decided at this meeting to have breakfast meetings this year instead of the Sunday evening meetings that were held last year. The members are putting these on a trial basis for a semester and then will decide if they are satisfactory. The first breakfast meeting is being held after the 9:30 Mass on October 18.

GIRLS ELECTED FOR DORM COUNCILS

Elections for the dorm councils were held in the girl's dorms on Monday evening, September 21.

The girls at Eichelberger Hall elected Mary Ellen Kane, president; Barbara Griffith, vice-president; Viola Wicken, secretary; Betsy Bedell, treasurer; and Eileen Brenegen, S. S. A. representative.

Nathlie Wick, president; Audrey Cornwell, vice-president; Maxine Olsen, secretary; Pat Seibert, treasurer; and Joan Fehrman, S. S. A. representative make up the dorm council at Tainter Hall.

The Tainter Annex council is composed of Connie Chellmen, president; Judy Bensen, vice-president; Diane Darcy, secretary; Mary Wanasek, treasurer; and Nancy Dexheimer S. S. A. representative.

F.O.B. MAKES PLANS FOR FORMAL INITIATION

At a special meeting held last Thursday evening, the F. O. B. fraternity made plans for their annual Duffy's Tavern in the Stout gym.

With the loss of fourteen members through graduation and entrance into the service, it was necessary to hold an election for alumni secretary. Don Zittleman was unanimously chosen for the job.

The pledging committee reported that everything was running smoothly in preparation for "hell" week. It was voted that chicken and cherry pie would be served at the formal initiation, which will be held in the Anchor Cafe again this year.

"COUNTRY GARDEN" IS THEME OF A.S.A. PARTY

"Country Garden" was the theme of the Alpha Sigma Alpha rushing party held on September 19 in the Harvey Memorial.

Entertainment for the rushees consisted of several games of cards and group singing. Ann Ritzinger, Gloria Voigt, Jo Brehm, and Laurie Hanson also entertained the group with their version of a modern song. Later, a lunch of ice cream and cookies was served.

The girls learned about the sorority from officers who each explained her part in the organization.

E.P.T. TO HOLD ANNUAL W.E.A. BREAKFAST

Epsilon Pi Tau will hold their annual W. E. A. breakfast at 7:00 a.m. on Friday, November 6, at the Wisconsin Hotel in Milwaukee. The cost of the breakfast will be $1.50 per plate. Reservations may be made by writing Harold A. Schulz 3343 N. Garden Place, Milwaukee 12, Wisconsin or at Dean Jarvis' office.

"PETTICOAT FEVER" CAST IS CHOSEN

The cast for the Manual Arts Players' fall play was picked after the evening of tryouts on Wednesday, September 23. The characterizations in the play, "Petticoat Fever" will be as follows:

Dascom Dinsmore—Roger Gergh
Sir James Fenton—Herb Pringle
Ethel Campion—Barbara Hilts
Rev. Arthur Shapman—Ed Nowicki
Captain John Landry—Frank Hoffman
Scotty (sailor)—Larry Leveland
Clara Wilson—Carol Schilstra
Kimo, Little Seal, and Snow Bird—undecided at time of the writing.

The many people of the production staff play a big part in making a dramatization a success. Committees on costumes, properties, publicity, make-up, and scenery are being formed. It takes a lot of people to hunt up or make costumes, find properties and help to have them in the right place at the right time during the play, write newspaper publicity articles and make posters, makeup the actors, and help plan, build and paint scenery.

Norman Ziemann of the Speech Department invites all interested persons to stop in the auditorium evenings during rehearsals or in his office (Room 316, Harvey Hall) to indicate their interest.

NEW FURNITURE IS DONATED TO UNION

Added to the facilities in the student union are two tables and eight chairs donated by the senior class of 1953. Our former seniors must have anticipated the increase of enrollment and decided that an increase of furniture would be necessary to provide adequate seating.

In case it has been unnoticed, the union bar-tenders also have access to a new garbage-can which was misplaced for a short time but now is being used to full advantage.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN ARTS AND CRAFTS?

Pledging time once more is due to make an appearance on the campus. The only organization that does not contact pledges for membership on the campus is Arts and Crafts. The organization feels that only interested members should be taken into its ranks. All interested students may obtain application blanks from members, the officers, or from Mr. Kranzusch, advisor for the group.

Arts and Crafts meets on Monday evenings in Bowman Hall. Time of the meeting is posted on the bulletin board in Bowman Hall. The first and third Mondays of the month are business meetings. These meetings finish soon enough so that members may work after the close of the business period. On the second and fourth Mondays the evening is devoted to working of projects for the organization or for members.

Remember—Arts and Crafts does not contact future members. Interested students may obtain application blanks from the officers: Norman Schultz, president; Fred Bahr, vice-president; Carol Zuege, secretary; and Dick Kadotani, treasurer. Mr. Kranzusch, advisor can also be contacted. If you miss the above people, contact members; they have blanks for admission also.

DIETETICS CLUB PLANS SANDWICH SALE

Hungry after "cracking the books" all evening? The Dietetics club has good news for all of you students at the dorms. A nutritious snack will be made available to you between 10:00 and 10:30 p.m. Members of the club plan to sell apples and sandwiches at Lynwood Hall, Tainter Hall, Tainter Annex and Eichelberger Hall. Note this, especially you girls who are diet-conscious. These snacks not only taste good, they are good for you; some snacks contain nothing but calories. Customers will be given a choice of peanut-butter or ham salad sandwiches. The prices will be 20c per sandwich and 6c a piece for apples.

The day following each evening sale, sandwiches and apples will be sold in the corridors of Harvey Hall, and possibly even in Bowman Hall. The same prices will be charged for these "between classes" snacks. Members of the Dietetics club urge you to watch for these sales every two weeks on Tuesday evening and Wednesday.

This project is being undertaken as a money making endeavor to replace the fruit cake sale.

WESLEY MEMBERS HONOR FOREIGN GUESTS

Some of Stout's foreign students were honored guests at Wesley Student Fellowship Sunday night, when Jiggs Kuboyama showed slides from Hawaii and Japan.

Japan, Hawaii, Ecuador, Philippines, and Formosa were represented at Wesley's International night. Guests and old members joined together in the fellowship supper served by Doris Hutchinson and her committee.

Everything from orchids to Japanese snow storms were the subject of the slide pictures shown by Jiggs Kuboyama. Jiggs comes from the island of Maui in the Hawaiian islands but he had visited Japan for a number of months so some of his slides were from Japan. A few comments from the people who were from the islands and Japan added interest and color to the presentation.

PHILOSOPHY OF LIFE IS CONGO CLUB TOPIC

"Do you have a philosophy of life?" This was the topic of discussion led by Mrs. Nitz at the Congo Club, Sunday, September 13th. In our discussion we listed five reasons why students do not succeed at college.

The discussion was preceded by a delicious spaghetti supper and a business meeting. The business consisted of dividing the members into four work groups with two co-chairmen for each group. Marge Strombeck's group has charge of the food for next Sunday. Sunday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. there will be a retreat to discuss the program for the coming year. Anyone with ideas is invited to come and share them. The meeting will be held at Dr. Nitz's home at 198 7th Street.

Next week we shall continue our discussion of philosophies and ways of life under the title of "Past Philosophies and Their Present Application."

Won't you come and join in our discussion and fellowship?

PHI U'S MAKE PLANS FOR YEARS ACTIVITIES

The first meeting of the Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron was held on Monday, September 21, at 7 p.m. Committees were organized to plan for the years activities. Programs Board will be in Harvey Hall again, were discussed. The Phi U bulletin and the first display is now up. Plans are being made for the National Inspection which will be held November 20 through 22.

FRATERNITY PLEDGES WILL DON COSTUMES

Traditionally, Stout fraternities try to out-do one another in a search for new pranks to test out on incoming "brothers." So don't be surprised when you see a group of boys in odd costumes between October 8 and 15. They're learning the hard way what "Hell" Week is like.

The Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity uses "space helmets" and shields for part of their hazing, while the Phi Omega Beta (F. O. B.) fraternity shines shoes. Delta Kappa's wear red ties and fezzes. Placards, canes, bow ties and straw hats mark the pledges of Phi Sigma Epsilon.

Nothing done during "Hell" Week goes against any religious beliefs, and everything is done in the spirit of fun.

BLUEDEVILS DOWNED BY RIVER FALLS

Stout's Bluedevils suffered a 22-0 loss at the hands of a strong and fast River Falls team. Undermanned and plagued with injuries the Bluedevils put up a great struggle only to go down fighting.

The game started out fast with River Falls scoring on a punt return from their own 24 yard line. John Steffens going all the way for the touchdown. The kick was good and the Falcons took an early lead of 7-0.

Steve Hanson took the kickoff on the ten yard line and ran it back to the 30. The Bluedevils looked good as Tom Baker carried four straight plays, going to the Falcon's 44 yard line for two first downs. Here a bad break stopped the march, when River Falls intercepted a pass. The Stout line playing good ball held the Falcons for no gain and forced them to punt to the twenty where the ball rolled out of bounds. On the first play the ball got away from the fullback and rolled into the end zone. A Bluedevil fell on it and River Falls scored two points on the safety. Stout then kicked off to the Falcons who started to roll on again toward another score, only to have the ball stolen from them on a nice pass interception by halfback Bill Ewing who ran it back to midfield. The Bluedevils were forced to punt and the Falcons took the ball on their own 18 and marched all the way to two from where Clair Murphy went over for the score. Murphy's kick was good and the Falcons had a lead of 16 to 0.

On the kickoff the Bluedevils started a march of their own which took them to the Falcons 36 yard line before they were stopped. River Falls picked up a penalty of 15 yards for clipping which took the ball back to their own twenty. Here started a series of fumbles and pass interceptions, the likes of which haven't been seen in many a game. First River Falls fumbled and Hansen recovered. Then in the next play Stout fumbled and River Falls recovered again. Only three plays later the Falcons fumbled again and Hansen again recovered for the Bluedevils. Stout held the ball for a few plays before River Falls intercepted another time. Joe Burgoyne, the Falcon's star quarterback then passed to the ten yard line of Stout. The line held for three plays and on the fourth play John Walters broke through and dumped Burgoyne for an eight yard loss, back to the 16.

Stout then tried a pass and it was intercepted by River Falls. The half ran out before another play could be run. The score at half time was 16-0.

The third quarter saw some good football by both squads with neither team being able to make much yardage. Then later in the third quarter Burgoyne threw a long pass to the Bluedevils ten yard line. Fullback Murphy scored a few plays later to make it 22-0.

In the final quarter the Bluedevils line seemed to come to life again and with Ron Wilhelm, Art Goglin, and Joe Stebly making some nice tackles, the devils made a goal line stand and held the Falcons from another score. The Bluedevils with their backs to the goal line were forced to punt. Here River Falls fumbled again and Goglin recovered for Stout. Steve Hansen ran right end for a first down to the Stout 38 and Harry Sauer passed to Al Loew for another first down on the 49. Sauer passed again, this time to Hansen on the River Falls 36 yard line for another first.

Bill Ewing pitched one to Sauer who got to the 14. The attack slowed down and was stopped on the six yard line by an interception. River Falls, trying for a last touchdown in the final seconds, threw a long pass which Ewing grabbed and returned to the Falcon's twenty before being brought to earth. The game ended with Stout trailing 22-0.

APO MEMBERS CONDUCT FRESHMAN TOUR

"What a crowd! Sure lots of Freshmen!" were some of the comments uttered by APO members as they conducted new students on a tour of Menomonie recently. The purpose of the tour was to acquaint new students with points of interest in Menomonie. Churches and their locations were pointed out; public buildings, historical buildings, and school buildings were also included in the tour.

As in past years, the tour came to an end at Riverside Park. APO members served donuts and coffee during the ensuing period of friendship. School songs were introduced to the freshmen. The program at the park closed with the singing of the Alma Mater.

At the present time APO is compiling a list of eligible students as candidates for the fall initiation. The organization is the only international service fraternity on the campus and students who have been boy scouts and who meet the entrance requirements are eligible to join the fraternity.

The familiar blue and gold arm bands once more are seen at all Stout football games. Members are serving as ushers at all home football games.

THE "YOUNGER SET" ENROLLS AT STOUT

The Nursery School at The Stout Institute is again in session. Fifteen children are enrolled, ranging in age from three to four-and-a-half years. There is also a long list of names in Dean Kirk's Office too—names of children less than one year of age to three years of age, pre-registered and waiting for the time when they become old enough to be admitted to Stout's "Little School."

All Junior and Senior Home Economics students at the college have an opportunity to observe and participate in the operation of this practical child development center. Over fifty Senior students this year will spend two hours a week working with the pre-school group and learning to know the children through practical experience.

The Stout Nursery School is one of many such schools throughout the country in connection with college Home Economics departments. In a recent study of forty-five such schools connected with Land Grant Colleges and Universities, it was found that the age of two-and-a-half to four years was the most frequent for Nursery School enrollees, that the average Nursery School enrollment was fifteen, and that the cost to parents was $44 per semester. The charge to parents whose children attend The Stout Institute Nursery School is $25 per semester.

LION MALE QUARTETTE

MALE QUARTET TO APPEAR OCT 16

On Friday evening, October 16, at 8:00 p.m., the Lion Male Quartet will present a concert as a lyceum program at the Stout Auditorium. The Lion Male Quartet is well known because of its many midwest concerts, quartet competitions, and radio appearances.

Most recent of the Quartets laurels was its winning of the International Quartet competition at Chicago this past July. This makes the seventh such competition they have won, having scored earlier victories at Madison Square Garden, Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Mexico City, New Orleans, San Francisco, and Cleveland, where they have met some of the finest quartets in the country, including, on two different occasions, the National Barbershop Champions.

Every member of the quartet, including the accompanist, is a soloist in his own right, and each of them will display his solo ability in addition to a wide range of quartet presentations.

The variety of the program will run from classics and sacred numbers by Brahms and Tschernokoff to songs made famous in motion pictures. One of the gayer moments of the evening will be provided by the song most often requested of the quartet, a travesty on "Regollette." Add to this a dash of "barbershop" and "McNamarras Band" and the Stout faculty, students, and townspeople can be assured of a wonderful evening of entertainment.

Possessing a background almost as varied as their program, the members of the quartet draw upon opera and symphony experience in the case of Art and Don Olson; many years of experience with the famous Singing Marines, the Varsity Eight from California, and the Chicago Worlds Fair Quartet in the case of Walter Anderson; and many radio broadcasts as featured soloist with Lou Breeze and Emery Darey in the case Ted Miller.

Heard by many servicemen in their many Red Cross Overseas Broadcasts during the last war, the Quartet recalls, among other pleasant experience, introducing and singing with an unknown vocalist at that time, Peggy Lee.

MARIE STRODTHOFF IS '53 HOMECOMING QUEEN

Marie Will Be Crowned
By Last Year's Queen.
Jody Bain

Marie Strodthoff, a sophomore from Milwaukee, Wisconsin, has been chosen to reign over the 1953 homecoming. Marie, who was co-sponsored by the F. O. B. and Phi Sig fraternities, is a member of W. A. A., The Stoutonia, Home Economics Club, and the Lutheran Student Association. Members of her court will be: Colleen Cernisky, Joanne Fritz, Janet Peter, and Kay Wedin.

On Friday evening at eight o'clock, Johnny Bluedevil will attend the queen's coronation in the Stout auditorium, which is the opening ceremony in the weekend of homecoming celebration. Following traditional past royalty procedures, Miss Jody Bain, 1952 homecoming queen, will crown the new queen, Marie Strodthoff.

After the recessional, the queen and her court will ride in a convertible leading the torchlight parade to the fair grounds for the lighting of the bonfire by the captain of the football team. Speeches by the S. S. A. president, the queen, and the captain of the football team will follow. Cheerleaders, band, and alumni will conspire to present a lively ceremony.

OPEN HOUSE AT GIRLS' DORMS IS POSTPONED

In previous years, Open House was held at the girls' dorm the same week end as Homecoming, but this year the tentative Open House date has been set for Sunday, October 25.

It is hoped that this change will enable more people to attend Open House, who other years stayed away events because of the many Homecoming events.

Even though Open House is planned for later in the month, the girls are decorating the outsides of the dorms for Homecoming.

TEACHERS ARE PARTICIPATING IN CONVENTION

Several home economists of The Stout Institute are participating in the program of the Northwestern Wisconsin Teacher's Association at Eau Claire on Friday, October 9. Miss Ann Noble, head of the department of Home Economics Education of The Stout Institute, is chairman of the Roundtable Committee on Home Economics. Miss Mary E. Killian, Associate Professor of Home Economics, will present the topic, "Flair with Food." Participating in the panel "Where Are We Headed in Home Economics Education?" will be Miss Mary Clark and Miss Margaret Harper.

HOME EC. CLUB HEARS OF TRIP TO EUROPE

A colorful talk of a trip through Europe was presented by Miss Carrison at the first Home Economics Club meeting held Monday, September 28.

Mary Detlor, president of the Home Ec. Club for this year, welcomed back the upperclassmen and extended a warm invitation to all freshmen girls to join the Home Economics Club. Joan Fairweather then reminded the members that the State Convention of Home Economics Clubs is to be held on the Stout campus October 16 and 17. Chairmen of the various activities for the convention formed committees to plan the events.

Miss Carrison then related to the members a fascinating story of the people of France, Italy, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium and the Netherlands. She explained that the purpose of the trip was to study what other countries were doing in the line of food, clothing and shelter, and also, to contact others in Europe who are interested in further developing home economics. She showed the group many of the items she had brought back with her, among them being pieces of pottery, a lace mantilla and a silk screen print.

HIGH SCHOOL BAND WILL LEAD PARADE

This year the Menomonie Senior High School band will lead the Stout Homecoming parade. This honor was given to the Menomonie Senior Band in recognition of the wonderful cooperation they have given to Stout in all of the different functions that are carried on at Stout.

With the Menomonie Senior Band leading and the Menomonie Junior band closing, Herb Pringle, Parade Marshall says, "We will start the Parade with a bang and end it with a bang."

Other outstanding bands that will assist in making the Stout Homecoming parade a success are the Elk Mound High School Band, the Baldwin High School Band, and the Mondovi High School Band.

Highlight of the Homecoming will be the mass band parade at half-time. All the bands will mass at the south end of the field and then march across the field playing Military Escort by Bennett.

UNIVERSITY QUARTET WILL APPEAR HERE

The famed Pro Arte Quartet of the University of Wisconsin will play concert at Stout Institute in an appearance arranged by the Assembly and Lyceum Committee of Stout.

One of the first internationally recognized string quartets to be named artists-in-residence at an American university, the Pro Arte group has been associated with Wisconsin since 1940. They will play on Monday, October 12, at 8:00 p.m. in the Stout auditorium.

As has been the custom for several years, the college is permitting the public to attend the program if seats are available after 7:50 p.m. The same policy will be followed for the Lions Quartet which will appear at the college auditorium on the evening of Friday, October 16.

Each of the members of the quartet is an artist in his own right. First Violinist and Leader Rudolf Kelisch began lessons on the violin and piano at the age of six. He has studied with some of the outstanding teachers in Europe, including Sevcik, Adler, and Schoenberg.

After serving from 1915 to 1918 in the Austrian army, Kolisch resumed his studies at the University in Vienna. From 1919 on, he played violin recitals and conducted the State Theater orchestra at Karlsbad.

In 1922 he founded the Vienna

GALA WEEKEND BEGINS TOMORROW EVENING

FOOTBALL FIELD WILL BE THEME OF DANCE

A football field with a football in the center will be the basic idea of the annual homecoming dance which will be held October 10 in the high school gym. This dance is sponsored by the S.S.A., and the Junior Class is in charge. The decoration committee is headed by Ed Steineke.

The committee has been very busy and has decided upon a very atmospheric football theme for the dance. Goal posts will offset Cliff Kyes and his orchestra, who have been engaged to play. This orchestra is very capable and has played for many school functions in previous years. The predominating colors will, of course, be Stout's own Blue and White.

October 10 is a 1:30 night and it is advisable to take advantage of this opportunity to stay out late and attend this all-important school function. Admission is by presentation of your S.S.A. card, and it is possible to obtain admission cards for out-of-town guests. We are certain that everyone who attends will enjoy a very pleasant evening of dancing and entertainment.

N. A. M. CHOOSES STUDENT FOR CONGRESS

The National Association of Manufacturers, in a recent letter to Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, has announced a change in the manner by which students will be chosen to attend the Congress of American Industry in New York.

The new procedure calls for a drawing by a lot of the name of a Wisconsin college which, in turn, sends its top junior-year student. In the drawing just concluded, Ripon college was chosen, so their student representative will attend the Congress of American Industry this December.

In previous years, each Wisconsin college was asked to nominate an outstanding student from its junior class and the winner was selected from among the candidates by a panel of judges.

Through its new plan of selection, the NAM will eventually invite a student from every Wisconsin college, for only colleges which have never sent a student to the Congress will be among those from which a college is chosen by lot.

Purpose of the invitation to Wisconsin colleges and their students is the NAM's desire to exhibit to college students at first-hand the actual problems confronting the industries of the nation.

The Stout Institute students previously nominated by the college as candidates for the New York visit include Joan Fairweather (1952) and Charles Schiferl (1951).

The Celebration Begins With The Coronation Of Queen Marie

Homecoming festivities will commence Friday night, October 9, and will take place throughout that evening and the next day, Saturday, October 10. The highlights of the event will be the crowning of the Queen and the football game, which will be followed by a dance in the High School Gymnasium.

Marie Strodthoff, the Homecoming Queen, will be crowned at 8:00 Friday night. Last year's queen, Jody Bain, will place the crown of flowers on Marie's head. Marie will then introduce her court. Her escort for the evening will be John Oakeson.

The five girls on the court will ride in open convertibles, leading the Torchlight Parade to the Fair Grounds, where the Freshman Bonfire will be burned. The bonfire will be lit by the co-captains of the football team. As the fire is burning, the band will play a few numbers, and the cheerleaders will lead the students in some rousing cheers. Visiting alumnae will give greetings, followed by speeches from past S. S. A. presidents. Queen Marie and her court will again be presented. After a last cheer, the students will join in singing the Alma Mater, and will participate in a snake parade back to town.

Saturday morning various organizations will hold their annual breakfasts, at which returning alumni may renew old acquaintances. Epsilon Pi Tau, the national honorary fraternity, will hold its initiation banquet.

Saturday afternoon Menomonie will be host to visiting bands from all over the state. Different organizations will sponsor floats. Floats will be judged for the most beautiful, the most humorous, and the most in keeping with the theme. There will be first, second, and third place awards given in each category, and cash prizes will be awarded to winning floats.

Herb Pringle has been chosen as parade marshal. He has done a wonderful job organizing the various bands and floats, and would appreciate your cooperation to help make this event a success.

At 3:30 Saturday afternoon there will be a special meeting in Room 205 in Harvey Hall for all alumni. Please try to be there.

The two biggest events of Homecoming, the Football game and the Homecoming Dance will take place Saturday night. The football game against the Stevens Point Pointers will begin a 7:30, which is earlier than the other games this year. During half-time Queen Marie will welcome the students and alumnae, and will again introduce her court. Following this, the massed bands will put on a demonstration directed by Mr. Hardt.

Cliff Kyes and his band will play for the big Homecoming Dance, which will be held in the High School Gymnasium. The dance will be sponsored by the S. S. A.

All students will have 1:30 hours Saturday night.

PRO ARTE QUARTET

THE PRO ARTE QUARTET will appear at a lyceum Monday evening. This internationally known quartet has been named artists-in-residence at the University of Wisconsin.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

As the hours before homecoming come to a close, anxious students and alumni of The Stout Institute await the events which will prove to be both exciting and entertaining. But how many of you realize that Stout did not always have the celebration that is about to start tomorrow evening and that homecoming 1953 is the fourteenth annual event of its kind. The October 20, 1922 Stoutonia announces the first one thus:

"This is our first real homecoming and it is a real pleasure to have this red-letter day added to the Stout Calendar, and thus give us an opportunity to see so many of our former acquaintances, and bid them a hearty welcome. Welcome you certainly are, to help make this a gala day and a fitting celebration for the first of what we hope will be an annual event."

Not much has changed in the program since that first real homecoming. We still have the alumni breakfasts, the parade, the football game and the dance, but each year there are more alumni that come home to see their friends and relive the memories of good old Stout.

To you, the grads, we extend a glad hand, for you are the founders of the day of homecoming at The Stout Institute, a day which will be remembered in years to come.

Let's make this fourteenth year a specially happy celebration. Put your hand and heart out to the fellow you meet in the hall, at the game, parade, or dance, and make the years to come as happy as the past.

250 GUESTS ATTEND DORM'S OPEN HOUSE

Open House, which was held at Lynwood Hall on Sunday, October 4, from 3 to 4:30 p.m., proved successful. Approximately two hundred and fifty guests inspected the boy's dorm.

The event was successful because of the cooperation of all of the boys in the dorm. Lee Johnson and Donald Sweet were in charge of the food and serving committee. Other committees were headed by Larry Loveland, reception and Gilbert Hagen, clean-up. James Weber was the supply carrier and Stanley Stuk acted as registrar.

Dr. Guy Salyer is the new resident head of Lynwood Hall. The floor counselors are Ervin Carpenter, Joe Luetkemeyer, and Robert Spinti.

W. A. A. GETS TWO SPORTS UNDERWAY

With Stout's W. A. A. activities under way the lead off sports of the year are volleyball and shuffleboard. Volleyball is under the supervision of Ginny Ehlers, and shuffleboard, Judy Day.

Volleyball captains are: Team 1, Roberta Haskins; Team 2, Carol Schilstra; Team 3, Doris Curtiss; Team 4, Katie Garvin; Team 5, Barbara Rowe; Team 6, Irene Novinski; Team 7, Sylvia Robinson; and Team 8, Rita Pauls.

Team standings as of October 5 are:

Team 1	won 1,	lost 1
Team 2	won 2,	lost 0
Team 3	won 0,	lost 2
Team 4	won 0,	lost 2
Team 5	won 2,	lost 0
Team 6	won 2,	lost 0
Team 7	won 0,	lost 2
Team 8	won 1,	lost 1

All W. A. A. members participating in volleyball or shuffleboard are reminded to check the schedule on the W. A. A. bulletin board or in the gym for the weekly games.

Character is before money or property or anything else. Money cannot buy it.

QUARTETTE WILL GIVE CONCERT HERE FRIDAY

A quartette which has seven times won international singing contests will appear as a lyceum number on Friday, October 16, at 8:00 p.m. in The Stout Institute auditorium.

As has been the policy for several years, the administration of the college is permitting the public to attend the program if seats are available after 7:50 p.m.

The famous quartette offers a varied program of classical, religious, light operatic, humorous, and current popular music. The group composed of men all over six feet in height, has starred in concert appearances, radio, opera, and oratorio.

International singing competitions which they have won include those held at New Orleans, Chicago, Cleveland, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Atlantic City, and again at Chicago this past July.

Every member of the quartette, including the accompanist, is a soloist in his own right, and each of them will display his solo ability in addition to a wide range of quartette presentations.

The variety of the program will run from classics and sacred numbers by Brahms and Tachetnokoff to songs made famous in motion pictures. One of the gayest moments of the evening will be provided by the song most often requested of the quartette, a travesty on "Rigolette". Added to this will be a dash of "barbershop" and "McNamara's Band".

Possessing a background almost as varied as their program, the members of the quartette draw upon opera and symphony experience in the case of Art and Don Olson; many years of experience with the famous Singing Marines, the Varsity Eight from California, and the Chicago Worlds Fair Quartette in the case of Walter Anderson; and many radio broadcasts as featured soloist with Lou Breeze and Emery Darey in the case of Ted Miller.

Heard by many servicemen in their many Red Cross Overseas Broadcasts during the last war, the quartette recalls, among other pleasant experience, introducing and singing with an unknown vocalist at that time, Peggy Lee.

On a crowded streetcar a passenger apologetically handed the conductor a five-dollar bill, saying "I'm afraid I haven't a nickel."

"Don't worry," the conductor assured him grimly. "In a minute you'll have 99."

To cultivate kindness is a valuable part of the business of life.

PHI SIGS PLAN TO ENTERTAIN ALUMNI

A homecoming breakfast for alumni, members, and pledges of the Phi Sigma Epsilon (or K. F. S.) will be held in the Anchor Cafe on Sunday morning, October 11, at 10:30.

Scrambled eggs and ham will be a feature of the breakfast.

It is hoped that the alumni of the fraternity and families and friends will sit with the present members of the organization at the homecoming football game. Alumni desiring to do so will be directed to the main groupings on the fifty yard line by the pledges.

Pledging of new members will have been well underway at homecoming, with several prospective members donning the straw hats, canes, white shirts, red western bow ties, and other apparel characteristic of the fraternity.

PALLAS ATHENES HOLD RUSHING PARTY

The PA Rushing party for 1953 followed the traditional theme of Alice in PA land. A rabbit met the girls at the door and carried out ideas for fun and folly. Prizes were given to the lucky. A delicious dish of fruit and coffee were served to all. Our friend Alice was there and highlighted the party with a story of her PA land.

The PA's welcome Nancy Bargen, Dorothy Belisle, Joyce Frederick, Jane Gargulak, Doris Hutchinson, Rose Peper, and Barbara Rushing into their sisterhood. The official welcoming was done at the pledge party. The get-together made everyone of the girls stop and think. Everyone had a wonderful time.

On Sunday, at 8:00, in the Anchor Cafe, the PA's will be meeting the Alumni for breakfast. We are saving our appetites until then and hope to hear good news from our old friends.

MR. KEITH RECOVERING AT LUTHER HOSPITAL

"Mr. Keith is getting along fine and we're hoping that he will be home in a week or ten days."

That statement from Mrs. Floyd Keith is the latest report on the condition of Mr. Keith, head of the Stout Institute department of metalworking and professor of industrial education at the college.

Mr. Keith, stricken with endocarditis late in August, is now at Luther hospital, Eau Claire. He has been able to see only a very few visitors, but enjoys letters and cards from alumni and friends. When he leaves the hospital, he will also be able to receive mail at his home, 1415 Broadway, Menomonie.

An alumnus of Stout Institute (B.S. '22), Mr. Keith has been on the Stout faculty since that year. He is a life member of the Stout Alumni Association. In addition, he holds a Master of Science degree from Iowa State college.

In speaking of her husband's convalescence, Mrs. Keith reports:

"Because my husband's quota of visitors has been strictly limited by his doctor, he looks forward each day to receiving his mail. We want to thank those who have been so very thoughtful in writing and to tell them how much the cards and letters have meant and will continue to mean."

WESLEY MEMBERS CONSIDER PROBLEMS

"What makes a Christian Home?" "What part do athletics and dating play on the college campus?" and "How can we discover God in college life?" were topics of discussion at Sunday school and Wesley Student Fellowship Sunday, October 4.

At 9:30 every Sunday morning the college group get together for their coffee hour Sunday school class in the basement of the Methodist Church. Herb Anderson has been the discussion leader as the group exchanged their knowledge, ideas, and experience.

Food, fun, and fellowship are again the goals of the W. S. F. in their Sunday evening meetings. 5:30 is the supper hour when all gather for some of Winnie Bobolz's cheeseburgers or Doris Hutchinson's donut sandwiches.

Motive, the magazine of the college student, was used as the basis for the discussions last Sunday night as the group divided to thrash out topics of athletics, dating, and God on the campus. Everyone left with a determination to clean the cobwebs out of their brains once in a while and make the best of college because it "is there".

MISS BELL VISITS STOUT S. C. F. MEMBERS

Miss Ruth Bell, the new inter-varsity representative spent part of last week on our campus conferring with members of Stout Christian Fellowship. She helped get the organization started in the new year.

S. C. F., a part of the Inter-religious Council, decided to take part in the project for homecoming, which is a float for the parade.

S. C. F. meetings are held every Tuesday night at 7:00 and prayer meetings every night at 6:30 in Room 122.

A. P. O. HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF THE YEAR

APO's first business meeting of the year was held in Bowman hall, September 29, at 6:30. The forthcoming initiation was on the agenda as most important. As in past years, the organization decided to hold the initiation after "hell" week.

Members will again take orders to laminate valuable cards for students. The first attempt to promote this activity started last spring. Results from the campaign encouraged the organization to try the program again this fall. A display of laminated cards will be shown at a future date. Time and place will be announced. Members request that those who are interested in this type of card try to keep the size down to the regular bill-fold size.

Those popular sport shirts with the organization's insignia on are being considered by members of the organization. Inquiries are being made and APO members hope that this bit of research will bring up some favorable information.

APO will again be represented in the homecoming parade with a float. Members voted approval at the business meeting. After walking off with first prize in the most humorous division last year the organization is shooting for another first prize.

BOWMAN HALL GETS NECESSARY REPAIRS

During the past few weeks, there has been much activity around Bowman Hall due to the necessary repair work that is being done on the building. The process of repair is called caulking brick. This consists of removing the deteriorated mortar between the bricks and replacing the old mortar with new. This serves as an added life insurance for the building.

Y. W. C. A. HOLDS FIRST BUSINESS MEETING

The Young Women's Christian Association had a short meeting on Wednesday evening, September 30. The main business of the meeting was the collection of dues, which are $1.00 a semester, by the treasurer, Ruth Behrens.

All students who would care to take advantage of this Christian organization and what it has to offer are urged to attend the next meeting. Notice of meetings, etc., are posted by the bulletin board outside of the library.

HAYRIDE NOTICE

MISS CARRISON RETURNS FROM TRIP ABROAD

The flair of European cookery and the dash of Continental custom have been flavoring the Home Economics division of The Stout Institute since, on July 27, Clara Carrison, assistant professor of home economics at the college, returned from more than a month's first-hand experience with the foods and styles of five European nations.

From the chefs, restaurants and homes of France, Italy, Switzerland, Holland and Belgium, Miss Carrison brought back to Stout an abundant collection of famous European recipes, together with descriptions of unique settings in which these delicacies are served on the Continent. She also studied European foods in relation to their appropriate use in our own society.

As a home economist chosen to participate in the "American Home Economists Field Trip to Western Europe," Miss Carrison left the college July 20 on a flight to Paris. With 18 other home economics specialists from all areas of the United States, she observed the life and customs of the five European nations.

However, the search for culinary secrets was by no means the only goal of the field trip. In an effort to gain a better understanding of Western European culture, the home economists also studied such social and economic problems as education, housing, textiles, and clothing. On a number of occasions during the trip the home economists lived with European families, observing the achievements and problems of these foreign peoples.

The home economists also received the cooperation of officials of the five European nations. The Education Ministry of France planned visits to educational institutions. Such other current French problems as social security and housing were explained by French specialists. A reception by French textile manufacturers opened a series of visits to French fashion salons.

The visitors were also addressed by Dr. Tremolieres, chief of the French Department of Nutrition, and then visited the weaving, dyeing, printing, and finishing subsidiaries of the French textile industry in outlying cities of France.

In Italy, Miss Carrison and her colleagues again studied European foods and also discussed social problems with Italian officials. Among these conferences were those with Italian educators and with Professor Luzatto, dean of the College of Economics and Commerce at Palazzo Foscari. After a visit to such diverse Italian industries as those of glass blowing, lace making, and silk manufacture, the visitors studied the operation and products of Italy's "Center of Art and Culture."

Highlights of the visitors' observations in Switzerland, Holland and Belgium included a conference with Professor B. Boesch, chairman of the Central Office of Swiss Universities, and an address, "United Europe," by Robert Criven, council head of cultural relations.

Members of the field trip then took up residence with French families of the industrial region of Lorraine. The tour was concluded with a reception by French textile manufacturers and final conferences between members of the field trip and European officials.

At The Stout Institute, Miss Carrison is an assistant professor in the Department of Food and Nutrition, where she teaches in the area of Food Preparation. She also directs much of the teaching of Food Demonstration at the college.

ALUMNI GREETINGS FROM THE PRESIDENT

Each time I have the pleasure of greeting our alumni upon the occasion of Homecoming, I am suddenly reminded that another year has gone by. These past twelve months have probably meant another year of accomplishment and service for you, and they have meant a year of accomplishment and expansion for The Stout Institute, the college from which you hold your degree.

Homecoming is the time when you can visit again with members of the college staff, meet friends of your own college years, and exchange information of achievement, promotion and family happiness. Your college, too, has made progress worthy of notice. Visit our $650,000 library, soon to be completed. See the two new home economics laboratories just opened. Talk with us about our new $700,000 girls' dormitory, the construction of which has received approval.

Yes, we are glad to see you and talk with you, our alumni. You have much to tell us. And we have much to show you, much to tell you of Stout's future. May all of you, whether you be with us in person or in spirit, enjoy in full measure the excitement and friendship of a Stout Homecoming.

Welcome Alumni!! We're glad to see you again! Isn't it nice to be back, strolling down the corridors, re-acquainting yourself with old places?

We have a lot of new additions this year. Have you seen the new furniture in the Student Union? The Senior Class of 1952 donated new tables and chairs to the students. The freshman clothing lab was redone, and the students now have the latest in modern equipment. The tile floor and blond wood make this lab a most pleasant place to work.

Food labs were also done over. The freshman lab had a new unit added. How many of you have seen the sophomore lab? There are six separate kitchens, each complete in itself. This lab was here last year, but it is possible that some of you haven't seen it.

The new library is completed, and students will begin using it in November. This building is located at the end of the block, behind the Trades Building.

Be sure to see these additions to Stout. They may give you ideas for your own school.

LA CROSSE OUTPLAYS STOUT WINNING 46-0

Indians Outclass Stout's Bluedevils With Their All-around Superiority

The Bluedevils gave their all in an effort to keep a smooth, strong running La Crosse eleven from scoring. La Crosse was by far the superior team as they rolled up a final score of 46-0.

The outstanding characteristic was the speed that was shown by the Indians but they had an overall attack of speed, power, and deception that was just too much for the Bluedevils.

On the opening play of the ball game, Jerry Tuska went off tackle 72 yards for a touchdown. The kick for the extra point was good, and La Crosse had seven points before the fans were settled in their seats.

A few plays later a pass by quarter back Skip Wick was intercepted on the Stout 45 yard line. La Crosse went all the way on the next play, only to have it called back because of a penalty. The Indians then passed to the seven where Leo Janis pulled the receiver down.

Tuska carried the ball again as there was no stopping the speedy halfback. The kick was good and the score was 14-0.

Stout took the kick on their own twenty and with some smooth running and great blocking they marched into La Crosse territory.

A Harry Sauer to John Walters pass play netted twelve yards and another first down on the Indian's 37 yard line. Bill Greisch playing full back carried to the 31 and Sauer went through the line for the first down on the 26.

The Indians line tightened up and held the Bluedevils for four plays.

On the first play the Indians fumbled and Joe Stebly recovered for Stout on the 25 yard line, but the Bluedevils never got to capitalize on the break as they fumbled and La Crosse recovered the ball.

Tuska, who without a doubt is one of the best runners in the conference, ran 65 yards for his third touchdown of the half. The kick by Bob Kime was good and the Indians had a 21-0 lead.

As soon as La Crosse got possession again they ran and passed to the two and from there Dave Lechnir bulled over for the score. The kick was blocked by Walters and the score read 27-0.

Stout made their best try for a score as Sauer passed to Jerry Henderson on the 24 yard line of the Indians. Time was running out in the half as another Sauer to Henderson pass netted 16 yards and a first down on the eight yard line. A last past into the end zone was batted down and again the clock stopped the Bluedevils from a score.

The third quarter saw some improved defense as the Indians were held without a score in that period. Stout made several moves and one occasion they were able to advance on passes, but the Indians front line was too big and fast for the devils to move. The fourth quarter opened fast as a bad pass from center gave La Crosse the ball on Stout's 36. A pass to the rangy Jack Eifert was good for 31 yards. With first down on the five the Indians lost no time in going over as Willis Berzinski scored on a power play. The kick was good and the score was 43-0.

Stout held the Indians away for a while but then little Jimmy Mason broke away and ran 41 yards for another touchdown for La Crosse. Again the try for the point was blocked and the Indians had 46 big points.

In the dying seconds of the game a long pass by the Indians was deflected by Tom Baker into the arms of a player from La Crosse for another score.

String Quartet which toured every country in Europe. By 1925 he had formed the Kolisch quartet, which toured every country in Europe. By 1925 he had formed the Kolisch quartet, which set new standards for chamber music performance. The group played in some 300 European cities and introduced throughout the continent the music of advanced contemporary composers like Schoenberg, Bartok, Berg, and Webern.

In 1935 the group made its American debut and toured the U. S. and South America under the management of Sol Hurek. In 1940 Kolisch became an American citizen and four years later he accepted the appointment as artist-in-residence and first violinist with the Pro Arte group.

In 1952, along with Conductor Dimitri Mitropoulos and Pianist Edward Steurmann, Kolisch was voted the Schoenberg Medal by the International Society for Contemporary Music. He has long been recognized internationally as one of the foremost interpreters of Schoenberg's work.

During the summer of 1953 he toured Germany, by invitation of the U. S. High Commissioner, to give concerts at America Houses. He also made recordings at radio stations throughout western Europe as well as in London and Dublin.

Second Violinist Albert Rahier was born in Liege, Belgium. He studied at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Liege and with the world-famous violinist Eugene Ysaye. From 1928 to 1940 he was concertmaster of the Opera in Brussels and professor of violin at the Royal Conservatory of Ghent. He also played with the Belgian Piano String Quartet, which came to the U. S. in 1940. In 1943 Rahier joined the Pro Arte group.

Violoncellist Ernest Friedlander was born in Vienna, where he studied at the Vienna Conservatory of Music and the Hochschule fur Musik. He toured Europe as soloist and as first violoncellist with the Vienna Concert orchestra and the Popa-Grama String Quartet. After he came to the U. S. he was appointed head of the cello department of Arthur Jordan Conservatory. He has been principal violoncellist with the Indianapolis Symphony and with the Kansas City Philharmonic Orchestra. In 1943 he toured the country as soloist and climaxed the tour with a recital in Town Hall, New York. Late that year he joined the Pro Arte. His cello concerts with his pianist-wife have become eagerly awaited annual events on the Wisconsin campus.

Baltimore-born Violist Bernard Milefsky was graduated at 15 from high school and given a scholarship to study at Peabody Conservatory. Later he studied at Curtis Institute and at George Washington University. He has been violist with the Pro Musica, the Kolisch and Gordon String quartets, and with the Wallenstein Sinfonietta. In 1947 he made his New York Town Hall debut and joined the Pro Arte.

HOME EC CLUB CONVENTION TO BE HELD HERE

The annual Home Economics Club convention will be held at The Stout Institute Friday, October 16, and Saturday, October 17. The theme of the convention is Using Our Club Resources. Miss Ann Noble, instructor at Stout is the state advisor of the group, and Joan Fairweather, senior, is state president.

Between forty and fifty students are expected to be here next weekend. The six Home Economics clubs in the state represented will be: Cardinal Stritch College, Mount Mary College, and Milwaukee Downer, all of Milwaukee; the University of Wisconsin; the State College at Stevens Point; and The Stout Institute.

Saturday morning President Fryklund will welcome the delegates, and Dean Kirk will introduce the convention's topic. This will be followed by a business meeting during which Miss Noble will discuss the state organization. One of the highlights of the day will be an illustrated lecture by Miss Joy Swan, an exchange student under the IFYE plan. Miss Swan, a 4-H member from Waukesha County, was chosen last year as a representative for the International Farm Youth Exchange program. In this two way exchange plan sponsored by the 4-H clubs of America, Joy spent six months living and working with some rural families in New Zealand. She will be showing colored slides and telling of her experiences on this fascinating Pacific island.

Following this lecture will be a tour of the Home Economics building. After this the students will reassemble for buzz sessions. At these sessions students will exchange ideas their clubs found satisfactory in their program plans. The topics under discussion will include: How to make money and spend it wisely; how Home Ec Clubs can aid the school, the community, and yourself in your future Home Economics work; and how you can pep

TEACHERS PARTICIPATE AT FALL CONVENTION

John A. Jarvis, Dean of Industrial Education, of The Stout Institute spoke on the topic, "The Responsibilities of the Industrial Arts Teacher" at the Northwestern Wisconsin Teachers Association held at Eau Claire last Friday. Also assisting on the Roundtable committee of Driver Education was Mr. Ray Kranzusch of The Stout Institute. Mr. Kranzusch was elected president of this group.

PASSION PLAY COMES TO TAINTER MEMORIAL

"Come Unto Me," the mission and passion of our Lord Jesus in twenty five beautiful scenes, will be presented in the Tainter Memorial auditorium this Sunday and Monday, October 18 and 19, at 8:00 p.m. with a matinee on Monday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. The matinee price will be $.65 and the evening price is $1.00. Reserved seats are $1.50.

Beginning with the sermon on the mount, "Come Unto Me" takes its spectators through the drama of the last supper, the agony in the garden, the trial before Pontius Pilate, the crucifixion and the ascension.

The cast is composed entirely of American actors of every religious denomination, and strive earnestly to give the audience a sincere and reverent portrayal of the world's greatest story.

BOBBIE ROBERTSON TO ENTERTAIN AT CONVO

Convocation for Wednesday, October 21, will present Bobbie Robertson, expert on percussion instruments. He will present a versatile program in which he plays, demonstrates, and explains the vibraphone, marimba, cymbals, drums, and tympani.

Mr. Robertson has been in the U.S. Marine Corps and was a solo drummer and marimbist with the U.S. Marine concert and swing band.

The convocation will have an appeal for all the students and faculty.

and banquets suited to the interests of the young visitors.

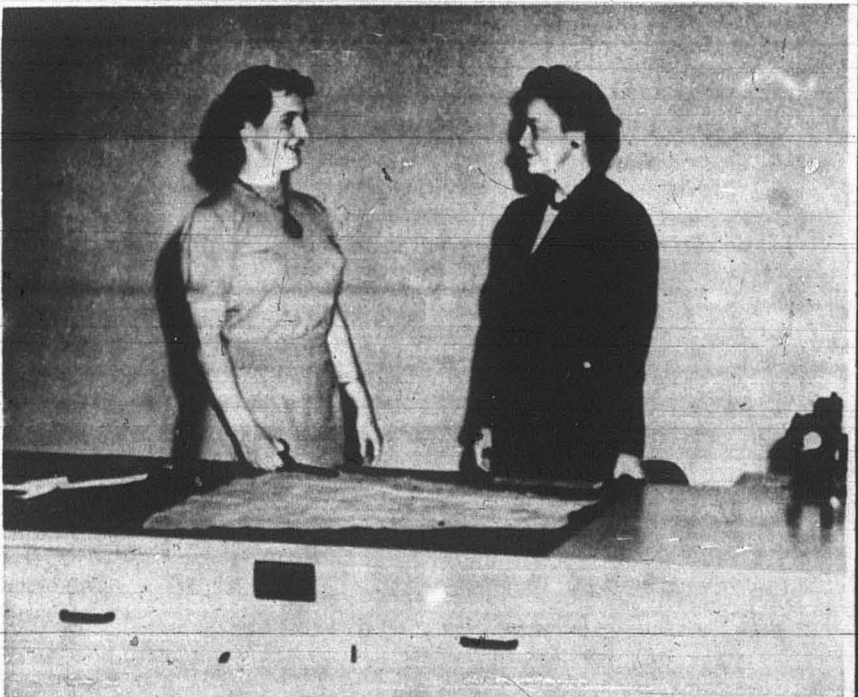

Aim of the conference is to broaden the interest and knowledge of young rural America in today's problems pertaining to county, state, nation, and world.

Miss Kay, a sophomore in the home economics division of The Stout Institute, is active on the college newspaper, in the Home Economics club, and in the Lutheran Students' association.

Winning 4-H recognition is no new experience for Miss Kay. In 1950 and 1951 she won the Pierce county style review competition and became eligible to participate in 4-H activities at the Wisconsin State Fair. In 1952, she won the Pierce county title for clothing construction.

In her first attempt at 4-H speech competition, Miss Kay won both the 1953 Pierce county 4-H speech championship and also the district title. As a result, she was named alternate candidate for state-wide competition.

"PETTICOAT FEVER" IS A GAY COMEDY

"Petticoat Fever," a comedy which gaily diagnoses all the symptoms of the ludicrous malady which afflicts young men living in lonely outposts away from all women, has been chosen as the next play to be presented here by the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega. Written by Mark Reed, who also wrote the successful comedy called "Yes, My Darling Daughter," "Petticoat Fever" will be shown at the Stout auditorium for three performances, from November 12 through 14.

Roger Bergh has been chosen to play the role of the lonely radio operator, Dascom Dinsmore. It is the plight of this character which gives the play its title. He is holed away for a bitterly boring winter in a desolate weather station in Labrador, 90 miles from the nearest settlement with no other companionship in sight but that of an Eskimo servant. Not having seen any women in five months, a pretty woman in a year, or a beautiful woman in two years, he has nothing to do between rare radio signals but to regret his mispent youth—the romantic opportunities he had declined in other locales.

Herbert Pringle and Barbara Hilts will be playing the roles of two unexpected visitors to this inaccessible weather station who send the radio-man's "fever" soaring to great heights. They are to be seen in the roles of a stuffy Member of Parliament and his fiancée, whose plane has crashed near the radio-station. Overwhelmed by having a beautiful woman as a guest, the blissful radio-man invents one stratagem after another to prevent their being rescued and taken back to civilization. Learning that she has become engaged to the gentleman,

GOVERNOR KOHLER VISITS CAMPUS

PROMINENT MEN TOUR CAMPUS ON VISIT

Eminent visitors who toured the Stout Institute campus on Thursday, October 8, included Walter J. Kohler, Jr., governor of Wisconsin; Arthur Padrutt, Wisconsin state senator; Paul J. Rogan, member of the Wisconsin Assembly from Rusk and Sawyer counties; and Phil Drotning, secretary to Governor Kohler.

They were accompanied on their tour by Robert L. Pierce, President of the Board of Regents of The Stout Institute, and William McIntyre, Eau Claire.

The visitors showed great interest in a number of features of the campus. They observed the clock of Bowman Hall and learned the part which the late James H. Stout played in rebuilding the structure after the disastrous fire of 1897.

In Harvey Hall the group was escorted to several clothing laboratories and meal management kitchens by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at The Stout Institute. Members of the party were photographed in various laboratories and classrooms by members of Stout's audio-visual center.

Before leaving, the Governor inspected Stout's present overcrowded library facilities and then viewed the new college library before continuing his speaking tour in Northwest Wisconsin.

MISS O'BRIEN SELECTED FOR COMMITTEE

Selected as a member of the nominating committee of the Registrars of Wisconsin College and Universities has been Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, registrar of Stout Institute, at a meeting of that organization in Brooks Memorial Union at Marquette University.

Speaker for the morning section of the conference was R. F. Lewis, Wisconsin's assistant state superintendent of problems of teacher certification affecting the 28 Wisconsin colleges which train teachers.

Meeting in afternoon shops were conference delegates from private or church colleges and universities conferred with Miss Boettcher of Ripon. Representatives of state colleges and universities met with Dr. Quincy Doudna, registrar of Stevens Point State College, 1953 president of the Registrars' group.

The latter group made plans for working out uniform policies and procedures to be used by member colleges.

Other members of the nominating committee of which Miss O'Brien was a part included Mr. R. McMahon, Oshkosh State College and Dr. George Vander Beke, Marquette University.

GUEST SLIPS REQUIRED AT ALL-SCHOOL DANCES

When an all school dance is sponsored by the S.S.A., students who bring outside guests are required to purchase guest slips.

These slips may be purchased at the S.S.A. office on the first floor, in Harvey Hall.

High school students and other college students may not attend dances sponsored by the S.S.A. unless as a guest of a Stout student.

Dances sponsored by various clubs and organizations may be attended by anyone.

TOWER NOTICE

Organization pictures for the Tower are being taken Monday evening, October 19. Check the schedule or ask your organization president for your scheduled time. Be sure to be there on time.

NOTICE

The coffee hour in honor of Dean Bowman which was to be given by the Theta Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau and The Stout Institute Graduate Men's Club from 4:00 to 5:30 p.m., October 16 has been cancelled.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Thank you, students for your wonderful cooperation during Homecoming Week! You did a splendid job! All the Alumni expressed their sincere thanks for your efforts.

The 1953 Homecoming was made a success only by your cooperation. Special thanks goes to the freshman class for their wonderful bonfire. Although it wasn't the highest we've ever had it nevertheless was one of the most spectacular. Considering that the bonfire was burned four times before October 10, you freshmen should be given hearty applause for redoubling your efforts after such heartbreaks.

Menomonie business men contibuted their time and facilities to help make our Homecomming a success. The faculty and administration should also be complimented for their help and the special privileges they granted us during this week.

The parade Saturday afternoon was marked by the spendid cooperation of the visiting bands. This year we also saw a group of the most beautiful floats that Stout has ever had. Special acknowledgement goes to Herb Pringle, who did an outstanding job as Parade Marshall.

To help make Homecoming complete, the football team scored their first touchdown of the season.

The only disappointing part of the whole event was that so many students went home. Homecoming is one of the bigger events of the year. More students should support our school's activities.

Homecoming 1953 was a huge success. Only your help and cooperation made it so. Thank you!!!

HATS OFF TO BILL

Did you see the white swan towing the barge in the homecoming parade? We would like to let you in on the story behind the Swan.

Our story began a month ago, when the Junior class held its first meeting. It was during this meeting that our Bill, Bill Wagner, was elected chairman of the homecoming float committee. Suggestions for floats were submitted and from these evolved the dream that was to become a reality.

Rulers, tapemeasures, and figures flew as Bill, and those who worked closely with him, prepared to erect a framework that was entirely original. Tacks and hammers were kept busy as chicken wire was clipped, stretched and secured to form the rounded contour of the Swan's body.

Napkins, which were to complete the dream, were bargained for and transported by Bill.

Last Friday morning, those coming to work on the float, found Bill busily engaged in those last minute problems always confronting a chairman. 5:00 p.m. came and as all work was done, Bill had his first chance to see the Swan move and "live". Being responsible for the mobilization of such a project is a job in itself, but it was ably fulfilled by Bill.

We fully realize that you could not have done it by yourself, but we could not have done it without you, either, Bill.

The Junior Class of 1953.

"PETTICOAT FEVER"

out of gratitude, rather than love, he boldly tries to steal her way from her fiancée, to the accompaniment of howls from Eskimo husky-dogs and displays of Northern Lights.

The radio-hut which had at first seemed so remote and inaccessible soon becomes crowded with more unexpected guests—one of whom is the rector from a mission down at the other end of the ice-floe, played by Edward Nowicke. He is the least welcomed guest, since the rector could so easily perform for the engaged pair, who must spend the winter together, the marriage which the radio-operator wants to be prevented.

Described by the New York Times, when the play opened on Broadway in 1935, as "one of the brightest items of the year, as knock-about fooling goes," and as "an amiable lark into hilarity," this droll piece of entertainment has continued to be one of the most popular plays of the American stage ever since, and as recently as 1948 it won a triumph when it was presented in Paris.

TEACHERS GO TO EDUCATION CONFERENCE

Attending the fall conference of the Wisconsin Committee on General Education held recently at Northland College, Ashland, was Miss Gertrude Callahan, chairman of the Stout Institute English department, and Miss Wauneta Hain, assistant professor of English and speech at the college.

Speaker for the morning session of the Conference was Professor George Strother, administrative vice-president of Northland. He discussed "General Education in the Light of the National Emergency."

Dr. Robert Polley, chairman of the department of integrated liberal studies at the University of Wisconsin, presented "A Five Year Report" to the group.

Speaker for the afternoon session was Professor Wyatt Belcher, of Superior State College, who addressed the Conference on "General Education at Wisconsin State College, Superior."

By the vote of the conference delegates, Stout Institute was chosen as the site for the next meeting of the General Education committee. That event will take place next spring.

STOUT LOSES HOMECOMING GAME 27-6

Stout's Bluedevils were upset by Stevens Point in the Homecoming game by a score of 27-6.

The marked improvement of the offense of the Bluedevils was the highlight of the game. Stout scored their first touchdown of the season as halfback Bill Ewing took a pass from Harry Souer and ran into the end zone for the score. The play covered 11 yards.

The game opened with Leo Janis kicking off to the Pointers who carried to midfield before they were forced to punt. Skip Wick returned the punt to the 32 yard line before the Pointers were able to bring him down. After trying the line and getting nowhere, quarter-back Souer threw a pass to Henderson for a first down on the 46. Stevens Point's defense tightened up and the Bluedevils were forced to punt. Carl Wiemann, the flashy quarter-back of the Pointers, led the attack as the Pointers marched all the way for the first touchdown of the game when fullback Den Herimann went over from the ten yard line. The try for the extra point was blocked by the charging Bluedevil line and the Pointers had a 6-0 lead.

Late in the first quarter, the Pointer's John Smith broke away and was on his way to pay dirt when Harry Souer out-ran him and with a low diving tackle brought him down on 15 yard line of the Bluedevils. The run covered some 45 yards. A few plays later, halfback Gene Norman crossed the goal line for the Pointers in a line plunge from the four. This time the kick was good and Stevens Point was in front by 13-0 as the first quarter ran out. Stout's line started to open up holes and with fullback Nessler plunging for good gains the Devils began to move. They marched from their own ten to Points 45 and were moving nicely when a pass by Skip Wick was grabbed by linebacker Mark Schommer on the 40 and taken 60 yards for a Point touchdown. The kick was good and Point led 20-0 As in previous games, the Bluedevils threatened to score in the dying seconds of the half as Dave Wendt recovered a Pointers fumble on the 48. Some good running and a pass put the Bluedevils in scoring position only to have the clock run out on them. The first half ended with Stevens Point ahead 20-0.

Things looked bad as Stevens Point rolled to another touchdown in the early part of the third quarter and with the extra point they had a lead of 27-0. The Bluedevils seemed to get that spark that they had lacked earlier and they began to play good hard football. After holding Stevens Point off, they began to pick up the yardage as the ball moved up and down the field. It was a series of passes that set up the touchdown play of the Bluedevils. A pass thrown by Souer to Ewing from the midfield marker covered 20 yards, and took the ball to the 30 yard line of the Pointers. Several short passes ate up ground and the Bluedevils had pushed their way to the 11 yard line of Stevens Point. At that point Souer faded back and let go with one of the sharpest passes of the evening into the waiting arms of Ewing who took it on the goal line and ran into the end zone for the touchdown. The try for the extra point by Janis was off to the side and the score read 27-6. It was Bill Ewing again who made the longest run of the game for the Bluedevils as he intercepted a Pointer pass on his own two yard line and ran it back to the 33 for a gain of 31 yards. But the score remained the same through the rest of the game and the Pointers clouded Stout's homecoming with a 27-6 loss.

RIFLE CLUB DRAWS UP TEN COMMANDMENTS

The members of the Rifle Club report that the hunting bags have been heavy with game since the hunting season opened on October 3.

Whenever you pick up a gun remember the 10 COMMANDEMENTS OF SAFETY, which are as follows: (1.) Treat every gun with the respect due a loaded gun. (2.) Carry only empty guns, taken down or with the action open, into your automobile, camp, and home. (3.) Always be sure that the barrel and action are clear of obstructions. (4.) Always carry your gun so that you can control the direction of the muzzle, even if you stumble. (5.) Be sure of your target before you pull the trigger. (6.) Never point a gun at anything you do not want to shoot. (7.) Never leave your gun unattended unless you unload it first. (8.) Never climb a tree or a fence with a loaded gun. (9.) Never shoot at a flat, hard surface or the surface of water. (10.) Do not mix gunpowder and alcohol.

The sixth greatest cause of accidental deaths in the United States is firearms, so be careful. Make "Safety First—Always," your motto. Remember—the life you save may be your own!

HERBERT ANDERSON

H. ANDERSON GETS DOCTORS DEGREE

Herbert Anderson, assistant professor of industrial education at The Stout Institute, has been awarded a doctorate of education by the University of Missouri. He has been a member of the Stout faculty since 1948.

Dr. Anderson's doctoral dissertation describes certain findings of the nationally-known Forest Products Laboratory of Madison, Wisconsin. The study is titled, "Analysis of Content of Woodworking Textbooks Based on Research Findings of the Forest Products Laboratory."

Originally a resident of Park Falls, Dr. Anderson graduated from the public grade school and high school of that city. He received his bachelor of science from The Stout Institute, and a master of arts from the University of Minnesota.

Previous to joining The Stout faculty, Dr. Anderson had been an instructor for the U.S. Army Air Force at Champaign Field, Illinois, and had also been a member of the faculties of two Minnesota high schools—Red Wing Central high school and Rochester Senior high school.

Educational organizations with which Dr. Anderson is affiliated include Epsilon Pi Tau honorary fraternity in industrial education, Phi Delta Kappa, and Alpha Phi Omega. He is also a member of the American Association of University Professors, American Vocational Association, National Education Association, and Wisconsin Education Association. He has been included in the listing of "Who's Who in Industrial Education."

Scholastic honors which Dr. Anderson has been awarded include the Eichelberger Scholarship and the College Scholarship of The Stout Institute. As an undergraduate senior, he was named to "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Dr. Anderson has written professional articles for such publications as the "Bulletin of the National Association of Secondary School Principals," "School Shop," and "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education."

Wife of Dr. Anderson is the former Irene Hansen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morten Hansen of Menomonee. The Andersons have two daughters, Nancy Jane and Deanna Mae.

ARTICLE BY DR. ANDERSON IS IN MAGAZINE

Authors of an article in the November issue of "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education" magazine, national monthly publication for teachers and students of industrial education, are Willis Capps, Stout Institute cadet teacher, and Dr. Herbert Anderson, assistant professor of woodworking at the college.

Entitled "Shadow Box," the article describes the construction of an industrial arts project for ninth and tenth grade progress levels. The project is planned to serve both as a core project and as a project that can be made on an industrial production-line plan.

The article was developed in The Stout Institute class devoted to the writing of feature articles. Capps, a senior from Elroy, is also president of The Stout Institute student association.

SIG TAU PLANS ANNUAL ALL-SCHOOL FORMAL

The first all school formal, the Sig Tau Rose Dance, will be held on November 7. This year the annual event will be held in the Stout Gym, which will be decorated with the traditional roses by a committee under the supervision of Sam Mikitarian. We are fortunate to be able to add to this setting the mellow music of "The Royal Blackhawk," which will provide a perfect atmosphere for an evening of dancing. Tickets for this event will be on sale starting next week and may be obtained from any member of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. We hope you will all attend the Rose dance and experience the most perfect evening of dancing this fall.

Last night, October 22, Kenneth Geske, John Posewitz, John Walters and James Warnecke were formally initiated into the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. During the past two weeks they have been busy fulfilling their various pledging duties. Many of you probably noticed some of their duties, wearing of the blue and white shields and helmets that they were wearing.

Tonight the members of Sig Tau and their dates will go on a hayride. This will enable the new members to get better acquainted with the older members. Following the hayride, the members and their dates will be served refreshments.

"S" CLUB WILL HOLD BANQUET FOR FATHERS

The "S" Club will honor their parents tomorrow with a banquet and a tea. The parents will also be guests at the game and dance.

The Father and Son Banquet will be held at 12:30 in the Stout Cafeteria. Ed Phelan will serve as Master of Ceremonies. The mothers will attend a tea in the Harvey Memorial at 1:00, sponsored by the Intersorority Council.

At the game, the dad's will wear their son's number and will sit on the benches with the players. During the banquet they will be introduced to the fans.

The Sweetheart Dance, following the game, will be jointly sponsored by the Tri Sigma sorority and Phi Sig Fraternity again this year. George Soderberg and his Royal Blackhawk will furnish the music.

PLAY REHEARSAL GOES INTO FULL FORCE

Rehearsals for the hit farce-comedy, "Petticoat Fever," are underway in full force and successful progress is being made. This dramatic production is being produced by the Manual Arts Players chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega for the opening on November 12, running through November 14.

This comedy, about a lonely radio-operator's frantic efforts to win a Member of Parliament's fiancée away from him when the pair's plane crashes near his radio-station in Labrador, has already been a hilarious hit in New York, London, and Paris.

The operator, whose only ailment is the result of a notable lack of female company, plots to keep the engaged couple as house guests all winter. Things get pretty complicated for him when he tries to prevent a rector from leaving his mission at the other end of the ice-ice to perform the ceremony for the stranded couple... and then his own fiancée arrives!

One of the many humorous incidents in "Petticoat Fever," which caused New York reviewers to call it "an amiable lark into hilarity" and "a brisk and fun-filled evening," concerns a dinner party the frustrated operator stages in his Arctic cabin. While a blizzard rages outside, he dons tails, serves two kinds of wine, turns in music from Canada for dancing, and seats his guests by using place cards.

Leading roles in the production will be played by Roger Bergh, Carol Schilstra, Barbara Hilt, Herb Fringale and Ed Nowicki. Others in the cast are Larry Loveland, Frank Hoffman, Mabel Sorida, Myrtle Tamura, and "Jiggs" Kuboyama.

DANCE WILL BE GIVEN TO HONOR DAD'S DAY

A dance in honor of Dad's Day will be held in the lower gym on Saturday evening, October 24, beginning after the game. George Soderberg and his fine dance band will provide the "swing and sway" music for the event. Dancers will be reminded of things the way they were when dad was young, courtin' mom, going to school and enjoying life in general in his fur coat and fliver.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority will jointly sponsor the annual event.

SPECIAL FALL CONCERT WILL BE PRESENTED

Featuring the concert band, college choir, ensembles, soloists and its famous Symphonic Singers, The Stout Institute will present a special fall concert on Saturday evening, October 31, at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium. Victor H. Hardt, chairman of music at the college, has completed arrangements for the program and the special staging needed for the event.

A wide variety of music will be heard. Included in the program will be sacred numbers, classical music, and folk songs, as well as popular and novelty selections.

March music by the band will feature "His Honor," famous march by Fillmore. Among sacred numbers will be "The Holy City" and "God Walks Beside Thee." Folk songs of Norway, Germany, Spain, and Czechoslovakia will also be sung.

Miss Dorothy Belisle, Menomonie pianist, will be featured in "Etude in Bogue," a popular suite for piano and band. Dan Wielgus, Pulaski sophomore, will play the saxophone solo, "Moderne." Carol Hahn, also a soloist will be heard in the "Holy City." Popular standard tunes such as "Deep Purple" and "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot" will be featured.

Tickets for the concert are being sold by music students of The Stout Institute and will also be on sale at the boxoffice on the evening of the concert. Price of admission will be 75 cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

LION MALE QUARTETTE PROVIDES RARE TREAT

The Lion Male Quartette, which appeared here last Friday night, gave the audience a rare treat. This famous group lived up to their reputation.

Beginning with sacred songs, the artists displayed their remarkable blend of five voices. From these they went on in a lighter vein and with rhythm, in singing such numbers as "Old Man River" and "Southern Medley." The audience immediately became intensely interested as from here on they knew they were to hear some extraordinary choral effects.

Each member of the quartette rendered a solo and it was hard to tell which one was best. Donald Olson's "Song of the Flea" took the audience by storm. The pianist was also greatly appreciated. In fact, he was an indispensable part.

The artists sang sacred songs, classical, and popular songs with equal ease.

They attempted to close the program with "The Old Times Hit Parade," but the audience felt differently about it. They answered five separate curtain calls with additional songs but the audience still remained in their seats. The quartette did manage to close the concert by bowing their way out.

GIRLS DORMS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY

Girls in Eichelberger Hall, Tainter Hall and Tainter Annex are planning and preparing for Open House, which will be held Sunday, October 25, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Faculty and students are invited to visit the girls dorms and to attend the tea in the dining room at Tainter Hall.

The girls will serve in the capacity of guides and hostesses for the Open House.

DIETETICS CLUB WILL SELL SANDWICHES

Watch for another sandwich and apple sale in the dorms this coming Tuesday evening. The Dietetics Club will again be selling snacks in Lynwood Hall, Tainter Hall, Tainter Annex and Eichelberger Hall between 10:00 and 10:30, so all you hungry girls and fellows are sure to be on hand when members arrive with their baskets of food. Ham salad sandwiches will be offered at 20 cents a piece and apples will probably be the same price as formerly.

On the following day apples will be on sale in the corridors of Harvey Hall. Eat one between classes or take some home with you.

Past sales have proved very successful, and the club hopes these sales will remain popular with the students.

Newly-elected vice president of the Wisconsin unit of the Association for Student Teaching is Dwight D. Chinnock, supervisor of student teaching in the industrial arts division of The Stout Institute.

Mr. Chinnock was chosen at the Fifth Annual Conference of the Wisconsin unit, held recently in Milwaukee. Association president is John J. Goldgruber, principal of University high school, Madison. Dr. M. Arline Albright, a faculty member at Marquette University was elected secretary-treasurer.

Nearly 80 delegates attended the conference from Wisconsin State colleges, liberal arts colleges, county normal schools, and the University of Wisconsin. They participated in general meetings and also conducted discussion groups devoted to particular problems of student teaching.

Speaker for one of the general meetings was Dr. John B. Johnson, president of Milwaukee Downer College, who claimed "Theory is Practical." Dr. Donald M. Sharp, director of student teaching at Indiana State Teachers college, also spoke to the assembled delegates.

Group meetings, for which Mr. Chinnock acted as a recorder, treated such topics as "Cooperation Between Teacher-Training Institutions and Schools During a Teacher's First Year of Actual Teaching" and "Recruitment and Selection of Teachers."

Retiring president of the Wisconsin unit is Dr. John P. Treacy, head of the department of education at Marquette University. Edythe Daniel, former supervisor of student teaching at Plattville State college, is retiring secretary-treasurer of the unit.

RECRUITMENT EFFORTS PROVE SUCCESSFUL

A recent tabulation of replies of first-year students to a questionnaire asking why these students chose to attend The Stout Institute indicates that the student recruitment activities being carried on by the college are both important and successful.

Interpreting the significance of answers received on the questionnaire has been Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at Stout. He stresses the fact that of freshmen students in attendance at Stout whose schools were visited by some member of the Stout faculty, one-half of such students indicated that the very visit was an important factor in their decision to attend Stout.

"This high percentage of reaction to faculty visits of high school students is evidence," Dr. Iverson states, "that faculty visitations do achieve results. The many faculty members who made such visits may certainly feel that their efforts have been successful."

The Open House, produced last April by the Stout Division of Home Economics under the direction of Dean Alice J. Kirk, was also a significant factor in recruitment, especially of freshman women. Of first year women who attended Open House, 71 percent gave credit for their enrollment at Stout. It is interesting to note that of three first year men who attended Open House, two list the event as a definite factor in their attendance at Stout—a 66 and two-thirds ratio.

In filling out the questionnaire, 65 men and 60 women credited the influence of high school teachers—of whom a great number were Stout alumni—with guiding these students to The Stout Institute. This latter figure supports the long-held theory that one of Stout's most influential recruiting services is alumni who are well-satisfied with the Stout education which they themselves received.

Campus visitation also had a definite place in recruitment. A total of 63 men and 65 women came to the campus prior to registration. Many of these students gave credit for their enrollment to both the invitation to visit the campus and the actual campus tour. The ratio of visitors favorably impressed with Stout was great.

The increased scholarship program, greatly implemented last year by the efforts of the Menomonie Rotary Club and President Verne C. Fryklund, was the chief factor in the enrollment of 14 students.

Of 225 students interviewed, 29 men and 50 women stressed the influence of parents in choice of college. Other important factors in student choice included Stout's splendid reputation in industrial education and home economics, the influence of friends and the advice of relatives.

Also mentioned by a smaller ratio of students were the influence of students now attending Stout, location of the college, influence of non-teaching alumni, and 4H or FHA participation.

The college sports program, low cost of attendance, influence of a high school principal or superintendent, interest of a county home agent, or advice of a veterans' guidance center were also listed by first year students as factors in their college decisions.

In evaluating the achievements of Stout's program to attract desirable students of college caliber, President Fryklund made the following statement about data which the questionnaire provides:

"The information presented in this study reveals that splendid work is being done by Dr. Iverson in directing the student personnel services of our college.

"However, we should express equal appreciation to all faculty members who contributed to the recruitment effort. All who worked on Open House, made visits to high schools, wrote letters, contacted alumni, guided visitors around the campus—to all these we are truly grateful.

"Our recruitment program is now nicely underway. We have established a firm foundation in personnel, techniques, and scholarships. We look with confidence to constant improvement in the future."

DIETETICS CLUB VISITS LUTHER HOSPITAL

A group of enthusiastic Dietetics Club members returned from a visit to Luther Hospital on Tuesday, October 20. Highlights of the day were talks given by Miss Dickie, Director of Dietetics at the University of Wisconsin Hospital, and Miss Mary Ann Moore, B.S. 1953, who is a dietetic intern at the University of Wisconsin Hospital.

The club toured the dietary department at Luther Hospital and Miss Garnock, administrative dietitian, and Miss Robinson, therapeutic dietitian, explained the workings of the department to the students. Of special interest to the group was the modern equipment and the kitchen. A complete remodeling job of the dietary department was completed about a year ago, so some very nice equipment was seen.

Mary Ann Moore, who received her degree from The Stout Institute last June and is presently well remembered by most on the campus, told the group about her internship at the University of Wisconsin Hospital. She gave the girls a few pointers about what to expect from their internship and told them that the training she received at Stout well-prepared the students for internship.

Miss Dickie examined the internship program at the University of Wisconsin, which is in its first year of operation. She discussed with the girls what can be obtained by an internship and choosing a hospital for that internship. She made many thought-provoking comments about the profession of dietetics, and the girls seemed to gain a better insight into their work and their internship.

As the club members returned from the visit they all agreed with the success of the day. They had spent a very enjoyable time, professional thinking seemed to have been stimulated, and interest in internships was at a high ebb.

BOBBIE ROBERTSON ENTERTAINS AT CONVO

An interesting educational program was presented at the Wednesday convocation, Bobbie Robertson, marimbist, explained and demonstrated the ways of playing the drums, cymbals, the Marimba and the vibraphone.

Mr. Robertson gave a brief history of the instruments and played several classical selections. He had good platform behavior and a sense of humor. The audience paid close attention during his performance.

A.P.O. PLEDGES SEVERAL NEW MEMBERS
October 20 was selected by members of APO as the date for the informal pledging ceremonies for the pledges. The meeting took place in Bowman Hall, October 13. Immediately following the approval of a date, Mr. K.T. Olsen, advisor, was given an opportunity to explain the new program of merit badge awards.
New pledges will not participate in the business meeting on October 20, but they will receive information on the organization from the advisors and officers before the business meeting. Immediately following the business meeting members and pledges will journey to the room above the union where refreshments and fellowship will hold forth.
At the October 13 meeting, Mr. K. T. Olsen, advisor, explained the new merit system that goes into action on November 1 throughout the entire Chippewa Valley Council. Mr. Olsen informed the members why the present system was being replaced.
The new system will require the scout to pass the requirements before a counselor who is an expert on the various badge requirements. Awarding of the merit badge with these requirements will make the badge more desirable. In the past, scouts were given merit badge ratings by scoutmasters even though the scouts didn't meet the basic requirements of the badge.
Final business of the evening was making tentative plans for the formal initiation to be held at a later date.

"RULES" IS TOPIC OF CONGO DISCUSSION
The golden rule, the silver rule, and the steel rule were discussed by the Congo Club Sunday night. We know that the "Golden Rule" means "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you", but the silver rule is a little different. The silver rule is "Go your own way and pay no attention to anyone else." The steel rule is "Dog eat dog, and if you don't get it first someone else will." "Which one do you live by?" was the climax of the discussion which was led by Don Sweet.
The topic was preceded by a supper of tuna casserole and a good old song fest.
Next week, October 25, we are having our Halloween party, dress informally and bring your friends. See you there!

BLUEDEVILS PLAY '53 SEASON'S BEST GAME

Although Losing 19-13.

Stout Plays Better

Game Then Eau Claire

Stout's Blue Devils played their best game of the year as they rolled over Eau Claire in every department except for the final score. The Blue Devils piled up 387 yards rushing and passing to only 190 by the Bluegolds of Eau Claire. A 28 yard pass in the final quarter gave Eau Claire the victory as it broke a 13-13 tie and gave them a 19-13 win over a stubborn and spirited Stout eleven. It was a tough one to lose for Coach Wink's never-say-die Blue Devils. The game produced as many thrills as the 1953 season has seen. Stout was led by the sensational running of halfback Skip Wick, who was virtually a one-man offensive as he piled up 142 yards in 24 plays, besides kicking off and doing the punting.

The statistics tell the true story of the game as they show that Stout got 20 first downs to a mere 8 by Eau Claire. Had it not been for penalties there is no telling how many points the Blue Devils might have scored. Two touchdowns were called back because of penalties.

Wick kicked off for the Blue Devils to start the game. The Bluegolds ran the kick back to their 40 and after trying three plays they were forced to punt, the ball went out of bounds on Stout's 13 yard line. Halfback Bill

Ewing carried to the 15, and Wick picked up four more yards. Freshman Bill Nessler started at fullback and he went off tackle to the 25 for a first down. Wick gained six more yards before the Blue Devils were forced to punt. Eau Claire took the ball on the 20 and they marched to Stout's 39 yard line before Ewing intercepted a pass on the 26 and ran it back to the 37. The Blue Devils passing attack began to work as a Harry Sauer to Ewing pass play carried 34 yards and brought the Blue Devils to Eau Claire's 28 yard line. Wick plowed to the 23 to set up the pass which Sauer threw to Wick for the touchdown.

Bill Greisch came in to kick the extra point and he made it good to give Stout an early lead of 7-0 over the Bluegolds.

Ed Zillman kicked off for the Blue Devils to Eau Claire's 25. They returned it to the 40 before being stopped. Fullback Ed Gorsenger of Eau Claire broke loose for 30 yards and might have gone all the way had it not been for a shirt sleeve tackle by Ed Jerry Henderson. The Bluegolds continued to march on as they went to the three before Don Galuska went over for the touchdown. The kick was blocked by Art Goglin and Stout still led, 7-6.

Skip Wick took the kickoff on his own 5 and returned it to the 30 for a nice gain. Greisch went right up the middle of the field for a gain of 64 yards as he went all the way to Eau Claire's 9 yard line. The Blue Devils were stopped from scoring by a penalty and a fumble as they were forced to give the ball up on the 10 yard line. Early in the second quarter the Blue Devils marched again to the nine yard line before they were held, due to the penalty which called back a touchdown at this point.

Eau Claire punted out of the end zone to Wick on the 47 and he ran it back to Eau Claire's 45. Wick picked up a first down going to the 34 and Nessler went through the middle for another first down on the 23. There was no stopping the Blue Devils as they ran right over the Bluegolds for yard after yard. Wick carried to the 12 for another first down. With only 20 seconds left in the half Greisch went to the 5 before the Bluegolds made a goal line stand to hold the Blue Devils from a T. D. The first half ran out and Stout was leading 7-6. The third quarter saw Eau Claire take advantage of a break as Tomlinson of the Bluegolds intercepted a Sauer pass on Stout's 22 and carried it to the 18. Snell of Eau Claire fought his way to the five and on the next play Dave Wendt broke in and threw the Blue Devils for a five yard loss back to the 10 yard line.

Gorsenger went into the end zone for the score and the kick was good, giving Eau Claire the lead, 13-7.

Stout carried to the 24 before they had to punt to the Bluegolds' Snell who returned it 30 yards to Stout's 35. Eau Claire fumbled and Dave Wendt recovered for the Blue Devils on the 40 yard line. Greisch went 11 yards for a first down to the 49 of Eau Claire. A Sauer to Henderson pass was good for another first down on Eau Claire's 34 yard line. Wick went over center to the 28 and on the next play it was Wick again with a dazzling run to the 5 yard line. A backfield in motion penalty brought the ball back to the 10 and a loss of a yard made third down on the 11 yard line. Sauer passed to Ewing and the ball was inside the one yard line on fourth down. Sauer called a quarterback sneak and he made it good as he went over for the touchdown. With the score tied at 13-13, Greisch tried for the extra point. The kick was wide and the score stayed deadlocked.

The fourth quarter opened with Eau Claire punt rolling dead only four inches from the Stout goal line. Wick carried to the 11 on two plays for a first down. Greisch went to the 26 for another first down. Wick to the 30 and a Sauer to Henderson pass made it first down on the 45. Stout rolled on as every man in the back field made four or five yards at a try. Then on the 30 yard line a Sauer pass was grabbed by an Eau Claire back and he was away for 32 yards, going to the 32 yard line of the Blue Devils. The Bluegolds fought their way to the 28 from where Frank quarterback Bollinger threw to Snell who zigged his way to the goal line for the touchdown and the lead which the Bluegolds held. The kick was no good and Eau Claire led 19-13.

Stout took the final kick off and with Wick running, they moved to midfield. With only a minute left, Sauer threw to Gale Johnson on the 41 and again on the 29. Then a Sauer to Henderson pass brought the ball to the 18 yard line of Eau Claire. With 8 seconds left a Sauer to Johnson pass was no good and on the last play Wick ran end going to the five yard line before he was stopped. With the ball only five yards away from the winning touchdown, the time ran out on the Blue Devils. Eau Claire won the game, but the Blue Devils were the better team as they literally wiped up the field with the Bluegolds of Eau Claire. The final score, 19-13.

BLUEDEVILS MEET SUPERIOR SATURDAY

Stout will be seeking its first win of the season when Superior comes to town Saturday night.

It will be Dan's day for the Blue Devils and it will be their final home appearance of the season.

The Blue Devils made an excellent showing against Eau Claire last Saturday even though they lost. The confidence they should have gained against the Bluegolds plus efforts to make a good showing be an incentive for the Blue Devils to win.

Superior has also experienced a rocky road this season. The Yellowjackets, in pre-season predictions, were picked as the team to give La Crosse a battle for the state college conference crown but things haven't worked out that way.

The Yellowjackets can be tough for they held a 14-13 win over Duluth branch and did manage to score against St. Norbert's, a team that was barely defeated by La Crosse, 12-7.

However, since Superior started fortunes have changed; in fact, they have been shut out by Eau Claire, River Falls and La Crosse. These three opponents have scored 71 points against them. In four conference games, Stout has scored 19 points but has given up 114.

Stout Coach Jack Wink had little to say following the loss to Eau Claire. He summed up the picture with these words: "We are coming, but we are coming just a little late."

Starting Team

Stout Coach Jack Wink had little to say nearly 60-minute action against the Bluegolds. Starting lineup will have Gerry Henderson and Pete Williams, ends; Joe Stebly and Dave Wendt, tackles; Art Goglin and Ed Zillman, guards; Don Wilhelm, center; Harry Sauer, quarterback; Skip Wick and Bill Ewing, halfbacks, and Bill Nessler, fullback. Others who will probably see action are Bill Greisch, fullback; Walter Kratsch, center; Joe Wisniewski and Charles Blume, tackles.

The Yellowjackets are coached by Leo Di Marco and captained by Lou Pretti. The probable starting backfield will be Jack Mussey, quarterback; Eugene Martino and Gerald Finckler, halfbacks, and Rodney Lundberg, fullback.

The game is scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

TRI SIGS TO SPONSOR HALLOWEEN TEA

The Tri Sigma sorority will sponsor their annual Halloween Tea in the Harvey Memorial, Wednesday, October 28 from 3:30 to 5:30. Committee chairmen which have been appointed are: Elaine Hanson, food; Janet Peter and Barbara Wornet, decorations; Barbara Ness, publicity; and Rosemary Kelly, invitations. Everyone is invited to attend this first all school tea of the year.

Nowdays when you're through eating at a swell restaurant you really do need an after-dinner mint. Probably the Philadelphia one.

PRE-REGISTRATION BEGINS NEXT WEEK

According to an announcement from Dean Kirk's Office, programs for the second semester will be made out for all Freshmen and Transfer students during the period beginning November 2 and ending November 25. Students should make appointments with their counselors as soon as possible to discuss their programs and complete their pre-registration.

MANUAL ARTS PLAYERS WILL GIVE FALL PLAY

Reserve seats for the comedy-farce, "Petticoat Fever," which the Manual Arts Players will be presenting at the Stout Theatre starting November 12, will be placed on sale in the main corridor of Harvey Hall, Monday through Friday, November 9-13. "Petticoat Fever" is the hit play by Mark Reed, which ran with great success in New York, London, and Paris, about the plight of a lonely radio operator in a remote Labrador outpost, and his attempts to win the first white woman he's seen in seven months away from a stuffy Minister of Parliament.

The woman and her fiancé, who have crashed-landed near the radio station, have little chance of being rescued and returned to civilization so long as Dascom Dinsmore, the operator, persists in one device after another to keep them there. And Dascom is a persistent man. He woos and is hopeful of winning the girl just about the time that another girl appears on the scene—Mr. Dinsmore's former fiancée.

Roger Bergh will be seen here as Dinsmore, the ingenious radio operator. Barbara Hilts will be seen as the girl who descends literally from the clouds, and Herb Pringle will play her unimaginative fiancé whom she brings with her. Carol Schilstra will portray the role of the girl to whom Dinsmore had been engaged two years before, and other roles have been assigned to Ed Nowicke, Frank Hoffman, Larry Loveland, "Jiggs" Kuboyama, Myrtle Tamura, and Mabel Sorida.

The Manual Arts Players chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega will present "Petticoat Fever" for three performances at the Stout Theatre, continuing through November 14.

MISS PETERSON IS OUTSTANDING 4-H MEMBER

Miss Beverly Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Peterson, Glenwood City, has been chosen "Outstanding Girl 4-H member in St. Croix County for 1953." Announcement of the award was made at the annual 4-H Achievement Day, held in New Richmond, Saturday.

Miss Peterson, a senior coed at The Stout Institute, Menomonie, is the second Stout coed to win this award this year. Several weeks ago, Miss Mary Kay, sophomore from Spring Valley, won the title as outstanding girl 4-H member in Pierce county.

As a result of their success, both girls will be honored at the statewide Farm Bureau convention, to be held in Madison on November 15-18. Both girls are being sponsored at the convention by the Farm Bureau of their respective county.

Miss Peterson, who leaves 4-H work this year upon reaching the maximum participation age of 20, won "outstanding" citations on her 1953 project in home furnishings, junior leadership, clothing constructions, food preparation, frozen food preparation and gardening.

On 45 entries which she submitted last summer at the St. Croix County Fair, she won an award ribbon on all 45 entries. Of these, over 25 were first place citations.

Miss Peterson submitted four entries in competition at the 1953 Wisconsin State Fair in Milwaukee. She won three "first place" ribbons on the four entries.

Announcement of outstanding 4-H winners is announced late in St. Croix county, as a special feature of the annual 4-H Achievement Award Day. In addition to Miss Peterson's many 4-H activities, she helps her parents operate a 160 acre farm near Glenwood City.

HOME EC CLUB CONVENTION IS HELD AT STOUT

Stout Institute was the scene of the state Home Economics Club convention, which was held here Friday, October 16, and Saturday, October 17. A total of 45 delegates and advisors represented Mount Mary College, Milwaukee Downer Cardinal Stritch College in Milwaukee, University of Wisconsin and Central State College of Stevens Point.

The highlights of the convention were speeches by Mrs. Aileen James and Miss Joy Swan. Mrs. James is a teacher at Shorewood High School, Milwaukee, and spoke on "Resources Within You". Joy Swan was selected to represent 4-H clubs of America in a program for exchange students. Under the IFPE plan, Miss Swan spent several months living and working on New Zealand farms. She showed slides and told of her experiences.

Mary Trauch from Cardinal Stritch College in Milwaukee, was chosen as Wisconsin's representative to the pro-Workshop, which will be held in Chicago in February. Miss Trauch will be social chairman of the meeting.

Elaine Lukaszewski was chosen as Wisconsin's nominee for the office of National Home Economics Club President. She hails from Mount Mary College, Milwaukee.

On Saturday the delegates convened and were welcomed to Stout Institute by Dr. Fryklund and Dean Kirk. Miss Ann Noble, State advisor of the Home Economics Clubs, began the business meeting by explaining the goals and organization of the local, state and national clubs, an enthusiastic business meeting followed during which committees were organized to revise the state club constitution. At the buzz sessions students exchanged ideas for improving and enlarging their clubs.

This most successful convention drew to a close as Stout students presented skits on outstanding Home Economics Club activities during the past few years.

TOWER STAFF TAKES LAYOUT TO CITIES

Representatives of the Tower Staff motored to Minneapolis on Thursday, October 22, to have the dummy for the 1954 Tower approved and estimated.

Members of the group were Mr. Nelson, Mr. Whydowski, Mr. and Mrs. Cornwell, Charles Houge, and Lawrence Smith.

Upon arriving in Minneapolis, the group first visited the Bureau of Engraving and met with Mr. Art Seigel. He approved of the dummy and gave them some valuable information on the lay-out of yearbooks.

The group then spent some time touring the plant before going to the Lund Press. The estimate by the Lund for printing and binding was considered satisfactory.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Did you ever wonder why ghosts and witches are a part of Halloween? Why, on this night, we bob for apples and then count the seeds in the core to learn our fortunes?

The name, Halloween, means All Hallow's Eve, or the night before All Saint's Day. But long before the church gave this name to the day, it had been celebrated in one way or another in many parts of the world.

Years and years ago, the Celts and their druid priests began the new year on November first. This marked the beginning of winter. A feast was held in honor of Samhain, lord of death, and ghosts cross from their graves to warm their bones at familiar firesides. Mischievous witches rode through the air on besoms (broomsticks), or black cats magically turned to coal black steeds for this one night.

When the Romans invaded England in 55 B.C., they brought with them the festival of Pomona, goddess of the harvest, so nuts and fruits, especially apples, became part of the Samhain ceremonies.

Jack-o'-Lantern was a legendary man who was so stingy that he was refused entrance to heaven. Because he had played practical jokes on the devil, the gates of hell were barred to him too. He was condemned to wander over the earth with his lighted lantern until Judgement Day.

Boys and girls who dressed in masked costumes and go from door to door threatening "trick or treat," have no idea that they are probably following an old All Souls' Day custom of begging cakes for the dead.

Halloween customs of today, from tick-tacking and scaping windows to carrying jack-o'-lanterns and having fortunes told, tell us more about the beliefs and customs of our long-gone ancestors than almost any other holiday.

A. P. O. PLEDGES FOUR NEW MEMBERS

Fellowship—Leadership — History Service. The four-fold program of APO was explained to pledges at the informal ceremony October 20, in Bowman Hall. Present for the affair were pledges John Burnett, Art Jersild, Warren Schuster, and John Smith.

Dispensing with the regular business meeting, President Sorenson asked officers of the organization to explain the four-fold program to future members. Kent Roebur, secretary, gave a brief talk about leadership. Next speaker was August Bell. Bell told about the service projects conducted by Eta Kappa Chapter on the campus throughout the school year. Vice-President Donald Walters outlined the history of APO from its beginning. President Sorenson concluded the talks with a few words about fellowship and the meaning of the word.

Dr. Salyer, advisor, was given an opportunity to tell the pledges what the feeling was among the administrative staff as to the worth of APO. Dr. Salyer said that the organization was regarded very highly and cited examples to prove why.

Before closing the ceremony, President Sorenson explained the pledge duties to the prospective members. The butt cans will be one of the two projects to be taken care of by the pledges. The other project is a thorough inspection of all first aid cabinets in the shops, and if any of the cabinets are low on supplies they will be replenished.

Final order of business for the evening was the serving of refreshments. Pledges did the serving and pouring.

Y.W.C.A. INITIATES TWELVE NEW MEMBERS

During an impressive candlelight service in the Harvey Memorial, twelve new members were initiated into the Y.W.C.A. by president Eunice Nulton. The purposes of the Y.W.C.A. were read and both old and new members reaffirmed the aims of the club.

New members taken in were Margaret Ort, Phyllis Schlotfeld, Ruth Vance, Joan Camp, Carol Banner, Louise Nowak, Georgia Christner, Hila Jeffrey, Jean Chrichton, Ruth Bue, Audrey Grote, and Marjorie Newman. The service closed with singing.

A short business meeting was held afterwards during which plans for the candy sale were made.

The Sardine party, held at Miss Marshall's apartment, will be the welcoming of our pledges to the sorority. Get your dates for the Intersorority Ball. The P. A.'s are working hard trying to work out some unusual decorations.

PHOTOCOPYING MACH. ADDED TO EQUIPMENT

A new piece of office equipment now at The Stout Institute is a Varifax printer.

The Varifax printer is an office machine for producing copies of typed, written or printed originals rapidly and easily. This is done by photographically "printing" the original copy onto a matrix sheet, which, when activated, produces copies on a print paper.

The Varifax printer is valuable in reproducing copies of records, letters, and other forms where less than six copies are required.

This office machine eliminates the typing of carbon and produces an exact reproduction of the copy. It eliminates any possibility of error and also the necessity of proofreading.

The Varifax printer is located in the student personnel office. It is open to the use of all offices at the school for reproduction work.

COMIC COUPLES ARE DECORATIONS AT DANCE

"Courtin' with the Comics" was the theme of the annual Dad's Day dance sponsored by the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity and the Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority on Saturday, October 24.

Comic cartoon couples such as Pop-eye and Olive, Blondie and Dagwood, Daisy and Li'l Abner, and Mickey and Minnie, provided an interesting background for the many dancers who attended the Sweetheart Dance in honor of dad and mom in the Stout gym.

With music especially for the occasion provided by George Soderberg and the Royal Blackhawks, dad and mom were taken back to the days when they were "courtin'" and the songs that they danced to.

Chairmen for the dance were Jo Hosford, Sigma Sigma Sigma, and Willis Capps, Phi Sigma Epsilon.

TEXTILES CLASS VISITS WOOLEN MILLS

Last Tuesday, the Textiles class took a field trip to Chippewa Falls to visit the Chippewa Woolen Mills. The purpose of this field trip was to acquaint the students with wool processing and to give them a basic understanding of how wool is woven. The girls were taken through the factory and the guides explained the wool processing in the regular sequence that it undergoes. The girls also visited the garment factory where they viewed the woolen garments that were on display. Everyone felt that this was an interesting, as well as enlightening trip and that it was time well spent.

BOX SOCIAL FEATURED AT HALLOWEEN PARTY

Sunday night was the scene of excitement at Wesley student fellowship when Earl Knight auctioned off the lunch boxes which the girls had made.

Back to the days of the quilting bee and corn husking bee. Yes it was different (if more expensive) to have the fellows bidding there hard earned cash for food and the opportunity to eat with some unknown maiden. The risks were high but the stakes were low all adding to the hilarity.

Chun Wen Wei got the basket that was prepared by two girls for one man.

When everyone was through eating their lunches they saw the movie "The House of Seven Gables" to set them in the Halloween spirit.

Next Sunday everyone will come at 6:00 p.m. wearing their warm jeans and slacks for a different program.

Remember 6:00 p.m. Sunday at the Methodist church.

YELLOWJACKETS WIN GAME 19-7 FROM STOUT

Stout's Bluedevils played their last home game of the season as they were hosts to the Yellowjackets of Superior. The air was cold and full of fumbles as the Bluedevils lost by a score of 19-7.

It just wasn't in the book for the Bluedevils to win as they fumbled away chance after chance. Oddly enough it was a bad break against Superior that gave the Bluedevils their only score of the evening. The game started off fast as Stout kicked off to Superior and held them so that they were forced to punt. Bill Nessler took the punt and returned it to the 44 yard line of Superior. An offside penalty made it second down on the 39 and on the first running play of the night for Stout, halfback Skip Wick went off tackle for 19 yards and a first down on the Superior 20 yard line. After two incomplete passes Wick again carried and this time he picked up 14 yards through the middle, going all the way to the 6.

With a first down on the six and everything looking good the Bluedevils fumbled and Superior recovered on their own 7 yard line. The Yellowjackets were unable to move the ball against the Stout defense and they were forced to punt from the end zone. Tackle Art Goglin broke through and blocked the punt and then he fell on the ball in the end zone giving the Bluedevils a touchdown. For the extra point Harry Sauer threw to Jerry Henderson in the end zone and the Bluedevils had an early lead of 7 to 0.

Superior marched deep into Blue-devil territory before they were halted by a pass interception on the 4 yard line by Sauer who was brought down on the spot. Wick moved the ball six yards in three tries and then he punted out to the 45. Superior ran the punt to the 30 and their big fullback, Calvin Kessler, went thru the middle for a first down on the 20. It was no stopping the Yellowjackets as they marched all the way with Kessler going over from the six for the score.

On the try for the extra point Skip Wick charged through and blocked the punt giving Stout a narrow lead of 7 to 6. The score stayed that way through the rest of the first half although the Bluedevils were on the 2 yard line of Superior with four plays to make a touchdown and they fumbled away the chance to score.

The Bluedevils came charging back at the start of the second half and were able to move to Superior's 30 yard line before punting out of bounds on the 18. The Yellowjackets were the ones to fumble and Wick recovered for Stout on Superior's 45 yard line.

The Superior line held like a rock wall and the Bluedevils again had to punt. Kessler, the big hard running fullback of the Yellowjackets, led the way as he went for 16, 11, and 12 yards and scoring on the last drive to give Superior the lead 12 to 7 as the kick was no good. It was in this last quarter that Stout lost any chance they had of pulling a victory out of the fire, as they fumbled four times and on three of those Superior gained control of the ball. It was one of those fumbles that set up the final score for the Yellowjackets as they got possession on Stout's 38 yd. line. Kessler hammered the line into sieve-like resistance as he gained 40 yards in three plays to give Superior a lead of 19 to 7 after they made the extra point on a pass play. Superior held on to their lead the rest of the way and the Bluedevils went down in defeat 19 to 7.

PUBLIC LAW 550 GIVES VETERANS BENEFITS

On August 20, 1952, Public Law 550, the new enactment of the GI bill became effective, having been passed by Congress and signed by the President. This new enactment is of far-reaching significance, educationally and otherwise, to the veterans to whom it applies.

The new GI law was designed "to provide vocational readjustment and to restore lost educational opportunities to certain persons who served in the Armed Forces on or after June 27, 1950, and prior to August 20, 1954, or two years after release or discharge from active duty, whichever comes later." The term "eligible veteran" means any person who is not in the active service of the Armed Forces and who has served during the basic service period for 90 days or more and has been released or discharged from active service under honorable conditions.

The law also provides other benefits such as guaranteed or insured for homes, farms, and businesses; unloans for homes, farms, and businesses; unemployment compensation; mustering out pay; and job finding help.

For veterans pursuing a full-time program of education or training (in a college, 14 semester hours or the equivalent) the total monthly allowances are as follows: with no dependents, $110; with one dependent, $135; with more than one dependent, $135; with more than two dependents, $160. These payments are to be made directly to the veteran who will be obligated to pay his own tuition and fees, buy books and other supplies, and provide his subsistence.

Under the new law, such persons are entitled to 1 and one-half days of education or training for each day of his active service, with a maximum of 36 months; however, veterans who have pursued programs under earlier veterans' education and training laws (Public Laws 346, 16 or 894) are entitled to a maximum of 48 months less whatever time they have spent in the earlier programs.

Each eligible veteran may select a program of education or training at any approved educational institution or training establishment of his choice, which will accept and retain him as a student. The veteran may make not more than one change of program of education.

The loan provisions of the new GI bill for post-Korean veterans are similar to the GI loan program now in effect for World War II veterans. Home loans may be guaranteed for up to 60 percent of the loan, but the guaranteed portion may not exceed $7500. Other real estate loans may be guaranteed up to 50 percent, with a $4000 top. Non-real estate loans, such as GI business loans, may be guaranteed for up to 50 percent with a $2000 ceiling as to the guarantee. All such in effect for World War II veterans, loans also may be insured.

VA's Direct Loan Program, now has been extended to veterans who served since the outbreak in Korea. Under the programs, VA may make loans directly to veterans but only in certain areas where four percent GI loan money is not available.

GI loan safeguards, written into the new law, apply both to World War II veterans and those with post-Korean service.

A veteran's property must meet or exceed minimum requirements for planning, construction and general acceptability.

The deadline for loans for veterans with service after Korea is 10 years after the present emergency ends.

The new unemployment compensation program administered through the states by the U. S. Dept. of Labor, provides unemployed post-Korean veterans with payments of $26 a week, for a total of up to 26 weeks. The deadline for unemployment compensation will be five years after the end of the emergency period.

The mustering out payments, provided for in the new GI bill will be made at the time of discharge to anyone who served in the rank of Captain or less in the Army or Air Force, or as Lieutenant Senior Grade or less in the Navy. Payments are $300 for those with at least 60 days service who were on active duty outside the continental limits of the United States or Alaska; $200 for those who were not outside the US or Alaska, and $100 for those who spent less than 60 days on active duty. The payments are to be made at the rate of $100 a month until settled. This mustering out program, similar to that in effect after World War II, will be administered by the Armed Forces and the Treasury Department, not by the VA. To obtain this money, the veteran must apply to his particular branch of service.

Veterans are reminded that the last three benefits of the new GI bill covering unemployment compensation, mustering out pay, and job hunting aid are not administered by the Veterans Administration. Veterans should correspond directly with the agency concerned, not with the VA.

The date on which the present emergency comes to an end is one that has to be determined either by Presidential proclamation or by concurrent resolution of Congress.

S. T. S. PLEDGES GO THROUGH "HELL" WEEK

The S.T.S. Pledges began their "Hell week" duties as of Thursday, October 22.

Characteristic 'funny paper' hats and signs stating "I am an S.T.S. Pledge" are being worn by the three pledges; Virgil King, Zane Zander, and Don Woelfer.

The pledges were given written and oral exams at the regular S.T.S. meeting on October 22 to discover their knowledge of printing and reasons for wanting to become members of the S.T.S.

Wednesday evening, October 28, "Hellweek" ends, and at that time the three pledges will be formally initiated into the S. T. S. as apprentice printers.

The formal initiation will be held in the Tea Room in Harvey Hall.

Plans for the formal initiation are now being made.

"PETTICOAT FEVER" TO BE GIVEN NEXT WEEK

The Manual Arts Players
Will Present Fall Play
November 12, 13, 14

Seats for the Manual Arts Players' "Petticoat Fever," will be on reserve in the main corridor of Harvey Hall starting Monday, November 9. Stout students are entitled to free reserve tickets upon presentation of their SSA card. The play is to be presented in the Stout Theater on the evenings of November 12, 13, and 14.

The production staff, a very important part of any play, is busy getting everything in order and ready for the performances.

Sam Mikitarian has the position of technical director. Mary Wanasek, another important person for the play, is assistant director. Stage manager is Bob Brunswick. Jackie Frisbie and and house manager respectively.

In charge of collecting and placing the numerous properties are Doris Hutchinson and Carol Young. The committee also consists of Joan Stegman, Sally Nash, Barbara Griffiths, Elin Christiansen, Caryl Teasdale, Kay Yentz, Barbara Brown, and Lillian Smith.

Publicity, headed by Mary Betzel and Vivian Barnhart, also plays a part in helping to make a play a success. Assisting in this are Pat Sykes, Jan Peter, Barbara Griffiths, Elin Christiansen, Joan Stegman, and Louise Nowak.

Make-up is being done by Roberta Harris (chairman), Verna Dunn, Dorothy Disrud, Nathalie Wick, Rose Deuber, Judy Goehring, and Jackie Sorenson.

Stage crew is made up of Mary Wanasek, Helen King, Judy Goehring, Kathleen Ott, Joan Stegman, Dorothy Disrud, Nathalie Wick, Rose Deuber, and Leo Pleva.

Carol Zuege, Jeanette Oetting, and Janice Jenquin have sound effects; while Carl Spinti and Ramona Miles are in charge of lighting.

It takes both actors and production staff to make a play a success. And just as important, it takes an audience. So, the M.A.P. hopes to see you Saturday, October 12, 13, or 14.

FRED RETZLOFF RETIRES AFTER 43 YEARS HERE

Editors' Note: The following article, written by C.W. Russell, appeared in the Eau Claire Leader. We liked it and thought that it might also tell a story to you.

Fred Retzloff, member of the custodial staff of Stout Institute for the past 43 years officially and for many others helping about the buildings and grounds as a youngster, finishes his final day of work today and goes into retirement officially Sunday.

During his years of service, Fred, as he is known to hundreds of graduates of The Stout Institute, has served under three presidents, L. D. Harvey, the first head of the school, Burton E. Nelson and Verne C. Fryklund, now president.

They weren't known as deans then but a man named Buxton was the first head of the industrial arts department or industrial education division of the school in the early days, to be succeeded by a man by the name of Rodgers, Fred remembers, and then by Dean C. A. Bowman, who retired last year when Dean John Jarvis took over.

Fred's first connection with The Stout Institute came back in the late Nineties when he began carrying brick for his father when the latter was laying the brick side walks, which, until a short time ago, still served around the industrial arts building. He remembers that, while they were laying the walk which angles from the direction of the central school to Main Street, Peleg Clark, later municipal judge, father of Farnham A. Clark, now city attorney, walked from his home on South Broadway across the school yard and smack across the spot where the elder Retzloff had prepared the ground for laying of the bricks.

The succeeding hassle was neither erudite nor cultured, but it was loud and long, Fred remembers.

Fred worked with his father as a youngster, sometimes around the school and sometimes for Senator James Stout, founder of the school, on his home grounds. He went through the city schools and came out to find a permanent job with The Stout Institute in 1910.

Through the years he watched the battle of personalities that went into the building of the institute. Administration was a bit loose at the time, he remembers, and if some person on the job wanted some tools or equipment, he just went out and bought them and charged them up to the school. Requisitions and such were things that came to plague them many years later.

One of the engineers by the name of Thorson, Fred recalls followed this procedure in the purchase of the first generator used to supply the building with electricity. This was during his first year on the staff. Thorson did not tell President Harvey about the transaction until the machine arrived at the local railroad station bearing a red card ordering the railroad not to release the machine until it was paid for.

President Harvey and Thorson went 'round and 'round as things hit the boiling point and beyond, but the machine was here and President Harvey finally ordered its purchase and installation. Stout has continued to provide most of its own power by direct current until recently with the machines installed them.

Many farewells are being said and many good wishes expressed by the faculty, operational staff and students as Fred bows out. Friday afternoon he and Mrs. Retzloff were guests of the faculty members in the home economics building where he has served in later years, at tea. During the tea E. J. Shoop, business manager for the school, did the honors in the presentation of a gift to Fred.

MR. SCHOEPP surprises Fred with a token of appreciation on Fred's last day of work as custodian in Harvey Hall.

DR. FRYKLUND IS INVITED TO CONFERENCE

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, Menomonie, is among the 70 Wisconsin citizens and civic leaders who were invited to attend the conference on civil defense to be held at the University of Wisconsin, Nov. 2 and 3.

Gov. Walter Kohler has called the conference to consider problems related to Wisconsin's civil defense program and to point up the pressing need to develop community level disaster plans.

Details of the conference were announced today by Prof. James R. Donoghue, director of the UW extension division's bureau of government.

Gov. Kohler and Val Peterson, federal civil defense administrator, will be featured at the conference on Monday, Nov. 2. UW Vice-president Ira L. Baldwin and Major Gen. Ralph J. Olson, Wisconsin adjutant general and civil defense director, will welcome conferees at the initial session Nov. 2 in the new Wisconsin Memorial library on the UW campus.

FALL CONCERT PROVES VERY SUCCESSFUL

The first concert of the school year, "The Fall Festival of Music," was presented last Saturday night by the Stout Symphonic Singers, the College Choir, and the Concert Band, under the direction of Victor H. Hardt.

This concert, which was well attended, was certainly very successful. Two of the outstanding musical numbers played by the band were: "Storm King" by Fenlason, and Walters "Etude in Boogie," which featured Dorothy Belise as piano soloist.

The college choir then presented five numbers of which "Brother James Air" and "Polly Wolly Doodle" were especially noteworthy. The audience enjoyed "Polly Wolly Doodle" very much.

The program was brought to a conclusion by the Symphonic Singers who presented several very enjoyable selections. Of these, "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Malaquena" were exceptionally well done.

Several selections were omitted so that the program would move along and not be lengthy as some are. However, one selection, "The Children's Prayer," previously omitted, was presented when the audience demanded an encore.

NOTICE

Guest slips are now available at the S.S.A. office and must be secured by all students who invite guests to school functions. Regulations governing guest slips are given in the Student Handbook on page 11 and 12. Please check these if you are not familiar with them.

STOUT BOARD OF TRUSTEES HOLDS MEETING

Faculty appointments and general business relating to the college were matters discussed at the quarterly meeting of The Stout Institute Board of Trustees, meeting October 26 in Madison.

The trustees approved the appointment of Arnold Nelson as assistant professor in the department of English. Mr. Nelson has taught at Hamline University, the University of Minnesota, and a University of Wisconsin freshman center. He will soon be granted his Ph.D.

Board members, upon the recommendation of President Verne C. Fryklund, named Dr. Herbert Anderson as head of Stout's Department of Woodworking. Dr. Anderson, an assistant professor, received his doctorate last summer from the University of Missouri. He did his thesis at Forest Products Laboratory, Madison. A Stout Institute graduate, he has been a faculty member at the college since 1948.

President Fryklund was authorized to request the Wisconsin Highway Department for 6500 square feet of black top around the new college library. Such highway assistance is possible in accordance with Wisconsin statutes.

Board members also received a copy of "Faculty-Personnel Policies of The Stout Institute." Approval of the handbook was recommended by President Fryklund.

No definite action was taken on dedication of the new college library. However, President Fryklund announced to the trustees that a program committee is preparing for dedication ceremonies. He also suggested that, if at all possible, the trustees meet in Menomonie for the dedication program.

In reporting on enrollment at the college, President Fryklund stressed a 31 per cent increase in registration of new women students and a 16 per cent increase in new men students. He also indicated that 91 veterans were enrolled, of whom 58 are veterans of the Korean War. It was noted also that students were in attendance from Ecuador, Japan, Formosa, Guam, Hawaii, and the Philippines.

Board members approved a record number of scholarships for Stout students. Special recognition was given scholarships provided by 14 Menomonie business firms and individuals and also a $3000 four-year scholarship of the Hamilton Memorial Fund, Two Rivers.

Names of the 14 Menomonie scholarship donors include H. P. Chaimson, Peter Jeatran, First National Bank, Badger State Yard, Bank of Menomonie, Rotary Club, Fair Store, Carter Ice and Fuel Co., Presto Foundation, Wisconsin Milling Co., Menomonie Chamber of Commerce, Ole Madsen Jewelers, J. P. Lee, and the Menomonie Lions Club. Much of the work in soliciting was done by the Menomonie Rotary Club.

Attention of board members was called to the effect of the out-of-state tuition law on enrollment at the college. In 1948, nonresident tuition was increased from $124.00 to 200.00 an academic year. In the five years the increase has been in effect, the number of out-of-state students has dropped from 210 in 1948 to 96 this year.

Dr. Fryklund told board members that 553 students had attended Stout's 1953 summer-session. He also praised the success of Stout's cooperative plan with the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

S.S.A. CELEBRATES 30TH ANNIVERSARY

The S.S.A. is celebrating its 30th anniversary; thirty years in helping Stout's student body. The S.S.A. was formed in 1923, with Alfred C. Lamb acting as president; Pauline Lillieh, vice president; Louise Whitehurst, secretary, and Joe McCullough as treasurer.

Nowdays every student entering Stout is automatically an S.S.A. member. But back in the dim past, this was not so. The only members in 1925 were the Men's Glee Club, the Sharps and Flats, M.A.P., Lyceum committee, Stoutonia, and the Athletic Association.

Homecoming, 1927, was one of the first sponsored by the young S.S.A. Before the queen's coronation, the M.A.P. presented a play, "The Whole Town's Talking". In place of the torchlight parade, the students went through the streets in pajamas. The 1929 Stout Annual gives this account "the student body assembled in sleeping attire; and crowds lined the streets. On to the Great Bonfire the pajama's zig-zagged and cheered."

At the bonfire it was the tradition to wed the freshman class to the sophomores. The 1929 annual said, "The traditional and solemn matrimonial ceremony at last happily wed the freshman class to the sophomore class. Pep was high, and midnight came too soon."

In 1914 seven Manual Training majors started the Student Council but it lasted only 2 years, "dying of sheer neglect". Around 1928, the Stout Student Advisory board was formed, but this too died after a few years. In 1945 the present Student Governing Board was set up, and is a vital, active organ of the S.S.A. today.

Homecoming 1953 is faintly reminiscent of Homecoming 1929. In both games we lost to Stevens Point. The 1929 score was Stevens Point, 25; Stout 7. At the Defeat Dance music was provided by the Dreamland Live Wire Band, noted for its Syncopated Rhythm.

In 1932 a drastic change took place at Stout. The girls, then living at Lynwood Hall, were moved to Tainter Hall and Eichelberger Hall; Lynwood becoming a men's dorm. During World War II Lynwood was again a girls' dorm, but only for the duration of the war.

Speaking of drastic changes, Stout had another one in 1945. Girls, if you think the man shortage is bad in 1953, you should have seen it in 1945. During this part of World War II, Stout had a total of 3 senior boys and 7 juniors boys. The S.S.A. officers were all women. Even the mid-winter formal had to be cancelled because of lack of men. What a horrible thought!!!!!!

For only two years in Stout's history have women dominated the S.S.A.

Those years were 1945 and 1946. In 1945, the S.S.A. was run by four women; in 1946 by three women and one man. Six years the ratio was 3 men to one woman, and the remaining 22 years there were 2 men and 2 women.

Possibly a few of you are wondering just what the S.S.A. sponsors. Probably their biggest event of the year is Homecoming, but they also sponsor the Winter Carnival, the Christmas Dance, School Mixers, Freshman Week, Sophomore-Freshman Picnic, the all-school picnic, and elections. The Social Calendar is set up by the S.S.A., as well as the Activity Ticket program. The S.S.A. is the liaison between the students and the faculty.

Some of the faculty played prominent roles in Stout's history. The 1933 annual was dedicated to Ray B. Kranzsch, General Mechanics teacher. In 1934 the annual was dedicated to Gertrude L. Callahan, English teacher. In 1943 George Soderberg, woodwork and finishing instructor, was S.S.A. president. Mr. Bob Swanson, woodwork and General shop teacher, was S.S.A. president in 1948-49.

Today the S.S.A. office under its present staff; President Willis W. Capps; Vice President, Roger Hanson; Secretary, Jeanette Oetting; and Treasurer, Jerome Sommer, is continuing the work of representing the student body. The S.S.A. officers are now busy bringing the filing system up to date, and revising materials and forms. A manual for future S.S.A. officers is being compiled. Business relating to student welfare is being carefully and efficiently taken care of.

The high point of the S.S.A.'s 30th Anniversary celebration will be when the S.S.A. office is moved to its new location in what is now the library. There the S.S.A. will have not only a larger, more modern office, but will have plenty of storage room, so necessary for caring for the many items, materials and equipment needed by the S.S.A. to carry out its functions.

You are always welcome in the S.S.A. office. The officers will gladly discuss any problems you might have or just drop in and say "Hello".

APO PLEDGES FIVE FORMER SCOUTS

Five former scouts were formally pledged into APO last Tuesday night, October 27, in Bowman Hall. Officers of APO formed the initiating team. Pledges taken in were: John Burnett; Warren Schuster; John Smith; Art Jersild; and Leroy Sharkey.

Pledge duties for this semester will consist of repairing and painting the butt cans, checking first-aid cabinets, and making keys.

Plans were made to hold the formal initiation on November 10. Following the ceremony, all members will meet at the Anchor Cafe for dinner and a business meeting afterward.

The organization decided to send a form letter to presidents of all organizations asking for their help in making the laminated card project a success. Samples of these cards will be on display in Harvey Hall shortly after the second quarter opens. A notice to that effect will be posted.

Word from Dean Price about the sport shirts with the organizations insignia disappointed the members. No replies have been received yet but Dean told the members that an answer should be in his hands shortly.

F.O.B. MAKES PLANS FOR NEWSLETTER

At their regular meeting last Thursday evening the F.O.B. fraternity made plans on publishing a newsletter in recognition of the fraternity's Silver Anniversary which will take place this spring.

Questionnaires are being sent out to all alumni to secure information which will be compiled in the newsletter along with current activities of the organization.

Phi Omega Beta fraternity was founded in 1927, but it was two years later that the school recognized it as a organization. It is the first fraternity in the history of The Stout Institute and is an active fraternity on the campus today.

BLUEDEVILS TROUNCE ST. CLOUD 19-7

Stout Pulls Upset Of The Season As They Win Game Against St. Cloud

The Bluedevils trounced St. Cloud 19-7. This came as a surprise to most of the area as St. Cloud previously had been untied and unbeaten in their Minnesota State Teachers conference.

The Stout men took an early first quarter lead, on a 15 yard Soer to Jerry Henderson pass, which they held throughout the game. The next score came in the second period on a 65 yard Soer to Steve Hanson pass. The last Bluedevil TD came in the third quarter when Skip Wick went over from the ten yard line.

The game started out fast as St. Cloud kicked off and Hansen ran it back to the 28 yard line. On the first play of the ball game halfback Bill Ewing broke loose for 36 yards car-ring to the 37 yard of the Warriors. There Wick took the pigskin and scampered to the 6 yard line before being brought down. Next Ewing wormed his way to the 2 yard line. This looked like a sure TD, but the stubborn line of St. Cloud held and after three losses the Warriors took over on their own 12 yard line. They were not able to move through the strong Bluedevil line, however and were forced to punt, but this time the Stout team failed to move the ball either so they punted the ball out of bounds on St. Clouds 15 yard line. On the third running play Pete Williams broke through hitting the ball out of the ball carriers arms and falling on it, making it first and ten for Stout on St. Clouds 13 yard line. This time Soer found his receiver Henderson who went over for the score making it 6-0.

Midway in the second period the Bluedevils had the ball on their own 35 yard line and Soer uncorked a beautiful pass to Hansen who took it and went all the way making the score 13-0 after Soer passed to Wick for the extra point.

St. Cloud received the kick off and began to show some of the form which made them Minnesota state champs, as they moved the ball to the mid-strip where they passed for their only score of the ball game making the half time score 13-7. Wink's men came back after the half not yet completely satisfied with their six point lead and after several nice runs Skip Wick went over for the last TD. The final score 19-7.

This was a great team victory for Stout after a winless season and it was also a good send off to the two seniors, captain Joe Stebly and Jerry Henderson, who played their last game for the Bluedevils.

HOME EC CLUB HOLDS INITIATION

One hundred and twenty girls were initiated into the Home Economics Club, Monday, October 26, at a candle-light ceremony.

The Home Economics Club history and the organization itself was explained to the new members. The new members boosted the total membership to 235 members, which is the largest Home Economics Club membership in the state.

A business meeting was held after the initiation ceremony. The members of the club were divided into seven committees, so as to give everyone a chance to participate in the various sales, teas, and other events sponsored by the Home Economics Club. Any member that has not signed on a committee may do so at the November meeting. The Christmas Tea and the Fruit Cake Sales Committees are now busy planning.

The seniors were reminded that they must be a member of the Home Ec. Club for the entire year to be eligible for a free ticket for the Senior Breakfast; otherwise, they may purchase one for the banquet in May.

Refreshments were served by Doris Hutchinson and her committee.

P.A. PLEDGES PUT ON SARDINE PARTY

The P.A. pledges put on the traditional Sardine party last Thursday night at Dr. Marshall's apartment. The party was a little different this year though, since it was a "hat and glove" party. The pledges did a bang-up job on the program, decorations, and refreshments. Plans for initiation and the Thanksgiving dinner were discussed, followed by a few confused minutes of pushing furniture back in place.

SSA MESSAGE

Well, the end of the first quarter has rolled around and here we are busy getting last minute notebooks together and cramming for those quarter exams that have the habit of popping up around this time. It would certainly be a lot easier if we kept a head of our assignments, but then we need some relaxation, or so we keep kidding ourselves.

We want to remind you that the M.A.P. play "Petticoat Fever" will be put on in the Stout Auditorium on November 12, 13, 14. Stout students can get reserved seats by simply taking their S.S.A. card to the ticket table and picking up the reserve seat tickets at no charge. All Stout students are entitled to free admission to the play upon presentation of their S.S.A. card. Let's join the crowd and see "Petticoat Fever". And don't forget, pick up your free reserved seat tickets. Just show them your S.S.A. card.

THE DOCTOR TALKS IT OVER

MANY CHILDREN, especially from families with a history of diabetes, have the disease and don't realize it, warns Dr. John O'Neill, Menomonie physician, as he discusses the approaching Dunn County Diabetes Detection Survey with (L-R) Kay Ann Jarvis, daughter of Dean and Mrs. John A. Jarvis; Mrs. Charles Kyle, rural Dunn county; and John O'Neill, Jr. Students, faculty, and all residents of Menomonie can have a free diabetes test next Tuesday, November 17, at Tainter Memorial Building or the Parish Hall in North Menomonie.

DIABETES TEST WILL BE GIVEN NEXT WEEK

Take a moment and save your life! Yes, this Tuesday, November 17, at Tainter Memorial Building and the Parish Hall at North Menomonie all students, married students and their families, faculty members and their families and all other residents of Menomonie can obtain a free test for diabetes.

The free test will be available from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. at either of the testing stations mentioned above. The project, sponsored by the Community Health Council of Dunn county, seeks to detect undiagnosed cases of diabetes.

Adults who are overweight, or adults and children whose family history has shown diabetes, are especially urged to have the test. It is estimated that 1,000,000 Americans have undetected cases of diabetes. If left untreated, the disease can become crippling or even fatal.

Directions for submitting urine samples to be tested are as follows:

1. Collect urine in a CLEAN dish.
2. Collect urine before breakfast.
3. Pour the urine into a CLEAN bottle. A small bottle with a screw top or tight cork, capable of containing ¼ cup of urine, is sufficient for testing.
4. Containers will be properly labeled at the station.

Persons submitting specimens will be notified by card if their test is negative. Persons with positive or questionable reactions to the test will be informed by letter, as will the family doctor whom they designate. Further examination can then be made to verify finding of the original test.

MISS O'BRIEN IN CHARGE OF DINNER MEETING

In charge of the annual dinner meeting of the Teacher Placement Officers of the Colleges and Universities of Wisconsin was Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, placement chairman of Stout Institute. The meeting was held in Milwaukee in conjunction with the state-wide teachers' convention.

Following the dinner, a number of pertinent placement topics were discussed. The group recommended the completion of credentials by February and asked that school officials be permitted to interview June and July graduates at that time.

Evidence was presented at the meeting that teaching salaries for the coming year are expected to be $200 higher than those of last year. Milwaukee public school teachers will receive a $200 raise beginning in January, 1954. The Milwaukee increase will mean that other school systems in that area will have to meet that increase to hold their own teachers.

Addressing the Placement Officers was R. F. Lewis, assistant state superintendent in charge of teacher certification. He revealed that 2000 teachers in Wisconsin are not qualified to teach the program of courses which they are attempting to teach. He indicated that 978 teachers left Wisconsin last year to teach in other states and that only about 450 teachers entered Wisconsin during that time.

It was the opinion of delegates that the shortage of teachers promises to continue as long as present economic conditions prevail. This is true because of high school graduates entering college does not offset the number of new teachers needed each year. One superintendent reported that his high school sent 15 graduates of the class of '53 to colleges, but that he hired 30 teachers last year.

NO-CUT DAYS ARE SET UP FOR VACATION

In a case of excused absences negative grade points are not given.

BONING UP

OPENING PERFORMANCE OF PLAY IS A SUCCESS

Manual Arts Players To Present "Petticoat Fever" Again This Evening and Tomorrow Evening

Success heralded last night's opening performance of "Petticoat Fever," a comedy-farce about a romantic radio operator stuck away at a remote Labrador outpost, and his attempts to win the first white woman he has seen in seven months. The play which will still be running tonight and tomorrow night, can be attended by Stout students by simply showing your SSA card in exchange for a reserve seat. In other words, it is free to you.

Roger Bergh will be seen here as Dascome Dinsmore, the radio man so desolate that he is driven to playing with paper planes and slingshots to beguile his loneliness. His yearning for female company is answered when a beautiful girl, to be acted by Barbara Hilts, crash-lands near his cabin, accompanied by her unimaginative fiancé, whom Herbert Pringle will portray.

There is one entertaining incident after another in "Petticoat Fever" as the operator pulls tricks from up his sleeve in his attempts to snatch the bride-to-be from the blustering Englishman to whom she is promised. The radio man's over-solicitousness for his guests, to prevent their returning to civilization, makes them think he has become deranged by too much solitude. The far from deranged, but merely love-sick, adventurer does his best to keep the rector, who might perform for the engaged pair, on the other end of the ice-floe. He continues to woo, and is hopeful of winning the girl, just about the time that another girl arrives in Labrador—the operator's former fiancée.

Other roles in the Manual Arts Player's production of "Petticoat Fever" have been assigned to Ed Nowicki, Carol Schilstra, Larry Loveland, Frank Hoffman, Mabel Sorila, Myrtle Tamura, and Jiggs Kuboyama.

Between acts, the Phi. U. organization is sponsoring the sale of pop for your added enjoyment and relaxation.

MOVIE PRODUCERS

ARCTIC MOVIE WILL BE SHOWN AT CONVO.

"Arctic Holiday," the first motion picture ever produced of the Caribou Eskimo and some of the thirty million Caribou upon which they depend for their very lives, will be presented for the convocation November 18.

Produced by Lewis and Betty Rasmussen, nationally known color artists and explorers from Kenosha, Wisconsin, this motion picture has been acclaimed one of the most unique and most entertaining films ever to have come out of the far north.

Packed with drama and pathos, you will witness for the first time the last group of people on the continent who have but recently emerged from the Darkness of the Stone Age, through the kindness and tolerance of a brave group of Missionaries of the Arctic Region. As if in defiance to the "way of the white man" you will also see for the first time the real Drum Dance of the Stone Age, where the eskimo goes back, as it were, a thousand years.

A lifetime of platform experience assures you of a brilliant, power-packed narration which means more information, more entertainment and more enjoyment.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Another Stout Institute football season has just been concluded. Many of you attended the Blue Devils' games at Nelson Field. Maybe their season was not too good, but you had fun anyway, watching the boys in action. Yes, through your contributions, along with the football players, we were privileged to meet on a beautiful green, showered with bright lights, and to enjoy one of America's favorite sports.

But have you ever wondered how these facilities were made possible to us? In 1934 the eight acres composing Nelson Field were purchased through the Eichelberger fund. In 1946 the professional and businessmen of Menomonie donated $8000 to improve the land along with $2000 for bleachers.

The field would have been far from complete without suitable lighting for night games. The Menomonie Lions Club then stepped in and lighted the field on agreement that the money, which was over $12,550 would be paid back through the gate receipts of both The Stout Institute and Menomonie High School.

Another necessity, the scoreboard, was added as a gift by Mr. and Mrs. Alan Fletcher. We received numerous other donations in the form of labor by many people of our own college. Rudolph Roen, Superintendent of buildings and grounds at Stout installed the scoreboard. Much of the electrical work was done by Philip Ruehl, electrical instructor. And no field would be complete without a pressbox which was constructed through the combined efforts of Coach Ray Johnson, Dr. J. E. Ray, and K. T. Olson, all of the Stout faculty, along with H. O. Strozinsky, engineer at Stout.

All of these people donated their money, time and efforts for our benefit, as well as their own. So as the next football season rolls around, let's remember the many who have made the great game of football available to us through the establishment of Nelson field.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

Tuesday evening, November 3, 1953, the Eau Claire Student governing board and the Stout student governing board met on the Stout campus. Included in the group were Eau Claire's college president, Mr. W.R. Davies; Dean of Women, Miss Stella Pedersen; Dean of Men, Mr. W. Zorn; and Stout's Dean of Men, M. M. Price; Dean of Women, Miss K. Antrim; and Mr. Arneson. Approximately 30 students from Eau Claire and Stout participated.

The two governing boards had dinner together in the tea room at 6:30. After the dinner the group adjourned to the trustees room for the meeting. S.S.A. President Willis W. Capps called the meeting to order and gave the purposes of the joint meeting. The purposes were to discuss general attitudes and rivalry between the two colleges and to discuss ways and means of eliminating the minor irritants that are causing some vandalism on the respective campuses.

The president of Eau Claire's student governing board, Ralph Emmert, opened the discussion by asking to what extent the rivalry existed between the two schools and the origin of some of the vandalisms committed.

Various comments were made on this subject, including a past history of some events which have happened. This discussion led into the future policies of the two colleges regarding school rivalry.

Suggestions came fast and furious from both sides and were discussed thoroughly. The most worthwhile suggestions were listed and the group decided that they would discuss these suggestions with their respective student bodies. Another joint meeting will then be held at which time the two groups will compare future programs and aid each other in working out these programs with their student bodies.

Listed below are some of the suggestions which were considered to be the best in promoting a friendly, healthy rivalry between the Eau Claire and Stout Institute Student Groups.

1. Arrange to have as little publicity as possible about the episodes this year in order to prevent the "rival emotions" in the in-coming freshmen next September.
2. A healthy rivalry between Stout and Eau Claire in athletic events should be preserved.
3. A big and little brother campaign in both schools might serve to prevent the carrying of school spirit into the wrong channels.
4. Both schools might arrange to keep the freshmen very busy during such "dangerous times" as Homecoming season, etc.
5. Eau Claire and Stout might arrange to have Homecoming celebrations at the same time.
6. The coaches might appeal to the students to stay on campus during such times as they might be tempted to stray.
7. The two schools might issue special invitations to the opposite school to attend and participate in their homecoming activities.
8. Cheerleaders might swap schools for a short time during games, possibly at half time, and for pep assemblies.
9. Bed checks at the dorms, guarding committees on the campus, etc., may be used in the event that any minor vandalism breaks out in ensuing years.
10. To incorporate a better feeling between the schools, exchange programs might be put into effect under which Eau Claire and Stout would exchange assembly programs, intermural sports, plays, joint student government meeting and sponsoring of an Eau Claire-Stout mixer dance.
11. The Eau Claire athletic depart-

SECRETARY OF DELTA KAPPA IS KEPT BUSY

The corresponding secretary was busy this week. A letter of thanks was sent to Sanna Daires for the use of their milk containers and steam unit used to brew the coffee for the football games. Letters of inquiry were also sent to companies selling fraternity supplies; it was decided by the men of Delta Kappa that sweaters of maroon and white and bearing the National fraternity emblem should be purchased. A letter was also sent to St. Cloud State College asking them to set a date for a meeting to discuss Delta Kappa membership with our delegation. The Province Governor from our chapter and other delegates will meet with the chapter there sometime next month.

ment requested to have Stout standardize their admission prices with neighboring schools.

Any suggestions on this subject by any members of the Stout student body will be greatly appreciated. Our student governing board will continue the discussion at the next governing board meeting. If you have any suggestions, please present them to the board or write them up and hand them in to the S.S.A. Office and discuss them with one of the S.S.A. officers.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS BREAKFAST MEETING

On Sunday, November 8, approximately 50 members of the Newman Club held their second breakfast meeting following the 9:30 Mass.

The breakfast meetings seem to be very satisfactory as shown by the good attendance at these meetings. Perhaps one reason is the delicious breakfast that was served. Those on the food committee are to be commended for the fine job that they did.

The discussion at this meeting centered around the Newman Club Day of Recollection which will be held on Sunday Nov. 22. Father Bernard McGarty, vocational Director at Holy Cross Seminary at La Crosse, will conduct the conferences. Breakfast and dinner will be served to all those who attend. These meals will be served in St. Joseph's School. The President of the Newman Club, Don Walters, stated that he hoped there would be 75 Catholic students in attendance at this Day of Recollection. The Newman Club at Eau Claire will also be invited to attend.

The slopes are of various heights and grades. The highest point is 250 feet.

Special rates of $1.50 per day are being charged students. Skis, boots, and poles can be rented at reasonable rates. All equipment is new.

HENDRICKSON IS MENOMONIE'S NEW COACH

According to a recent report of the Dunn County News, Lynos "Pete" Hendrickson was named basketball coach at Menomonie high school, announced the board of education through Supt. Will Ballentine, Wednesday.

Pete succeeds his high school coach, Les McKay, who was advised for medical reasons not to coach basketball this year. Pete graduated from Menomonie in 1946 and was on the varsity football and basketball teams during his junior and senior years.

He attended Stout for two years and then transferred to River Falls, graduating in 1950. While in college he earned four letters in baseball—two at Stout and two at River Falls. He played baseball for the Wakanda Braves and spent last season with the Menomonie Eagles.

WESLEY MEMBERS GO TO STATE CONFERENCE

Wesley members and some of the foreign students who had attended the state MSM conference at Oshkosh entertained the group with their reports last Sunday evening.

"Christ, Culture and Campus" was the theme of the Conference of the Wisconsin Methodist Student Movement which was held at Oshkosh State College about three weeks ago. Doris Hutchinson introduced the reports and told of the fun she had at the conference.

Leroy Sekaquaptewa had a hilarious time (along with some of the other fellows) when they couldn't find their place to stay and ended up in a hotel.

Marcus Argudo said that the Saturday evening banquet was very nice. He told that Bob Spinti had introduced some of the delegates who were there from The Stout Institute. It seems that everyone was deeply touched by the statements and stories of Yoichi Ikemoto from Japan, and Marcos Argudo from Ecuador. Chun Wen Wei was also there. Marcos said that he saw the communion table set up as for the Lords Supper for the first time.

Mr. Ikemoto told of the trip home and of the wonderful feeling he had when attending the conference. He said that Mr. Bert (Moline) had taken him to see a Menomonie Indian Reservation and Rib Mountain. He was also impressed by a sunset which was different from the ones in his narrow land of Japan.

Wesley fellowship was closed with some games and a friendship circle.

Everyone is invited to join in the fun next Sunday night when supper starts at 5:30 p.m.

F. O. B. IS MAKING STUNT NIGHT PLANS

Each of the skits have a maximum time limit set at ten minutes with three minutes between each, during which the F. O. B.'s will provide entertainment. Prizes will be awarded to the best skits.

BUD WIEMAN TAKES OVER FRED'S POST

Bud Wieman is the new janitor, taking over Fred Retzloff's duties. Fred retired last week after 43 years of service.

Bud is a World War II veteran. He is married and has three children. Before coming to Stout, he worked in the meat department of the Farmers Store and as a guard at the Aluminum Plant.

CORRECTION

In the November 6, issue of the Stoutonia an error was made in the article "Mrs. Smith Attends NANE Convention". The paragraph should read as follows:

Top level people were on each program. They included among many others, such people as Dr. Frances Horwich, the Ding-Dong-School lady of television; Dr. Helen LeBaron, Dean of the Division of Home Economics at Iowa State College; and Dr. Katherine Read, Director of the Nursery School and Child Development program at Oregon State College, whose book, "The Nursery School" is a widely used text on the guidance of the preschool child. Mrs. Smith served as a consultant for a buzz session following a talk by the latter speaker.

TEAROOM SERVES TWO MEALS THIS WEEK

This past week two tearooms were held instead of the usual one. Tuesday noon an informal "Chuckwagon style" meal was prepared and served by the senior girls in Miss Killian's class.

Thursday noon the tearoom took on a more formal atmosphere. A pink and white wedding reception was held. There was a centerpiece of pink carnations flanked on either side with long, slender, pink candles. The entire menu consisted of colorful, dainty food. Jeanette Oetting was the manager for this tearoom and Ann Ritzinger was the hostess.

Next week the girls will prepare a fish fry which will be served in the tearoom.

FINISHING CLASS GOES ON FIELD TRIP

Do you know what has orange peel besides an orange? All men who have taken general finishing from Mr. Soderberg will remember sanding orange peel off their panels. But do you know that this course is not limited to men?

Probably the reason more girls do not take the course is that they do not know about it. Girls who take general finishing will find that it gives them useful consumer knowledge even if they never finish a piece of furniture. It will also come in handy for teaching adult night school. Right now, there isn't such a thing as "spare time," but later on general finishing will make a good hobby for free hours. The course is fun too.

Last Wednesday, this quarter's general finishing class went on a field trip to Minnesota Paints and Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. They had conducted tours and were even served coffee. They saw the production of paints, varnishes, and woodfillers; and abrasive that are used for everything from plastic surgery to grinding stainless steel. At noon, they separated for dinner and shopping. When it was time for the bus to leave they found that they had lost Ikemoto, a student from Japan. It was finally decided that the only thing to do was to leave Mr. Soderberg on the corner and go on the next tour. No one knows what happened, but George and Ikemota made it on time for coffee. You'll have to ask them for the details.

THANKSGIVING

For Blessings Received-A Time To Give Thanks

The first Thanksgiving of the Pilgrim Fathers was more than a feast. Above all, it was a day specially set apart for giving thanks. The first cruel winter had been weathered. The first harvest had been reaped. The foothold in the New World had been made secure. True, this took vision, courage and a great deal of plain hard work. But the Pilgrims knew in their hearts that none of their gallant band could have survived without the gracious intervention of Divine Providence. And so, in all humbleness, they took a day of surcease from their toil to express their deep gratitude to Almighty God.

Let us approach this Thanksgiving Day in the spirit of the Pilgrim Fathers. Let us enjoy the feast, of course; the family reunions, the gathering with friends. But let us not lose sight of the inspiration and true purpose of the occasion: gratefully to give thanks to God for the blessings we have received.

Let us share with the Pilgrims that unquestioning trust in God, without which they would never have embarked upon their historic voyage. Let us partake of the steadfast faith that sustained them through the trials of their first year in the New World. Let us, above all, follow their example in recognizing the Hand of the Creator in all good things that have come to us.

Each of us will find his own personal blessings for which to be thankful. All of us share in those paramount blessings that come to us as Americans. A free people, we walk in dignity and sleep at peace, and without fear. We are free to worship God, each in his own way. We are free to know the truth and speak our minds about it. We are free to choose our own work.

We are free to grow, to create, to achieve . . . each to the utmost of his own ability, with no shackles of regimentation to curb his ambition or thwart his progress.

These freedoms are the strength of America. They are a priceless blessing enjoyed by every American. For them on this Thanksgiving Day . . . in our churches and in our family circles . . . let us give thanks to God, from Whom all Blessings flow.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK
With Indians as guests of honor about tables loaded with game and fish, wild fruits from the forest, and corn-bread and vegetables from their new gardens, the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated their first American harvest festival, in October 1621, the first autumn of the exiles in their new home. And so it was some three hundred years ago that our Pilgrim Fathers established the first Thanksgiving day. It was a day of praise, a day of thanksgiving to God, a day of hope for an uncertain future.
As another day of thanksgiving approaches let us observe it in the same spirit of our Pilgrim Fathers. Let us enjoy the feast, the family reunions and gatherings of friends, but let us not forget the true purpose of this occasion: giving thanks to God for the blessings we have received. Let us give thanks to God in our churches and in our family circles, and let us follow the example set forth by our ancestors and make this, and every Thanksgiving a day of expressing our gratitude for all God has given us. Let us on this Thanksgiving day, give a special prayer to Almighty God for guidance, help, and protection in the future.

MAKE UP INCOMPLETES AS SOON AS POSSIBLE
John A. Jarvis, Dean of Division of Industrial Education has announced that "incompletes are given in cases in which the absence incurred has been due to situations over which neither the student nor the instructor has any control. However, the student must have a passing grade in the course at the time of withdrawal. In undergraduate work the incomplete must be made up within one year. In graduate work incompletes are also given in cases in which completion of research studies requires more time than is available during the course. In such cases the incomplete must be made up within three years following the end of the course."

NYLA BOCK IS DELEGATE TO 4-H CONGRESS
One of the delegates representing over 2,000,000 4-H club members throughout America and its possessions, Miss Nyla Bock, a Stout Institute junior from Malone, Wisconsin, has been chosen to be one of 26 Wisconsin representatives who will act as delegates to the National 4-H Congress, being held in Chicago from November 28 to December 4.
Announcement that Miss Bock had been named as an outstanding statewide 4-H choice was made by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics at The Stout Institute, in which Miss Bock is enrolled.
Miss Bock's selection was made by a state committee which evaluated the 4-H records of members throughout the state. As her reward, she will receive an all-expense trip to the Chicago Congress, which has its headquarters in the Conrad Hilton hotel.
Delegates from 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico will meet and enjoy seven days of travel, discussions, tours, and banquets. They will also be guests at the International Livestock Show.
In the letter announcing her appointment as delegate, Robert C. Clark, assistant director of the Wisconsin Extension 4-H club program, informed Miss Bock that her choice "is one of the highest honors that can come to any 4-H Club member."

THANKSGIVING DAY
Over the river, and through the wood,
To grandfather's house we go;
The horse knows the way,
To carry the sleigh,
Through the white and drifted snow
Over the river, and through the wood
Oh, how the wind does blow!
It stings the toes,
And bites the nose
As over the ground we go.
Over the river, and through the wood,
To hear a first-rate play.
Hear the bells ring,
"Ting-a-ling-ding!"
Hurrah for Thanksgiving Day!
Over the river and through the wood
Trot fast, my dapple-gray!
Spring over the ground
Like a hunting-hound!
For this is Thanksgiving Day.
Over the river and through the wood,
And straight to the barn-yard gate.
We seem to go
Extremely slow,
It is so hard to wait!
Over the river and through the wood
Now grandmother's cap I spy!
Hurrah for the fun!
Is the pudding done?
Hurrah for the pumpkin-pie!

MINNEAPOLIS STAR WILL FEATURE STOUT
Stout Institute will be the subject of a Metropolitan newspaper's colored section on educational institutions in the Northwest when, within two or three weeks, the activities and facilities of Stout will be portrayed in color in a daily edition of the Minneapolis Star, evening Minneapolis paper.
According to present plans, Stout will receive coverage on the entire back page which carries Cedric Adams' column as its only other material.
A team of photographers worked at Stout Institute from 9:30 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 17, lining up colored shots for the feature. Included were photos of wood-working, chemistry, the all-purpose laboratory, the union, the swimming pool, and the clothing section. Students from throughout Wisconsin and Minnesota were photographed in the campus setting.
Photographing the campus were James Godbold and Ed Linhoff, color specialists from the Star. Working with them were Lloyd Whydolski, Dr. Thomas Fleming, Mrs. Betty Oberpriller Larson, Jerry Duncan, Jim Daines, two students of the photography department of the college. Numerous faculty members gave important advice and assistance which helped make the project possible.
The visiting photographers also met with Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout. Arrangements for selecting students and facilitating locations for photographs were completed through the cooperation of Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education.
Stout Institute was honored in being chosen as the first Wisconsin State College to receive color photo coverage from the current services of the Minneapolis Star, one of nation's most read papers. Exact date of publication of the Stout feature will be given later.

SOCIAL SCIENCE PROGRAM GETS REVISION

According to a recent bulletin an announcement has been made by John A. Jarvis, Dean of Division of Industrial Education, concerning the 1954 graduates.
Students graduating in 1954 will have a minimum of eleven semester hours credit in Social Science provided that they have every required course in the Social Science Curriculum. The above recommendation applies to next year's seniors only.

BOY SCOUTS ARE CONDUCTING SURVEY

The Stoutonia is cooperating in an initial survey to locate all former scouts and scouters of the Pasadena-San Gabriel Valley, California Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The purpose of this survey is to measure, through a subsequent questionnaire, the benefits a boy receives in his earlier scouting years as measured by advantages gained in adult life—because of his Scouting experiences.

This is the "follow-through" on everything the Boy Scouts Program was intended to accomplish and the findings compiled will be turned over to the National Council.

Over 75,000 boys have been processed through the Scouting Program in this one Council during the past 30 years.

All former scouts and scouters effected by this initial survey are requested to send their name, present address and former troop affiliation at once to:

CONGO CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY MOVIE

The Congo Club enjoyed a very good movie last Sunday night. It was about a young veteran who returned to his home town and found the people indifferent to their duties as citizens to vote, and the church sitting back and allowing foreigners and displaced persons to be forced to live in poverty simply because everyone was afraid to help them. He first had to overcome his own bitterness before he helped others to see that it is the church of Christ which must rise and fight injustice if there is to be peace in the world.

Next week we are going to have a work meeting to build a permanent criche to be put on the church lawn at Christmas time. The Congo Club invites you to "Wear your work clothes and come and join us!"

STOUT RECEIVES RECOGNITION IN MAGAZINE

Stout Institute here has received national attention in the November issue of Practical Home Economics, monthly magazine in the field of home economics which reaches teachers, homemakers, dietitians, and other home economics specialists throughout the nation.

Title of the article is "Stout Institute Plans a Family-Centered Homemaking Department." Author of the feature is Hazel Nelson, Stout Institute graduate of last year who is now teaching in West Salem high school. The story was written in the Stout Institute class in Feature Writing, taught by Dr. Thomas Fleming.

The article describes the newly-opened family-centered classroom in the home economics division of Stout. The new facility has attracted and attracted attention for its efficiency and attractiveness in teaching Menomonie high school students taking home economics on the Stout campus and in instructing student teachers in the college teacher preparations course.

Mentioned in the feature are such items of interest as lighting, a special homemaking center within the classroom, five kitchen units, a dining area, a clothing area, and laundry facilities.

Designed and constructed under the direction of Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of Stout's division of home economics, and Miss Ann Noble, home economics education department head, the room is planned for easy adaptation to the small school which has only one homemaking teacher.

It is efficient for adult classes in a community, PTA groups, and other community meetings. Homemakers, teachers, and administrators have visited Stout to obtain ideas from the center to be used in construction of family kitchens or of school laboratories.

PALLAS ATHENE HOLD FORMAL INITIATION

The formal initiation of the Pallas Athene sorority was held at the home of Mrs. Lapoint. The ceremony was most impressive, complete with the typical candlelight, red roses and gold pin. The new members led the serenade to the dormitories, singing the new songs they had written for the sorority. Everyone enjoyed the evening and are looking forward to a successful year together.

The Tea Room was the scene of the P. A. Thanksgiving dinner, Tuesday evening. If you saw the girls drooling, forget it, they were only working up an appetite.

WMNE INTERVIEWS TWO STOUT STUDENTS

Bruce Sorenson and Don Walters, Stout seniors and co-directors at the Menomonie Youth Center, were interviewed on the Menomonie Hi-lites radio program, Saturday, November 7.

Questions concerning background in youth programs, present plans at the Youth Center, and future plans at the Center were answered by the two directors.

Both men have been actively engaged in youth programs since coming to Stout, and have taken an active part in the scouting program in Menomonie the past two years.

At the present time Bruce is president of APO, national service fraternity, and Don is vice-president. This organization is composed of former scouts who offer their services to Stout troops, the community, the nation, and school.

APO ACCEPTS FOUR PLEDGES IN CEREMONY

Pledges of A. P. O. became members of the fraternity, on Tuesday, November 10. John Burnett, Art Jersild, LeRoy Sharkey, Warren Schuster, and John Smith were the pledges accepted. Immediately following the initiation ceremony, all members and advisors met at the Anchor Cafe for dinner. A short business meeting was held afterward.

The room above the union was the scene for the initiation of A. P. O. pledges. The colorful ceremony seemed to have a marked effect on each pledge as he solemnly promised to serve the community, school, and nation as a participating citizen.

Steak was the main order for dinner at the Anchor, and members had no difficulty in mastering the art of carving a steak into choice pieces. Besides steak, potatoes, salad, peas, hot-rolls, and coffee or milk were served. For dessert, members were given a choice of cherry or apple pie.

A short business meeting followed the dinner. It was decided by the members to conduct their laminated card project in Harvey Hall on December 2 and 3. Hours of business will be from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m. All students interested in preserving valuable cards are cordially invited to inspect the display of cards that have been laminated. A. P. MANUAL ARTS PLAYERS CELEBRATE SUCCESS

Hot dogs, potato chips, pop, and cake with luscious frosting. "Jiggs Kuboyama and Mabel Sorida doing the 'hula' while Myrtle Tamura sings a Hawaiian chant. Lou Wenger doing the chorus line solo with the rest singing "By the Sea." Sam Mikitarian dancing the "Charleston" and Darrel Premo doing a typical Russian type step. Everyone passing his shoes around the circle and ending up with a red shoe that is too small on one foot and a huge brown boat on the other foot. And finally, the presenting of a gift from the cast and staff to Mr. Ziemann, and his few quiet words of gratefulness and appreciation for all those who participated and helped make this play a success.

This "after the play" party is what makes the last evening of the play so wonderful and touches it off so that it will always stay in the memory of everyone participating.

RASMUSSEN'S SHOW "ARCTIC HOLIDAY" FILM

Portraying the danger-packed existence of Caribou Eskimos, the last group of people on the continent who have but recently emerged from the Stone Age, the colored travelogue film "Arctic Holiday" was presented on Wednesday morning, November 18, at 10 a.m. in The Stout Institute Auditorium.

Menomonee residents as well as students and faculty of the college enjoyed the film. Producers of the travelogue are Lewis and Betty Rasmussen, nationally-known color artists and explorers from Kenosha, Wisconsin.

An entire year of planning with the Canadian Government and the Hudson Bay company, plus three more months of gruelling camera work, went into the creation of this amazing film.

High points in the production included scenes of Missionary effort in the Arctic, the Stone Age drum dance of 1,000 years ago, the annual Caribou hunt upon whose success depends the entire existence of the tribe, and many other unique sequences of life in the treacherous, barren Arctic Circle.

SELECTIVE SERVICE EXAM WILL BE GIVEN

The next Selective Service College Qualification Test will be held April 22, 1954, but students whose academic year will end in January 1954 have been urged to take the November 19, 1953, test. Then they will have a test score in their cover sheets before the end of their academic year, at which time their boards will reopen and reconsider their cases to determine whether they should be again deferred as students.

Selective Service officials remind college students that the deadline for submitting applications for the November 19 Selective Service Qualification Test was November 2, and that applications postmarked after that time cannot be considered.

To be eligible to apply for the college qualification test a student must (1) intend to request deferment as a student; (2) be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time course of instruction; and (3) must not have previously taken the Selective Service Qualification Test.

The two forthcoming Administrations of the College Qualification Test represent the fourth series of tests in the program. The November 19 test will raise the total number tested since May 26, 1951, to a little more than 500,000 men.

HISTORY OF PHI SIGMA EPSILON

Beginning with this issue The Stoutonia is going to run a series of articles about the various fraternities and sororities on campus. The histories of these organizations, and the turbulent times that followed make interesting reading, and will help acquaint you with the organizations on this campus. The first of these articles is about the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity.

Whenever a group of students have common motives, interests, and ideals it is natural that they join together in friendship. And on the eve of October 28, 1928, five Stout boys decided to form an organization. The purpose, they decided, was to "cooperate in bettering their social conditions as students, and those of The Stout Institute as a whole."

In the next twenty weeks these boys worked steadily, drawing up a constitution. No permanent meeting place had been established, and the members met in each other's rooms. Finally an acceptable constitution was presented, and the name of the organization was known as the Kappa Phi Sigma society.

In the third quarter of the year 1929 five "pledges" were accepted to the society.

To celebrate the success of Kappa Phi Sigma, and also to draw the school year to a fitting close, a formal dinner-dance was held. This custom has been an annual event of the society ever since. And thus ended the first year in the history of Kappa Phi Sigma.

The first day of school in 1930, a meeting of the K. F. S. members was held. It seemed that another organization, the N. K. O., which had been forced to disband a few years earlier wanted the Kappa Phi Sigma's to join their ranks, but the motion was defeated.

Soon afterwards another important meeting took place. The school did not like to have Greek letter fraternities on campus. But the boys decided to keep their name, and their Greek letters, even though the society would not be accepted as an official organ of the school.

More disagreement than ever before in the organization was seen in 1931. Due to some disagreement as to officers of the club, one of the members felt compelled to hand in his resignation. Then the dinner-dance was not accepted by the authorities, and had to be called off. The outlook for the Kappa Phi Sigma's looked grim indeed.

Within the next few years though, things began to look up. Greek-letter fraternities were accepted on campus, and the Kappa Phi Sigma was accepted as an official Stout organization.

Many successful years passed, and in 1951-2 the K. F. S. decided to go national. After considerable searching, the group, aided by Dean Price, became interested in the Phi Sigma Epsilon, which had its national headquarters in Davenport, Iowa. After a visit from Mr. Frances Bremmer, a national executive officer, the society decided in favor of Phi Sigma Epsilon, and a petition was filed with the national office. So on May 17, 1952 the local Kappa Phi Sigma bowed its head, regretfully gave up its time honored name, and gracefully faded into the past. In its place was ushered the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, nationally known, and very proud of its newest members.

M.A.P. CHALKS UP ANOTHER SUCCESS

Nearly a thousand persons flocked to see the Manual Arts Players present the flood and thunder comedy drama, "Petticoat Fever." Another success to chalk up on the long list of successes directed by Mr. Ziemann since he has been here at Stout.

Each player, whether he had a small or large part, is to be commended on his characterization. Roger Bergh, as Dascom Dinsmore, did a marvelous job as the leading man. Barb Hilts, as Ethel, was another important one who is to be complimented. Herb Pringle, as Sir James Fenton, certainly was the perfect one for the part, and nearly stole the show at times with his haughty stuffy English manner and speech. Carol Schilstra, as Clara, also fit the part to a "T." Frank Hoffman surprised everyone when he came out with that very, very, gruff and guttural voice, and continued it throughout his part. Ed Nowicki portrayed very well the part of the very reverent and solemn priest, Larry Loveland, as Scotty, was rather unrecognizable in his black jacket and stocking cap. Not to be forgotten are our three Hawaiians, "Jiggs" Kuboyama, Mabel Sorida, and Myrtle Tamura, who played the parts of Eskimos. The girls really thrilled the audience with their "Hula dancing".

The lighting was terrific. Real northern lights seemed to move about and change colors before your eyes.

The sound effects were also superb, the wireless "dot-dash-dot-dot," the barking of the Eskimo dogs, the radio broadcasts.

The scenery was very realistic. Those watching the scenery being taken down after the play were amazed to find that the heavy beams along the ceiling were merely cardboard shapes and that the sturdy looking walls were of the same construction. The bear skin rugs and the pin-up pictures certainly added to the atmosphere of the room.

A play like this needs the utmost co-operation on the part of each one concerned in order to produce a smooth and successful play. The play was produced with the co-operation of approximately 54 persons. These people worked hard for many weeks carrying out their parts of the whole. A play needs competent actors, a technical director, an assistant director, stage manager, and a house manager. It also requires willing workers for the lighting, sound, usherettes, properties, costumes, make-up, publicity, and stage crew.

These are the things necessary for a good play. These are the things which have made this play, "Petticoat Fever," and all the other M. A. P. plays, under the direction of Norman Ziemann the successes which they have been.

SIG TAU ROSE DANCE IS WELL ATTENDED

The Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity held their annual Sig Tau Rose dance on November 7, with Pat Casberg reigning as the 1953 Rose Queen. The dance was very well attended and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves dancing in an atmosphere created by the mellow music of George Soderberg's Royal Blackhaws and the decorations which were created by a committee under the supervision of Sam Mikitarian. An outstanding feature in the decorations was the south wall where there was a series of shelves which formed the Greek letters Sigma Tau Gamma. This year the members decided to give favors instead of flowers, so as the Sig Tau members and their dates arrived they placed their giant 29 inch blue and white Pandas on the shelves. When all the members and advisors had arrived the Pandas very effectively formed the fraternity's three Greek letters.

NOTED PIANIST WILL PERFORM HERE TONIGHT

Winner of Great Britain's Coronation Medal as the year's outstanding young pianist, David Bar-Illan, 23 year old Israeli pianist, will be heard in concert at a Stout Institute lyceum on Friday evening, November 20, in the college auditorium.

Program time will be 8 p.m. However, at 7:50 p.m. Menomonie residents may choose seats in the auditorium if extra seats remain which have not been occupied by The Stout Institute students or faculty members. No charge will be made to residents of the community. Stout students will be admitted by SSA card.

Following his last recital in London during coronation festivities for the British queen, Bar-Illan flew to the Midwest to begin his current concert tour. He has been hailed by the critics of these continents in glowing terms:

"This young artist has outstanding and exceptional talent... his playing is rich and powerful... he has prodigious technique, mature insight, inspiring musicianship."

A graduate of the Juilliard School of Music and the Mannes School, Bar-Illan has toured Canada in concert and recently appeared on a nation-wide television program in which he starred with Ezio Pinza and Jennie Tourel.

Born in Haifa, Israel, in 1930, Bar-Illan has been a pianist since the age of 5. When he was 10, he gave his first public recital. He interrupted his piano studies in the United States to return to Israel and fight with the Israeli army in the war for Israel's independence.

For his Stout Institute appearance, the sensitive young pianist has selected a program of familiar classical and semi-classical music. Selections will range from Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" to Chopin's "Minute Waltz."

The stately "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desire" will be balanced by Debussy's sprightly "Golliwog's Cake Walk" and Liszt's "Dance of the Gnomes." The concert will conclude with Liszt's beautiful "Hungarian Rhapsody No. 2."

EVERY DAY THANKSGIVING DAY

Sweet it is to see the sun
Shining on Thanksgiving Day,
Sweet it is to see the snow
Fall as if it came to stay;
Sweet is everything that comes,
For all makes cheer, Thanksgiving Day.

Fine is the pantry's goodly store,
And fine the heaping dish and tray;
Fine the church-bells ringing; fine
All the dinner's great array,
Things we'd hardly dare to touch,
Were it not Thanksgiving Day.

Dear the people coming home,
Dear glad faces long away,
Dear the merry cries, and dear
All the glad and happy play.
Dear the thanks, too, that we give
For all of this Thanksgiving Day.

But sweeter, finer, dearer far
It well might be if on our way,
With love for all, with thanks to Heaven,
We did not wait for time's delay,
But, with remembered blessings then
Made every day Thanksgiving Day.

E.P.T. TOURS FORD PLANT AND DUNWOODY

Ford Motor Company and Dunwoody Institute were the subjects of the E. P. T. field trip. The group was headed by their advisor, Phil Ruehl.

The members left bright and early and reached the Ford plant on the Mississippi river in St. Paul, about 9:00 a.m. The members were surprised when their guide turned out to be Harold Strozinsky, the son of our engineer here at Stout.

The first part of their tour was through the glass making process, after which the whole group went down into the sand mine 150 feet directly below the Ford plant. The fellows were surprised to find that it took only three miners to keep the whole glass factory going.

The group watched the Fords being made from the first piece of the frame till a worker got in at the end of the end of the line and drove them off. There was some discussion among the group about the amazing speed with which the car was assembled.

At noon members took an hour break to eat, and then met in downtown Minneapolis at the Dunwoody Institute.

The group was split up into two sections and then shown through the entire school. Dunwoody is an Industrial arts school. It has an eighteen month course to prepare men for industry. E. P. T. members were very interested in observing the shops in action.

When the tour was over, the E. P. T. members had free coffee and doughnuts in the school cafeteria. As they returned home the members seemed to have much to talk over and digest after such an interesting and educational trip.

"YOUR COUNTRY AND MINE" IS TOPIC OF TALKS

The history and education of Guam, Sweden, and Ecuador highlighted the talks given at the Home Economics Club meeting on Monday, November 23, in the cafeteria. Maria Quichocho, Guam, Katherine Hellman, and Marcos Argudo, Ecuador, spoke on the topic, "Your Country and Mine."

Maria Quichocho told the club about people on the island of Guam, a 215 square mile possession of the United States. The Polynesian and Spanish speaking people have only one high school on their island, Maria remarked. Maria also told of her experiences during the Japanese invasion and occupation.

"Grey silk hats designate a student of a secondary school and white velvet hats are worn by junior college boys," Katherine Hellman remarked during her talk on Sweden. Appearing in a Swedish costume, Katherine told of the education and history of the Scandinavian country. Of special interest to the group was her explanation of their education system and the "wearing of the hats." "Adults in Sweden are often radio educated," Katherine added.

The education system of Ecuador and especially the vocational schools which he represents were explained by Marcus Argudo, Quito, Ecuador. Pictures of historic and beauty scenes in Ecuador were also shown to the club by Marcus.

Mary Detlor, president of the club, presided during the business meeting. Ardis Carr reported on the fruit cake sale which is now being held. Virginia Lathrop reported on the plans being made for the Christmas tea which will be held December 16 in the Harvey Memorial.

OPPORTUNITIES OFFERED FOR FAR AWAY JOBS

The following material about opportunities for The Stout Institute graduates to obtain jobs in "Far Away Places" has been received by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, and Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, college registrar:

The Department of the Army has recently expanded the recreational program for military personnel stationed in overseas areas. As a result, this office has an increased number of position vacancies for qualified civilians who are interested in foreign service.

We will be conducting a recruiting drive in Milwaukee, Wisconsin during December. Miss Caroline Reid, Field Supervisor for the Special Services Division, United States Army Europe, who has returned to this country on temporary duty for the purpose of recruiting personnel for that area, will be at the Wisconsin State Employment Service, 161 West Wisconsin Avenue, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, from 1 through 8 December. This will be an excellent opportunity for interested individuals to learn more about the duties and responsibilities of these positions. Since Miss Reid has served overseas with Army Special Services, she can also give them information regarding living and working conditions and answer the most frequently asked question, "What is it like to work in a foreign country?"

Informational material inclosed indicates the field in which we have vacancies and the basic qualifications for each. Since the minimum age requirement in most instances precludes consideration of senior students, we are requesting that whenever possible these job opportunities be publicized among your graduate students and alumnae.

We should like to emphasize that applications are acceptable at any time during the year, but since a personal interview is required before final approval of an applicant, an appointment with Miss Reid during this period would be mutually advantageous. Although the time allotted will not permit Miss Reid to make a personal contact with all of the schools, she will welcome any requests from you or your staff for additional information during her stay in Milwaukee.

INTERNATIONAL CENTER TO BE OPENED SOON

The Institute of International Education has recently sent to Dr. Ralph Iverson, director of student personnel services at Stout, an announcement that a Holiday Center for World Students will soon be opened in Chicago. Purpose of the center is to assure a pleasant holiday season for foreign students now in the United States.

The letter, from Mrs. Louise L. Wright, director of the Midwest office of the Institute is as follows:

The Midwest office of the Institute of International Education is working with a group of about twenty or more Chicago organizations to plan the Holiday Center for World Students which will be held in Chicago at 59 East Monroe Street from Sunday, December 20, to Friday, January 1st. The YWCA has offered their rooms which are in a central and pleasant location, and are well equipped as a place for students to gather.

We envision a place where students can meet friends, hear of current activities such as concerts, exhibits or tours, have refreshments and be reached by families who would like to entertain them. The enclosed posters give more details. We would like you to bring it to the attention of the foreign students at your college. Perhaps the college paper could help to publicize the center.

In addition, we need your assistance in estimating the probable response and ask if you would send us, by December 11, the approximate number of foreign students whom you expect to come to Chicago and use the Center. They will be all most welcome.

For further information regarding housing and other information, students should write to: Committee for Holiday Center c/o Institute of International Education

116 South Michigan Avenue Chicago 3, Illinois
Phone: CEnt 6-8232

According to Dr. Iverson, memoranda have already been sent to foreign students attending Stout, asking that they notice posters on the Holiday Center have been placed upon bulletin boards on campus.

OPPORTUNITIES ARE AVAILABLE TO STUDENTS

Students interested in announcements concerning scholarships, fellowships, opportunities for domestic or foreign travel, vocational information, or military service programs should examine the bulletin boards on the outer walls of the Student Personnel office, located at the head of the stairs on the second floor of Bowman Hall.

This announcement has been made to all Stout students by Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at the college. According to Dr. Iverson, announcements will be placed on the bulletin boards whenever such information is received.

Typical of present opportunities listed outside the Personnel office are those of travel and study opportunities, opportunities for graduate study in guidance and counseling, dates for law school admission tests, youth hostel locations in Wisconsin and elsewhere, civil service opportunities, summer sessions abroad, medical technology training offerings, and details of the Marine Corps Reserve program.

NOTICE

Women students who marry after registration are expected to report that information to the Dean of Women and the Registrar. In this way, other administrative offices will be informed.

GIMBEL ART COLLECTION IS ON EXHIBIT

Still on exhibit at Stout until Friday, December 11, is the nationally known Gimbel Art Collection. Theme of the exhibit is "Wisconsin Artists' View of 1952."

The 17 paintings in the exhibit, chosen from over 400 entries submitted to the Gimbel competition, may be seen on the second floor of Harvey Hall. Some paintings are hung in Room 27. Others are in the adjoining corridor.

The display will be open from 8 to 5 on weekdays and from 8 to noon on Saturday. All students, faculty members, and residents of the Menomonee area are invited to view the paintings.

"Facade No 1", a warm study in shades of brown, won for the artist, Fred Berman, the second award in the Gimbel 1952 Art Collection. Prize paintings of the collection are on exhibition until December 11 on the second floor of Harvey Hall.

BLUE JAY SINGERS WILL APPEAR AT CONVO

The Blue Jay Singers will present a program which will reflect their high degree of taste, talent and showmanship at the convocation Wednesday, December 9.

Plantation songs, spirituals and stirring modern songs are combined with favorites from the classical repertoire. Male Quintets are not unique, but the versatility of these Artists is rare indeed. Precise ensemble singing will be alternated with solo renditions of the highest caliber. Humorous songs will further vary and brighten the performance of the exceptional group.

Included in their program is everything for which colored singers and entertainers are noted for—from the beloved Southern spirituals and folk-songs to Gershwin. Their program will include such favorites as "Workin' on de Railroad," "Shortin' Bread," "Old Man River," and many other spirituals, work songs and plantation melodies.

The Blue Jay Singers have appeared on Radio Networks in addition to extended tours of the United States, Canada, Mexico and Cuba, and have given their program in many leading theaters and colleges all over the U.S.

MARINE CORPS TEAM WILL VISIT CAMPUS

Announcement that the U.S. Marine Corps will continue its officer-candidate procurement program at Stout Institute on December 7 has been made by Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at the college.

The officer procurement team will be in Room 219 of Harvey Hall, Stout's home economics building, from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. on December 7.

The platoon leaders class for freshmen, sophomores, and juniors is the Marine Corps equivalent of the ROTC program. The class assures a college man that he can complete his college education before entering military service.

Participation in two six-week summer training programs without interference with a man's academic pursuits during a college year leads the candidate to a second lieutenant's commission in the Marine Corps reserve.

BAR-ILLAN IS RATED HIGH ON CAMPUS

David Bar-Illan, rated as the year's greatest pianist, proved to be even more than he was rated. All who heard him were tremendously pleased and inspired by his exceptional ability in playing classical music. Even the non-music lovers seemed to enjoy his renditions.

As stated in the Stoutonia before Mr. Bar-Illan flew to the U. S. directly from London under the auspices of the University of Minnesota. Such comments as the following were given by his critics: "Rich and powerful... prodigious technique... genuinely poetic playing... remarkable ability, keen touch, energy and vitality."

Whether he played pieces by Beethoven, Liszt, Chopin or lighter ones such as Golliwogs Cake Walk, all the playing was done with ease and enjoyment. He described each number before he played it, thus making it far more easily understood and enjoyable.

His platform behavior was modest but impressive; and he showed very plainly that he enjoyed his audience. Mr. Bar-Illan stated that he was more pleased with the Stout audience than with any other audience he had so far played for in the Northwest.

The lyceum committee hopes it may have the opportunity to schedule a return performance by David Bar-Illan next year.

If you have not turned in your Extra-Curricular Point check blank, please do so at once.

MARY KAY IS STATE SAFETY WINNER

Winner of a $200 educational scholarship as one of Wisconsin's two outstanding 4-H club safety achievers is Mary Kay, a Spring Valley sophomore attending The Stout Institute.

Announcement that Miss Kay had won the college scholarship was made this week by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the Stout division of home economics, in which Miss Kay is enrolled.

Miss Kay's state-wide safety honor is the second 4-H achievement for which the Spring Valley girl has recently been named. She was earlier selected "Pierce County's Outstanding Girl 4-H Club Member for 1953" and was awarded a trip to the recent State Farm Bureau conference at Madison.

The safety scholarship is offered annually by the Old Line Fire Insurance, through the Farm Underwriters association. Both the safety programs and selection of award winners are entirely under the jurisdiction of state 4-H club leaders.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kay, Spring Valley farm family, Mary Kay submitted a farm safety record as one of her 4-H projects. As a member of the Clay Corner Cracker-Jacks 4-H club, she participated in the club's project of testing the drinking water of 24 families in her farm area. The club project was in keeping with Pierce county's year-long 4-H drive for "Farm Safety and Health."

As private safety endeavors, Miss Kay conducted clean-up campaigns to eliminate hazards in farm building on her family's farm, instituted safeguards in the family basement, and constructed containers to remove the dangers of oily rags on the premises.

Miss Kay's safety record was named as the outstanding effort in Pierce county. When a report of the project was placed in district competition, it was given first place recognition. In state-wide competition, Miss Kay's record captured one of the two $200 college scholarships for which Wisconsin 4-H members are eligible.

Now enrolled in a college program which is preparing her to be a teacher of home economics, Miss Kay plans to make good use of her 4-H background and accomplishments in her future teaching assignment.

"I have learned a great deal about the importance of safety in the home and I hope that I shall be able to bring this information to my future students. I will then be able to make them realize too that planning for safety is one of the responsibilities of the homemakers," reports Miss Kay.

MR. KRANZUSCH ATTENDS MEET IN MICHIGAN

Representing Stout Institute at a recent National Conference on Driver Education was Ray F. Kranzusch, associate professor of education at the college. Kranzusch served as a reporter for the conference group on Driver Education for College Students.

Sponsored by the National Education association, the conference was held at Kellogg Center, on the campus of Michigan State college. Attending were educational and business representatives from every state in the nation. Business representatives were those whose firms are participants in the nation's driver education program.

Six work groups of from 12 to 16 participants endeavored to formulate proposals for consideration by general sessions of the conference. Proposals acceptable to the general sessions were adopted as conference recommendations.

The six work groups dealt with the following areas: Driver education for adults and out-of-school youth; general supervision, teacher certification and program standards; Driver education for college students; Research in driver education; Driver education for secondary students.

Chairmen and reporters of each section collaborated in their findings upon a general report which was presented to the general session for approval or modifications. The work of the four-day meeting is now being edited by the National Education association and soon will be published.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Undoubtedly, many of you have seen the round white boxes entitled, "Dollars For Dell" in Menomonie business places. The contents of these boxes we hope, will bring relief and happiness to a young mother stricken with arthritis.

The young housewife first showed signs of the ailment in a mild case a few years ago. It constantly grew worse until now she is bedridden with the crippling disease. Previous treatments have failed to produce results. Now friends and relatives have gotten together to secure money for further treatment.

A contest was planned in order to raise money for her. Entries were sold for a dollar and a television set was offered to the writer of the best slogan as to why he or she wanted to help Dell. The winner has not been announced as yet, but you can be sure that the judges will have great difficulty choosing the best entry.

Regardless of the winning slogan everyone who contributed won a pleasant feeling for himself as well as a feeling of thanks from Dell. All it took was a dollar from each donor to produce well over a thousand dollars which may bring back a happy, normal life for an unfortunate one among us.

HUNTING CONDITIONS ARE UNFAVORABLE

Twenty-seven deer were tagged by Dunn County officials last Saturday and Sunday and only fourteen of these tagged deer were shot in Dunn County.

General hunting conditions were reported as being very poor. Dryness proved to be the greatest difficulty making the woods noisy and hazardous.

Northern Wisconsin had the greatest number of deer tagged because of a four inch snow fall which helped in tracking the deer.

Many Stout students tried their luck and at the present time, Skip Wick is the only hunter reported to have shot his deer.

Deer season is almost over for this year and many Wisconsin hunters are probably saying, "Oh well, there's always next year."

HISTORY OF ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA

During the reckless twenties a handful of girls at The Stout Institute took time out, with a sincere desire to form a society which they called SMA. The three letter name held the secret formula of the society's success from that time on, for the organization was founded on the firm basis of loyalty, sincerity, and friendship.

The SMA society never left the limits of its own campus, but at Stout it developed its traditions and songs, until it was an integral part of the college life. With the three other societies, SMA formed an intersociety council, which controlled rushing and pledging procedures. In all things SMA worked for the welfare of its members, and in co-operation with the Student Governing Board.

In the late thirties the SMA's undertook the sponsoring of a Sadie Hawkins Week in February. Faithful to the rules of Dogpatch, this week-long man chase became a highlight of the long winter season. The society has contributed its share of homecoming queens, floats, and members of the Governing Board.

During the year of 1951-52 the girls became interested in becoming a national sorority. Soon a search for a sorority which embraced the ideals the SMA's held so dear. Through an Alpha Sigma Alpha alumnae, Mrs. Vera Salyer, they learned about her sorority. With her aid, they studied its ideals and activities and decided it was the one for them. On April 26, 1952, the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority, along with its advisor, Miss Winifred Hinkley, was installed as the Beta Phi Chapter of Alpha Sigma Alpha by the national president, Wilma Wilson Sharp.

This does not end the story, though. Since they have become national, the Alpha Sigma Alpha's have changed slightly. They still have their same traditions and ideals, but they also have new loyalties and ideals on a nationwide basis. It gives them a chance to exchange ideas with and read about girls from all parts of the United States. This in turn leads to a better understanding and tolerance of people on other campuses and on their own.

This is the interesting history of the Alpha Sigma Alpha, the second in a series of articles on Fraternities and Sororities on our campus.

RELIGIOUS COUNCIL STARTS NEW PROGRAM

A program for the year was presented at the meeting of the Inter-religious Council on November 16, in Harvey Hall. Religious emphasis week, a visit of Dr. Allen from the University of Minnesota, an Ecumenical conference, and more student representation were discussed at the meeting.

Officers of the Inter-Religious Council will begin working on a Religious Emphasis Week for next year. Several council members have heard about such activities on other college campuses. St. Cloud Teachers College has been very successful with their campus religious program.

The University of Minnesota has a very extensive and successful campus program of religious activities. Dr. Allen is coordinator of their religious activities. It is hoped that The Stout Institute will be able to entertain Dr. Allen and a few of his students to learn some possibilities for improving our own program.

Each religious organization will be represented by four members of the Inter-Religious Council from now on. In the past each organization has been represented by an advisor, a clergyman, and a student. A constitutional amendment which was ratified at the meeting will add another student representative from each organization.

DRIVE TO INCREASE LIFE MEMBERSHIPS

Bob Rudiger, secretary of the Stout Alumni Association, is currently spearheading a drive to increase the number of life members in the association. The payment of the modest sum of thirty dollars entitles an alumnus to life membership in the Stout Alumni Association.

Payment may be made in one sum or in six yearly installments of five dollars though either plan entitles both to life membership.

The new installment plan has appealed to alumni. Within two months after it started, nineteen individuals and seven husbands and their wives sent in their first payment.

Not only are participants in either plan listed on the growing roster of loyal alumni supporters, but they also receive the Stoutonia weekly and the newly inaugurated Alumni Newsletter biannually. The recently enlarged alumni news section of the Stoutonia and the newsletter are designed to keep alumni informed of events on the campus as they occur and of the activities of fellow alumni.

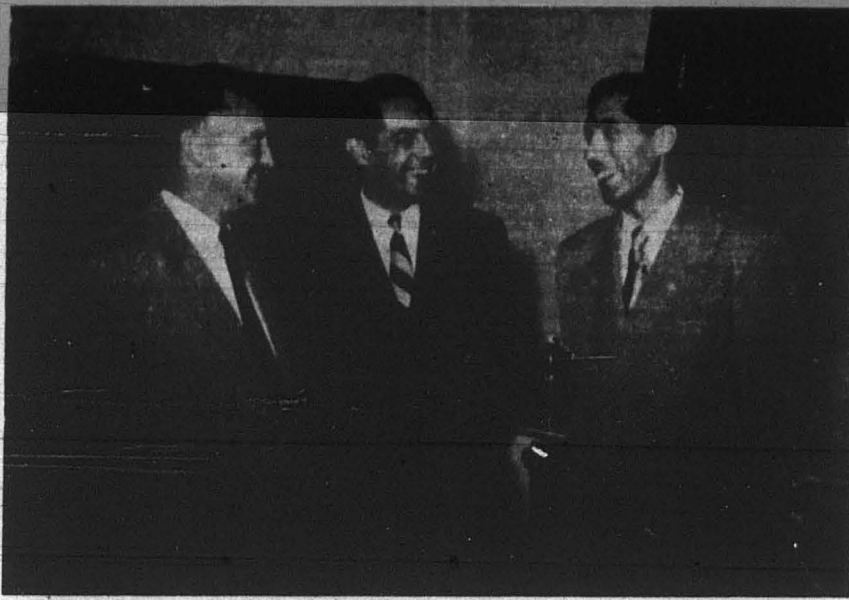

The money coming from alumni life memberships is earmarked for the alumni scholarship fund. The fund is designed to encourage worthy high school graduates to attend Stout. At the present time, one boy and one girl receive an amount sufficient to cover fees and tuition for one semester. It is hoped that, as the life memberships roster enlarges, the funds for scholarships will increase sufficiently to make possible financial assistance to a larger number of deserving students.

ALUMNI REUNION AT A.V.A.

Stout grads from all over the nation were in attendance at the alumni reunion, recently held in Chicago, during the American Vocational Association Convention. Members attending represented classes from 1912 to 1951 and were from more than fifteen states.

The supper meeting was held at the Harding Presidential Grill on Tuesday evening. A delicious meal of turkey was followed by short talks by alumni President Jean Anderson, Dean Kirk, Dean Jarvis and President Fryklund. President Fryklund told of changes around the campus and of the plans for the future. He expressed thanks to all the alumni group for the wonderful job of student recruiting that is being done by our members. Members present also had an opportunity to view photographs of recent laboratory and shop improvements. A copy of the 1953 annual was also on display.

GRADS TEACH IN LEBANESE SCHOOLS

Shown above are two Stout graduates now engaged in educational activity in Beirut, Lebanon. The photograph and information were recently received by Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, college registrar.

On the left in the picture is Noel T. Myers, M.S. 1945, who was formerly Supervisor of Industrial Arts in the Public Schools, New Castle, Indiana. On the right-hand side is Jacques H. Beers, B.S. 1949, who is now on leave of absence from the St. Louis, Missouri, Public Schools. The man in the center is R. B. Farnsworth, who was acquainted with President Fryklund in Japan.

These men are on the Educational Staff of the U.S. Mission to Lebanon, ordinarily referred to as Point Four. Mr. Beers is the Project Supervisor for the Young Lebanese Apprentice School at Beirut. This is a school similar to the Father Flanagan Boys Town of Omaha.

Mr. Myers, who sent in the photograph and the above information is Acting Chief, Education Staff, U. S. Operation Mission to Lebanon, with Headquarters at the American Embassy, Beirut, Lebanon, under the Foreign Service of the United States.

ALUMNI MEET AT IOWA STATE CONVENTION

Stout alumni in Iowa had a recent reunion at the Iowa Education Association Convention in Des Moines.

This was the first time our alumni have held a meeting during this state convention. Much thanks is due Ward Cowles and Roy Parsons for making all the arrangements for this get-together.

Approximately twenty five people, representing classes from 1951, were present. Plans are already under way for another reunion in 1954.

STOUT LEAVES WINONA TRAILING, WINS 55-49

Bluedevils Take Early Lead and Hold It To Win Season's Opener

The Bluedevils opened their 1953-1954 cage season with a win over Winona. The Bluedevils took the lead on Bruce Leonard's drive-in bucket and never trailed, although Winona tied the score at 2-2. Stout's greatest margin of 10 points was built up in the third quarter but Winona fought back and closed the gap to three points late in the last canto.

Coach Ray Johnson used 13 players with seven breaking into the scoring column. Bruce Leonard, Tom Stewart, and Charles Schmitz tallied nine each and Duke Severson meshed eight.

Freshmen played a major role in the win, with Schmitz, Severson, Dale Westerback, and Roger Lowney performing well. Westerback turned in a good defensive game as he frequently blocked shots besides setting up a couple of baskets with sharp passing. Severson and Lowney gave Stout a good backcourt combination while Schmitz was tough on rebounds.

These newcomers combined with veterans Leonard, Jim Dailey, John Widmar, and Stewart gives Stout more depth than they have had in the last couple of years. The Bluedevils defensive performance was the difference in the two teams.

Both teams started slow with building an 8-2 lead on the shooting of Westerback and Leonard. Fred Hoeft hit on a long shot after seven minutes of the first quarter had elapsed for Winona's first fielder. The quarter ended with Stout leading, 12-7.

Five freshmen;—Lowney, Schmitz, Westerback, Severson, and Lefty Devine, were in Stout's lineup as the second quarter started. Hoeft netted five points and Johnson's gift shot reduced Stout's margin to 17-15. Schmitz, Stewart, Severson, and Lowney hit from the field and Stout had a 25-20 half-time lead.

The quintet that started the game Westerback, Stewart, Leonard, Dailey, and Widmar, returned to the court as the third period started. While Winona was scoring five points Leonard hit from the corner, Widmar meshed two charity tosses, Leonard hooked in a bucket, Stewart added two free throws and Widmar connected on a jump shot for a 35-25 Stout lead midway in the quarter.

The Bluedevils ran into a cold streak and only scored three points on free throws during the remainder of the quarter. Johnson led Winona's rally and the quarter ended with Stout ahead, 38-33.

Winona connected for four points while Stout was getting two and the scoreboard read, 40-37. Lowney meshed a jump shot and free throw and Severson two free throws and the Bluedevils lead shot to 45-37. Winona fought back and cut the spread to 48-44.

Stewart's jump shot eased the tension but Gegin banged in three free throws to leave the score 50-47.

Severson's two free throws was matched by Meehl's layup. Westerback added a charity toss and Stewart tipped in a bucket to offset Meehl's long swisher as the game ended.

Stout's freshman team dropped a 53-35 decision to the Winona freshmen in a preliminary game. The score was tied at 18 at half time.

The student body has given the team wonderful support in this first game of the season. Let's see if we can't keep it up throughout the whole year.

BLUEDEVILS LOSE 62 - 50 TO HAMLINE

Stout traveled to St. Paul to play in the first game of a double header with Hamline University. The Bluedevils dropped the game to the Pipers 62-50.

Coach Johnson started Bruce Leonard, Dale Westerback, Tom Stewart, John Widmar, and Duke Severson. This combination got off to a slow start, however, and they trailed 24-21 at half-time.

The Bluedevils came back in the 3rd quarter and took an early lead on Widmar's five straight points making the score 29-27, but the sharp shooting Piper quint proved too much for the Stout five and won 62-50.

Tom Stewart showed some of his form from last year as he paced the Bluedevils with 18 points.

CHURCHES PLAN JOINT CHRISTMAS PARTY

A joint Christmas party of Congo, L. S. A., and Wesley is planned for Sunday evening, December 6. L. S. A. will act as host, and the meeting will be at Peace Lutheran Church, beginning at 5:30. Congo Club is in charge of worship, L. S. A. will furnish the food, and Wesley will provide recreation, so there will be plenty of fun and fellowship.

On December 13 there is the annual Christmas Concert at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. The program will begin at 8:00, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

It is hoped that all Congo Club, L. S. A. and Wesley members will be at Peace Lutheran Church for an evening of fun and fellowship on December 6. Be sure to bring your friends.

VETERANS ALLOWANCES REMAIN STABLE

Veterans attending school or college under the Korean GI Bill were reminded today by the Veterans Administration that the amount of money they may earn outside of school hours has no effect whatsoever on the GI allowances paid them by the Government. The monthly allowances will remain the same, regardless of outside earnings. VA said. In fact, these earnings need not even be reported to the VA.

GI allowances for veterans in school full-time are $110, with no dependents; $135, with one dependent, and $160 with more than one dependent. The original World War II GI Bill did have a "ceiling" that applied to veterans training in school as well as on-the-job. But under the Korean GI Bill, the "ceiling" is only for trainees. It does not apply to veterans in the classroom.

SAFETY CLOWN COP LECTURES AT CONVO

Mr. Trout, better known as "Ozzie", the Safety Clown Cop, gave a lecture on good citizenship based on Christian philosophy. He has presented lectures to many different kinds of groups, from elementary children, to college students and adult groups such as P. T. A. and civic service organizations.

The audience paid close attention as he brought out one startling statement after another about today's young adults. He stated that there is not enough courtesy and respect for others among the younger generation. Mr. Trout does not believe in being back handed about little details which appear in everyday life. He believes that "It isn't what you think of yourself, it is what others think of you." These points were put across skillfully. He went right to the point about some of the juvenile delinquent problems of today.

Many comments were made about this lecture. Some thought that he overdid himself, while others thought that he could have made his talk much more dramatic. However, he hit the nail on the head and put across some thought provoking statements. The saying, "Put the cap on where it fits" did well conclude the results of Mr. Trout's talk.

Police in Laguna Beach, Calif., investigating the complaints about too much noise in the vicinity of a church, found two young men had been breaking into the church to satisfy their craving for organ music.

TELEPHONE POLES TO BE REMOVED

Approval for removal of telephone poles near the new Stout library and an increase in summer session activity fees were granted by the Stout board of trustees at their quarterly meeting in Madison Monday, Dec. 7.

President Verne C. Fryklund reported that the present activity fee of $3 for summer session students does not cover all the costs of student social activities during the summer. He recommended and received an additional $2 fee per student to care for total charges.

The president revealed that unsightly telephone poles and light poles dot the new library grounds on what was formerly Ninth avenue. He revealed that the Wisconsin Telephone company would require $1400 for removal of these poles, which would have to be paid by Stout. The board approved his recommendation for their removal at a cost of $1400. The poles will be relocated around the library grounds and the Northern States Power company will use them, and will also remove their old poles.

President Fryklund also presented the board with his report on Stout Institute for the committee to study higher education in Wisconsin. Representing Stout on this committee is A. A. Laun, Kiel, Wis., a member of the Stout board of trustees. The committee's recommendation will be presented eventually, to the state legislature when integration of the schools is considered next year.

Approval of the quarterly budget for the third quarter of the 1953-54 school year was approved.

NOTICE

There will be no Wesley Student Fellowship this Sunday because of the Symphonics rehearsal and the church Christmas concerts.

TRUSTEES MEET IN MADISON THIS WEEK

Action on an improvement for the grounds of the new Stout Institute library and an increase in the activity fee for the summer session students attending the college were the principal matters of business at a meeting of The Stout Institute Board of Trustees, held in Madison on Monday.

Board members also reviewed a study recently completed by the Stout administration. The study will be submitted to the legislative committee which has been designated to study higher education in Wisconsin.

The Board approved expenditure of $1400 to be used for removal of unsightly telephone and electric light poles which now disfigure the grounds of Stout's new library building.

Because the present activities fee for summer session students attending Stout does not cover costs of summer social affairs sponsored by the college, the Trustees raised the fee from the present $3.00 charge to $5.00.

Board members also approved the college budget for the third quarter of the year.

PHI SIGS RECEIVE INFORMATION BOOK

The Omega chapter of Phi Sigma Epsilon has recently received several copies of a general information booklet for the use of school administrators, fraternities or interested students. This booklet contains information about the history of fraternities and why one should join a national fraternity. It also contains some general information about the national fraternity, Phi Sigma Epsilon.

It is hoped that information booklets of this type can be gotten into the hands of all students who are interested in national fraternities or fraternities in general.

The Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity believes that all students should join either a fraternity (men or a sorority (women) sometime during their college days. Fraternities and sororities provide many opportunities for the developing of friendships and the social graces. All fraternities and sororities set high standards in scholarship, social training, and ideals of living.

Interested faculty, members and students may receive copies of this booklet free of charge by contacting Omega Chapter President, Oliver Agler.

CLASS PRESENTS PLAY IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Play Production Class

Gives One Act Play For Elementary Grades

Children in the elementary grades of public schools here are receiving an unexpected treat before Christmas when the Play Production class of The Stout Institute presents the fairy tale, "Snow White and Rose Red" at all the schools.

The one act play has been adapted to the "Children's Theatre" movement which has become popular throughout the nation. Members of the Play Production class wrote a script from the fairy tale and then provided costumes, scenery, makeup, sound effects, songs and dances to delight their youthful audiences.

Working under the supervision of Norman Ziemann, chairman of the Stout speech department, the class gave special attention to designing and constructing the tiny cottage and woods which form the setting for the play. In addition to being realistic, the sets were planned for ease of transportation and speed of erection.

From designing the settings, writing the script, producing the play, and acting out the varied roles, students in the class have the opportunity to actually apply the principles of producing plays. This experience they can then use for similar projects when they have graduated from Stout and are actually teaching.

Students participating in the project include Barbara Hilts, Owen; Carol Zuege, Milwaukee; Miriam Eckert, Manchester; Barbara Wormet, Birchwood; Joanne Fritz, Belleville; JoAnn Brehm, Knapp; Arthur Scheldrup, Glenwood City; Carol Tickler, Seymour; Carol Bredlow, Watertown; Mary Lou Anderson, Racine; Dorothy Brownell, Grand Meadow, Minn.; Nancy Bargin, Hudson; Mary Gehler, Waterloo; Darlene Neas, Cheatek; Carol Banner, Milwaukee and August Bell, Donald Hogan, Norma Schlottman, and Jerome Duncan, all of Menomonie.

CAROL TICKLER, Stout Institute coed, portraying the evil dwarf in "Snow White and Rose Red", frightens coeds Dorothy Brownell and Norma Schlottman, who play the leading roles in the one-act play to be presented as a Christmas treat to elementary pupils in all Menomonie public schools. The "Children's Theatre" play has been written and produced by Stout's class in play production, taught by Norman Ziemann.

OUR SAVIORS CHURCH PLANS ANNUAL CONCERT
Sunday evening, December 13 at 8 p.m. Our Savior's Lutheran Church is presenting their annual Christmas concert. The program this year promises to be excellent and the public is cordially invited to attend.
Last Sunday evening the joint Christmas party between Congo, LSA., and Wesley was held at Peace Lutheran Church. About 90 students and advisors attended. A delicious supper was served at 5:30 by LSA., after which the group had a short worship service during which Dr. Agnew favored the group with a solo, "O Holy Night". Following the service Wesley kept the group busy and excited with some very lively games. Everyone that attended the Christmas party had a very enjoyable time.
There is no L.S.A. this Sunday evening, but don't forget to come to the Christmas concert at Our Savior's Lutheran Church, Sunday evening, December 13. Be sure and bring your friends.

PALLAS ATHENES PLAN CHRISTMAS DINNER
The Intersorority Bull was a big success. The dancing PA's tried their best to be hostesses for the evening. Thursday evening on the 17th of December the Anchor will be the scene of the annual PA Christmas dinner. We have adopted a family for Christmas and will take the opportunity to wrap Christmas presents for them.
Barbara Rushing had a little bad luck coming back from Thanksgiving vacation. We saw her up Saturday and looking fine. Three cheers for Barb—we can't hold her down.

HYPs ARE BUSY WITH CHRISTMAS PROJECTS
The approaching of the yuletide season finds the members of the Hyperian Sorority with Christmas projects.
The stuffed toys, which the sorority makes each year at Christmas time, were finished this past week, gayly gift wrapped and will soon be sent to children at the Northern Colony Home at Chippewa Falls.
Attractive Christmas cards depicting Stout were sold this week by the Hyperians in Harvey Hall. The cards sold this year had a scene of the main entrance to Harvey Hall.
The Christmas season doesn't mean all work either for the sorority, as last evening the group met at Miss Carrison's apartment where they enjoyed their annual Christmas party. After an evening of singing, playing games, and exchanging of gifts, refreshments were served.

140 STUDENTS PREPARE FOR ANNUAL CONCERT
Approximately 140 students are participating in the Christmas Concert which will be presented for convocation at 10 A.M. on Wednesday, December 16. There will also be a public concert Wednesday evening. Anyone wishing to attend this evening performance may do so by purchasing a ticket for the cost of seventy-five cents.
Under the direction of Victor Hardt, the musical groups, consisting of the band, choir, girls' glee club and the Symphonic Singers, are presenting a mixture of sacred and secular musical selections.
The two accompanists, Dorothy Belisle and Joan Marquardt are also working hard to help make the entire program a success.

Dear Fellow Alumni:
Only a few more shopping days until Christmas! And The Stout Alumni Association hopes that you will buy yourself a gift this year — a Life Membership in the organization. We guarantee that you will never get more satisfaction from money spent than you will receive from joining this organization of loyal Stout alumni.

Your membership not only enables you to better support your Alma Mater, but also entitles you to the Stoutonia with its enlarged alumni news section and to the new bi-annual news letter.

Remember Life Memberships were designed for the Alumni Scholarship Fund which aids worthy students to prepare for a vocation similar to the one you chose for yourself. Besides aiding this fund materially, your membership will save you money and will spare you the necessity of remembering to pay yearly dues.

This year marked the inauguration of a plan whereby Life Memberships may be purchased on an installment basis. The payment of the small sum of five dollars a year for six years will make you a member of The Stout Alumni Association for life.

When both husband and wife are alumni, the payment of five dollars a year for six years entitles both of them to life membership.

Alumni reaction to the new plan has been gratifying. In the past few weeks twenty individual and seven couples have paid the first installment and are now listed among the life members.

Won't you head your 1953 Christmas list with the payment of your first installment as a gift to yourself and your Alma Mater?

Sincerely,
Ellen F. Nelson, Chr.

BLUEDEVILS DROP ONE TO TOUGH ST. MARY'

Stout Loses Their Best Game Of Season Thus Far By Score Of 78-68

The Bluedevils dropped a hard fought battle to St. Mary's last Saturday night in what most onlookers thought was the best game of the season thus far.

Coach Johnson started Tom Stewart and Dale Westerback at forward, Bruce Leonard at center, and John Widmar and Roger Lowney at guard. This combination played on an even keel with the Redmen throughout the first quarter, trailing only by two points with a 14 to 16 score.

In the second period Jack Tucker broke through the Stout defense for eight points leaving the Bluedevils trailing 28-42. This lead proved too much for the Bluedevils when they came back in the second half paced by the sharp shooting of Tom Stewart as he dumped in fourteen of his 23 points in the second half, and Duke Severson who dumped in nine points from the guard spot.

The game started fast as Lowney was first to score in a jump shot, and Widmar swished a set shot. At this point the Redmen started a play which they used throughout the game. It consisted of a pass into Pat Costello, the high scoring forward, and then a break in play centered around him. The high scoring potential of Costello required Westerback to stick with him, which sometimes left a hole wide open to Berwen, and Skimp the drive guards.

After Berwen, Costello, and Skimp had each dumped in a shot on this play and Westerback and Stewart took over with free throws, and a lay-up for Stewart, and a jump shot for Westerback also, Severson ended the quarter with a set shot from mid court making the score 14-16.

The second period found the Blue-devil defense sagging a bit as the Redmen outscored them 14-22 points.

Pete Williams joined the starters in the game, after a jump shot by Stewart and Severson to open the second half.

The Stout five seemed to find their mark throughout the rest of the game. Stewart tipped in two more buckets, Westerback made a drive in, Lowney a hook shot and Stewart ended the spree with a tip in. The score was then 47-55 but the well experienced St. Mary's crew dumped in three buckets making the score at the three quarter mark, 47-60.

The final period saw some fine shooting by the Bluedevils and also good defense lead by the adept Westerback as he blocked several passes breaking up scoring attempts on the Redmen part.

The game ended 68-78, but that was not the end of the excitement, because just after the horn blew Lowney made the longest shot ever made in the high school gym in an actual game. Lets try some of them before the horn, Rog.

Score by quarters.

DICK KADOTANI EXHIBITS CARVING SKILL

What would you do with a block of wood, an inexpensive set of tools, and twenty-four spare hours? Well, Richard Kadotani of Lahaina, Maui, Hawaii, a junior at Stout Institute, Menomonie, has a ready answer. He would carve himself a lamp base.

And his time would be well spent, for this "Beaver," Termite," or "Wood butcher," nicknames given Dick by his college pals, has several examples of his handiwork to prove his skill. These lamps are the source of continual admiration by residents and guests of the college dormitory in which Dick lives.

Dick began carving while he was in high school back home in the Hawaiian Islands. His first attempts were air plane models which he proudly displayed in the living room. "But," Dick admits, "Mom complained that my room was messy from all the carving and that the planes were splendid dust collectors."

However, during Dick's sophomore year in high school, several ladies brought carved lamps to the school wood working shop to be refinished. He immediately became interested in earving lamp bases and tried his luck even though he was without specific training. "The only man I ever knew who carved lamps once lived just a few miles from my home, but he died the year before I started carving," Dick recalls sadly.

Carving is not all that is involved in making a lamp. Stout's "Termite" buys mahogany or black walnut blocks already sanded. Once he found a log outside of his Hawaiian home town which, he thought, would make a perfect block. He put the log on his bike and rode back to town. "I'll never do that again," Dick says. "All the neighbors thought I had lost my senses."

He finds it rather difficult to find the type of wood here in the states which is hard enough for carving. But Milton Goehring of Menomonie has been very helpful in supplying him with blocks.

The "Termite" has had no formal art courses. For designs, he often uses flowers found in magazines. The flower on his favorite lamp is a copy of one he once saw on a waste basket. Other designs he combines with the flower and enlarges according to the size of the block. When people ask him why he doesn't try carving animals, Dick modestly replies, "Oh, I couldn't do that!"

Each design is transferred to wood with carbon paper. The block is then placed between two sticks which are clamped to a table, thus preventing the block from slipping and sliding. At this point a twelve hour process begins with the digging out of the background. Carving of the more delicate lines follows.

The hardest and most tedious part remains -- the sanding. "The sanding alone takes twelve hours if you're lazy," Dick says, "but it really can be done in eight."

Cracks in the wood are difficult to sand and Dick's fingers usually suffer as much as the block. Thus, two hours is the maximum that "Termite" can spend at this job. When asked if this sanding process required patience, Dick replies, "No, nothing like Wisconsin's fishing. I can't stand that - that's patience".

Each lamp base is finished with a coat of varnish or Royal Finish. Dick then flocks the bottom to protect table tops. The artist does his own wiring, too, and prophesizes: "Some-day, I want to learn how to make shades. I've seen some nice carved ones."

Dick has completed fifteen of these lamps and has three more in the making. One lamp was used recently as a grand prize at a Stout Institute party. The other lamps Dick gave to his mother. "People have offered to buy the lamps, but the prices they offered didn't repay the amount of work I put in the lamps." Dick thinks that thirty dollars would be a fair price -- if he had a taker.

Dick has future hopes of having many "takers" for his lamps when he returns to a workshop and a more complete range of tools and materials on his native Islands. Until then, he has an inexpensive hobby which brings pleasure to all who view his work.

...is the way our doctors put it -- "Our chances of curing cancer are so much better when we have an opportunity to detect it before it talks."

That's why we urge you to have periodic health check-ups that always include a thorough examination of the skin, mouth, lungs and rectum and, in women, the breasts and generative tract. Very often doctors can detect cancer in these areas long before the patient has noticed any symptoms.

A Merry Christmas

On that blessed night, the world was hushed with wonder, and hope arose for all mankind . . . Christ the Saviour was born. Today, we pray for His guidance, that we may find peace in our hearts and renewed faith in a world in which men everywhere shall live in good will and understanding one another. We wish to extend a Merry Christmas and a joyous New Year to all our readers and advertisers.

The Stoutonia Staff

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISMTAS

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house
Not a Creature was stirring, not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar-plums danced through their heads;
And mama in her kerchief, and I in my cap,
Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap,
When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter.
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutter and threw up the sash.
The moon, on the breast of the new-fallen snow,
Gave a lustre of midday to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick
I knew in a moment it must be St. Nick.
More rapid than eagles his coursers they came,
And he whistled and shouted and called them by name:
"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer and Vixen!
On Comet On, Cupid! On, Donner and Blitzen
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall!!
Now, dash away, dash away, dash away all!!
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle, mount to the sky,
So, up to the house-top, the coursers they flew,
With a sleigh full of joys, and St. Nicholas too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each little hoof.
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound,
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot,
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes how they twinkled! his dimples how merry—
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry;
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath.
He had a broad face, and a little round belly
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl full of jelly.
He was chubby and plump — a right jolly old elf—
And I laughed when I saw him in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.
He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings, then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose.
He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,
And away they all flew like the down of a thistle,
But I heard him exclaim, ere he drove out of sight:
"Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good-night!"

THE BIRTH OF OUR SAVIOR IN BETHLEHEM

And it came to pass in those days, there went forth a decree from Caesar Augustus that a census of the whole world should be taken. And Joseph, because he was of the house of David, went out of Galilee into Bethlehem to register, together with Mary, his espoused wife, who was with child.

And so it was, while they were there, that she brought forth her first-born son and wrapped him in swaddling clothes and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were shepherds in the same district keeping watch over their flocks by night. And behold, an angel of the Lord came and stood before them, and they were exceedingly afraid. And the angel said, "Fear not for I bring you tidings of great joy. For there has been born to you today in the town of David, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord. This shall be the sign to you. You will find Him wrapped in swaddling clothes and lying in a manger." And suddenly there was a multitude of angels in the heavens praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the highest and peace on earth to men of good will."

The shepherds went with haste and found Mary, Joseph, and the babe lying in the manger. They understood what had been told them concerning this child. And all who heard marveled at the things told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept in mind all these words and pondered them in her heart.

And there came wise men from the east in search of the King of the Jews. They inquired of Herod where this King was to be found. Herod sent them to Bethlehem and said, "Go and search diligently and when you have found him bring me word that I might come and worship him also." When they had heard the king they departed and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them till it came and stood over the place where the young child was. When they came to the house, they saw the young child with Mary, his mother and fell down and worshipped him. They presented unto him gifts of gold, frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream not to return to Herod they departed to their own country by another way.

THE ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS

Our Christmas decorations of evergreens came to use from pre-Christmas times. In Italy, Spain, and some other countries flowers are used instead of evergreens. This may be due to the fact that the church frowned on the use of evergreens because of their association with the earlier pagan festivals.

Mistletoe came to be especially associated with Christmas because the Northern peoples held it sacred and thought that it had marvelous powers. Sprays of it were hung over doorways as charms. Holly too was the subject of many superstitions, its use at Christmas was regarded as especially appropriate because its prickly leaves were thought of as representing the Savior's crown of thorns and its bright red berries as representing drops of blood.

The Christmas tree, however, did not become general custom until comparatively recent times. It comes to us from Germany. The German people have a story that Luther started the custom half a century or so earlier and put candles on the tree to represent to his children the brilliant stars of Christmas eve.

In many countries the heart of the Christmas celebration is not the Christmas tree, but the manger scene. This is a miniature reproduction of the stable where Christ was born, with tiny figures of people started by St. Francis. The legend is that on Christmas eve of 1224 he arranged a stable in a corner of a village church near Arrise, with real animals and real persons for the actors.

Another of our customs which make the Christmas season beautiful is the singing of songs which we call carols. They probably began in the early church, where nativity plays were given which told the story of Christ's birth, and carols, or songs of joy, were sung. Later the carols were sung by groups who went about from house to house. New carols were added, some sacred and others concerned with the feasting and drinking. Some of our best loved carols are: "Silent Night, Holy Night", "The First Noel", "God Rest Ye Merry Gentlemen", and "We Three Kings of Orient Are".

Giving presents is to many an important part of Christmas happiness. The custom seems to go back to the ancient Romans, who distributed gifts in the course of their midwinter festival, especially on New Year's Day. In the Bible narrative, the Three Wise Men brought gifts to the infant Jesus on the twelfth day after his birth. And so, in Spain, Italy, and some other countries, it is not on Christmas but on the eve of the Epiphany, twelve days later, that children receive their presents.

Our own jolly Santa Claus is just another form of Saint Nicholas. In fact, we often call him "Saint Nick". He was brought to the New World, it is supposed, by the jovial old Hollanders who settled in New York. To make this symbol and the spirit which it represented seem real, Santa Claus is shown as a person. Besides being merry and jovial, he is fat, to represent liberality and plenty of good things to eat. He is dressed in red, to represent warmth and heartiness. Since he comes in the winter time, what animals should draw his sleigh but reindeer, who thrive among the snows. And where should his home be, but at the North Pole itself. He is as old as Father Time, and has a long white beard; but his rosy cheeks show that he is also as young as a child. Over his shoulder he carries a pack, full of toys and other gifts for children. Could any symbol better represent the spirit of Christmas?

FRESHMAN GIRL RETURNS FROM CONVENTION

Returning to Stout Institute after serving in Tulsa, Oklahoma, as national secretary treasurer of the National Junior Vegetable Growers association annual convention is Miss Barbara Sommerhalder, Stout freshman from Menasha.

The convention which Miss Sommerhalder attended, the 19th annual affair of its kind, was held in Tulsa from December 6-10. She transacted the financial and secretarial business for the 10,000 members who belong to the Association.

Miss Sommerhalder was elected secretary-treasurer at the national New York convention meeting last fall. She had gained nation-wide recognition in both 1950 and 1951 by winning Wisconsin Demonstration Elimination contests in the preparation of potato chips.

The Vegetable Growers conventions have grown from a group of 74 young people judging vegetables in Hartford, Conn., in 1935 to the nation-wide organization now operated for junior members. It is now regarded as one of the nation's leading farm organizations for youth. Annual prizes of the group total $6,000 in educational scholarships and other awards.

Miss Sommerhalder is a first-year student in the home economics division of Stout Institute. Arrangements permitting her to represent Stout at the NJVGA were made by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the home economics at the college.

With the president of the state Medical Society, Dr. H. Kent Tenney, as keynote speaker, Stout Institute will hold its third annual all-day guidance conference at the college January 6. Over 150 teachers, guidance experts and administrators are expected to attend from throughout the state.

Another feature of the meeting will be eight sectional groups devoted to the general topic "Understanding the Individual." Previous to the sectional gatherings, Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at Stout, will preside at a general session.

After a welcome by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, the general assemblage will hear Dr. Tenney deliver the keynote talk.

DELTA KAPPAS HOLD CHRISTMAS PARTY

Last Tuesday night a Christmas party was held at the V.F.W. Allan Stuve and Francis Fritz headed the committee and a great time was had by all!

Captain Dave Wendt led the D.K.'s to a 32-30 victory over the Double Shots. It was a close ball game all the way and the clincher came in the last 30 seconds when Bob Noltner sunk two free throws.

John Oakeson and Bob Noltner are a committee of two to purchase Christmas baskets. The two baskets, costing $5.00 a piece, will be given to two needy families of Menomonie. The Christmas baskets are given each year by Delta Kappa, and they contain all the essentials and trimmings to make up a Christmas dinner.

Jim Nadeau is chairman of the drive to solicit snow shoveling jobs. Bob Vieths is the co-ordinator who will dispatch the men to shovel.

The men of Delta Kappa wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a prosperous New Year!

HOME EC CLUB HOLDS CHRISTMAS TEA

The O'Christmas Tree Tea sponsored by the Home Economics Club was held in the Harvey Memorial, Wednesday afternoon, from 3:30 to 5 o'clock.

The Scandinavian Cookies served included Kosettes, Krum Kage, Berliner Kransir, Fattigman, and Sand Bakkels which were made by the Sophomore Foods classes.

The invitations followed the theme; they were in the shape of little Christmas trees.

The decorations for the tea included the two trees in front of the Harvey, Santa and his reindeer as the table decoration, scarfs and mittens on the blinds, and Christmas center pieces on the radiators. The decorations also followed the theme, O'Christmas Tree.

Carols were sung by girls dressed in red and green. The carolers were: Cay Yentz, Jackie Husby, Doris Curtiss, Iris Ruf, Louise Zerbel, Doris Beyer, Judy Geohing, Jo Gritt, Janice Wurtz, and Barb Clemons.

MUSIC DEPT. GIVES ANNUAL XMAS CONCERT

Featuring over 140 Stout Institute vocalists and musicians, the annual Stout Institute Christmas concert was presented in the college auditorium at 8 p.m. on Wednesday evening, December 16. Earlier in the day, students and faculty heard a special performance of the concert.

Participating was Stout's concert band, the college choir, and Stout's nationally-known Symphonic Singers. Novelty selections were furnished by the male octet, Girls Glee Club, and vocal soloists.

This year's program included classical, sacred and popular music appropriate to Christmas. Victor H. Hardt, director of music at Stout, directed the band in "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach and medley of Tchaikowsky melodies.

Choir selections also featured two Bach chorales, "Carol of the Bells" and "Deck the Hall", traditional Christmas air. The finale, in which over 100 students participated offered the vocalists and musicians of the Symphonic Singers in such popular Christmas numbers as, "White Christmas," "Sleigh Ride," and "March of the Toys."

Director Hardt chose as his soloists Iris Ruf, senior from Darlington, and Joan Gritt, junior from Black Creek. Both received public acclaim in last year's Lions Club variety show. Dorothy Belisle, Menomonie pianist, was accompanist in several numbers.

THE MID-YEAR PLACEMENTS ARE ANNOUNCED

Mid-year placement of a number of The Stout Institute seniors in the January graduating class of the college has been announced by Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, college placement chairman.

Home Economics graduates have accepted positions in the following locations: Colleen Mitchell, Luck; Nancy Kurath, Hudson; Roberta Hutchison, Stockbridge; Janice Wurtz, Hammond; Lois Dickman, Sparta (home agent, Monroe Co.); Frances Schneider, Stout cafeteria; and Janice Waseen Johnson, homemaker in Superior.

John Davis and Charles Stubbs, industrial education graduates, have also signed teaching contracts. Davis will teach in Appleton junior high school and Stubbs in Green Bay vocational school.

GOVERNING BOARD HOLDS MEETING

A meeting of the governing board was held December 15. At this meeting the board discussed the plans for having a Stout skating rink at Nelson field. This discussion will be continued at the next meeting.

The possibility of holding the "S" Club Dad's Day in conjunction with a Parents' Day for the coming year was also discussed.

Because the informal mixer that the S. S. A. sponsored December 2 was a success, the governing board has decided to hold two more informal mixers January 13 and January 27.

A discussion of standardization of ticket prices for basketball and football games between the colleges of Eau Claire, River Falls, and Stout was brought before the board. It was recommended that the Stout Athletic Department would contact the athletic departments of these colleges and make an agreement concerning the standardization of ticket prices.

DATE IS SET FOR WINTER CARNIVAL

With the winter carnival date set for February 6, time has come to store away that blade and razor and let those whiskers grow. We urge all men on the campus to participate in this annual affair. There will be prizes awarded for the longest, the most unique, and the best groomed.

"Barry" Styer and Don Sweet are co-chairmen for the contest and if there are any questions about it, please contact them.

THE FAIR STORE

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

More than two thousand years ago three Wise Men followed the Star of Bethlehem to a manger, the humble birthplace of Him who was to bring a new spirit into the World . . . the spirit of "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men". Today, as in all the years between, that spirit lives on in the hearts and minds of all mankind calling us to church on this, our Savior's natal day, to lift our voices in those beloved old Christmas hymns and carols . . . and lift our hearts anew with the courage and hope of His Message.

And so this Christmas day, December 25, 1953, let us all go to church and join in the rejoicing of the birth of our Saviour, and let us give praise to Him who has brought good to us.

To all students and staff, to all alumni, faculty, and friends, to the members of your family and churches, the Stoutonia extends a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Each person introduced himself and stated what he would do with his gift prior to opening the package. Al Harri received a toy trombone, with which he serenaded the group the rest of the night.

Those responsible for the huge success of the party are: Al Loew, Vern Ader, Ron Wilhelm, Gene Horkey of the food committee; Jerry Henderson, Don Beran, Bill Beyer of the decoration and entertainment committee; Joe Stebly, Chuck Smith, Ron Woodliff, and Ken Pietenpol of the clean-up committee.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

Once again Christmas vacation has arrived and with it Christmas. We wish you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

As you travel toward home this year, look about you and see the signs of others who are getting ready to celebrate the birth of Jesus Christ. Only in a free world, such as we have here in America, can we have a joyful, happy Christmas.

Many of Stout's men and women are serving in the Armed Forces of the U.S.A. Their Christmas may not be as warm or happy as ours will be. Let's not forget them. Send them a message, a little bit of Christmas spirit. It is they who are helping to keep the fires of freedom burning so that we may have Christmas.

And please, please be careful over the holidays. We want to greet each of you in the new year.

So have a good time, catch up on your work, rest up from your past strenuous studies, and we will be seeing you next year, January 4, 1954.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO ALL ALUMNI

As we enter the holiday season and begin a new year there is excitement and anticipation at the thought of vacations and festivities. The student body here at Stout, as you know from experience, spends the week previous to vacation preparing to go home and the week following vacation in recovery. Those of us who are teachers experience the same sensations—or is it common only to teachers?

Many of you may be traveling during the holidays. If you are near Menomonie, stop in and pay us a visit. Be sure to sign the new Alumni Registry book in the President's office. Things have changed rapidly here in the last few years and there will be much for you to see.

This may be a little early for New Year's resolution, but it is our last chance to make them publicly. May we resolve to make your Alumni Association more active and of more service to you in the coming year. From your national officers, a very Merry Christmas and a hopeful New Year.

Speaker for the section on the "Use of Vocational Interest Inventories in Understanding Individuals" will be Wheeler Hall, guidance consultant for Science Research Associates Inc. Presiding for that session will be George Heinemann, Plum City principal. Louis Berg, principal at Blair, is the recorder.

Delegates will conclude the conference business with a general session in the college auditorium. Records of each sectional meeting will sum up section findings. Dr. Tenney will evaluate conference accomplishments. Moderator for concluding business will be Dr. R. G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at Stout and conference organizer. A coffee hour will follow.

Working with Dr. Iverson in developing the third annual conference have been the following members of the advisory committee: Henry Borgen, superintendent of schools at Hammond; Miss Hazel Calhoun, Barron county superintendent; W. L. Enge; Francis Haugh; Arthur C. Larson; Francis Herrell, Bloomer superintendent;

DORM HOLDS ANNUAL CHRISTMAS PARTIES

Last evening the girls in the dormitories climaxed their final evening before Christmas with a Christmas party.

At ten thirty all of the girls gathered in Tainter Annex to sing carols, and to watch a program put on by the residents of the Annex.

Following the program, the girls went to their own dorms, where they exchanged gifts and enjoyed a light lunch before retiring.

The seasons greetings to you and yours... we hope this season is the start of much happiness and prosperity for you.

BLUEDEVILS LOSE TO RIVER FALLS 100-58

The Bluedevils lost to the Falcons 100-58. The Falcons, with seven returning lettermen, outlasted the scrappy Stout five. It seemed to be too much as Bob Williams dumped in 29 points for the winners. High scorer for the Bluedevils was Roger Lowney, who turned in a brilliant offensive and an even better defensive game, with 22 points.

The ball game was fairly even during the first quarter. With River Falls making a last second shot, the score stood at 21-24 at the end of the first quarter, but at the half they pushed this lead to 34-43. The third quarter saw the Falcons lead diminish to 42-47 at mid-quarter, and then before the three-quarter mark everything fell apart. The score stood 48-70 at the end of the third quarter. The fourth quarter was a rehash of the third and the final score was 58-100.

DORM GIRLS ENJOY CHRISTMAS DINNER

The annual Christmas dinner was held on Thursday evening in the Tainter Hall dinning room. Before sitting down to a dinner of roast turkey, dressing, and traditional plum pudding, the girls in the freshman dormitories enjoyed fruit cocktails in the living room of Tainter Hall. Between courses Christmas carols were sung.

Guests at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Pierce, and Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, Dean Alice Kirk, and Mrs. Oetting.

NEWMAN CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The regular breakfast meeting of the Newman Club was held last Sunday after the 9:30 Mass. That evening there was a Christmas party for the members and their guests.

The decoration committee which consisted of Larry Bruno - chairman, Bob Tennesen, Danny Wielgus, and Leo Pleva did an excellent job in decorating St. Joseph's School hall for this party. Presents were exchanged and it was amusing to see some of the gifts that were received. The evening was spent in dancing and singing Christmas Carols. Refreshments were served.

The next meeting will again be a breakfast meeting and will be held after the 9:30 Mass on Sunday, January 10, 1954.

HISTORY OF TRI SIGMA SORORITY

In 1912, with high aims and ideals the Philomathean Society was the first sorority to be organized on the Stout campus. The Philos, as they were known on campus, were outstanding through the years, and each term sponsored activities for the benefit of students and faculty, under the able direction of their many leaders, which included Miss Hazel Van Ness.

The Philos each spring presented a scholarship to some freshman girl who measured up to high standards and was in need of financial help. They held an annual Christmas gift sale to help last minute shoppers. Their social calendar was a full one, highlighted by their traditional dinner dance. A homecoming breakfast for alumnae and a homecoming float furnished good food, and time for renewing friendships old and new. Not to be forgotten was the traditional Hallowe'en Tea, the first all school tea of every year. All of these traditions have been maintained and are still carried out by Beta Pi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma.

The Philomathean sorority was formally installed as the Beta Pi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma, national social sorority in ceremonies at Stout on April 4, 5, and 6, 1952, making it the 50th chapter to be installed into Tri Sigma. This affiliation established another first for their group, for they were the first national sorority to be installed on Stout's campus.

The history of Sigma Sigma Sigma begins on April 20, 1898 when eight girls who were enrolled in the Virginia State Normal School (now Longwood College), a growing teacher's college for women, represented a new departure from the old tradition that was Virginia. By 1903 Tri Sigma was reorganized as a national sorority, the coat of arms and banner were designed, the original skull and crossbones pin was changed to the present triangle badge. The first national convention was held in 1904, and the Triangle of Sigma Sigma Sigma was inaugurated in 1935.

Tri Sigma has helped to establish, improve and defend the teachers college field. Standards in self improvement, scholarly attainment and social service compare favorably with any other Greek-letter organization.

From two chapters in 1911 to 54 in 1953, with 95 alumnae chapters and a membership of over 145,000 is a long trek.

The Beta Pi Chapter's faculty advisor is now Miss Clark, who was a Philo when she attended Stout. The Alumnae Advisor is Miss Elliott, who was a member of Tri Sigma before she came to Stout to teach. It was Miss Elliott and Miss Jeanne Diefenbach who were instrumental in making the switch to a national sorority—a sorority to which they both belong. The patroness' of Beta Pi Chapter are: Mrs. Hardies, Mrs. Vanek, Mrs. Oetting and Miss Van Ness.

To all our friends and patrons... we thank you for your confidence and friendship. May we serve you during the coming year as we have during the past.

CHRISTMAS FESTIVITIES IN FOREIGN LANDS

A GUAM CHRISTMAS by Maria Quichocho

Like any Christian country on earth Guam celebrates Christmas in a gay and joyous manner. Christmas was always a joyous occasion since the Spaniards were ruling the country.

Various kinds of preparations are involved just as the Christmas season is approaching. People are not only busy making or buying articles to give, but they are also busy preparing the things they are to wear and eat.

The week before Christmas, most of the men devote their time to hunting deer and birds. There are also men who go fishing especially for this occasion.

In addition to the above activities, there is also that hustle of decorating. In every home, a manger scene is built. Aside from this, Christmas trees are cut down from the mountain slopes and are adorned with modern Christmas decorations such as bubble lights.

As a tradition, the largest high school on the island presents a Christmas pageant at the Spanish plaza in the capital city. This pageant is a big and colorful scene held at night. The background is copied from the scene in Bethlehem. Practically all the islanders come to witness this Christmas pageant at the Spanish plaza in the city. It comes from all parts of the island.

The night before Christmas, candles are lighted at the windows of every home. The doors are wide open for Santa Claus to get in because there are no chimneys in the house.

Santa Claus is believed to arrive from the North Pole by helicopter and then change his mode of transportation because of the tropical climate; there is no snow for a sleigh. He travels to the different homes by a cart pulled by water buffaloes. He is not expected to visit all the homes on Christmas night; he may come back on January 6, Three Kings Day. For the Spanish people on the island, this is another Christmas Day.

The night before Christmas, the islanders, dressed in gay and colorful costumes, go caroling after which they attend midnight religious services. They then return to their homes to feast on the Spanish rice, lobster, shrimp, venison steaks and other prepared food. The celebration continues with music and dancing and the exchanging of presents. People go to the hospitals, homes of the poor, and the prison to sing Christmas carols and distribute presents.

CHRISTMAS IN THE PHILIPPINES (In My Reveries)

by Emiliano M. Ajon

Being several thousand miles away from home, nothing is left for me but the memories of the past Christmas celebrations in my native land. I have enjoyed during the best years of my life. Yes, it will be just thinking and recollection that will give me consolation during these days when I should be home with my loved ones. But I still remember that years ago during the Christmas Season I had wished, too, that I were in the United States of America to see how Christmas is celebrated in America. Well, perhaps it is just a human thing to wish, and wish again.

If I were in the Philippines better this part of the Season, my Jorner half and I would have finished our shopping for gifts for our god-children, relatives, and friends and of course, the last, but not the least, for our own beloved children. Gifts during Christmas are bountiful for everybody. We still adhere to the old saying that "it is more blessed to give than to receive." If you are in doubt, you are entitled to your opinion.

During this Season in the Philippines one can see the beautiful lanterns which are electrically illuminated hanging in the windows to light the pathways of the early morning Church-goers. For a week before the Christmas Day, Mass is said each day at 4 o'clock in the morning. You meet people in all walks of life, and one can see and feel the Christmas spirit in them. In the balconies, the lighted Christmas trees with hanging gifts are always present, lending festive brilliance to the happy atmosphere.

If I were in my country on Christmas Eve, I would have known what my wife had prepared for the family supper after the midnight Mass. It is customary for the Filipinos to have smoked ham, salads, Chinese foods, grapes, apples, candies and different kinds of nuts. Of course, the chicken is served too, prepared in the very way you like it. All of the families go to hear Mass at 12:00 o'clock midnight and after the Mass all of the members of the families eat the Christmas supper together. That has been a tradition for years and is still practiced. It should be borne in mind that the Philippines is a Christian nation.

During Christmas Day, parents stay at home to be waiting for their god-children. Children kiss the hands of their god-parents as a sign of courtesy, respect, and love. In return the god-parents give them wishful blessings. Then gifts are distributed to the children. Yes, Christmas is really a day for the children in my country. Children in groups knock at your door and sing Christmas carols. At the end of the "perfect day" you hear children ask their parents "Is tomorrow another Christmas Day?"

SWEDEN, A HAPPY CHRISTMAS by Katherine Hellman

Before the Christmas festival there comes a time of cleaning and scouring and washing in Swedish homes; hated by all men, who generally put cozy quiet first, but Swedish housewives consider this absolutely necessary. Someone has said that dirt is like sinful thoughts and cannot be tolerated at the Holy Festival.

The days before Christmas are especially busy with preparing the Christmas food. Pork plays a great role at Christmas time in Swedish homes. A little pig roasted whole with a red apple in its mouth is equivalent to the turkey here. On Christmas Eve one of the courses eaten is rice porridge cooked for hours in milk, then served with powdered cinnamon sifted on it in patterns. But the most interesting part of the rice course is the almond which is put in the porridge just before serving. Whoever finds the almond in his or her portion is sure to be married within the year.

The deft fingers of the Swedish housewife make ginger snaps, ginger cake, Siamese twins, and goats for the children, almond rings, currant cookies, macaroons, yes, all kinds of tempting small cakes. A Swedish hostess at Christmas time expects to offer, with coffee, at least six kinds of attractive cakes, besides a round, braided loaf of especially good, sweet bread which is strongly colored with saffron, made with raisins and citron in it and ornamented with sugar.

But then comes the real festive Christmas Eve, or Julaften! Of course the biggest Christmas tree, the Julgran, has been procured. The decorating of this treasure is done within closed doors. Meanwhile, the other members of the family are wrapping their gifts for each other.

Every gift, however small, is well wrapped in paper and neatly sealed with red sealing wax. The very smell of sealing wax means Christmas to Swedes. Do you think the parcels are ready? Oh, no! The donor writes the name of the one he is giving the package to and then a dedication in the form of something about the gift or its uses, usually in doggerel, or poetry if he can. Finally the gifts are placed in a basket by the tree.

Now the mother or older sister takes her place at the piano or organ, and the first Christmas carol is sung by all the family in unison. The father, seated by the tree, then reads the story of the birth of Christ from the gospel. Afterward the gifts are the center of attraction. When the family group is a large one, the youngest children serve as messengers to and fro to distribute the gifts. When this part is over there is a great deal of thanking done on all sides; then all take part in singing another carol and afterward join hands in a ring and dance around the tree to music thus ending one Christmas Eve celebration.

CHRISTMAS IN FINLAND by Siinto A. Laine

Christmas is the biggest of our holidays. It symbolizes very appropriately the victory of light over darkness, since the day is the shortest just before Christmas and Christmas is accordingly the turning point from which the day will grow longer and longer until we have practically no night at all in the end of June.

The first Advent Sunday is a sign of Christmas. On that Sunday churches are crowded with people, because it is the day when we are recalling the arrival of Christ to Jerusalem, as he came riding on a donkey with the people cheering him. These cheers have given the inspiration to a very beautiful song which is sung in all churches on that day. It is Hosanna.

This is only the beginning of gradually increasing Christmas activities, the very important part of which is the Christmas gift. Small children who still believe in Santa Claus (although that is not his name in Finland) are writing long letters to him, carefully explaining what they would like to have. (Father, of course, knows more about the mailing and consequently takes care of the that part of the correspondence.)

Of course, Santa Claus is not supposed to bring any presents to bad children, but haven't they all been good most of the time during the year, and besides Santa Claus, although he has many inspectors, can't know every thing so accurately, but, and that causes some uneasiness, one can not be sure of that either.

One mysterious bundle after another goes into a secret hiding place, and mother and father are very privately asked about what should be bought for other children. Nearer to Christmas Day someone will have seen Santa Claus' team of reindeer in front of some store and sure enough there it is.

Older children who go to school and have been advised by others smile and understandingly, but will not spoil the spirit the younger ones have.

The Christmas vacation will have begun with a very impressive celebration about the 20th of December, and that is the beginning of a very active shopping season for the youngsters.

A couple of days before Christmas Eve the boys and the fathers will have gone to the market place to select the Christmas tree. This is a very important part of Christmas, because the tree should be very beautiful and fresh, something for the family to be proud of.

Mothers will have taken care of the food. She will have bought pork, potatoes, turnips, codfish which has been dried and then softened in birch ashes, rice, prunes, materials for wheat bread, cakes, pies, and what have you.

Father will have searched for last year's decoration for the Christmas tree and finally, the day before Christmas, found them.

The day before Christmas the gifts will have been placed in a bag hidden in the basement, where it is easy for Santa to pick up when he comes in the evening. Early in the morning the Christmas tree is moved into a warm place to melt the snow, and finally is moved into the living room, where it will be decorated by the whole family.

It will have become dark about 3:00 o'clock and the Christmas tree lighted and by 6:00 o'clock the whole family is milling around the tree listening to beautiful Christmas songs from the radio. It is easy to see that the children are not wholeheartedly listening to the radio. Then the door bell rings. Everyone wants to go, but, father takes command and goes to the door. He may have some final instructions for good old Santa.

Everyone says hello to the old man, and although slightly hesitating and looking at the parents, every child remembers being good during the year when Santa asks that question. Then each child receives his or her gift.

After St. Nicholas has gone and the excitement is somewhat less, father takes the Bible and one of the children reads what happened in Bethlehem about 2000 years ago.

It is then time for supper. After the supper the whole family sits around the Christmas tree the children playing, the older people reading, and the radio with its Christmas programs gives its share to create a very tender Christmas sentiment.

Ten o'clock is time for the children to go to bed, because the family will be going to church early on Christmas morning. Gifts are gathered around the bed where they will be handy to the small owners, and some must follow the happy owners to bed.

Early on the following morning the family goes to a church decorated with a tree and Christmas candles. The sentiment is great when the old song of how the angels brought the message to the shepherds in the fields of Bethlehem is sung by everyone, and the priest has talked about the message.

The rest of Christmas day is spent quietly, usually not making any visits. In the foregoing story I have tried to give you a picture of how many Finnish families receive the Christmas message: Glory to God, peace on earth and good will among the people.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON

Christmas holidays are kept in every land but countries have different ways of keeping these holidays.

An English Christmas is the American Christmas, with the exchanging of presents an outstanding feature. Singing of Christmas carols on the highways as well as in the churches throughout the land is customary.

December 26th, the day after Christmas, is known as Boxing day and is observed on a scale that is almost equal to that of Christmas day. Originally, Boxing day was the time for the village priest to open the poor box and distribute the money to the poor people. Newsboys, mail carriers, and other public officials asked for Christmas day, as they made their rounds from house to house.

Christmas in France is limited to a distribution of gifts among the children and to boisterous Christmas eve celebrations in the larger cities where the midnight supper takes the place of the usual dinner the next day. Religious ceremonies are held in the various churches as they are in other nations, but the French celebrate the New Year's day more extensively.

Russia has a pre-Christmas fast beginning the 15th of December and ending on the 24th. At sunset, when the first star appears in the sky, the villagers sit down to their evening meal consisting chiefly of fish, topped with a dessert called "contia."

At night the Russians sing Christmas carols and trim the Christmas tree, decorated similarly to what is done in America. There is a slight similarity between Santa Claus and Grandfather Frost, but no one believes he makes any toys.

Switzerland is Christmas land with everything glistening in pure white snow, the air perfumed by the stately pine trees, and sleigh bells singing merry melodies as the horses travel briskly over the mountain roads. Old St. Nicholas has been succeeded in many parts of Switzerland by the Christ Child, an angelic figure who travels over the land every Christmas eve in a beautiful sleigh drawn by six reindeer. The sleigh is heavily laden with Christmas trees, fruit, cookies, and toys for the children. The family gathers about the Christmas tree and sing carols while the younger children enjoy their new toys.

Mexico has a custom that has nine continuous days of what is called "posados" which are nine parties, one on each night preceding Christmas. People usually dance at these parties and are given a small present by the host; it may be porcelain with candy inside, or simply candy packages wrapped in crepe paper.

The use of the "pinita" is a pretty custom peculiar to Mexico. This is a clay bowl elaborately decorated with tissue paper of different colors and taking the shape of a bird, animal, airplane, or the national native Mexican type—of simply something to give it an outside colorful appearance. The bowl is filled with fresh fruit of the season, also peanuts and candy. The "pinita" is hung in the middle of the patio and usually children, but adults, sometimes too, try to break the "pinita" is blindfolded and he is given several chances, after which another guest takes his place.

Mexicans have their Christmas dinner on Christmas eve and not on the Christmas day, usually after ten at night.

Why Santa Claus?

Children gather in large numbers around the throne of Santa Claus in the department store every year. Boys and girls anxiously await their turn to tell Santa Claus their Christmas lists. Santa Claus is a familiar figure every December, but have you ever wondered how he originated?

In 1600 the Archbishop of Myra, St. Nicholas, in Asia Minor dropped purses of gold down the chimney of a very poor man so the man could supply his daughter with dowries. From that day on, Dutch boys and girls celebrated his feast day December 6. St. Nicholas was given the name Sinter Klaas. Sinter Klaas rode across Europe each December for centuries. The pockets of Sinter Klaas were stuffed with apples, nuts, and tinkets for good children. St. Nicholas carried birch rods to whip the bad children.

Dutch settlers brought Sinter Klaas to America early in the 17 century. Soon the Norwegian and Belgian settlers began to celebrate Sinter Klaas day. English boys and girls wanted to receive gifts, too. Sinter Klaas was changed to Santa Claus, and the day was changed from December 6 to the birthday of Christ, December 25.

CHRISTMAS COMES TO A WAR ORPHAN

I don't know why I should feel so sad today. I guess maybe it's because it's sort of an anniversary for me. You see, I wasn't born and raised in the United States. I was a war orphan. Eight years ago today, I stepped off the ship that had carried me here from the Netherlands. I don't know why I came to America. I guess it was because my uncle's house was already too full of his own children to care for me too. So I saved enough money to pay my passage, and came here.

When I stepped off the ship I did not know one word of English. I didn't know anyone in this country. All I knew was that I was alone, with only hours of questioning to look forward to. After that I'd take a long trip to Wisconsin, where a friend of my uncle would meet me. I will never forget the feeling I had that day. I was too sad to cry, and too lonely to be afraid.

But time passed quickly. I learned the language, and have made many friends. Now I'm here at Stout, where I'm learning to be a Home Economics teacher. I'm writing this story for the Stoutonia because they wanted to have something for their Christmas issue.

My most vivid memory of Holland is Christmas eve, nine years ago, my last in Holland. We had little, those days. Daddy was a minister. Occasionally someone from town would bring us a little food; otherwise we had none. My sisters and I would often go to an army camp near our house, where we would beg for a little something to eat. But often as not, we returned empty handed.

As the Christmas season came, we saw little rejoicing. No one could buy presents. Most people were so sullen and depressed that even the miracle of the birth of Christ brought no happiness to their hearts. But daddy was never one to be despairing. So he made plans to decorate the Church for Christmas day. One fine Saturday afternoon my two sisters, daddy, and I went in search of a tree to set outside the church. We found a wonderful one, we cut it down and took it home. Somehow that tree standing in front of the church mended everyone's broken spirits. People smiled for the first time in months. A touch of that old Christmas spirit was in the air. We began to see the brighter side of things—we weren't even hungry any more.

Then came the afternoon of December 24. Daddy couldn't think of a sermon for that evening's service, so he asked me if I'd like to walk with him along the North Sea dikes. He often did that. It seemed that there was an inspiration there that never failed to give him that inner peace he needed to write his sermons. We were walking along, not thinking of anything special; we let our emotions bathe our unhappy minds, and thoughts there remained unthought. We were so wrapped up in our emotions that we didn't hear the bombers until they were practically on top of us. No, they didn't come near us—but they hit the town. All we could see was a wall of fire. It seemed almost as if every house in the village had been hit. Daddy started running back, telling me to hurry as fast as I could. When I reached the edge of town I saw my daddy running into the parsonage. That too was on fire. I couldn't move. It was as if I were petrified. Mom and my two sisters were in there! I must have fainted, for the next thing I knew I was lying in a makeshift hospital with my family near me swathed in bandages. It was still Christmas Eve.

Four days later mom died of burns. My sisters died the next day. Daddy was coming along fine, it seemed. Then he started failing. He knew he was going to die, and he accepted the fact. "Don't worry, my dear. I'll be all right. It's you I'm worried about. I wish I could live a little longer—long enough to see that you have someplace to stay. We've had a long, hard Christmas. But we had our family together. Some day you too will have a family, and even though we can't be there to share your joys and happiness, we'll be watching you from another place. And now, my dear, I must say good-bye. Remember that He said, "Blessed are they that do his commandments.....Surely I come quickly.... Even so Come, Lord Jesus. The grace of our Lord Jesus Christ be with you. Amen." He died.

Now I'm in Menomonie. I suppose I'll be spending Christmas here this year. I have no place else to go. I went to church tonight. The minister gave the benediction. Maybe that's why I'm sad. Somehow just can't forget Christmas nine years ago.....

THE NIGHT AFTER CHRISTMAS

'Twas the night after Christmas — and boy, what a house!

I felt like the devil! And so did the spouse.

The eggnog and candy and turkey were swell

But ten hour later they sure gave me H——!

The stockings weren't hung by the chimney with care,
The darned things ere sprawled on the back of a chair.

The children were nestled all snug in their bed,

But I had a large cake of ice on my head

And when at long last I dozed off in a nap

The ice woke me up as it fell in my lap.

Then for some unknown reason, I wanted a drink.

And so, started feeling my way to the sink.

And I got along fine 'til I stepped on the cat.

But I just don't recall what occurred after that.

When I came to, the house was all flooded with light.

Though under the table, I was high as a kite.

While visions of sugar plums danced in my head

I somehow got up and back into bed.

Then what to my wandering mind should appear,

But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

Then the sleigh seemed to change to a red fire truck

And each reindeer changed to a bleary-eyed buck.

I knew in a moment it must be old Nick

I tried to cry out but my tongue was too thick.

Then the old devil whistled and shouted with glee.

While each buck pawed the earth and looked daggers at me.

Then he called them by name and the names made me shudder.

When I heard them I felt like a ship without a rudder.

"Now Eggnog! Bacardi! Four Roses! and Brandy!

Now Fruit Cake! Cold Turkey! Gin-Rickey and Candy!

To the top of his dome, to the base of his skull,

Now whack away, crack away, with thumps that are dull!"

And then in a twinkling I felt on my roof

The prancing and pawing of each cloven hoof.

How long this went on I'm sure I can't say,

Though it seemed an eternity, plus a long day.

But finally, the Night After Christmas had passed

And I found I could really think straight at last.

So I thought of the New Year a few days away

And I've made my vows that no tempter can sway.

I'm sticking to water — don't even want ice,

For there's nothing so tasty, there's nothing so nice.

The night after New Year may bother some guys

But I've learned my lesson — yes, brother, I'm wise.

You can have your rich victuals and liquor that's red,

But what goes to my stomach, won't go to my head.

So a big "Happy New Year" to you and to all

I'm going on the wagon, and I hope I don't fall!

PREPARING FOR THE CONSTRUCTION CONFERENCE

Preparing the framing which will be demonstrated at Stout Institute's Wisconsin Builders Conference, to be held on the Stout campus January 25-26, are three members of the college faculty who will be hosts to construction personnel from Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, and Wisconsin. They are (L to R) George Soderberg, assistant professor of finishing at Stout; Dr. Herbert Anderson, chairman of the Stout woodworking department; and K. T. Olsen, associate professor of carpentry and chairman of the conference. A special delegation of Canadian builders will also attend.

STOUT TO HOLD BUILDERS CONFERENCE

With construction personnel from Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, and Wisconsin in attendance, Stout Institute will conduct the Wisconsin Builders Conference on its campus January 25-26. A special group of Canadian builders is also expected for the event. Taking part will be over 100 building contractors, teachers of vocational and industrial education, directors of vocational programs, retail lumber suppliers, research experts on building, trade union executives, union members, and students enrolled in vocational education programs.

All Menomonie residents and persons connected with Stout interested in the latest innovations in home construction and design, woodworking tools for the home workshop, space and timesaving products for home construction or remodeling and similar matters have a special invitation to attend the free exhibit in the Stout gymnasium on Monday evening, January 25, from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Building experts will also be on hand to answer questions.

Aim of the conference is to direct the attention of men in the construction trades toward current trends and developments in building materials and methods. Specialists from the building fields will give addresses and conduct sectional meetings.

Following registration at 9 a.m. on Monday, January 25, in the Stout gymnasium, delegates will attend a general session conducted by K. T. Olsen, associate professor of Industrial education at Stout and chairman of the conference.

Prior to the main address, the visitors will be welcomed by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education at the college.

Keynote address for the conference will be delivered by Griffith S. Clark, representative of the Homasote company and specialist in techniques of modular construction. He will speak on "Recent Building Trends."

Clark is a nationally-known author and exponent of the modular principle for efficiency and economy in building, a technique steadily growing in popularity among builders. He recently authored a series of articles on modular control for the, "American Builder," trade journal of the construction field.

Clark is credited with pioneering the principle of modular control as a coordinating medium between the design, shop, and field operations of construction.

After a period devoted to exhibits of the nation's manufacturers and distributors of building products, the group will again assemble under the

SCHOLASTIC RECOGNITION TO BE GIVEN

An innovation to recognize the scholastic accomplishments of The Stout Institute students will be the compilation each semester of a "Deans' Scholastic Honors List," an honorary grouping of those students whose academic achievements merit commendation.

Announcement of the plan has been made recently by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at The Stout Institute, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of the industrial education division.

According to procedures announced by the dean's offices, any student with an honor point ratio of 2.50 or above for the preceding semester will have his or her name placed upon the Honors List.

Students whose names appear for two or more consecutive semesters will not be required to meet the attendance regulations governing class cuts and absences.

Names of second semester seniors will not be included in the Honors List because such students receive appropriate scholastic honors at commencement ceremonies.

The first Deans' Scholastic Honors List will be made public early in 1954, listing the names of students who achieved academic excellence in the first semester of the 1953-54 college year. Such a list will be published for every semester thereafter.

ARNOLD NELSON GETS DOCTORAL

Arnold G. Nelson, assistant professor of English at The Stout Institute, received the doctor of philosophy degree in American Studies from the University of Minnesota at graduation exercises which the University held at the conclusion of its fall quarter.

Title of Dr. Nelson's doctorate thesis is "Class and Status in the American Novel, 1789-1850." His major field of study is that of the sociology of literature.

Dr. Nelson, a veteran of World War II, joined the Stout faculty in September. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Hamline University and a master of arts from the University of Minnesota, in addition to his newly-conferred Ph.D.

Before becoming a member of the Stout faculty, Dr. Nelson taught at Hamline university, the University of Minnesota, and the University of Wisconsin Freshman Center at New Richmond. In addition to his teaching duties, he is now an adviser of the college yearbook. Dr. Nelson, his wife, and their three daughters reside in faculty housing facilities at the college.

GUIDANCE CONFERENCE

A MADISON pediatrician who is also president of the Wisconsin State Medical Society, Dr. H. Kent Tenney (left) confers with Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, and Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at Stout.

DR. TENNEY spoke to more than 300 teachers and guidance counselors from throughout Wisconsin at a recent guidance conference at Stout. Cooperating in the sponsorship of Dr. Tenney's address were the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education and the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction.

ANNUAL WINTER CARNIVAL PLANS BEING MADE

Plans for the second annual Winter Carnival, which will be held on February 6, are being completed. Deanne Krueger and Jerry Sommer are in charge of the Winter Carnival. If anyone has ideas that would make the carnival more successful, they are asked to slip in at the S. S. A. office.

One of the highlights of the carnival, the beard growing contest, officially started on January 4. If any men on the Stout campus have forgotten the contest they had better stop shaving because Fred Kneisler, last year's champion is still on campus and is growing another beard. There are three categories for the contestants and cash awards will be given to the winners for the longest, the most unique, and the best groomed beard. Barney Styer and Don Sweet are the co-chairmen of this contest.

Ice Skating will be handled by George Stolp, Jerry Henderson, and Nancy Dexheimer. Many races and contests are being planned including individual races by fellows and gals. All of you guys and gals who like to figure-skate are urged to participate in order to make the carnival a more outstanding event. Prizes will be awarded. It is hoped that the skating rink will not be on the lake because the cold weather last year kept the spectators at a minimum.

Darrel Premo and Ray Pearson will make arrangements for special contests. The ski club will sponsor a snow shoe race and a cross-country ski race. A trophy will be awarded to the winner of this contest.

Last year the snow carving contest was to be a high light of the carnival. Due to the lack of co-operation by the weatherman, the contest did not take place. The contest will be held this year and it is open to everyone on campus. The sculpturing does not have to be done on campus. All Stout students are invited to enter the contest as prizes will be awarded. John Oakeson and Eileen Brenengen are planning this part of the program.

The Winter Carnival would not be complete without a Queen. Kay Wedin and Joan Fairman will conduct the Queen contest. The twelve candidates last year were sponsored by the dormitories, sororities, and several other organizations. Everyone is urged to start thinking about candidates.

The various chairmen make up the Winter Carnival Committee. If anyone else is interested in helping with the carnival, they should contact one of the committee members.

300 ATTEND GUIDANCE CONFERENCE

Over 300 teachers, administrators, guidance experts, and parents attended the all-day guidance conference held at Stout Institute on Wednesday, January 6. The conference was the third annual event of its kind sponsored by the college and was attended by persons from throughout the state.

Keynote speaker for the conference, whose theme was "Understanding Individuals," was Dr. H. Kent Tenney Madison pediatrician and president of the Wisconsin Medical society.

Topics discussed in nine sectional gatherings included camping experience, use of personality inventories, techniques of interviewing, problems of handicapped children, individual appraisal, use of community resources, problems of exceptional children, use of vocational interest inventories, and the emotional growth and development of children.

Directing the conference was Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, head of student personnel services at Stout Institute. Presiding were Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college, and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of Stout's division of industrial education.

Cooperating with Stout in developing the conference were the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction and the Wisconsin Board of Vocational and Adult Education.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

How are you fairing? Have any worries about the next two weeks? Yes, another long short semester is slyly withering away. A long 18 weeks when you think of all those enormous books you read from cover to cover. But, oh, such a short one when you recall those dreamy nights at the Union Ballroom with the smooth sax harmony of G. "Lombardo" S.

Yes, another semester has almost bid us adieu, but what has happened during all this time. Let's see, ah yes, we started out with registration, and acquaintances were either renewed or made. Then came the mixers and football games, and finally Homecoming, with the Freshmen's tremendous bonfire. Oh, and we can't forget our field trips and the fraternity and sorority dances.

Well, those are only a few of the things that happened thus far, but what to come? We'll probably lose quite a few people, but we might welcome a greater number. Then after we get rolling once again, there'll be more dances, basketball games, the Symphonics tour, along with other trips, picnics, then the biggest dance of the year, the 1954 prom, and finally another 3 months rest.

Well, enough of that dreaming, what did you say your Chemistry average was?

MRS. VANEK DESCRIBES TRIP TO PUERTO RICO

The Tau Chapter of Phi Upsilon Omicron met January 4, for one of its professional meetings. Mrs. Alyce Vanek presented a very interesting program on her trip to Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Her descriptions of the trip and the beautiful colored movies of the islands made many of us wish we could travel to the islands also.

Mrs. Vanek's talk was the next best substitute. She gave many humorous descriptions of her experiences. Mrs. Vanek and her husband traveled to Puerto Rico by freighter. On board they became acquainted with many interesting people and had a thoroughly enjoyable time. One of her adventures was a midnight trip to the boiler room inside the ship. She suggested that if we make a trip by freighter, it would be a good idea to travel with three or four friends. Not all groups are pleasant to travel with as those who were on ship with the Vaneks.

On the islands the Vaneks found beautiful scenery and ideal weather. While they were there they went swimming in the Caribbean in the morning and in the Atlantic in the afternoon. The hospitality of the islanders was unlimited. Mrs. Vanek was invited to many parties very similar to those given here. There was no color discrimination.

The purpose of the trip was to look into possibilities of positions on the islands for teaching home economics. Mrs. Vanek thought that the possibilities were somewhat greater on the Virgin Islands than in Puerto Rico. The labs were excellent and she was certain it would be a very interesting experience.

PHI SIG MEMBERS WILL DONATE BLOOD

With the bloodmobile coming to the Stout campus on Friday, February 5, the Phi Sigma Epsilon hopes to have each member give a pint of blood this year as in years past.

The fraternity hopes also that all students of Stout will back the blood drive. If everyone gives blood, the college would have a 100 per cent participation and The Stout Institute would establish a new collegiate record. The present record is 85 per cent, which shouldn't be too hard to beat. Let's try!

EPSILON PI TAU

On the Stout campus we are honored to have two honorary fraternities, one of which is the Epsilon Pi Tau, the fraternity for men. It was organized as the Industrial Education Forum in 1930. For three years it kept its name, and on May 27, 1933 it was installed as the Theta Chapter of the Epsilon Pi Tau. The E. P. T. holds as its purposes the recognition of the place of skill in Industrial Arts and Vocational-Industrial Education to promote social efficiency; to foster council; reward, publish, and circulate the results of research effort in the fields of its interest.

Epsilon Pi Tau holds as its Charter members Clyde A. Bowman, Irven O. Buss, Dewey F. Barich, Aurelian Belanger, Wayne P. Hughes, Arthur G. Brown, and Merle M. Price.

Each year Epsilon Pi Tau, along with Phi Upsilon Omicron, the fraternity for women, sponsors an outstanding speaker in the field of education or world events. Theta Chapter of E. P. T. has assisted in the installation of numerous chapters in the past twenty years and during AVA conventions have conducted initiation ceremonies.

MAGAZINE HAS ARTICLE BY STOUT GRAD

A Menomonee woman, Mrs. Aubrey Pollock Duncan, is the author of a feature article, "Shall We Teach Co-Educational Home Economics and Industrial Arts?" in the December issue of the Wisconsin Journal of Education, official monthly publication of the Wisconsin Education association.

Mrs. Duncan's article suggests co-educational teaching of home economics and industrial arts at the high school level, pointing out the many advantages to girls in knowing skills.

The author also describes the changing philosophy of responsibility and cooperation among today's young married couples, a situation which has reversed, to some extent, the traditional roles of the woman as homemaker only and the man as solely responsible for earning the living outside the home.

Basing the philosophy of her article in her experience in a Stout Institute experimental class of co-educational home economics and industrial arts, Mrs. Duncan quotes from a number of Stout faculty members. These include Dwight Chinnock, supervisor of student teaching in industrial education; George Soderberg, teacher in woodwork and finishing; and Miss Ann Noble, head of the department of home economics education.

Mrs. Duncan, a Stout Institute graduate of 1953, now teaches home economics at Arkansas, Wisconsin. She wrote her article as a member of Stout's class in the Writing of Feature Articles, taught by Dr. Thomas Fleming. Husband of Mrs. Duncan is Jerome Duncan, Stout senior. She is also the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Pollock, 707 Tenth avenue, Menomonee.

As a research engineer for the Forest Products Laboratory, Luxford and members of his staff have completed a series of experiments testing present procedures in wall construction. Data from these widely-discussed experiments will be made public in Luxford's presentation.

At the same session, conference participants will obtain the latest information on insulation and will see Stout Institute students conduct a demonstration of framing methods. A tour of college shops and laboratories will complete Monday afternoon's program.

As a feature of special interest to residents of the Menomonee area, an Open House will be conducted Monday evening in the Stout gymnasium from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Leading suppliers on construction materials will display such varied building equipment and materials as hand tools, power tools, patented window units, storage walls, insulation, outside wall covering materials, etc.

Company representatives, who will personally conduct their firms' exhibits, will welcome inquiries from the public at any time during the exhibition.

Additional exhibits and displays will be available Thursday morning under the direction of Dr. Herbert Anderson, chairman of Stout's wood-working department. At 9:45, Griffith Clark will again address a sectional group, this time on application of modular construction principles.

Thursday afternoon's session will feature a panel discussion on innovations in the finishing of surfaces encountered in building. George Soderberg, assistant professor of industrial education at Stout and chairman of the panel will speak on "Beautifying and Protecting the Wood Surface."

Edwin H. Nixon, representative of the United States Gypsum Co. will describe "Wall Construction: Dry Wall, Plaster and Insulation Boards." Nixon has had many years of experience as a job salesman and specialty advisor for U.S. Gypsum throughout the Northwest.

Concluding the afternoon's sectional meeting will be a talk, "Recent Developments in Exterior and Interior Paints," by James Porter, chemist in the laboratories of Minnesota Paints, Inc. Porter has spent 15 years in varied aspects of the paint and varnish industry.

As no pre-registration for the conference is required, a general invitation to attend conference events has been issued to all persons interested in building techniques and design, students enrolled in industrial education classes of the area, fathers of Stout Institute students, and members of the college faculty.

CONCERN REGISTERED FOR "WAR ORPHAN"

In the last issue of the Stoutonia there appeared a story entitled, "Christmas Comes To a War Orphan." It was written as a feature article, and is not true. The responses of the people who thought it was real and their concern over this girl proved to many that in their hearts they possess the true spirit of Christmas—that wonderful joy that should fill your heart at this time of year.

ROGER HANSON HANDS STOUT 76-57 DEFEAT

Stout was handed a loss by a scrappy Eau Claire five.

Towering Roger Hansen scored 30 points on 10 baskets and 10 free throws to pace the winners while Charlie Blume led the Bluedevils with 17 with Roger Lowney scoring 14.

The second quarter saw the best combined offensive and defensive spark we have seen all season as Blume and Lowney shared equally in scoring while combined team effort held the Bluegolds scoreless for the first six minutes of the quarter.

The first quarter score was 15-24 and at the half the nine-point disadvantage was cut to six making the score 26-32. After a poor third quarter the score 42-54. The final quarter was no different the score 57-76.

This game was a good hard played game, when you realize that Eau Claire is leading the conference with two wins and no losses.

The team has been shooting over 30 per cent of its shots every game and this is a sign that they are going to trim some of the teams this year so lets keep behind them gang.

STOUT FRESHMEN FIVE DROP GAME AT WINONA

Stout Frosh played a hard running game but Winona's fast breaking offense proved too much for Coach Bob Boldt's Bluedevils as they bowed in defeat 68 to 39. Although the score made it look like a run away game, the up and coming cagers proved their will to win as they kept up a stiff but inadequate defense. Max Cisco hit from way out and kept the college Frosh in the game continually.

WINONA FIVE BEATS STOUT 78-68

Bluedevils bowed to Winona 68-78 in a hard fought sharp shooting game. The Bluedevils outshot the Warriors from the field but were lacking at the free throw line.

High scorer for Stout was Charlie Schmitz with Devine dumping 12 and Stewart 10. Big gun for Winona was Fred Hoeft with 20. The Bluedevils had beaten the Warrior's 55-51 in their first encounter.

The first and third quarters proved bad for Stout as Winona held leads of 11-20 and 45-59 in these two periods. The final quarter saw Jim Dailey and Roger Lowney work a very neat press and stealing the ball several times accounting for the comeback in the last period. Lefty Devine made some nice jump shots to also help spark this drive.

The team showed signs of improvement as they never gave up even when many teams would have thrown in the towel. Let's keep it up fellows.

3. To call attention to the importance of the printing industry.

Listen to "The First Lithographer", portraying the life of Alois Senefelder of Germany at 2:45 p.m. on Saturday, January 23, on station WHWC (FM), Colfax.

Various stories are told concerning the origin and development of "Printing Education Week" or, as it is known by the industry as "Printing Week." Here is the correct story for the record. Originally it was launched by the Department of Education, United Typothetae of America (now Printing Industry of America, Inc.) as "Father and Son Week" in 1928. Then the celebration was held in the month of February of each year. In 1932 the name was changed to "Printing Education Week." In 1936, under the auspices of the IGAEA, the time of holding the celebration was changed from February to the week in January in which the anniversary of the birth of Benjamin Franklin is celebrated. There, too, the program was enlarged to include the objective. "To perpetuate the memory and teachings of Benjamin Franklin."

In November, 1931, the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen, at a meeting of its Board of Governors, officially endorsed Printing Education Week and agreed to hold joint meetings in cities where both organizations (UTA and Craftsmen) were represented. In 1944-45 the International Association of Printing House Craftsmen established "International Printing Week," coinciding in time of observance and general objectives of "Printing Education Week." The Craftsmen, as well as the trade papers, are doing an excellent job in bringing the support of the printing industry to both the industrial and educational programs. (F. J. H.) SINGERS WILL APPEAR HERE FOR ASSEMBLY

The assembly program for Wednesday, January 27, will bring us two singers and an accompanist. They will come from Chicago to entertain us.

Bettyanne Clayton, soprano, and Herbert Lane, tenor, will appear together and separately in popular songs, some songs from musical comedy, and some light opera selections.

Miss Clayton has been trained by such teachers as Edith Mason and Rosa Raisa. She has done extensive concert work and appeared in coast-to-coast radio programs.

Mr. Lane is a lyric tenor who is known for his warmth of singing and his very spontaneous personality.

The singing of these two together should give our Stout audience a very enjoyable hour.

WESLEY WILL HAVE "A LOOK AT EUROPE"

"A look at Europe" through the eyes of Reverend Reece's camera will be the program at Wesley Student Fellowship, Sunday, January 17.

Reverend Reece took slides of his trip through Europe this summer. Sunday evening he will show those taken in Vienna and Russian occupied Austria. Some of the pictures will be of Adolph Hitler's Crow's nest home in the Alps mountains.

The program will be presented following the regular supper hour which begins at 5:30 in the Methodist church basement. Everyone is invited to join in the food and fellowship as they "Take a look at Europe".

STOUT INSTITUTE SITE OF BUILDER CONFERENCE

New Building Methods Discussed at Recent Builders Conference

"Efficiency, precision and economy are becoming trademarks of modern American construction," was the claim of Griffith S. Clark, modular building specialist and principal speaker at the Wisconsin Builders Conference, held last Monday and Tuesday on the campus of The Stout Institute.

Speaking at the Monday afternoon session was R.F. Luxford, building engineer from U. S. Forest Products Laboratory in Madison. Topic of his address was "Are Present Wall Construction Structurally Sound?" Builders, union representatives, and vocational teachers from four states and Canada heard the talks.

Clark, a nationally known author and exponent of the Modular principle in building, set forth six principles which, he said typify modern American construction methods. These include design consideration, use of drywalls instead of plaster, new application of building trusses, innovations in window installation, controversy over the necessity for a basement in homes, and conservation of building materials.

Clark stressed the increasing emphasis which architects are giving to solar radiation and summer exposure of homes. He also discussed the growing population of drywall construction in competition to plaster and pointed out the possibilities of light weight wall units containing new types of building trusses.

According to Clark, modern windows are set high up in walls to assure privacy, economy, and ease of furniture arrangement. Part of Clark's discussion was devoted to a comparison of the standard house basement with merely crawl space or a cement slab. New building methods, the speaker asserted, seek maximum conservation of materials and labor. Requests from the FHA have also stressed these economies and encouraged precision building.

R. F. Luxford reported on findings from a recent series of tests on the strength of various wall constructions. Conducted at the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory, in cooperation with the Housing and Home Finance Agency, strengths of various kinds of bracing constructions of the post and lintel type, and wall sections containing picture windows. Strength exhibited by the post and lintel type of construction was stressed.

Techniques of home design, interior wall construction, and the painting of inside and exterior surfaces of houses held the attention on Tuesday of the contractors, vocational teachers and union representatives attending the Builders Conference.

Speaking on "Design and Plan Analysis" was Griffith S. Clark, Tuesday morning's keynote spokesman. Addressing the afternoon sessions were George Soderberg, assistant professor of wood finishing at The Stout Institute; Edwin Nixon, engineering specialist of the U. S. Gypsum co.; and James Porter, chemist for Minnesota Paints Inc.

Clark stressed maximum utility from standard sizes of construction material as an aid for achieving economy in home building. He also pointed out techniques of lowering construction costs and increasing building efficiency through planning and cooperation of contractors and material dealers.

Following luncheon in the Stout Institute cafeteria, delegates heard George Soderberg discuss, "Preserving the Painted Surface." Soderberg indicated to delegates the importance of choosing the proper paint for any specific surface.

Life of the paint film, he stated, depends upon quality of paint used, method of its application, and the type of construction to which it is applied. Mr. Soderberg told his audience that a competent painter must understand his oils and pigments and their possibilities, and know that exterior paints must be chosen for their moisture-resistant qualities. He also described the action of penetrating finishes and of surface coatings.

Nixon's talk dealt with the popularity of drywall construction in the in-

START NOW TO PETITION FOR S. S. A. OFFICERS

This year the annual "Snow Brawl" dance will again be sponsored by the Pallas Athene Sorority. Co-chairman for the event are Doris Beyer and Barbara Rushing. The dance will follow the basketball game on the night of February 6.

During intermission, the Winter Carnival Queen will be crowned. Before the crowning of the queen, a drawing will be held for a ski sweater, which is being donated by the Ski Club. There will be a donation of ten cents for each ticket obtained, which will be sold one and one-half weeks in advance.

There will be dancing to the music of the Royal Blackhaws Orchestra. The decorations will follow with the theme, "Winter Sports."

NIGHT SPEECH CLASS PROVES SUCCESSFUL

The first night speech class for Rural Electrification personnel ever held in Wisconsin came to a successful conclusion here recently when 15 managers, directors and power use advisors from seven north-central Wisconsin electric coops received "passing grades" at the end of the series of 10 speech lessons.

Teaching the course has been Norman Ziemann, assistant professor of speech at The Stout Institute and chairman of the Speech Department at the college. Stout cooperated with the Eau Claire Vocational school to meet a community need and to provide an activity of the Wisconsin Job Training and Safety program.

Some of the participants drove a total of 120 miles each Friday night for class sessions in Menomonie's new Dunn County R.E.A. building. Class members came from as far away as Cornell, Barron, Alma, Baldwin, and Holcombe.

Aim of the series of lessons was to teach participants to organize ideas for presentation before an audience and to develop confidence in those who disliked facing an audience. Class members used materials especially adapted to the needs and interests of their group, giving talks which were later evaluated by their fellow students as well as Professor Ziemann.

According to Ziemann, the class made definite improvement over the ten weeks of participation.

"It's certainly gratifying to note how many members have overcome their tension in speaking situations and how they can now organize their thoughts in front of an audience. In addition, a number of them have developed a very effective technique for delivering their talks."

The trial or pilot group at Menomonie was developed in answer to numerous requests from cooperative employees for help in public speaking. Now under consideration is a course in group leadership and parliamentary procedures.

Counties represented in the class just concluded are Barron, Buffalo, Chippewa, Dunn, Pierce, Pepin, Polk, Burnett, and St. Croix.

HAWAIIAN PAPERS CARRY STOUT NEWS

News on the activities of The Stout Institute, Wisconsin State College here, has received space in papers as far away as Honolulu, according to clippings from Hawaiian papers recently received on campus.

Papers using photos of Stout students have been the Honolulu "Advertiser" and also the "Star Bulletin." One photo is of Myrtle Tamura, Stout sophomore from the Islands, as she shows Stout's home economics facilities to Walter J. Kohler, governor of Wisconsin, and Arthur Padrut, Wisconsin State Senator.

The other photo depicts three Island students at Stout costumed as Eskimos for their parts in the recent college play, "Petticoat Fever." The students are Myrtle Tamura, Kazukio Kuboyama, and Mabel Sorida.

The pictures were taken for the college by Jerome Duncan, Menomonie resident and senior at Stout who is active in the photography center at the college. Distribution was made by the Stout publicity bureau, directed by Dr. Thomas Fleming of the college faculty.

DR. FLEMING WRITES ARTICLE ABOUT STOUT

The objectives and methods of The Stout Institute are the subject of an article, "Stout Institute Trains for Effective Life and Work" in the 1953 annual issue of "Wisconsin Labor," a publication of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor.

Author of the feature is Dr. Thomas F. Fleming, assistant professor of English and journalism at Stout. Included in the article are highlights in the history of the college.

Beginning with the motto of Stout Institute, the feature describes the student body of the college and Stout's academic and technical curriculum. It explains the organization of the home economics and industrial education divisions at Stout and the equipment used by both sections.

Space is given to the techniques of administration of Stout and to the achievement's of its president, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund. A list of outstanding alumni, of whom Dr. Fryklund is a member, is also included.

Space is also devoted to a discussion of Stout's accreditation and to its aims of personal attention to the education of every student. Mention is likewise made of job opportunities for graduates and of entrance requirements for qualified students.

WHO WILL REIGN OVER THE WINTER CARNIVAL

1953 TOWER RECEIVES ALL-AMERICAN RATING

Owner's of the 1953 TOWER have a valuable book to keep for memories at Stout. Valuable because the 1953 TOWER has been given an All American Rating by the Associated Scholastic Press of the University of Minnesota. This award is the highest award given a college yearbook.

It also is the first time in the history of Stout that the college yearbook has attained this honor.

Three members of this year's staff are holdovers from last year's staff. Norma Schlottman has moved up to Associate Editor, Don Walters has taken over the duties of Business Mgr., and Jerry Duncan has the Chief Photographers assignment again.

The Tower has garnered First Class ratings for two years in a row prior to the 1953 book, and with the rating of the 53 book, Stout has established an excellent record in comparison to other colleges of equal size and members of ASP.

Continued cooperation of students can help this year's staff attain the same goal as last year's staff did. Let's all pitch in and shoot for another All American Rating. We did it once and we can do it again.

FRED FISCHER LOAN FUND IS INCREASED

The Fred Fischer Memorial Fund has recently been increased through the generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Fischer, parents of the late Stout graduate.

According to Dean Merle M. Price, who is handling matters relative to the fund, Mr. and Mrs. Fischer contributed an additional $25 in memory of their son.

The Fred Fischer Memorial Loan Fund was established by the Student Governing Board with $500 presented by Mr. and Mrs. Fischer. The fund has been designated as a memorial to their son, Fred Fischer, a Stout graduate of 1952 who died in the U.S. Naval Hospital in Yokashuka, Japan.

While at Stout, Ensign Fischer was a member of Epsilon Pi Tau honorary scholastic organization in industrial education, the Radio Club, the Ski Club, and the Stout Symphonic Singers. He was president of the latter group in his senior year.

Loans from the fund will carry no interest and will be for a maximum four-year term. Applications for loans will be considered by a committee of three students and a faculty adviser. To be eligible, a student must have been in residence at Stout for at least one academic year and possess a one-point grade average.

Recipients of loans from this fund will receive a letter telling the history of the fund and outlining the provisions of the loan. Ensign Fischer's picture will appear at the top of the letter.

STUDENT EDUCATION CONFERENCE COMES UP

The Sixth Annual Student Education Conference will be held February 26 and 27 on the University of Minnesota Campus. Expenses will be paid by the SSA for the first 20 students who sign up. The purpose of the conference is to promote an attitude of professionalism among education students as well as to stimulate thinking on major issues. Dr. Oetting will have a list on the bulletin board where interested students may sign their names. So hurry and get your name on the list!

ANNOUNCEMENT OF DECLINE IN B. S. DEGREES

Information of significance to Stout Institute students and alumni interested in fluctuations in the supply and demand of college graduates has recently been released by the U. S. Department of Health Education and Welfare.

"The number of earned degrees conferred by colleges and universities in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico has declined for the third consecutive year," S. M. Brownell, Commissioner of Education, announced today.

Reporting Office of Education survey figures furnished by 1,364 degree-granting institutions, Commissioner Brownell said, "During the year ending June 30, 1953 the Nation's institutions of higher education conferred during 1952-53, 305,000 or 81.5 percent of 7.2 percent in comparison with the total of 403,000 degrees conferred a year earlier.

"The drop in number of men graduates went down only 0.8 percent. The large decline in number of men graduates may be ascribed to the fact that most of the World War II veterans who entered college in 1946 and 1947 have now been graduated," the Commissioner of Education has pointed out.

The Office of Education survey reveals that of the 374,000 degrees conferred during 1952-53, 305,000 or 81.5 percent were bachelor's and first professional degrees. Master's and second professional degrees totalled 61,000 or 16.3 percent of the total. There were also 8,300 doctorate degrees, 2.2 percent of the total number conferred.

In comparison with 1951-52, the 1952-53 degree figures show 8.2 percent fewer bachelor's degrees, 4.0 percent fewer master's, and 8.1 percent more doctorates.

Although the number of bachelor's degrees has declined for the third consecutive year, the number of master's degrees has decreased for only two consecutive years. Doctorates, on the other hand, have increased in number for six straight years.

There are approximately two men graduates for every woman graduate at the bachelor's and master's level, according to the 1952-53 degree reports from the Nation's colleges and universities. At the doctorate level approximately nine men received degrees for every woman. Men received approximately 66.6 percent of all the degrees conferred, 65.9 percent of the bachelor's, 67.2 percent of the master's, and 90.5 percent of the doctor's degrees. More than one-half (52.8 percent) of the degrees were granted by universities, and slightly more than a fourth (26.3 percent) by liberal arts colleges. Public institutions conferred 51.0 percent of the degrees, and private institutions 49.0 percent.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Once again you, as a Stout Institute student, are beginning a new semester. As you walk about the campus these days, you hear so many resolutions being made for the new semester that you almost believe New Years has come to Stout three weeks late. Yes, resolutions are being made, but will these scholastic resolutions, as was the case with many New Year's resolutions, be made only to be broken?

What about your own resolutions? Will you really study hard and get better grades? Will you participate more actively in your organizations? Resolve now to keep your resolutions!

If you're tempted to weaken, call to mind "The Ten Resolutions for a New Semester"

1. Thou shalt give thy instructors undivided attention.
2. Thou shalt remember thy assignments.
3. Thou shalt get thy assignments in on time.
4. Thou shalt read thy books.
5. Thou shalt not need to cram before thy tests.
6. Thou shalt speak only highly of thy organization.
7. Thou shalt make an active contribution to that organization.
8. Thou shalt cooperate with all members of thy organization.
9. Thou shalt always be honest in all things.
10. Thou shalt keep thy resolutions.

APO MEMBERS BACK BLOODMOBILE DRIVE

Students! Circle February 5 on your calendars! Reason — the red cross bloodmobile will be in Menomonee and February 5 has been set aside as Stout day. All able bodied students on the campus will have the opportunity to help make this drive a success here in Menomonee. APO members will be on campus to furnish necessary information about registering for the files, and to help students fill out the cards.

It is not necessary to tell you why the blood program is important. Any student who has received blood from the red cross program can furnish plenty of evidence why students should participate. Remember though, if you are under 21 years of age your parents permission must be obtained before you will be accepted as a donor. Any students under 21 who plan on participating in the program can start the ball rolling right now by writing their parents.

The record for college participation in the program is 85% of the registered students. We as Stout can do better than that. A.P.O. asks all organizations on campus to donate as a unit. February 5th will tell which organization has the most spirit and civic pride.

SIG TAUS WILL HOLD ANNUAL "SMOKER"

The annual Sig Tau smoker will be held on Wednesday, February 3, 1954 in the Stout gym. This event is open to all male Stout students and we would like to encourage all to attend. Ken Geske is the chairman of the committee, with Sam Mikitarian in charge of films, so an evening of good entertainment is promised. There will be a new film on the "Lakers", and also some films on skiing. An added attraction, as usual, will be free cigarettes, cigars, and popcorn.

We would also like to remind you of Sig Tau's winter dance which will be held on Friday night, February 19.

CONGO CLUB HOLDS REGULAR MEETING

The Congo Club held a meeting at the church Sunday night at 5:30 p.m. Everyone enjoyed the tuna supper. After a business meeting which followed the supper, a new reporter was elected. The meeting closed with singing led by Dr. Agnew. The next meeting will be January 31.

PHI SIGS WILL HOLD ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Preparing for the annual election of officers, storing up blood and readying the boot strap, hockey team are the main interests of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity at the beginning of the second semester on the Stout campus.

On February 4, the election of officers for the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity will be held. Retiring members are eyeing the returning members for worthy officers of the organization. Members who will return next year are as follows: Richard Berg, Robert Bolt, Lawrence Bruno, Gino Casucci, Leo Janis, James Kreuzer, Harry Krysiak, Gordon Maves, Al Ochs, Leroy Sharkey, and Daniel Wielgus.

With the promise that there won't be any square needles used on them this year, like Willis Capps claims there were last year, the Phi Sigs are building red corpses for the annual blood drive to be held on the Stout campus February 5. Members feel that the Red Cross will get 100% co-operation from the fraternity, just like last year. The members of the fraternity hope, also, that the Stout Institute can beat the 85% record for blood donation held by a college in Kansas.

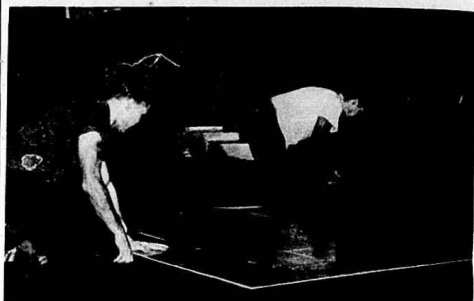

With "Big Bill, Bucko," Buckley as coach, the Phi Sigs are preparing for the annual Winter Carnival "outing" in the form of a ice hockey game against the FOB played using boots, galoshes, and what have you. Backing up Bill will be the following "rough and ready" guys: Lawrence "Lay 'em Low" Bruno, Willis "Little Willie" Capps, Leo "Jar 'em" Janis, Floyd "Fool 'em" Jolliffe, Fred "Fifty" Kneisler, Harry "Hit 'em Hard" Krysiak, Leroy "Sock 'em" Sharkey, and several "dark horses."

LAYING TILE IN THE NEW LIBRARY

The two men pictured above are laying the rubber tile squares which will cover the floor in the study room of the new Stout Institute library.

NEW BUILDING GETS RUBBER TILE FLOOR

Over 5,400 rubber tile squares cover the floor in the study room of the new Stout Institute library. Each square is one foot square, 3/16 of an inch thick, and light brown in color.

Beneath the rubber tile, a 1 1/2 of an inch layer of felt acts as a cushion of felt absorbs sound; therefore, it will reduce noise created by patrons feet, and it will make walking more relaxing.

A total of 95 gallons of rubber tile cement was required to lay the tile. Of this amount, 55 gallons was used for laying the felt, and 40 gallons was used to lay the tile.

Three men worked two days for a total of 48 man hours in order to complete the job of laying the felt and tile. This also included rolling the tile with a steel roller and cleaning and waxing the tile.

Covering the floor of the mezzanine is a light blue green mosaic stone pattern.

BLUEDEVILS DROP ONE TO PLATTVILLE

With Roger Lowney, Tom Stewart Duke Severson and Dale Westerback hitting with double figures; 23, 17, 16, 16 respectively, the Bluedevils had a well rounded scoring attack, which kept them away until midway in the final quarter when the Pointer's Larry Marshall dumped in a free toss and a jump shot to tie the score at 72-72. A few more charity tosses and buckets by Marshall and it seemed like the game was on ice for the Pointers, but not so as Schmitz dumped a hook shot Westerback hit from the free throw line through Stewarts timely tip in and finally Schmitz' free toss to make the score 79-79, at the end of the regular game. From here on it was a new game of five minutes duration.

Lowney started the overtime with a neat jump shot which was matched by Reeve's drive in, 81-81. Stewart made a tin in and Lowney added a gifter which gave Stout a 84-81 lead, but this did not stand up as Lowney drew his fifth foul and Marshall then dumped both of his charity tosses. Reeves sunk a push shot and Marshall made three more free tosses. Sev-

erson brought the Bluedevils within striking distance with seconds to go on a nice push shot, but they failed to score and that is all she wrote as the Pioneers pulled out a close one 88-86.

The Stout men out shot the Pioneers 35-30 from the field but lost the game from the free throw line as they only made 15 for 34.

STEWART GETS 25 IN WIN OVER STEVENS POINT

Bluedevils trounced Stevens Point 90-76. After a close first quarter the Stout men had little trouble handing the Pointers their third conference loss.

Tom Stewart led all scoring with 25 points on 10 buckets and 5 gifters. Duke Severson hit for 15 and Charlie Schmitz and Dale Westerback added 13 apiece to account for their share of the winners total.

The score at the first quarter was 18-17 Pointers, but after a hot second quarter it stood at 31-46. In the third quarter they pushed the lead to 21 points 71-50 and won going away 90 to 76.

STOUT LOST TO SUPERIOR 68-54 LAST SATURDAY

Superior won its first conference game of the season when they hung a 68-54 defeat on Stout last Saturday night at Superior.

A cold shooting first half when the Bluedevils could make only six of 30 shots allowed the Yellowjackets to go into a lead which proved to much for the Stout men to overcome. Superior made eleven of twenty six shots during the same half and took a 18-7 lead at the quarter and 34-22 at the half. Superior added four points to their lead in the third quarter for a 55-39 advantage and then coasted to win 68-54.

Duke Severson and Roger Lowney led the Bluedevils with 12 and 10 points while four Yellowjackets hit double figures.

At 8:00, there will be races with racing skates, at 8:30 races for girls, and 9:00, a special type of race will take place. It is the forward and backward race; the boy will skate backwards half the distance and the girl will skate backwards the rest of the way. There will be cash prizes for all the contests, and they will be provided.

The Ski Club will sponsor the events on Saturday. Beginning at 1:00 p.m. the cross country ski race for both fellas and gals will take place. It will start in front of the girls' dorm and cross lake Menomin. The Ski Club is awarding trophies as prizes for this event. A log sawing contest will take place at 1:30, and at 2:30 there will be a snowshoe race. The snow shoes will be provided by the Ski Club. A boot hockey game will be played at 3:30 at the ice skating rink, between the FOB's and the Phi Sigs.

A snow carving contest will also be held if the weatherman permits. The carvings will be judged tomorrow afternoon. Stout students are reminded that the sculpturing does not have to be done on campus.

The events of the evening include a basketball game at 8:00 p.m. between Carleton College and The Stout Institute. At the half time of the game beards will be judged.

After the game the annual "Snow Brawl," sponsored by the Pallas Athene Sorority will be held in the college gym. During intermission, a drawing will be held for the ski sweater which is being donated by the Ski Club members and donations of ten cents are being excepted for each ticket.

"NO PARKING: RESERVED FOR DRIVER'S TRAINING CAR"

All of us have noticed those two signs on the campus, but how many of us have recognized the opportunities signified by those signs.

Can you drive? That question is easy enough to answer. Either you can or you can't. But, can you drive correctly, carefully? If you can't drive, you have a wonderful opportunity at Stout to learn, and to learn right. Mr. Kranzusch urgently needs students who desire to learn to drive this semester. Please contact him at your earliest opportunity. Bowman Hall, room 23.

No doubt all of us, at some time in life, will experience occasions in which our ability to drive will be a necessity. Stout offers facilities for anyone to acquire that ability through Driver Education courses. In these past, safety and driver's education were merely parts of other safety courses taught in schools throughout the nation. Today, with the tremendous number of automobiles crowding America's highways, safety education and the ability to drive are essential.

Stout now offers accredited courses in various phases of driving safety, and adequate time is devoted to practical application of that training. Increased stress is now put on actual experience behind the wheel. The Chevrolet and Ford dealers at Menomonie have graciously furnished dual-control cars to be used in the driving courses. If you wish to learn to drive correctly, contact Mr. Kranzusch. He is looking for trainees for next semester.

Stout's Driver Education courses offer an extra opportunity to juniors and seniors at Stout. That is the opportunity for them to pursue the courses that will qualify them to teach Driver's Training after graduation. These studies total six credits. Safety Education is the prerequisite, followed by Driver's Education, and then practice teaching at Menomonie high school. According to Mr. Kranzusch, five such credits will eventually be required of anyone teaching Driver's Training in this state.

Upon completion of the three courses, students receive two certificates of competence: one from the American Automobile Association, and another from the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction. The State certificate is a requirement for the teaching of Driver's Education.

Can you drive? Would you like to teach Driver's Education? Well, the next time you see the two "No Parkings" signs on the campus, let them remind you to visit Mr. Kranzusch and to tell him that you are interested.

TOWER OFFICE IS BUSY THESE DAYS

Flash! A minor hurricane has just struck the Tower office. No, it's just the morning after the night before a big deadline. Although uncorrected pictures, re-typed copy, and pencil stubs are, literally, "thrown in wild abandon" around the room, the staff has accomplished a great deal.

The production staff has already sent in 120 pictures, and the literary staff, headed by Ellen Russell, has finished writing and proof-reading the copy for the first third of your 1954 Tower. This year's Tower staff is really working hard to make it the "picture book of the year."

SORORITIES CAN NOW INCREASE MEMBERSHIP

All sororities on campus will now have 35 members in their organizations. The sororities on campus petitioned to have the increase of 5 members, which gives them the same number as the fraternities. The Student Governing Board approved the increase, and President Fryklund gave final permission. With the increase being in effect now, the sororities can take in new members during the second semester of this year, the new members being upperclassmen and transfer students.

DR. ELGIN GROSECLOSE

DR. GROSECLOSE WILL SPEAK WEDNESDAY

Dr. Elgin Groseclose, former Treasurer General of Iran and holder of two literary awards for his novels on the Middle East will speak on "Oran and the Middle East." Dr. Groseclose rates top rank in the usually divergent fields of economics and literature.

The American-born economist began his acquaintance with the Middle East some thirty years ago as a relief worker and mission school teacher. In the Caucasus during the Communist upheaval, he witnessed the destruction of the republics of Armenia, Azerbaijan and Georgia. His journeys through that area during those stormy times brought him to the attention of the Communist secret police. Arrested on suspicion of spying, he was held in a secret prison with execution for his alleged crime a distinct possibility.

The vivid experiences of these troubled years formed the basis for Dr. Groseclose's novels, "Ararat," "The Persian Journey," and "The Firedrake." The first won for its author both the American Booksellers Award and the Foundation of Literature Award.

Dr. Groseclose's abilities in the fields of writing and economics developed together. He used his combined skills as economist on the "Time" staff, and as financial editor of "Fortune." Besides his literary publications, he produced and authoritative volume on monetary history, "Money: the Homan Conflict."

In 1943, Dr. Groseclose was appointed by the Parliament of Iran to serve as Treasurer General. In recent years he has made his home in the United States, serving as economic consultant for many large corporations. His study of Middle Eastern affairs has continued, however, through repeated journeys to that area. Iran remains the focus of his interest. The most recent product of his pen, "Introduction to Iran," was published by the Oxford University Press and is considered a standard reference work.

Listed in "Who's Who in America," Dr. Groseclose also is included among the "Distinguished Leaders in the Nation's Capital." At the close of his current tour of the Upper Midwest, he will return to his work in Washington, D. C. His appearance here was arranged by the Concert Theatre and Lecture Service of the University of Minnesota.

GET PETITIONS NOW FOR S.S.A. CANDIDATES

Petitions for the all school officers can be had now. They are available in the S. S. A. office from any one of the S. S. A. officers. Make sure your petition is circulated soon; voting will take place in less than a month.

STUDENT FROM INDIA VISITS CAMPUS

Mr. Rao, a foreign student from India, was on campus Thursday, February 4, as guest of the YWCA. His purpose was to acquaint students with the World University Service, and to promote interest in the drive which will be conducted here on February 17. He made contact with several of the faculty, administrators, and classes here at Stout.

NOTICE

All students who have not done so are urged to pick up their S.S.A. activity cards in the S.S.A. office. These cards are required for admittance to all the basketball games, as well as lyceums, music programs, plays, and other school functions. Pick up your cards immediately and be assured of seeing all these events.

ALUMNI GROUP SENDS GIFT FOR TEXT BOOKS

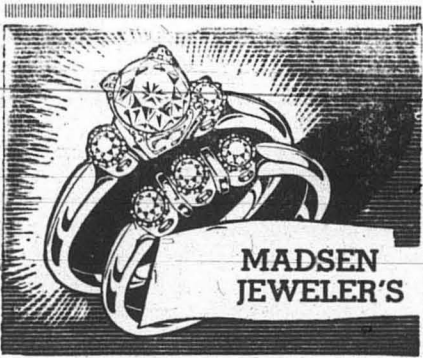

Appreciation to the Detroit Alumnae Chapter of the Stout Institute for its recent gift of $50, designated for the purchase of needed home economics books for Stout's new library, has been expressed this week by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics and by faculty members of the division.

The gift was forwarded to Stout by Mrs. Audrey Peterson Pollock, secretary of the Detroit Alumnae group. Members had voted the donation at one of their recent meetings.

According to Dean Kirk, a careful selection of volumes will soon be made. Each book will contain an appropriate inscription naming the Alumnae group and the set of volumes will then be entered in a special section of the new college library.

Dean Kirk said: "We of the home economics division and of the whole college, want the Detroit chapter to know that we truly appreciate their gift and will put the money to the very best possible use."

"Gifts such as that of our Detroit alumnae make possible the 'specials' which mean so much to a college and its students. Such donations permit us to feature books or unique equipment which we otherwise might not feel able to purchase. Our Detroit friends have certainly set a splendid example of the thoughtful, worthwhile gifts which our college always welcomes."

CASTING STARTS FOR MAP ANNUAL SPRING PLAY

Casting for the Manual Arts Players Annual Spring Play will be held next week. Try-outs are scheduled for Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, February 9 and 10, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the auditorium. The play, Years Ago, is a delightful comedy about a young girl and her unquenchable determination to go on the stage. As the play takes place in 1910, the thought of being an actress is unheard of in the best of families. Complications are provided by "Papa" who wants the young girl to be a physical culture teacher.

There are five excellent women's and four men's roles in the play, providing wonderful opportunities for characterizations. Copies of the play are on reserve in the library for advance reading. All Stout students are invited to try-out for the play. No experience is necessary.

Students interested in working on the production staff are invited to stop in the same nights and indicate their interest. Committees and crews on lighting, properties, costumes, sound effects, stagecraft, and make-up will be formed.

STOUT UPSETS LA CROSSE IN SEASONS BEST GAME

Schmitz High Man With 23:

Lowny Scores 22 Points

For A Stout Victory 95-90.

The Bluedevils upset a highly favored LaCrosse team 95-90 in the best team win of the season.

Chuck Schmitz was the big gun in the scoring department as he hit for 23; Roger Lawney was right behind him with 22, Duke Severson and Tom Stewart each had 14, and Charlie Blume had 13.

The game saw plenty of action and brilliant play, with Duke Severson leading the play with cool ball handling and sharp passing to Blume and Schmitz under the bucket. Blume and Schmitz, playing even better ball than last week, controlled both backboards. This probably was the deciding factor in the win.

The Bluedevils trailed most of the game. The score stood 25-29 at the first quarter and 46-51 at half time, but in the third quarter they tied the score at 51 all. At the three quarter mark they went ahead 71-70 to stay in the lead till the closing whistle.

Harry Sauer came in in the final quarter to do some nice ball handling, and when Severson fouled out Jim Dailey came in and did some excellent ball handling too and made some clincher free throws in the closing seconds.

BLUEDEVILS BOW TO RIVER FALLS 84-75

Bluedevils bow to hot shooting River Falls five, 78-85. As in their previous encounter it proved too much for Bob Williams, as he sparked the game winning fourth quarter spurt.

The game was tied 20-20 at the first quarter and 40-40 at the half and in the third quarter the Bluedevils bettered the Falcons by three, leading 63-60, but the fourth quarter saw Stout's lead disappear with a few bad breaks, and flawless shooting on the part of Williams who hit for 32.

The game saw a lot of fast moving action with a relative new comer, Ralph Klabunde taking over at center spot and showing a nice jump shot hitting for 12, while Stewart was high for Stout with 15.

NEWS FROM THE DORMS

Study?? Yes, the freshman girls of the dorms have been studying, but they have also found time for various other activities during the past weeks.

There have been farewell parties for the girls who decided not to return to Stout for the second semester. The Tainter Hall girls held their farewell party on January 17 for Charlotte McVicar, Joan Fehrman, and Patty Ross.

Kappy Hammegren, Mary Wanasek, who returned home, and Barbara Knoppe who transferred to Stevens Point State Teachers College were the girls who left the Annex. An informal get-together was held and cake and doughnuts were served. Sally Schmit also decided to leave Stout and is now working in Wisconsin Rapids.

Eichelberger Hall held a farewell party for Carol Wiskstrom and Tessa Smrecek on January 19.

Four new freshmen girls have registered at Stout. They are Gail Parrish, Cynthia Sutter, Jacqueline Leaman and Van Gordon.

It seems the freshmen girls are holding their own as far as school activities are concerned. Four girls have been elected as queen candidates for the winter carnival. They are Maxine Olsen, Kay Hellman, Edith Shaw and Lyn Bessler.

Saturday evening between semesters about fifteen of the freshmen girls held a wiener roast in the downstairs hall of the Annex. They roasted wieners over the fire in the fireplace, played games, and had lots of fun.

CLASS TOURS MINN. FACTORIES

On January 15, a group of woodwork-ing students traveled to Minnesota to spend the day touring several factories. At 6:30 a.m. on Friday morning, nineteen students and their instructors boarded a chartered bus. The bus arrived at the Anderson Plant in Bayport, Minnesota, the first stop, ahead of schedule. This gave the group the opportunity to look around the newly redecorated office and also see examples of the various types of window units that the company manufactures. When the guides arrived, the main group was split into four smaller ones and were taken on a tour of the plant showing them the process of manufacturing window units, starting with the rough stock and ending with the completed units packed and ready for shipment.

When all the groups finished the tour and the bus was loaded, they moved on to the Luger Furniture Company in North St. Paul. The Luger family has been manufacturing furniture for longer than any other family in the United States. This plant proved to be quite different from the Anderson Plant and therefore was more interesting to some members of the group. This seemed to be especially true of George Soderberg, who was nearly left behind when he became involved in a conversation with the plants refinisher, who also played piano for a dance band as a sideline.

After dinner the group visited the Levin Brother Plant which manufactures upholstered furniture. The group was fortunate because the plant was working on a large government project which made it easier to follow the different processes that a chair goes through from the rough stock to the finished item.

The last plant that the group visited was the L. Panile Midway Fixture and Showcase Company. This plant was different from all the others in that it worked on a job basis instead of mass production. They showed the group how each job was planned in the drafting room, and then how the jobs were actually constructed in their shops. While going through the shop the group saw new counters for Anshus's Jewelry Store in the process of construction.

On the way home the group decided to stop in St. Paul for supper. During the process of getting to and back from the restaurants, one member was lost, but after a little searching some of the other members found him and led him back to the bus.

The group arrived home about 7:00 p.m. and everyone that took part in the trip will admit that it was very interesting and also very educational.

MISS ROBINSON IS OUTSANDING IN 4-H WORK

Among outstanding 4-H Club members now enrolled at The Stout Institute, is Sylvia Robinson, a freshman coed from Elkhorn. She is majoring in home economics education.

A nine year member of 4-H work, Miss Robinson has done outstanding work in such areas of 4-H competition as frozen foods, canning, clothing, junior leadership, beef, dairy and poultry.

Miss Robinson's outstanding accomplishments have been in projects and demonstrations dealing with frozen foods. She won a trip to the National 4-H Congress of 1952, held in Chicago, for her accomplishments with frozen food. At the Congress she was honored with a $300 college scholarship.

Previous to her national award, she had won the frozen food competition in Walworth county, in district judging, in state contests and in sectional competition. Included among her trophies, in addition to her $300 scholarship, were several recognition pins, a watch, and an all expense paid trip.

Miss Robinson is another of many former outstanding 4-H achievers who have enrolled in the home economics division of The Stout Institute. Other coeds are national, sectional, and district winners in animal raising, safety, foods and nutrition, home furnishing, clothing, food preservation school lunch, junior leadership, and other project work of the 4-H program.

DR. GROSECLOSE LECTURES ON MIDDLE EAST

Dr. Elgin Groseclose, former Treasurer of Iran, spoke on Iran and the Middle East at the Wednesday convocation. He gave a detailed description of the Iranian country as he took the audience on a cross country trip. He described the land, the people and how they live.

Dr. Groseclose told of some of the customs of the people. He stated that neither the country nor the people are very prosperous. Their religion seems to account for a large share of their troubles. In their belief, they are marked by their God when they are born and anything and everything will not have any effect where they will go when they die. With that belief, how can such a country be helped? He proved economics and education would not help. He left the problem to the audience.

20 STUDENTS TO ATTEND CONFERENCE

The University of Minnesota will be host to the Sixth Annual Student Education Conference on February 26 and 27. The following topics have been selected for panel discussions: academic freedom, individual differences, grading and promotion, professional organizations or union affiliations, extra-curricular activities and religion. These topics have been selected among education-students, as well as to stimulate thinking on other major issues.

The expenses of 20 students who have signed up to attend will be paid by the SSA. Four drivers whose expenses will also be paid are needed. Anyone who has a car and can attend the conference should contact Willis Capps as soon as possible.

DR. SALYER ATTENDS THE AAUP MEETING

The regional meeting of the American Association of University Professors was held Friday, February 5, in Minneapolis. The University of Minnesota Chapter was the host for the event. The purpose of the meeting was to further the acquaintance of professors in this area, and to discuss problems that may come up at the national meeting in April. The Stout faculty was represented by Dr. Agnew, Mr. Anderson, Mr. Soderberg, Dean Price, Dr. Salyer, Mr. Rawson, Mr. Wall and Mr. Ziemann.

Local officers of the organization are: President, Dr. Salyer; Vice-president, Mr. Wall; and Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Amon.

MISS M. CAIN JOINS SPEECH DEPARTMENT

Stout's speech department has a new faculty member this semester. Miss Marguerite Cain, before coming to Stout, was employed at the University of Minnesota theater as a lighting technician. While earning her Master of Arts Degree at the University of Minnesota, she worked as an assistant in the drama advisory service of the university.

Miss Cain will be directing the M.A.P.'s spring play. She plans to teach only one semester here at Stout. Miss Cain says that she likes the faculty, the students, and everything that is connected with Stout.

The 1954 regular summer session at The Stout Institute will begin on June 21 and continue through July 20. There also will be a two week post session on driver's education offered.

The visiting faculty who will be on campus during the summer session are as follows: Dr. Williamson, formerly head of the home economics department at Colorado A. and M.; Mr. Bick, Milwaukee Public Schools, who will teach a course in design in wood working; Dr. Bordwell, director of the Madison Vocational and Adult School; Mr. Thayer, Mr. Larsen, and Mr. Woerdehoff who are from the State Board of Vocational and Adult Education in Madison; and Mrs. Bethke, Vocational and Adult School in Appleton.

The courses taught during the summer session will cover the fields of home economics and industrial education.

THERE'LL BE A SHINDIG IN STOUTPATCH TONIGHT

'54 GRADUATES ARE ACCEPTING POSITIONS

A number of items of interest to Stout Institute alumni have been released by Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, registrar and placement chairman of The Stout Institute.

Two graduates have accepted positions beginning in September, 1954. William Bauers, a 1954 graduate from Mellen, has accepted a position teaching industrial arts at Butternut, Wisconsin. Miss Dorothy Gargulak, also a June graduate, will teach senior high school home economics at Escanaba, Michigan. Miss Gargulak lives in Rice Lake.

The wedding of Beatrice Anderson, a January, 1954, graduate, and Armin Gerhardt, Jr., a 1951 alumnus who took graduate work last semester, took place in late December. Mr. Gerhardt is now teaching printing in Appleton senior high school. The position was formerly held by Sidney Cotton (B. S. '54), who is teaching industrial arts in the Walter French high school of East Lansing, Michigan. Jack Rupert (B.S. '54), has a similar position in Township high school, Lockport, Illinois.

Harvey L. Hanson, who graduated from Stout in January, 1954, is teaching driver training and auto mechanics in the senior high school of Chippewa Falls.

John Debrauske, former star athlete at Stout and graduate of 1953, is the proud father of a son, Thomas John, born January 10. Mr. and Mrs. Debrauske reside at 416 Lane St., North Judson, Indiana, where John teaches.

MR. HARDT PLANS FOR SPRING CONCERT TOUR

Mr. Victor H. Hardt, head of the music department, is making final arrangements for the annual Symphonic tour which will take place March 27 through April 4. Approximately one hundred members from the combined band and choir will take part in the tour which will cover the Eastern part of the state.

Mr. Hardt is making final plans for thirteen concerts in the following towns: Abbotsford, Wausau, Shawano, Pulaski, West De Pere, Omro, Watertown, Menomonie Falls, and Milwaukee. An audience of nearly seven thousand people is expected to attend these concerts.

On May 5, the Symphonic organization will present its annual spring concert for the Stout audience.

DR. D. AGNEW STUDIES ROCK ISLAND LINES

Featured in the Winter, 1953, issue of the "Journal of the Illinois State Historical Society" is the article, "Beginning of the Rock Island Lines," by Dr. Dwight Agnew, chairman of the social science department at Stout Institute.

Dr. Agnew's article describes the planning which went into the location and financing of the Rock Island Railroad and later struggles with canal interests and competitive rail lines before the first train of the line pulled out of Chicago on October 10, 1852, for Joliet.

"Beginning of the Rock Island Lines" is another in a series of features by Dwight Agnew in which he sets forth the historical background of the planning and construction of midwestern railroads.

A SUGGESTION TO THE FACULTY

When handing out mimeograph or dittoed copy why not have it pre-punched to fit the notebooks, or have a paper punch available for the students to punch the copy themselves.

INTER-RELIGIOUS GROUP HELD CONFERENCE

Members of the Inter-Religious Councils of The Stout Institute and the University of Minnesota conducted a conference in the Stout auditorium Sunday afternoon, February 7. The College Program for Religious Development was the theme carried out by the faculty and students from the University of Minnesota, clergy and lay people from Menomonie, faculty and students of The Stout Institute, and conference visitors.

Presiding at a general session opening the conference was Miss Edna Gaffron, Three Lakes, Wisconsin, who is the vice-president of the Inter-Religious program at Stout which had its beginning in 1951.

Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute, welcomed all conference visitors. He then spoke on the aims and purposes of Stout's Inter-Religious Council which are; recommend policies to religious groups, administer religious activities, and promote an understanding of the relationship between higher education and religion.

Dr. Henry C. Allen, coordinator of religious activities at the University of Minnesota, was introduced as the Keynote speaker. Dr. Allen chose as his topic, "The University Program for Religious Development". Speaking on church-state relationships, Dr. Allen told of the public school and the attitude it should take toward religion. "A public institution cannot ignore the religious needs of students", said Dr. Allen. He stated that the Middle West has always been a leader in inter-religious activities.

Dr. Allen instructed the group, "A cardinal rule is: Where there are diverse groups, listen to the minority groups. Do not operate on the basis of majority rule, even though efficiency is depleted." "Hostility and suspicion are not in the best American tradition", Dr. Allen concluded, "Communism thrives on suspicion and disension between religious groups. Beliefs in God must have a position, side by side, shoulder to shoulder against materialism. Inter-religious relationships are profoundly involved with the health and well-being of the nation and our way of life."

Rev. Roy S. Rawson, president of the Inter-Religious Council at Stout and Dr. R. G. Iverson, Director of student personnel services at the college, presided over panels on "The Philosophy of an Inter-Religious organization." Other sections, presided over by Joseph Luetkemeyer and Ellen Russell of The Stout Institute, had as their theme, "A Program of Activities."

WEATHER INTERFERES WITH CARNIVAL PLANS

Most of the Winter Carnival activities this year had to be canceled because of the weather. The coronation, which was to be held at the skating rink, was held at the "Snow Brawl" on Saturday evening. During the intermission of the dance, the Pallas Athene sorority led group singing and then Avis Merles was crowned Queen of the Winter Carnival of 1954 by Dorothy Brownell, last year's queen.

Even though the contests were called off, special mention should be given to Leo Pleva, Bob Brunswick, Skip Wick, Charles Smith, Ed Nowicki, Dave Young, and Jim Daines for keeping their beards and for helping to make the Carnival a more outstanding event.

Mr. Solberg presented some of the phases of the law in general terms. He discussed the liabilities of public schools, school districts, and teachers. He went on to discuss the laws governing the dismissal of teachers, disciplinary measures that can be taken by the management and also the teachers, the responsibilities of parents, the laws in regard to license and certificates, and the duties of teachers.

He ended his talk with an open discussion based upon any specific questions the members and guests might have.

Will You Be My Valentine?

Many Stout students will observe Valentine's Day by the sending of paper valentines to the "special" person or persons.

The custom of sending paper valentines is ancient; it has been practiced since the 14th century. Even in the early 20th century, the Chicago post-office accepted 1,250,000 valentines; but it also rejected 25,000 14 valentines because they were vulgar and coarse. It would be convenient to buy cheap 14 valentines now, during the time when money is not plentiful to most students.

When sending these tokens of love, some may wonder where and why did Valentine's Day originate. There are several traditional theories pertaining to the origin. One theory is that it is derived from an old Roman February feast, Lupercalia. Young Romans put their names in boxes, and then the girls drew by chance. The young man whose name a girl drew became her escort for the entire following year! The observation of this ancient custom would please the majority of the student body because it would eliminate the uncertainty about dates.

Another theory is connected with the fact that the birds choose mates at this time of year, therefore, people do too. In his early writing, Chaucer said, "For this was Seynt Valenth's Day. When every foul cometh to choose his mate." Not many students or young people connect Valentine's Day with this theory.

This special day has brought happiness to many young people. You, too, can make it happy for someone (he or she) by asking, "Will you be my Valentine?"

INTERSORORITY RUSHING PARTY IS HELD

On Saturday morning, February 2, 250 girls met at the Intersorority Rushing Party. The theme of the party was "Sun Valley Chalet," and the girls came dressed for their favorite winter sport.

The transfer students were introduced and given their mitten name tags. Then the freshmen girls introduced themselves to the girls in the union at the close of the party.

Each sorority president introduced the member of her sorority. The girls sang their traditional sorority songs.

Most of the morning was spent in group singing and folk dancing. Refreshments consisting of cocoa and donuts were served to the girls in the union at the close of the party.

STUDENTS ENJOY A PICNIC IN THE PARK

A picnic in February? No doubt, this isn't the season for picnics, but eighteen of Stout's students braved the cold and traveled out to Wakanda Park for a picnic Wednesday evening, February 10.

Of course, the entire event was planned and arranged by nine freshmen girls, who decided a picnic in February was the best way to entertain the fellows during Sadie Hawkins week.

Those at the party were: Jackie Husby and Don Krofta; Katy Seal and Charles Schmitz; Kay Kennedy and Lee Johnson; Nancy Dezhnev and Don Lorenzen; Kathy Hill and Jim Weber; Harriet Hendricks and Dennis Horzya; Jane Holdridge and Frank Marose; Edith Shaw and Ken Lehman; Lynn Bessler and Carl Spinti.

After everyone had filled up on hot dogs, coke, potato chips, and marshmallows, the boys decided they wanted to see a movie so everyone piled into the cars and came back to town to see a movie.

CARLETON GIVES BLUEDEVILS AN 85-69 DEFEAT

Stout dropped a non-conference tilt against a tough Carleton College crew, 85-69.

The Blue Devils had tough luck in the first and last quarters as they couldn't seem to find the range and missed a large percentage of their shots.

High scorer for the Blue Devils was Roger Lowney with 21. Tom Stewart was second high with 17, and Charles Schmitz came in third hitting for 13 on 2 field goals and nine free throws in his unerring work at the free throw line.

The score after a bad first quarter was 25-12; half time totals were 32-47. In the third quarter the Blue Devils came to life with Lowney accounting for 16 of the 24 point total. The score stood at a hopeful 56-64, but the loss of Blume and Schmitz via the foul route spelled the undoing of the Stout five. The final score was 58-69. The box score:

EIGHT NEW MEMBERS JOIN DIETETICS CLUB

Eight new members were admitted to the Dietetics Club at a welcome meeting held Monday evening, February 8, in the Harvey Memorial. To be eligible for membership in the professional group, students must at least be classified as a second semester sophomore and be majoring in dietetics or institutional management. New members are Dorothy Belisle, Jeanette Bischof, Joan Camp, Judy Day, Jane Motyka, Barbara Post, Barbara Rushing, and Ann Shernick.

At the welcome meeting, the new members were acquainted with activities carried on by the organization. Letters were read from Beverly Hedlund and Phyllis Allman, former members of the Dietetic Club, who are now interning or have completed their dietetic internship. Phyllis Allman is interning at Denver University Hospitals in Denver, Colorado, and is very enthusiastic about her locality and her whole internship program. Beverly Hedlund has completed her internship at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital in Boston, Mass., but her letter was a lively description of the activities there.

Business discussed at the meeting included picture taking for the Tower and plans for Nutrition Week, which will be March 22 through 26. Members of the Dietetic Club make an effort to acquaint the student body with principles of good nutrition at this time. In the past several well chosen meals have been given away in the cafeteria during this week. Students are urged to watch for developments in activities for Nutrition Week this year. Committee members working on this nutrition education project are Elinor Lehman, Mary Lois Anderson, and Ann Shernick. Jo Hofsard and Ruth Karns were in charge of the program and the refreshments for the welcome meeting.

CLAYTON-LANE TRIO IS VERY ENTERTAINING

Miss Betty Ann Clayton, soprano, and Mr. Herbert Lane, tenor, with their accompanist presented a very entertaining program for the January 27th convocation. The selections were taken from "The King and I", a recent Broadway hit.

The singers opened the program by singing "Getting to Know You" while they approached the stage from the back of the auditorium. This was something new for the Stout audience. They cleverly introduced their selections by acting as characters which were in the play.

Miss Clayton had a delightful personality and a very pleasing voice. She quickly attracted the audience and made them feel as though they, too, were going through the different moods which she was interpreting. Mr. Lane had a rich tenor voice and used it well throughout the program.

The assembly-lyceum committee had a little difficulty in obtaining the singers from the Paulus School Assembly Service. All those that heard the program agree that they were worth while getting.

UNIVERSITY TEACHER FROM INDIA VISITS CAMPUS

Discussing plans for a fund raising campaign at Stout Institute, proceeds of which will be used to educate teachers and students of depressed areas in Southeast Asia and Europe, are (L-R) Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout; K. Bhaskara, university teacher from India who is conducting the campaign; and Dr. John A. Jarvis, dean of Stout's industrial education division. Rao will spend two years in the United States, observing the American way of life and earning a Ph. D. in the teaching of English, the language now used in universities of India.

AMERICANS ARE NOT ASHAMED OF WORKING

"I have never met an American who was ashamed to work or who was ashamed of his job. Instead of belittling his job, an American works at it with gusto."

That is the outstanding characteristic of Americans, especially college students, observed by K. Bhaskara Rao, a university teacher from India who is now touring the United States raising funds to educate teachers and students in depressed parts of South-eastern Asia, Europe, and other areas of the world.

"No American college student seems to feel inferior because he must work for his education," Mr. Rao marvels. "Instead he works with dignity and enthusiasm. And when his task is over, he joins his classmates on an equal footing, even those he has served just a moment ago. What a nation!"

Professor Rao, of the faculty of the University of Mysore and now representing the World University Service, will tour and study in the United States for two years. He is especially anxious to earn a Ph. D. in the teaching of English, for the English language is now the language of instruction for the 15,000 students at the University of Mysore and for institutions of higher learning throughout India.

India is in a state of flux, according to Rao. The caste system, except for occasional social sentiment, has entirely lost its legal and practical status. Rao cites examples of acquaintances, of a university professor and the other governmental minister, who would formerly have been called "untouchable" and been barred from any social contacts. By law today, at least one cabinet member in each state of the Indian nation must have the ancestral background one classed "untouchable."

"Progress and opportunity" are the characteristics of modern India, Professor Rao points out. Industrial progress has been significant, personal opportunity has become universal, and the union of states within India has been a significant political milestone.

However, Professor Rao quickly points out some essential differences in the character and work habits of the people of his country in comparison with similar qualities he has observed in America:

"Where India's citizens tend to be contemplative, you Americans, are practical and forceful. Where we of India are leisurely, you are impatient and quick. With your characteristics you have built a land of opportunity and abundance. Perhaps even with our different temperaments, we may achieve success in our own way."

DELEGATES ATTEND MEETING IN CHICAGO

Chicago and the Province VII meeting of the Home Economics College Clubs of America was the destination of Miss Ann Noble, Ardis Carr, Dorothy Belisle, and Doris Hutchinson when they left the Stout campus Wednesday noon. College clubs from Michigan, Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin are represented at this annual meeting of the home economics organization. The Province Workshop meetings began Thursday morning and will run through Saturday noon.

Ardis Carr is Stout's nominee for the office of state secretary. Dorothy Belisle is the official voting delegate for The Stout Institute on the committee for the evaluation of exhibits.

The theme of the Workshop is, "What we will be depends upon what we do now." Well-known home economists from the Chicago area will speak to the assembly. Informal discussion groups are also a part of the program. A banquet at one of the famous Kungsholm restaurants is also a part of the province meeting.

PEP BAND GETS NEW UNIFORMS TO MAKE TRIP

Clad in their new chartreuse and blue vests, black hats, and red ties, The Stout Institute German Band invaded Milwaukee and Whitewater last weekend. It was the first time this season that the group toured to out-of-town games.

Competition was all over the place for the band as well as the basketball team. Milwaukee State's Pep Band was present with an expected good variety of members, however the Whitewater group was all but overwhelming with its thrilling rendition of Tiger Rag.

Nevertheless Heinz's Boys retaliated with a selection of "Schmalzed" up Waltzes and Polkas to defend the old college spirit of "Never Say Die!"

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Are you one of those people who save a space in the cafeteria line for a late friend? Or even worse, are you a tardy individual who expects to have such a place saved, so that you can eat before the other people who have been patiently waiting in line?

If eating a meal with certain friends is so terribly important to you, why not make arrangements with them which do not fringe upon the rights of others? Your friends should wait for you at the end of the line, or they should meet you at your table in the cafeteria. This is more considerate than having them crowd in at the middle of the cafeteria line.

Everybody must learn to take his turn and be patient, if he is to succeed in life. And as future teachers, we must learn to set a good example.

You may win one or two friends by saving them space in the cafeteria line; however, you will lose the respect and friendship of many other people. Let's be patient, wait our turn, and win friends by playing fair in the cafeteria line!

S. S. A. CANDIDATES; DEADLINE IS MARCH 5

M. A. P. HOLDS PARTY AT MR. ZIEMANN'S HOME

Mr. Ziemann's home was the scene of gaiety on Saturday evening, February 13, as the Manual Arts Players got together for an evening of food and fun.

Beginning with an 8:00 dinner prepared and served by the members themselves, it ended with entertainment and games. All agreed that it was certainly a lovely way to spend an evening.

SUGGESTION TO STUDENTS

RABBI WILL SPEAK AT CONVOCATION

As a feature of American Brotherhood week, The Stout Institute at its Wednesday morning convocation, February 24, will present to its students and faculty Rabbi Steven S. Schwarzschild, outstanding Jewish leader and expert in inter-religious and inter-racial tolerance.

The speaker is an author of numerous scientific and popular articles which have appeared in magazines and newspapers of Britain, Germany, and the United States. He is a graduate of City College in New York and Jewish Theological Seminary. Word has been received from a very distinguished alumnus, namely Clyde A. Bowman, who was the Dean of Industrial Arts here for many years. He and Mrs. Bowman are enjoying warm weather and sunshine in sunny California. They were in Wisconsin between September 21 and October 21 to visit their daughters and friends. They spent two days in Menomoneie and were thrilled to see our new library. They also visited a few of their old acquaintances. Their address is: 542 Catalina Drive, Newport Beach, California.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

The custom of celebrating the anniversary of the birth of George Washington was of slow growth. The first observance outside of his own family's celebration, of any record, occurred at Valley Forge in the winter 1778 when a military band marched to his headquarters and serenaded the commander. It was many years before the adoption of February 22 as the general date of observance.

Of special interest to college students are facts about the social life of Washington. Because Virginia was characterized by the plantation system, two forms of social activities developed. One was the house party. Sometimes one entire family would travel many miles to stay a week with friends. When they would return to their home, their hosts would accompany them to spend a week with them. The second form of social life was called the club. At all cross-roads and court houses there sprang up taverns where the men of the neighborhood would gather to spend their evenings. Into this life Washington entered eagerly.

In the capitol city it was President Washington's custom to give a public dinner once a week "to as many as my table will hold." His weekly dining day for company was Thursday, and his dining hour was always four o'clock in the afternoon. It is recorded that late in life Washington complained that his home had become a popular tavern. (not the kind you're thinking of)

These social customs of Washington illustrate the fact that the first president of the United States was preeminently social.

M. A. P. GETS PRINT IN 1953 PLAYBILL

Congratulations to the Manual Arts Players for the picture and article in the 1953 Playbill, National Magazine of the Alpha Psi Omega. The picture is a scene from "The Admirable Chrichton" which was presented last year along with a paragraph telling about Stout's Chapter and its activities.

F. O. B. MAKES PLANS FOR STUNT NIGHT

Plans for the annual Stout Stunt Night are being made by the FOB fraternity. Dick Rowe and Ken Pietenpol are the co-chairmen of the event which will be held on Saturday, March 27 at 8:00 p.m. in the Stout auditorium. Approximately ten acts will be given by various organizations on the campus. There will be a time limit set for each act, and if a stunt runs overtime, the judges will take it into consideration when making the final decision. The judges will be Menomoneie citizens.

Stunt night is for all Stout students. If you have any ideas, let your organization know and help make stunt night a successful event. Don't forget the date now, Saturday, March 27.

WESLEY, CONGO, L.S.A. HAVE JOINT MEETING

ALUMNI GROUP SENDS GIFT FOR NEW BOOKS

Appreciation to the Detroit Alumnae Chapter of The Stout Institute for its recent gift of $50, designated for the purchase of needed home economics books for Stout's new library, has been expressed this week by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics and by all faculty members of the division.

According to Dean Kirk, a careful selection of appropriate volumes will soon be made. Each book will contain an appropriate inscription naming the Alumnae group and the set of volumes will then be entered in a special section of the new college library.

Dean Kirk said: "We of the home economics division and of the whole college, want the Detroit chapter to know that we truly appreciate their gift and will put the money to the very best possible use."

Gifts such as that of our Detroit graduates make possible the 'specials' which mean so much to a college and its students. Such donations permit us to feature books or unique equipment which we otherwise might not feel able to purchase. Our Detroit friends have certainly set a splendid example of the thoughtful worth while gifts."

DEVILS DROP TWO GAMES LAST WEEKEND

Bluedevils dropped two on Weekend road trip, Milwaukee 96-74 and Whitewater 69-63.

Whitewater State nips Stout 69-63. The Bluedevils are now in a three way tie for the cellar with Whitewater and Superior.

The game was played on even terms except for a second quarter spurt paced by Clayton Jackson, a hot shooting State guard who hit for 21.

Stout was playing without the services of spark plug Jim Dailey who turned his ankle in the Milwaukee game which was the other half of a two game road trip. That game was dropped by a score of 96-74.

STOUT'S MOST FASHIONABLE AT DANCE

GOOD MATCHES MADE DURING LAST WEEK

In an atmosphere of dogpatch country, Marilyn Randall reigned as Pig-tail Princess over the annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. Carole Tickler and Lyle Anderson received lovin' cups as the best dressed couple of Stout-patch. The prize for the best dressed guy and the best dressed girl went to Jim Warnecke and Evelyn Rosentiel.

Sadie Hawkins Week was a huge success. It began with a candy sale on Monday. On Wednesday, a Valentine Tea was held in the Harvey Memorial. During the week the Daisy Maes were seen taking their Lil' Abners out walking, to the movies, and a few of the gals even took the guys on a picnic.

Everyone had a wonderful time during the week and many of the students, especially the fellows, wish that Sadie Hawkins Week would come around more often.

NEW LIGHTS IN THE NEW LIBRARY

ACHIEF ELECTRICIAN and Inky Mense are installing the newest types of lights in the new library which is nearing completion

LIBRARY GETS FINISHING TOUCHES

Students of The Stout Institute won't be "in the dark" when they begin their studies in the new college library, now nearing completion. The newest types of lighting equipment have been installed to make the new building as efficiently lighted as any modern library in the nation.

Over ten miles of small lighting and control wire went into the system which carries electricity to more than 18,000 electrical fixtures. An additional 4000 feet of heavy feeder wire conducts the current into the building.

The most up-to-date methods of lighting design have been employed throughout the new library. Over 44 feet of the new type, Daybright slim-line fluorescent tubes provide an estimated illumination of over 60 candle power per square foot in the main reading room. These lights start instantaneously when the switch is turned on, differing from the types which require time for warm-up.

These fluorescent lights are set flush with the ceiling, an arrangement which completely eliminates shadows and provides a softer light that is easy on the eyes. Nearly the entire north wall of the main study room is window area, making that area a bright place for reading.

Two distinctive types of fixtures can be found in the audio-visual room. Both are modern in appearance, and reduce glare through semi-indirect lighting, thus illuminating the room evenly and efficiently.

The lobby directly inside the main entrance of the building is equipped with symmetrically arranged fluorescent lights, recessed into the ceiling in the same manner as those in the reading room. This is a strikingly new idea in lighting arrangement. Fluorescent fixtures of this type are also used in the magazine room and corridors.

Globe type bulbs, over 300 of which are used above the bookstacks alone, are enclosed in Holograph glass fixtures that diffuse the light with maximum effectiveness.

Six complex distribution panels control the elaborate lighting system in the new structure. An emergency lighting system has also been installed. The latter is an arrangement of lights distributed throughout the building, providing ample light for easy exit from any place in the library in the event of a failure of the main network.

Light switches are conveniently located, and numerous outlets have been provided to furnish easily accessible electric power to meet all possible future needs. Good planning, coupled with the most advanced developments in lighting know-how, have resulted in a new Stout library that is lighted to perfection.

WORLD UNIVERSITY FUND DRIVE NETS $60

Over $60 was collected for the World University Service Fund at a student assembly on Wednesday, February 17.

The World University Service Fund drive, sponsored on this campus by the Y.W.C.A., took place last week. Two movies were shown at a student assembly, and a free-will offering was taken.

Working with the Y were Marcos Argudo, a special student from Ecuador, who introduced the films, and S.C.F. who helped with the planning and execution of the drive.

Mr. Rao, a college professor from India who recently visited our campus, is a representative of the World University Service in this area. As he explained, the money and material collected for the fund will go to aid University students the world over.

DEAN PRICE IS ADVISOR TO COMMITTEE

Serving on the state planning committee of the Fourth Wisconsin Ecumenical Conference for College Students, to be held March 5-7 at Stevens Point State college, will be M. M. Price, dean of men at The Stout Institute. He is a faculty adviser to the planning group.

The Ecumenical conference, held annually, draws together students from various Christian groups and colleges throughout the state for a weekend of study, discussion and worship.

The theme of this year's conference is "Believing Ecumenically: The Basis of Christian Community." The theme will be approached through study and discussion of the basic Christian beliefs about God, Christ, and Men.

Dr. Joseph Sittler Jr., professor of Systematic Theology at Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary, will be the main speaker for the conference. He was a delegate to the Ecumenical Conference in Faith and Order in Lund, Sweden, in 1952 and in August, 1954, he will be a delegate to the World Council of Churches Assembly in Evanston, Illinois. He will address the Ecumenical Conference on "The Nature of God," "The Nature of Christ," and "The Nature of Man."

The book "God, Jesus, Man," by Horton, Lyman and Calhoun will be studied during the conference to give those participating a background for an Ecumenical faith.

A planning committee composed of students and staff representing various colleges and Christian denominations has been working since May, 1953, on this fourth annual conference.

STOUT WILL REPRESENT PAKISTAN AT U. N.

"M" DAY WILL BE BIG EVENT ON CAMPUS

Plans are in full swing for "M" day. Yes, in the near future all students will be excused from classes for a day to help move books to the new library. Key personnel who will help direct all the book traffic, and will take care that the books remain in their proper order, are being assigned duties. Plans are changing into reality as the day draws nearer.

SCHEDULE BOARD FOR I. E. IS COMPLETED

A schedule board for orientating Industrial Education courses at The Stout Institute has recently been completed for use by the Dean of Industrial Education, John A. Jarvis.

The board, which has a space for each classroom and each instructor for every hour of the day every quarter of the school year, was completed through the cooperation of Herbert A. Anderson, Dick G. Klatt, and George A. Soderberg.

The schedule board will save many hours of work writing, erasing, and rewriting to get the Industrial Education classes properly organized each year.

When asked if the board simplified the task of arranging courses for the many different classrooms, Dean Jarvis stated that although it did cut scheduling time, it did not eliminate the human element of error.

Lloyd Wydotzki, upon seeing the schedule board for the first time wondered if the board could be used as a railroad marshaling board to get trains through a complicated system of rails into a crowded railroad station. Perhaps it has certain possibilities.

PLEDGE WEEK BRINGS SPECIAL FEATURES

Bizarre costumes, pledge pins, hair ribbons, a stocking sale and a Sardine Party are some of the outstanding features of The Stout Institute's pledge week, which started on February 25 and continues until March 4. The four fraternities and four sororities have special duties and events planned for their pledges.

Each of the fraternities' pledges are easily recognized by their traditionally colorful costumes. Black derbys, white tee shirts with black bow ties mark the F.O.B. pledges. The Phi Sig pledges are wearing straw hats, white shirts with red bow ties and are carrying canes. Pledges for Sig Tau fraternity have donned blue and white helmets and shields. They also carry swords. The Delta Kappa's can be identified by their red fezzes and sashes.

The sorority pledges aren't as conspicuous as the fraternity pledges. All sorority pledges wear pledge pins of the sorority for which they are pledging.

The Hyperians' pledges are required to wear a black and yellow hair ribbon at all times. The Tri Sigmas wear a white and purple ribbon with their pins. They also have to earn one hundred points by doing certain duties. One of these duties is to sell several pairs of nylon stockings. The Alpha Sigma Alpha's wear red and white ribbons with their pledge pins for three days. The P A sorority had a Sardine Party on February 25 for their new pledges.

For the fraternities, Pledge week is known as "Hell Week", whereas it is called "Helpful Week" by the sororities.

BAND PRESENTS LAST LYCEUM MARCH 5

Where will they all go? How are all of them going to get on the stage at once? Is it big enough? Are they really coming here? These are a few of the questions which are being asked about a approaching lyceum.

The ninety member concert band of the University of Minnesota will present the last lyceum number of the year on March 5, at 8:00 p.m.

For twenty years the band, under the direction of Dr. Gerald R. Prescott, has been noted all over the United States for its enjoyable concerts. Every type of band music including many original and special arrangements are played by the group.

PREVIEWS WILL SHOW FAMILY PROBLEMS

Teachers, program chairmen of service clubs, PTA representatives, ministers, youth organization member and similar interested individuals in this area are being invited to preview two groups of films Thursday, March 11 on the Stout Institute campus.

Presented by the audio-visual center of Stout, the two sets of films will be shown at 4 p.m. in room 29 of Harvey Hall on the dates designated. Showings are open to the public free of charge.

Both groups of films deal with "Marriage and the Family." The March 4 set will consist of "Farewell to Childhood" and "Why Won't Tommy Eat?" The two films have a total running time of 42 minutes.

"Farewell to Childhood" describes the problems of a teenager who wants the privileges and independence of adulthood but fears the responsibility of adulthood. Also depicted are the parents' early frustrations in dealing with the teen-ager and their eventual understanding of adolescent problems. "Why Won't Tommy Eat?" traces common causes of a child's poor appetite. Possible emotional as well as physical difficulties are described.

On Thursday, March 11, at 4 p.m. three other films totaling 48 minutes running time, will be previewed for the public. "Boy in Court" shows in detail the procedure of a juvenile court and techniques of probation.

"How Do You Know It's Love?" depicts the proper place of physical attraction in the over-all consideration leading to a happy marriage. The film sets forth certain criteria for determining the maturity of love and describes the various stages typical of adult affection. "Retire to Life," produced under the direction of a psychiatric consultant, gives a positive approach to adjustments arising when an active person retires from his life's work.

Showing the films and emphasizing some of their highlights will be Raymond L. Cornwell of Stout's audio-visual center. He will also help interested persons arrange for showings of the films at forthcoming meetings.

L. S. A. WILL MEET AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

Sunday evening, February 28, 1954, L. S. A. will meet at Peace Lutheran Church at 5:30.

For our program there will be "Ecumenical Conference and Part of L. S. A." The program is to emphasize the fourth coming 4th Annual Wisconsin Ecumenical Conference which is being held March 5-6-7 at Stevens Point College. There will be students of all denominations participating. The main speaker will be Joseph Sittler, who is Professor of Systematic Theology at Chicago Theological Seminary.

All L. S. A. members are urged to attend this interesting meeting, Sunday, February 28, at Peace Lutheran Church.

RABBI SCHWARZSCHILD TALKED AT CONVO

Rabbi Steven S. Schwarzschild a Jewish leader from Fargo, North Dakota, gave an interesting talk on Brotherhood Week at the Wednesday convocation.

He stated that no group can survive if it is divided by hatred, either of race, creed or color. The object of Brotherhood Week is to emphasize this fact, and to bring mankind closer together through tolerance of all points of view.

Rabbi Stevenson said that, "human beings should learn to recognize the fact that they are not God." He also stated that we should learn to respect the rights of others and their opinions and beliefs even though they may be wrong.

He concluded by telling a story about a pile of bricks which had been used by different churches. When it came time to dispose of them they should be divided so to how they should be disposed of. The bricks were left in the pile until God would determine their destination. The Rabbi said, "Don't take bricks of human errors and throw them away." Search for the truth for which they stand."

F. O. B. PLAN BIGGER, BETTER SKIT NIGHT

Come one, come all to the F.O.B.'s skit night. The F.O.B. pledges will put on their skit at 8:00 p.m. in the union on Monday evening. The skit will last for approximately forty-five minutes and should be loaded with laughs and fun. If you plan to attend, come early so you can get a front seat. This skit promises to be better than anything the Phi Sigma Epsilon pledges may present. Don't forget now. See you all at the skit.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS

At the February 15 meeting of the Governing Board the following problems were brought up:

1. Students living at Stout Court cannot park in front of their homes due to a new city ordinance that has just been passed to relieve congestion in the downtown area of Menomonie. The students affected are sending a delegation to the next City Council meeting, which will be held Monday, February 22. The purpose of the delegation is to have the ordinance modified.

2. The idea of student mail boxes was again brought up. It has been suggested that each student should have a private mailbox at Stout, and all notices from the school and the S.S.A. will be put in those boxes. Organizations will have their own boxes, and the Stoutonia will be put in student mailboxes each week. It has been proposed that students should receive their personal mail this way too, but this idea is still open to argument.

HOME EC CLUB PICKS NOMINATING BODY

Election of a nominating committee was the main business at a meeting of the Home Economics Club Council on Monday, February 22, in Room 205. This committee, composed of members of each of the four classes, will nominate officers for the coming year. Joan Fairweather, Virginia Lathrop, Nancy Bargen, and Betty Fraley were elected to the committee.

Reports of the candy sale held February 18 and the style show to be held in the spring were also given.

HYPERIANS PLAN OLE HEIDELBERG TEA

Follow the crowd through the swinging doors to Ole Heidelberg tea. As you enter you will find a very informal atmosphere, created by the type of music provided, the checked gingham tablecloths, the quaint old candles, and the waitresses in their peasant skirts and blouses. Instead of ordering tea or coffee, your choice will be either gingerale or rootbeer.

The idea for the Ole Heidelberg Tea originated in Germany where the first Inn of that name began. The Inn has gained much fame and recognition and several replicas of it have been erected in this country; one of the best known is at Chicago. The tea held at Stout which will be sponsored by the Hyperian sorority, will be held Wednesday, March 3, from 3:30 to 5:30 in the Harvey Memorial.

PROM COMMITTEES HAVE BEEN APPOINTED

May Day this year marks the date of the 1954 Junior Prom. Committees have been appointed by the junior class president, George Fink, and these committees are formulating plans to make this year's prom an unforgettable one.

Working under decorations chairman Bill Wagner are the sub-committees; program decoration with Darlene Neas and Dorothy Brownell in charge, and lighting with Ed Triack in charge.

Other chairmen are as follows: Theme, Kay Wedin and Diane Klemmer; Publicity, Dick Kadant; Tickets, Doc Wamsinski; Social, Mary Gehler and Delores Sauey; Punch, Deanne Krueger and Ann Switzenberg and clean up, Mary Lou Anderson.

TRI SIGMA PLEDGES PROSPECTIVE MEMBERS

Pledging ceremonies for six girls was held by the Tri Sigma sorority, Thursday evening, at the home of Jeanette Oetting.

Refreshments were served and to complete the evening the sorority serenaded the dorms and officially introduced the new pledges to the freshman boys and girls.

M.A.P. FRAT HISTORY

In 1935 Leon Lassers organized a group of people interested in acting, and called it the Manual Arts Players. Through the years this group presented plays, skits, and other dramatic works.

At the same time, there was on the campus, another group called the Alpha Psi Omega. This was a national honor society for those doing good work in dramatics. Stout is one of the few technical schools that has a national dramatics fraternity. These two groups worked side by side until 1942, when the great number of men drafted made it advisable for the two organizations to merge into one. This new group was called the Manual Arts Players, a chapter of Alpha Psi Omega. Here is an excerpt taken from the December 4, 1942 issue of the Stoutonia: The two dramatic organizations, Zeta Beta Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, and Manual Arts Players, like other groups at Stout have suffered loss of membership during the past year through enlistment and drafting of members. Activities and possibilities of dramatic function are thus limited. So to promote greater efficiency and strength, and to eliminate the competition for membership between national and local organizations, it was thought desirable to merge the local M.A.P., as it was known, and the local Zeta Beta Chapter of Alpha Psi Omega into one chapter of the national. Retention of a chapter of the National Dramatic Organization on this campus was considered of major importance. Stout is one of the few technical schools that has a chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, and therefore, the school gains publicity through this affiliation."

At present Manual Arts Players is recorded with seventeen members. As students earn points through working on plays, they are admitted into the organization. A point system is set up so that those having fifty points or more are under studies, and those having one hundred are eligible for initiation into the organization.

Two awards are made annually to two members whom the organization feels have given much for the benefit of the group. For a senior, his or her name is engraved on a plaque by the MAP bulletin board in Harvey Hall. For a freshman a presentation of $25.00 is made to that person for use in school expenses. "Kind Lady", "Admirable Critchton", and "Petticoat Fever" are some of the more recent plays that Stout students will remember seeing. "Petticoat Fever", produced last fall, was "major production" number 117 for the Manual Arts Players. Quite a record!

Students participating in MAP, the advisor, and the members will tell anyone that staging plays is no simple job. There's light planning to be done, props to be collected, costumes to be found or sewed, scenery to be built, and then of course, the many long hours of rehearsal. Besides these and other actors, there are many other students involved in a major production. To the audience the play is ended when the final curtain goes down. To the workers, the big job is just beginning. A play is never over until the stage is torn down, costumes and props returned, and everything is as it was before the play began. It sounds like work, doesn't it? It is, but there is the reward of a job well done, and to people with grease paint in their blood, that's the most important thing.

DETROIT GROUP HOLDS MONTHLY MEETINGS

The Detroit Stout Alumni women's group have been meeting each month during the present school year. On October 3 they met at the home of Orvetta Moltzou in Gross Point Park for a dessert luncheon. The November meeting was also a dessert luncheon and was held at Elaine Charlick's home in Dearborn. On January 16 they gathered at Frame's Restaurant in downtown Detroit for luncheon, and on February 13 the committee served luncheon at Helen Hoffman's home in North West Detroit.

They have had short business meetings each time and the remaining time was spent visiting and reminiscing over old times. Many times news of Alumni of other cities is exchanged at the meetings. The group feels that it is most pleasant to renew and keep alumni old friendships at their gatherings.

HOME EC CLUB HEARS FORMER STOUT STUDENT

At a meeting of the home economics club Monday night in Room 411, on a former student and instructor of The Stout Institute, Miss Henrietta Quilling of the Northern States Power Company told the members, "Home service as a career is a very interesting and well established one." Continuing, she spoke of the potentialities and satisfaction of a home service career. She told of actual and personal qualifications needed for women entering the field and how contacts with leaders in this business can be made.

In giving a sample demonstration on the rotisserie broiler and Duncan Hines Jet Coffee maker, she demonstrated techniques used in cooking school and demonstrations. With the inclusion of many amusing anecdotes about her home visits, Miss Quilling added entertainment to the information she offered. The result was one of the most interesting programs of the year.

Mary Detlor, president of the organization, presided at the meeting and called for reports from standing committee chairmen.

ELECTRICAL EQUIPMENT INSPECTED

Describing the operation of a photo electric eye which automatically regulates the amount of artificial illumination in the physics laboratory is C. L. Rich, associate professor of science and mathematics here. Students in the department installed it as part of the "learning by doing" philosophy of the department.

Operating a newly-purchased electrical rectifier in the electronics laboratories is Philip W. Ruehl, assistant professor of industrial education, who explains the operating procedures to Mike Manganian, student from Racine, and Roger Lowney, Superior. Two rectifiers, a tesla coil, and an electric eye have recently been installed in the physics department.

PHYSICS CLASS INSTALLS ELECTRIC EYE

When students in physics classes at The Stout Institute seek "a little light on the subject" they don't have to exert themselves a bit. And they don't even need the services of C.L. Rich, their instructor.

No, a few ingenious members of Stout's Physics IV class have saved wear-and-tear on themselves and their teacher by installing an "electric eye" which turns classroom lights on or off depending on the amount of light needed in the room.

The electric eye, technically known as a photo electric cell, is but one of the electrical devices recently placed in operation by Stout students as part of the "learning by doing" method stressed by the college physics department. Also in operation is a Tesla coil, used for high voltage electrical demonstrations in the classes of Philip W. Ruehl, teacher of electricity, electronics, radio, and television at the college.

The electric eye is affected by the amount of natural daylight which reflects upon it, regulating in turn the flow of current to relays which switch classroom lights on and off. On a day which is overcast, the electric eye automatically provides proper classroom illumination. Should the day become brighter, the photo electric cell turns off the lights. A master switch discontinues the eye's activities when classes are over each day.

Professor Ruehl's Tesla coil trans-

INDUSTRIAL ED. CURRICULUM CHANGED

Approval of a change in the industrial education curriculum of Stout Institute has been obtained from the Curriculum committee of the college. Technical and academic course requirements will not be affected.

The change involves the shifting about of education and industrial education courses in the industrial education sequence. Aim of the new placing of courses is to improve the sequence of such courses.

Important among the changes is the increase in requirements of industrial education practice teaching above the present four credits. This action is designed to prepare Stout graduates to meet certification requirements for industrial education teachers which have now been set up by several state departments of education.

The new practice teaching requirements for Stout's industrial education teaching candidates are designed not only to permit graduates to meet present requirements for such teachers, but even to comply with anticipated increases in the practice teaching requirements of several states.

MINNESOTA U TO PRESENT BAND CONCERT

The University of Minnesota Concert Band will arrive in Menomoneie today to give a concert at 8:00 p.m. The band's appearance here is the only major off-campus concert which it will present this season.

Late in the afternoon, the 80 piece group will rumble into town in two large passenger buses and a baggage truck. Immediately, the activity of unloading and setting up the concert equipment will begin. All phases of the operation have been carefully planned in order that everything will be in readiness for certain time. The entire group will be served a light meal at the Stout cafeteria at 6:15.

The University concert band is made up of the most competent performers selected by the try-out system from among a student body of approximately 18,000. Those chosen have had several years of experience in high school and concert bands of their communities.

Students who survive the try-outs which are conducted personally by Gerald R. Prescott, director of bands, are placed in one of two units. First in rank of these is the concert band, made up of the more experienced performers. Students less advanced in musical proficiency are placed in the Varsity band, a secondary organization whose membership is also about 80. As Varsity bandmen become more accomplished, they are advanced to chairs in the concert band.

Most people not closely connected with the University of Minnesota campus associate the band with football games, where they remember having seen the colorful shows staged by the fast-stepping musicians between halves. It is true that football appearances make up a great part of the band's schedule during the fall quarter, but these performances are only a part of the yearly program.

Among the highlights of the year are the concerts given each quarter in Northrop Auditorium by the concert band. From time to time during the year, afternoon concerts are presented over the University radio station.

Dr. Gerald R. Prescott, Director of Bands, has devoted a lifetime to the advancement of music education and to the development of the bands. His activities have carried him into almost every state of the nation as adjudicator, music clinician, guest conductor and lecturer.

He came to the University in 1932 and has served there continuously as Director of Bands except for a three-year period during World War II. At that time he served as a music officer with the United States Army.

RECEIVES KEYS TO THE NEW LIBRARY

Nels Johnson, Winona construction firm president, is shown (r.) as he gives to president Fryklund the keys to the new library, which has now been released to the college as ready for occupancy. Watching is Miss Lillian M. Froggatt, head librarian at Stout. Books will be moved next week by students of Stout, who will transfer the volumes from the old library to the new, and then will participate in an all-college jamboree of skits, refreshments and a dance.

ALL STUDENTS WILL BE WORKING BY SYSTEM

DR. J. E. RAY IS AUTHOR OF TEXTBOOK

Author of a new textbook of architectural drafting, just off the presses of the McKnight and McKnight publishing company, is Dr. J. Edgar Ray, professor of industrial education and chairman of the department of drafting at Stout Institute. Foreward for the book was written by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college.

The new volume is entitled "Graphic Architectural Drafting" and has been chosen as the text for Stout classes in architectural drafting. "The Art of Bricklaying," a volume published by Dr. Ray in 1950, is used by bricklaying classes at the college.

Dr. Ray's new architectural drafting text is designed for the draftsman, builder, and layman. It contains 29 chapters on all phases of architectural drafting and is profusely illustrated with 173 drawings in the form of sketches, isometrics, perspectives, and working drawings. A number of photographs is included.

Often considered to be "the only bricklayer in the United States with a doctor's degree," Professor Ray maintains his status as a union bricklayer when his Stout Institute classes are not in session. Both his drafting skill and ability in bricklaying are frequently employed by residents of the community, providing Dr. Ray with the enviable combination of actually doing what he is teaching -- and also getting paid for it.

The college catalog lists Professor Ray as a member of The Stout Institute faculty since 1930. However, his association with Stout is actually older -- and more interesting -- than that. He first came into contact with the unique college of vocational specialties as a bricklayer helping construct the Menomoneie postoffice.

Urged by Stout's first president L. D. Harvey, to continue college training, Professor Ray received his Bachelor of Science from Stout in 1922. He had earned part of his college expenses by teaching bricklaying, mechanical drafting and architectural drafting while attending Stout and taking summer courses at the University of Wisconsin. Among his early students was a "Verne C. Fryklund," present president of Stout and now Dr. Ray's boss.

Although busy with teaching and working at his bricklaying trade, Professor Ray received his master's degree from Iowa State college in 1930.

Willis Capps Has Appointed Students To Be In Charge Of Operations On "M" Day

On Monday, March 1, a group of students appointed by the Student Governing Board to be in charge of the moving day practiced a "trial run" to iron out any problems that might appear, and to get practiced experience for "M" day.

Willis Capps has assigned students to be in charge of the various operations involved in moving. Lawrence Smith, Joe Leutkemeyer, Bill Rahl, Oliver Agerlie, and Vincent Volck will be chairmen of the crews which shelve books as they are received in the new library. In the old building Roy Willmarth, Jerry Sommers, and Roger Hanson will lead the crews taking the books off the shelves and giving them to the carriers on the main line. Acting as coordinators between the buildings will be Joe Stebly, Avis Rescenberg, Carol Bredlow, Marilyn Eckstein and Donna Anderson. Delores Sauey and Jeanette Oetting will serve as assistant checkers of the lines, watching for any arranging problems during the moving.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served to the students during the day. Mary Detlor and Carol Schilstra are chairmen of the refreshment committee.

Mr. Ruehl and the departments of electricity will string lines for a temporary telephone system between the two libraries to coordinate the movements between them. The maintenance departments with Mr. Roen in charge, had the job of cleaning the new library after the state turned it over to Stout on Saturday.

Jo Fritz and Dr. Agnew are in charge of the entertainment for the evening of "M" day. Twenty five one dollar prizes will be given at the party.

A SCENE FROM A MODERN LIBRARY

Edna Gaffron is shown viewing the textbook section of the new library. There book shelves are located on first and second floors.

BOOK SECTION IS VERY EXTENSIVE

What's the "best-stacked" thing in Menomonie? Well, whether you think so or not, it's the new library of The Stout Institute, well stacked with space for 107,000 volumes.

Now, 107,000 books may sound like a terrific number, but the two tiers of the new library, together with the library's textbook section, will comfortably house that number.

Shelving at the new library is divided into tiers, each one containing space for 40,000 volumes. The textbook library has facilities for an additional 27,000.

The metal stacks, about seven feet high, are light green in color and have been manufactured by the Virginia Metal Products Corporation of Orange, Virginia.

Located on the first floor of the library will be about fourteen stack rows, containing 350 stacks. On the second floor are 310 stacks. Second floor stacks are unusual in installation, for they hang from hooks attached to a metal ceiling.

Within the stacks will be "carrels" or study nooks. These are designed principally for the use of advanced and graduate students, as well as for the faculty.

Completion of the shelving facilities at the new library will give The Stout Institute, ample room for the safe, convenient housing of its present library contents, plus necessary shelving areas for the future.

LECTURE WILL REPRESENT GERMANY

Peter von Zahn, Washington D. C., representative of Germany's largest radio network, will be heard at the March 10 convocation. Mr. von Zahn, who reports on American affairs regularly to five million listeners, will speak on "What You Can Expect From Germany." His topic will be developed out of more than ten years experience as a war correspondent and radio commentator.

Born in Germany, von Zahn studied in several of the leading universities in Germany and Austria, receiving a Ph. D. from the University of Freiburg. He was called into service with the German army and sent to Russia as war correspondent. In this capacity, he had the opportunity of studying the language and the peoples of Russia and the Ukraine.

The end of the war found von Zahn with a German army on the Baltic Sea Coast. The unit was surrounded by Russian troops. Von Zahn managed to escape being captured, found his way to a British army, and turned himself over as a prisoner. At the request of British officers, he had converted the Radio of Military Government into a German network. Since 1945, he has broadcast regularly to the peoples of Western Germany. His programs are also heard by many listeners in the Soviet Zone.

Von Zahn came to the United States to assist in the study of American rearmament and troop training. He has remained here in order to relay to Germany his observations of the American scene.

His lecture is part of a tour of the Upper Midwest arranged by the Concert, Theatre and Lecture Service of the University of Minnesota, under the auspices of our own assembly and Lyceum Committee.

SUPERIOR WINS LAST GAME FROM DEVILS

The Bluedevils dropped the last two games of the season. Saturday night was a close one, with a loss to Superior with a 76-73 final, and Monday brought a 95-76 reading after a fast high scoring tilt to LaCrosse, whom the Bluedevils trounced in their first meeting 95-90.

Stout led throughout the first two periods in the Superior tilt with a three point lead at half time. The second half saw this lead diminish, but the determined Bluedevils tied the score eleven times in the last two periods, to keep the stand in hope.

High scorer for Stout was Tom Stewart with 21, Roger Lowney was second high with 17.

The score after the first quarter was 15-17 in favor of Stout, and at the half it was 38-37, with Stout trailing by one. The Yellowjackets increased this lead to four at the third quarter 58-62.

The Bluedevils outscored Superior in the final cante 14-15 but were unable to erase their lead; the final score 76-73.

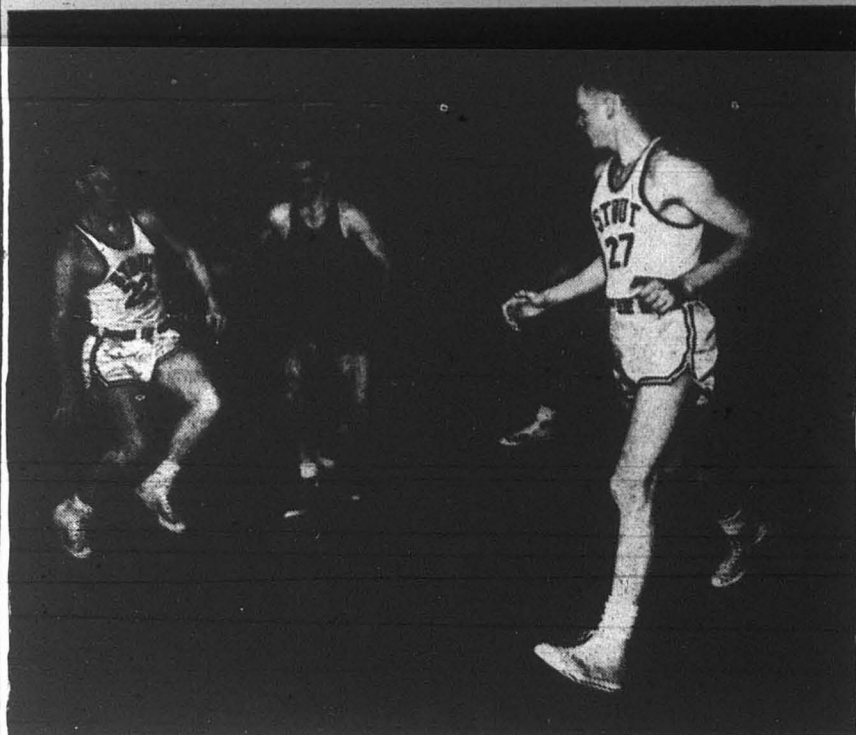

The final game of the season was played against a speedy quint who set whirlwind pace from the opening gun to the finish.

The Bluedevils had very even scoring as Charles Schmitz, Roger Lowney and Tom Stewart all hit for 17 points.

This even scoring kept the Stout five in the game until midway in the third period when the LaCrosse Indians went ahead by ten, and stayed there.

The first quarter score was 14-32, with Stout trailing, then mid-way in the second period with Duke Severson and Charles Schmidz hitting, Stout tied the ball-game 34 all, only to drop back again trailing 37-46 at the half.

The last two periods saw the five Indians get on their horse with a terrific drive to win going away 76-95.

The Stout team has compiled a record of 5 wins and 14 losses throughout the year. That's over twice as many wins as last years team. (Record last year stands at 2 and 17.)

and his doctorate from New York university in 1944. He is a member of Epsilon Pi Tau, national honorary fraternity in industrial education, and Phi Delta Kappa, honorary education organization.

In addition to such major projects as teaching, bricklaying and writing textbooks, Dr. Ray has what he calls "spare time" hobbies. Outdoors, he likes swimming, skating, hunting, fishing, boating, camping and exploring lakes with a motorboat. Indoors he devotes himself to photography, architectural model making, and masonry building. "Plus," he says, "being a devoted grandfather to my two lovely granddaughters."

HELL WEEK OVER FOR PHI SIG PLEDGES

Pledge week (Hell Week) for eleven prospective members of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity ended last night (March 4) with an informal initiation conducted by the regular members of the organization.

Highlighting the week of activities was the P. S. E. Skit night presented in the student Union Tuesday evening, which, much to the dismay of the F. O. B. proved to be very interesting and entertaining.

CANDYMEN WIN INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

The Sig Tau's are the new intramural champs. They gained their crown by upending the F O B's defending champs 41-38. The Candyman made a fast start as they led 8-0 before the F O B's got going.

Carl Spinti was the spark plug for the Sig Tau's as he scored 12 points. Larry Smith was just behind, with 11. High man for the FOB's was Wayne Pluckan who hit for 11.

Led by Al Harri and Jerry Loushin the F O B's threatened to pull the game out with a last minute spurt, but it fell short making the Sig Tau's the new champs and ending two years of F O B domination of intramural basketball.

TRY OUT FOR GOOD NUTRITION CONTEST

Could you select a prize-winning meal? If you know how to meet adequate nutritional requirement perhaps you could. If not, watch for posters soon to be displayed in Harvey Hall near the cafeteria, and look for the article in the Stoutonia next week which will tell you how to win a prize in this way. In connection with good nutrition week, the Dietetics Club will sponsor a contest in the cafeteria. Anyone eating in the cafeteria, except Dietetic Club members, will be eligible for the contest.

ART CLASS WORKS ON PERSPECTIVE DRAWINGS

What are you doing? Where'd you get the bread boards? It doesn't look like that! Here, let me show you how to do that! were some of the comments heard in the corridors in Harvey Hall last week.

In answer to these questions, the Fund. Des. students, taught by Miss Thvedt, were attempting to draw objects and rooms in perspective—having depth. Rooms being drawn were the school corridors, kitchens, Harvey Memorial, or rooms and hallways at the dorms.

Soon these perspective drawings will be on display where everyone can view the student's efforts at bringing depth and realism to rooms.

COLOR PHOTOS TO PROMOTE STOUT

Latest of Stout Institute's promotional equipment is a display of campus scenes in the so-called "Shopper Stopper," a continuous film strip which repeats a series of color photos in the type of projector frequently seen on merchandise counters.

The 18-scene display was planned, photographed in color, and produced by Lloyd Whydowski, head of the department of printing at Stout. Students of the college are shown in various campus settings, and the "double exposure" technique was used for imposing titles upon the photos.

Among the many Stout facilities depicted are those in metals, art, nursery school, drafting, driver training, woodworking, electronics, freshman dormitory birthday party, swimming class, and exteriors of college buildings are also included.

The film display is designed for publicizing Stout and its facilities at educational conventions, school visitations, and alumni meetings. Two showings of the display are already scheduled.

Robert Swanson, of the industrial division, will project the scenes during his visitation to the Superior schools this week. The Wisconsin Vocational meeting at Wausau, to be held soon, has also scheduled the films.

TWO CHOSEN TO JUDGE 4-H DRAMA CONTEST

Members of the speech department of The Stout Institute have been selected to judge entries in the 4-H dramatic contest, to be held in Menomonie's Tainter Memorial theatre on March 20, 27, and April 1. The contest is designed as an elimination competition for 4-H clubs in the area, permitting the winners in the state-wide contest.

Participating in the judging will be Norman Ziemann, head of the Stout speech department; Miss Marguerite Cain, instructor in the department, and Sam Mikitarian, advanced speech student. The judging schedule calls for Miss Cain to evaluate the March 20 competition; Mr. Ziemann, March 27 and Sam Mikitarian, April 1.

Participating in the competition will be 4-H clubs from a number of counties, and sectional winners will be decided in the Menomonie contests.

REGISTRATION FOR FALL TERM TO BEGIN SOON

Pre-registration for the fall term of 1954-55 will begin about April 15, announced John A. Jarvis, dean of industrial education. At this time, the juniors (next years seniors) will be the first to register, followed by the sophmores (next years juniors), and then freshmen (next years sophmores).

It is important that all men contact their advisors when dates are announced for the pre-registration and register at that time. Next fall the transfers will register with the freshmen. A later article will give the dates and additional information.

Everything Moved Fast After The Early Morning Convo With Coffee, Doughnuts, and Music

History was made on Stout Institute's "M" Day, Tuesday, March 9, when students and faculty joined forces to move nearly 40,000 volumes from Stout's obsolete library facilities to the spacious new college library building.

Beginning with a "kick-off," convocation at 8 a. m. in the college auditorium, all participants began the moving job with jest. To encourage the workers, a continuous lunch was served, a loudspeaker system serenaded the students with their favorite music during the trips to the new library, and an evening of entertainment was enjoyed by the entire college community.

President Fryklund, Dean Jarvis, and Willis Capps gave the instructions for moving the books at the morning convocation. The students left the auditorium in groups of about seventy five to avoid standing in line and rushing the newly trained student crew. President Fryklund and Dean Jarvis entertained the students who had to wait before leaving the auditorium.

During the morning and the afternoon, the refreshment committee served 2,640 doughnuts and about 2,600 cups of coffee.

After an hour of rest and some badly needed nourishment all participants met at 1:00 p. m. in the auditorium for an attendance check and more instructions. The spirit of the students was enlightened when President Fryklund announced that there would be twelve o'clock hours for everyone that evening.

The library moving crew started off once again with the desire and determination to see the job completed before the day was over. At four o'clock the big event happened, the last book was carried into the new library. The well organized plans had been completed successfully.

The reward for the day's hard work began with a grudge game between the faculty girls and the faculty men. It was a hilarious contest, which ended in a tie, with neither side making a basket. Everyone who saw it will remember the game as the most colorful in the history of the Stout Institute.

Following the game, 25 one dollar prizes were awarded. Tickets were drawn from the attendance boxes to determine the winners.

George Soderberg volunteered his orchestra for the dance which followed the faculty basketball game. Pop and potato chips were served to every one.

"M" will be remembered by many as the one day when the women of The Stout Institute wore jeans, when no one did any studying, when everyone was tired enough to be glad to go home and just do nothing after a days work, when no one cracked a book, and when the entire student body felt warm unity in doing a big job, and had a grand time doing it.

MINNESOTA CANCER BAND PERFORMS HERE

The Stout audience was given a rare treat last Friday night when the University of Minnesota Concert Band presented a program, which was the only one they gave off campus this year. Under the direction of Dr. Gerald Prescott and Mr. Gale Sperry, the band played twelve numbers.

Most of their selections are classical, but several of the pieces were new arrangements prepared especially for the concert band.

The ladies appeared in black evening dresses and the men wore dark blue uniforms which had gold trimmings on them. They were a fine looking group and displayed good stage manners.

A unique number which went over well with the audience was the "Thunderbird Overture" by Philip Lang. "Little March" by Grundman, when played, gave color to the band. A synopated piece, "French Military Marching Song" by Romberg and Pelouquin displayed tone, coloring, and shading.

The audience refused to leave until the band gave an encore. The band then closed the program playing one of their newest pieces, "Tamboo".

TWELVE STUDENTS ARE RUNNING FOR STUDENT BODY OFFICES

Posters, Pictures, and Signs are Appearing in the Buildings. Speeches will be Given Mar. 17

This year marks another landmark in the history of all school elections. The fact that 12 people are running for offices certainly proves that more and more students are becoming interested in the workings of the student body. Never before have such a large number of candidates been run. These candidates will give their campaign speeches Wednesday, March 17, and voting will take place in Harvey Hall Thursday, March 18. Campaigning will begin Saturday, March 13, and at that time all posters, pictures, and signs may be posted.

Two students, Jerome Sommers and Roger Hanson, are running for the office of president. Candidates for the office of vice-president are Wayne Pluckham, Carl Spinti, Joyce Faedrich, and Shirley Brask. For the office of secretary, we have Viola Wicken, Doris Wandrey, and Dolores Sauey. Jolene Chryst, Dick Kadotani, and Harry Krysiak are running for treasurer.

Jerome Sommers, hails from Milwaukee, where he attended Shorewood

High School. He has attended Stout for three years, serving in many capacities to the students. He was also very active in high school, and was recipient of the Danforth Scholarship. Some of the organizations to which Jerry belongs are: Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity, Epsilon Pi Tau, Arts and Crafts, Stout Symphonic Singers, Governing Board, and Inter-religious Council. Outside of school he belongs to the Lutheran Student Association, and 4-H. Jerry has held the following offices since coming to Stout: class treasurer for 2 years, L. S. A. treasurer, and S. S. A. treasurer.

Roger Hanson is the other candidate for the office of president. Roger is a junior at Stout, and comes from Wittenburg, Wisconsin. active in Congo Club, Eastern Star, and Job's Daughters.

Also running for vice-president is Joyce Fraedrich, from Weyauwega, Wisconsin. Joyce is a sophomore at Stout and is a member of the following organizations: Pallas Athene Sorority, Woman's Recreational Association, Home Economics Club, Lutheran Student Association, Band, and is an initiate into Phi Upsilon Omicron. She has held the office of vice-president of Tainter Annex, secretary treasurer of the Band, treasurer of W.R.A., and recreational leader of L.S.A. Outside of school, Joyce is one of our cheerleaders. In High School she held many offices, and was valedictorian of her class.

Candidates for the secretary's job are Viola Wicken, Doris Wandrey, and Delores Sauer. Viola Wicken comes from Rice Lake, Wisconsin, where she attended the Rice Lake High School. She is a sophomore at Stout. Viola is a member of the Home Economics Club and the Hyperion Sorority. She is secretary of Eichelberger Hall this year. Other organizations to which "Vi" belongs are Newman Club, and some work on Manual Arts Players productions.

Doris Wandrey hails from Wisconsin Rapids, Wisconsin, where she attended Lincoln High School. Doris is also a sophomore. She is a member of the Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority, W.Y.C.A. Doris is also a member of the Wesley Club. This year Doris is working at the dormitories. Delores Sauer is the third candidate for the office of secretary. She comes from Baraboo, Wisconsin, and attended Phillips High School. In high school she was secretary of the student council and her class. Delores is a junior at Stout this year, and is very active in many organizations. She is a member of the Student Governing Board, Pallas Athene sorority, Stout Symphonic Singers, Home Economics Club, and is a pledge to Phi Upsilon Omicron. She has been secretary for both her sophomore and junior class.

Joelene Chryst is a junior from Menomonie, who is running for the office of treasurer. She attended Menomonie High School. Joelene is also active on the Stout campus, and is a member of Stout Symphonic Singers, Phi Upsilon Omicron, Alpha Sigma Alpha, Home Economics Club, and the Student Governing Board. Joelene was Sophomore class vice-president, the vice-president of Phi Upsilon Omicron, treasurer of Symphonic Singers, and treasurer of Alpha Sigma Alpha. Joelene is also a member of Congo Club.

Richard Kadotani, from Lahaina, Maui, Hawaii, is also running for the office of treasurer. Dick is a junior at Stout, is a member of the following organizations: Epalon Pi Tau, treasurer of Sigma Tau Gamma, and treasurer of Arts and Crafts Club. Dick is also a member of the Boy Scouts of America.

Harry Krysiak, from Pulaski, Wisconsin, is also a candidate for the treasurer's office. Harry is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity, and is the Sergeant of Arms of that organization. Harry is also a member of Newman Club, and participates in intramural sports. In high school he was a member of the student council, and vice-president of his senior class.

When asked why they should serve the student body at Stout, the following students gave these replies:

Roger Hanson, candidate for president, "I feel that I am qualified for the office of president because a year ago I was elected by the student body to represent them on the Student Governing Board. Then this fall when the office of vice-president was left vacant because the former vice-president did not return, I was appointed to this position. I am well acquainted with the way our student government is operated and feel that I can handle the job." Wayne Pluckham, candidate for vice-president, "I have held high school offices in my class, in Arts and Crafts, and in the photo club. I've had a lot of work with groups."

Carl Spinti, candidate for vice-president, "In my two years at Stout I have attended most of the school functions. Because of my participation in the school functions I have a background of what is trying to be done in every activity. I know a lot of students from different groups, and the students know me. I feel I can represent the student body because of these reasons."

Joyce Fraedrich, candidate for vice-president, "The S.S.A. is representing the students as one large group when they represent them at the Student Governing Board. This means that a spokesman for the group such as this will have to be well acquainted with all phases, scholastic and social, of a student's day. Since the fall of 1952, I have participated in varied activities, which have given me the opportunity to meet students in their fields of interest, which are also mine. At the governing board meeting the representatives should be able to stand up and voice the opinion of the group which they are representing. In the offices that I have held in college and high school, I have had a chance to talk in front of people and also to carry organization's problems to our student board and help discuss them. From these standpoints plus the information on my qualifications, I feel that I am qualified to represent the student body in the S.S.A."

Viola Wicken, candidate for secretary "I have had experience as secretary of Eichelberger Hall. Also the fact that I am not in many extra activities enables me to devote more time to being a good S.S.A. officer." Doris Wandrey, candidate for secretary, "In the first place, if the Sigma, Sigma, Sigma Sorority have enough confidence in me, to put me up for secretary, I will try very hard to prove it to my sorority sisters plus college mates. I am qualified. I have had some experience working with a student governing board in high school. I found it pays to talk for the students not just for yourself. I am also a counselor at Tainter Hall, and am in contact with most of the freshman girls."

and I try to be with upper classmen as much as possible. As for secretary qualifications, I took the commercial course throughout high school, and planned to go into that kind of work until Stout changed my mind. I was a secretary and bookkeeper during the two summers, previous to coming to Stout. If I become a member of S.S.A. I know I will work my hardest for the students of Stout Institute, to make Stout "tops."

Richard Kadotani, candidate for treasurer, "This being my third year at the Stout Institute, I feel that I'm qualified to represent the student body on the governing board. I have made the acquaintance of many students in the three years, besides learning more about the college in general. By belonging to a number of different types of organizations, I have been able to mingle among the members of the student body and have some idea of their opinion concerning different matters."

Harry Krysiak, candidate for treasurer, "Our high school student council operated on practically the same principle the S.S.A. office runs, and since I have been active in the council in high school, and feel that I know some thing about it, I think I could carry out the duties of the officer satisfactorily."

SIGMA TAUS HOLD FORMAL INITIATION

Last evening, March 11, 1954, the pledges of the Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity were officially recognized as members at a formal initiation held at Jean's Steak House. This initiation climaxed two weeks of pledging for eight new members. These members are: Richard Dignan, Ed Griffith, Kazukiyo (Jiggs) Kuboyama, Larry Loveland, Reinhold Meisner, Richard Tokus, Jerry Still, and Bob Thomas.

During the past two weeks the former pledges have performed such duties as sentry duty in front of the Harvey Memorial, guard duty at the west door of Harvey Hall, collection of rose cards, the filling of water glasses in the cafeteria, and many others.

One of the outstanding nights which will be remembered by the pledges for a long time was the faculty dinner that was held on March 4th. This occasion occurs every semester and is looked forward to by both pledges and the women faculty members.

ANNUAL GRUDGE GAME WON BY FOB'S

Over 200 excited basketball (?) fans witnessed the annual grudge game between members of the rival Phi Sigma Epsilon (PSE) and Phi Omega Beta (FOB) fraternities in a game played in the high school gym on Wednesday, March 3.

Winning by a score of 67-44 in the final minutes (?) of a hard fought game, the FOB fraternity clinched a win from the game and stubborn Phi Sig team.

Highlights of the game took place center with Al "Always" Oaks (Foster got the jump) and Don "Wrong Basket" Wagner insisted on helping the FOB team by shooting at their basket. Fortunately, he hadn't practiced shooting at that basket at all.

Referees for the game were Big Bill Buckley and Ron Wilhelm of Marshfield, Wis., and Plano, Ill., respectively.

Mentor for the Phi Sig squad was Gino Casucci, formerly from Beloit, who will probably be asked to return to that city.

The victors were coached by Karl Turk, who up until late in the season coached the IronOreMiners of Aurora, Minnesota.

PETER VON ZAHN SPEAKS HERE ON GERMANY

Peter Von Zahn, Washington D. C. representative of Germany's largest radio network, spoke at the convocation Wednesday on "What You Can Expect from Germany."

Mr. Von Zahn stated that in East Germany a thousand refugees a day leave because of the general economic situation.

He gave several reasons why the recent treaty was not signed. First, the Russians expect the West allies to collapse. They think that if they leave the troops where they are they will be able to move further into Western Europe. Fear and fright are rated high among the feelings of the people.

Von Zahn believes that the only hope for all of western Europe is a unified Europe and that Germany is ready to become a part of this now. The British are suspicious of Germany and the French are even more suspicious. Russia has fifty per cent as much steel as the U.S. and Western Europe also has fifty per cent as much. When one keeps in mind that Russia uses steel primarily for war purposes, and not for pleasure as the United States does, one can readily see what will happen if western Europe and the U.S. are not unified.

ROSEMARY KELLEY IS TRI SIG PRESIDENT

The Beta Pi Chapter of Tri Sigma elected new officers for the coming year. Rosemary Kelley, Menomonie, Wisconsin, was elected president; Pat Ryan, Durand, Wisconsin, vice president; Ardelle Gossell, La Crosse, Wisconsin, Recording Secretary; Doris Curtiss, Arkansas, Wisconsin, Corresponding Secretary; Kay Yentz, Racine Wisconsin, Treasurer; and Jan Hornick, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Keeper of the grades.

The new officers will take over their duties after officers training school and installation ceremonies.

TAINTER ANNEX HOLDS PARTY FOR THE IRISH

Saturday, March 6 approximately sixty fellows and girls enjoyed the dorm party which was held at Tainter Annex.

During the evening, the students played games, sang songs, danced and played cards. The dorm was decorated in honor of the Irish. A green and white false ceiling, shamrocks, and even the blarney stone added to the theme.

Later in the evening ice cream and coke, and cake were served by the members of the refreshment committee. Those on the committee were Barbara Austin, chairman; Betty DeHann Barbara Sommerhalder, Carol Hahn, Ruth Tennyson, Sylvia Robinson, Audrey Grote, Harriet Hendrix, and Dorothy Disrud.

Members of the entertainment committee were: Lois Jessen, chairman; Del Medin, Connie Chellman, Lucille Anderson, Judy Benson, and Karen Jarlsberg.

The decorations committee which was headed by Lyn Bessler consisted of Aleen Shinabarger, Nancy Dexheimer, Judy La Duke, Katy Seal, Kay Kennedy, Lois Mallen, and Eileen Myrick.

PANHELLANIC COUNCIL CHANGES POLICY

Mary Ellen Kane, a junior from Seneca, Wisconsin, and a member of the Tri Sigma sorority, was elected, Thursday, March 4th as the delegate-at-large for the Panhellenic Council.

This year a new program is being instigated by the Panhellenic Council. Previously the president of the Panhellenic Council was the alternating president of the four member sororities. Starting this spring, the president will be the delegate at large chosen for the sorority whose turn it is to preside.

The Panhellenic Council feels that being president of a sorority and the president of Panhellenic Council is just to big a job for one person.

"M DAY" THE STOUT INSTITUTE

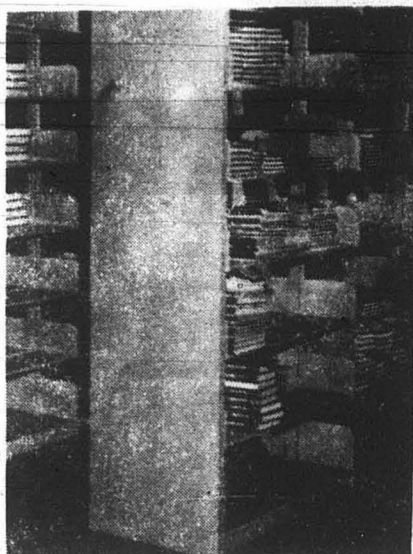

A solid line of students moves books to the new location two blocks away.

The books are handed out systematically

Everyone worked energetically. Here Miss Froggatt, President Fryklund, Mr. Elitman, and Bob Boldt bring in their loads.

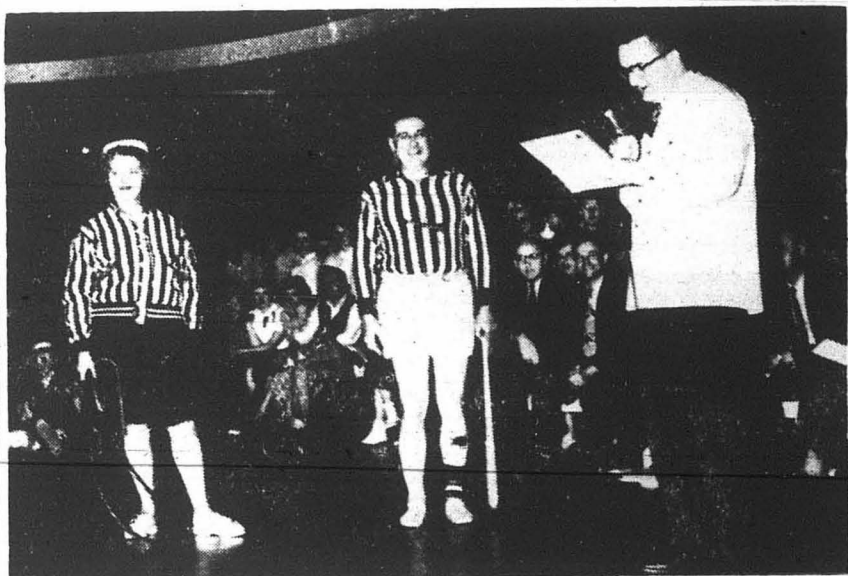

New stacks fill rapidly as the books pour in.

Students wait in line for more books.

Moral as well as physical support prevails.
Editor's Note: Having been in the book line all day, and seeing Iris and Al several times, we hunch that the picture doesn't tell the whole truth.

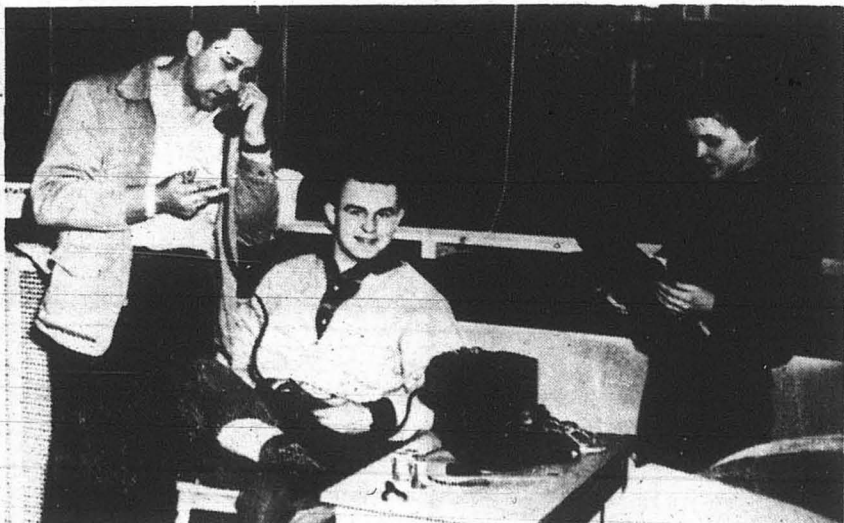

The Deans officiate at the big game.

They move to (the tune) "I've been workin' on the Railroad."

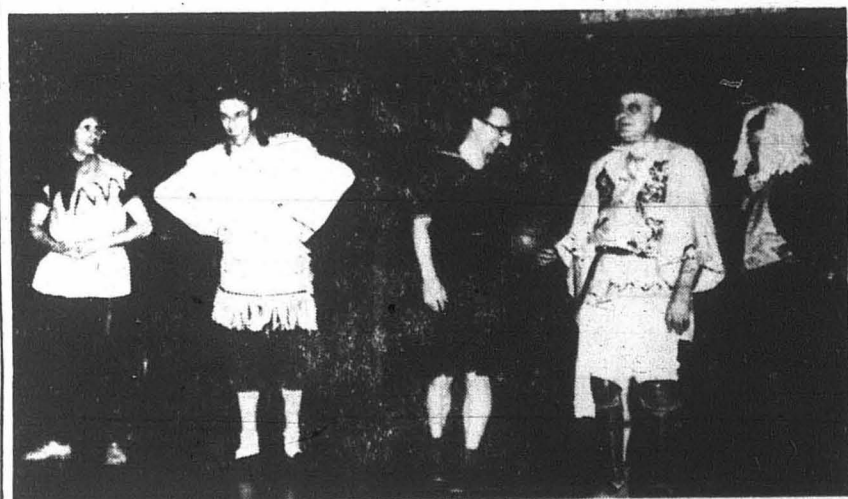

The "Faculty Forms" are out for a swim.

Communications are established.

Enthusiastic workers consumed 2500 doughnuts and 98 gallons of coffee during well-deserved breaks.

The "Decrepit Daredevils" take the floor

Guides are on hand to direct the traffic.

MARIMBIST AND PIANIST WILL PREFORM HERE

The Chenoweth - Sander Duo will perform at the March 24 convocation. Miss Vida Chenoweth is a marimbist and Mr. Sanders is a pianist.

Miss Chenoweth, who is a top ranking marimbist in the United States, loves the music she is expert at creating. Her personality is one which is most pleasing and inspiring.

Mr. Sanders began playing on tour at the age of six, and has played in every major city in the country as well as over radio and television. The piano educates as well as entertains when he renders the classics in such a way that the audience feels and experiences the moods that the great composers wished to express. These masterpieces of the past are brought to life and the listener's emotions and imaginations are exercised as he listens. Classics become real and tangible under his fingers.

These two young people have a program of worthy art.

MORE DETAILS ON CHANGE IN CURRICULUM

An earlier Stoutonia article discussed in general terms the curricular changes to be made by Stout's Division of Industrial Education. This article will describe the changes in more detailed manner.

The industrial education curricular changes will affect freshmen, sophomore and transfer industrial education students and will go into effect in the autumn of 1954-55. The plan calls for an increase in the number of student teaching credits for students enrolled in the industrial education curriculum.

To improve Stout Institute student teaching opportunities, on-campus and off-campus teaching experiences will both be made available. The revision in the curricular sequence makes possible this added teaching experience.

The basic change involves taking the content in Business Management and Course Development classes and combining that content with Student Teaching experience in the senior's senior year, thus permitting a total of 8 student teaching credits.

The academic sequence in the industrial education curriculum has been changed by shifting two elective credits from the student's junior to his sophomore year. In addition, one shop course will be transferred from the student's senior year to his sophomore year.

In summary, the new education sequence for the Stout Institute men will be as follows:

FIRST YEAR
Physical Education [127]	No credit
SECOND YEAR
Principles of Secondary Education [222]	2 credits
Educational Psychology [303]	2 credits
Activity Analysis [234]	2 credits
THIRD YEAR
Methods of TIA [305]	2 credits
Student Teaching [408-B]	2 credits
Elective	2 credits
Ed. Evaluation [441]	2 credits
Guidance [401]	2 credits
FOURTH YEAR
Student Teaching [408 C]	8 credits
Elective	2 credits

CHANGE BEING MADE

DEAN JARVIS is shown above as he arranges the revised curriculum for industrial arts on his scheduling board. These changes will go into effect in September.

MR. SWANSON WRITES SHOP ARTICLE

"A Comprehensive General Shop" is the title of an article in the March issue of "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education" magazine, an article written by Robert Swanson, teacher of industrial education at The Stout Institute.

Containing a number of photographs and drawings, the feature shows what can be accomplished in efficient planning of a comprehensive general industrial arts shop within a relatively limited space.

COME TO S-CLUB CARNIVAL SATURDAY

The "S" Club is sponsoring its second annual "S" Club Carnival which will be held tomorrow afternoon. The event will take place in the college gym beginning at 1:00 p.m. and lasting to approximately 5:30.

Floor space is being rented out to the various organizations according to choice spots. Each organization participating in the event is allowed to put up any type of booth. The booths will be put up tomorrow morning. We are expecting between ten and fifteen booths to take part in the event. Ron Wilhelm is chairman of the carnival.

The "S" Club would like to see all of you there. That's at the Carnival tomorrow afternoon. There will be fun for all of you.

DIETETICS CLUB OFFERS FREE MEAL AS PRIZE

Free!! You can win a free meal, which you have chosen yourself, in the cafeteria next week if you are at the checker's desk when the bell rings, and if you have chosen wisely. Of course you should eat well-balanced meals every day of every week, but as added motivation during Nutrition Week the Dietetic Club will pay for several meals in the cafeteria.

A timer will be set near the checker's desk in the cafeteria line so that the bell will ring at various times during the week. The person at the desk when the bell rings will then be eligible to receive his or her meal free if it meets recommended dietary standards. All students and faculty members except Dietetic Club members are eligible in this contest.

A Dietetic Club member will be on hand to check the meal. Each meal should include at least the following foods to be a prize winner:

Breakfast:
Citrus fruit, 1 serving whole wheat or 1 serving of cereal with milk and 1 glass of milk.
Noon and evening:
1 serving of meat, fish or poultry, or 1 serving of other protein food (egg, cheese, baked beans, dried peas), 1 serving green or yellow vegetable, 1 serving of other vegetable or 1 serving of fruit, 1 slice whole wheat or enriched bread, and 1 glass of milk.
It's wise to follow this pattern of good nutrition everyday. We hope you do. But during nutrition week, you can't afford to miss this chance to win the meal you choose. We hope you get the habit.

HANSON, FRAEDRICH, WANDREY, KADOTANI ARE NEW S.S.A. OFFICERS

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR 100 SINGERS

The phrase "music hath charm" will certainly ring true in about a week when approximately one hundred students will board Greyhound buses for a full week tour through the Eastern part of Wisconsin. Complete arrangements have been made for the Stout Symphonic Organization to present thirteen concerts at Abbotsford, Wausau, Shawno, Pulaski, West DePere, Omro, Watertown, Menomonie Falls, and Milwaukee during the week of March 29 through April 5.

The annual tour program which will be given consists of hymns, folk tunes, spirituals, and modern music. At each school the music director of the school will act as guest conductor of a number during the program.

Three field trips have been planned for the weekend in Milwaukee. The Milwaukee Vocational School, Radio City and Miller High Life Brewery will be toured.

Mr. Hardt has appointed committees to help make the tour a more successful event. Ken Geske is general tour manager. The housing committee is made up of Bob Spinti and Bev Peterson. Harold Thorpe and Barbara Clemons are in charge of recreation, and Jan Benedict and Cliff Emerson are on the wardrobe committee. Jerry Poat is property manager and his crew is composed of Stan Suk, Gordon Zimmerman, Tom Huetson, Bob Olstrum, and Don Wagner. The stage manager for the band is Ed Clary and John Walter is the stage manager for the choir. Gary Peterson is publicity manager, Dorothy Beisle is general secretary, and Joyce Fracdrich is secretary of the bus personnel. The treasurer of the tour is Bob Tenneson, while Don Koch is librarian and in charge of band tuning. Audrey Cornwell is his assistant.

On May 5, the combined band and choir will present a spring concert for the Stout audience.

NOTICE

President Fryklund and several members of the administrative staff of the college will appear this evening at 6:00 p.m. on WEAU TV (Channel 13, Eau Claire). Students and faculty of The Stout Institute are invited to view the program.

S.T.S. PLANS TRIP TO TWIN CITIES AREA

The Minneapolis and St. Paul area will be visited by the Stout Typographical Society when they take their twelfth annual field trip, April 7-10, 1954.

Fifteen members of the organization are expected to take the trip. Non-members may accompany the group for a charge of $20. Tentative places to visit are Dunwoody Institute, John Leslie Paper Company, Jensen Silk Screen plant, North Central Publishers, Dahl and Curry Typographers, Marshall High School, West Publishers, Bureau of Engraving, Minneapolis Vocational School, and the A. J. Dahl Company.

"YEARS AGO" IS ABOUT A STAGE STRUCK GIRL

Did the acting bug ever bite you? What happens to the Jones family when daughter Ruth is struck by this menace, makes up the story of "Years Ago", the spring play being presented by the Manual Arts Players of the Stout Institute on April 8, 9, 10.

Beginning at 8:00 in the Stout Auditorium, the story of Ruth Gordon Jones, played by Judy Goehring of Menomonie, will unfold. The trials and tribulations of her family when Ruth decides to make the stage her career will give the audience an exciting and amusing two hours. The 1910 setting with its fernery, old fashioned furniture, and a real live cat scampering about will provide an interesting evening's entertainment. The costumes, dug up by the properties committee from attics all over Menomonie, provide just the right touch for the story.

Playing Mr. Clinton Jones, the father of Ruth, is Larry Loveland, Madison. Roberta Harris of Newcastle, Indiana will portray Mrs. Jones, Ruth's mother. Friends of Ruth will be played by Ardis Carr of Barron and Joan Mountford of Poyntette. The ever-present love interest is being played by Richard Dirsche of Long Prairie, Minnesota. Other parts are being enacted by Don O'Brien of Menomonie, Don Pritchard of Columbus, and Gloria Voigt of Reedsville.

Dividing responsibilities in the production of the play are Marguerite Cain and Norman C. Ziemann. Miss Cain is directing the cast while Mr. Ziemann is acting as technical director in charge of designing the set, building the scenery, properties, lighting, publicity, and sound effects.

Put those dates on your calendar now! April 8, 9, and 10 will roll around very soon.

TOWER GOES TO PRESS; DELIVERY MADE MAY 1

The final section of the Tower was delivered to the engravers and printers in Minneapolis on Thursday, Mar. 11. Ellen Russell, literary editor, Charles Houge, production manager Gary Gore, assistant literary editor; and Rita Jackson, a freshman member and Mr. Cornwell, their advisor accompanied this final section. This was the end of many hard nights of work.

The theme of the Tower this year is "Doorways to Various Activities." It portrays a cross-section of life in classes at Stout. This is the first year book that has been published lately which shows classes in home economics and industrial arts.

The Tower includes one hundred and twenty eight pages of pictures that stress formality. There were more than five hundred photographs taken and of these photographs only two hundred sixty finished pictures were used.

The staff began work on the Tower before school started last fall and they have worked diligently all through the year trying to produce another All American year book. The All-American rating is only achieved by a few schools and the Tower received this rating last year.

The Tower staff finished a little ahead of schedule and they expect delivery of the year book on May 1.

Election of 1954-55 S.S.A. Officers Brings 78 per cent of Students Out

Seventy-eight percent of the Stout students took an active interest in their student government yesterday as they went to the poles to elect Roger Hanson, president; Joyce Fraedrick, vice president; Doris Wandrey, secretary; and Richard Kadotani, treasurer.

This year's election was alive with active campaigning. A great deal of enthusiasm and interest was shown by the entire student body. Several candidates represented each office which made this years election an outstanding one.

Roger Hanson, a junior from Wittenburg, Wisconsin, was elected as the new S. S. A. president. At Stout he is an active member of Delta Kappa, Epsilon Pi Tau, and the Student Governing Board. This year Roger served the school in the capacity of vice president of the S. S. A. He is also historian for Delta Kappa. As president of S. S. A., he will have ample opportunity to use his experience in working with fellow students and faculty.

Joyce, a sophomore from Weyauwega, Wisconsin, won the vice presidency. Joyce is a member of the following organizations: Pallas Athene Sorority, Women's Association, Home Economics Club, Lutheran Student Association, Band, and is an initiate of Phi Epsilon Omicron. She will be an important member on the team working for the betterment of The Stout Institute, and she, with the rest of the officers, will need the support of the student body.

Doris Wandrey of Wisconsin Rapids is a sophomore. She retains membership in Sigma Sigma Sigma sorority, Y. W. C. A., Wesley Club and is a counselor at Tainter Hall.

Dick, one of the Hawaii students, is a junior and has had much experience in the capacity of treasurer. He is assistant secretary-treasurer of Epsilon Pi Tau, treasurer of Sigma Tau Gamma and treasurer of Arts and Crafts Club. He is also a member of the Boy Scouts of America and holds the position of treasurer in Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity. These qualifications will prove quite helpful to Dick in the ensuing year.

STOUT'S BOARD OF TRUSTEES HOLDS MEETING

Faculty appointments and resignations, a discussion of building plans, and approval of arrangements for the approaching summer session were matters of business acted upon by The Stout Institute Board of Trustees at a meeting in Madison on Monday.

In presenting his report to the Board, Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, invited the Board to meet on the Stout campus on June 3, the day before the formal dedication of Stout's new library the morning of June 4. Commencement will also be held on June 4, with the Commencement program scheduled for the afternoon of that day.

Approval was given to the appointment for one semester of Miss Marguerite Cain as a teacher of speech at the college. The appointment of Mrs. Alyce Vanek as a part-time instructor in Stout's clothing department was also confirmed. Mrs. Vanek will teach one-half the work of Miss Mary Clark who has requested that her teaching load be temporarily reduced one-half.

Robert Swanson of the industrial education faculty at Stout was elevated to the rank of assistant professor, effective July 1. Mr. Swanson is a Stout Institute graduate and will soon complete his doctorate at the University of Minnesota.

The Trustees accepted the resignations of Dr. Arnold Nelson, a member of the college English department, and Robert Elftmann, of the library staff. Dr. C. H. Farmer, assistant professor of sociology, received approval of his request for a leave of absence in 1954-55. Dr. Farmer will study in a European university in accordance with stipulations of a federal education grant.

The Trustees were informed by President Fryklund that the new Stout Institute library has been occupied and that a very successful program of moving 40,000 volumes had recently been carried out by students and faculty.

Remodeling of the vacated library facilities in Harvey Hall has received the authorization of the State Engineer, Dr. Fryklund told the Trustees. He then outlined to them plans to convert the old library into offices for the Director of Student Personnel Services, Registrar, Director of Graduate Studies, Deans of Men and Women, Stout Alumni Association, and the Stout Student Association.

Remodeling plans also call for the provision of interview rooms which will permit visiting superintendents to confer with candidates for teaching positions. No such facilities are now available.

The Trustees approved the remodeling proposals, placing direction of the work under the supervision of R. L. Pierce, chairman of the board; Clarence Greiber, director of the State board of Vocational and Adult Education; and President Fryklund.

Plans for the remodeling are being drawn in the office of Rudolph Roen, Stout's superintendent of buildings and grounds. Roen will supervise the work.

Board members were also informed by President Fryklund that plans are now being drawn up for a new Stout Institute girl's dormitory. The State Architect has assigned the project to Boym, Schubert and Sorenson, La Crosse architectural firm. The President expressed hope that the construction would begin early this summer.

The following summer school appointments were confirmed: Dr. R. W. national School; Alexander Bick, Milwaukee Public Schools; H. W. Teich-Bardwell, director of the Madison Vocational School; St. Paul Vocational School; Mrs. Myrtle Stutz, Madison Vocational School; and Dr. Maude Williamson, emeritus member of Colorado Agricultural College.

In addition to the regular summer session, plans have been made by Clarence Greiber's office for a one-week Institute for Trade and Industrial Teachers, June 14-18. During the first of the six weeks session, Dr. Maude Williamson will be on campus to conduct a special institute for teachers who do supervised teaching in home economics in Stout's cadet teaching centers.

Two weeks following the regular session, the usual Driver Teacher Training session will be offered by Stout in cooperation with the American Automobile Association, the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, and the Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department.

The Trustees also approved a number of second semester scholarships and the quarterly budget for fourth quarter of 1953-54.

SSA MESSAGE

Thanks a million for the wonderful cooperation we have received from all of you. This past year has been one filled with many hectic but happy times. Homecoming, All School Picnics, Mixers, Dances, and last but not least, M-Day, the day the library moved to the tune of the Bunny-Hop and the faculty played their Annual Grudge game. It could be possible the Decrepit Five may win next year. It has been wonderful to work with you, and here's hoping the many friendships we made will continue for years to come.

Congratulations to the new S.S.A. officers and may your term in office be as much fun as ours was. To those candidates who lost the gallant fight for office, remember there is another time coming, and who knows, then it may be your turn.

To all of you, again we say THANKS, and keep up the interest in good student government, for the Student Governing Board Officers are your representatives elected by you to give you the things you want from Stout.

Past S.S.A. Officers.

DRAFTING IS DISCUSSED IN RECENT ARTICLE

Techniques employed in the architectural drafting class of Menomonie high school have provided the basis of an article, "Stimulating Interest in Architectural Drafting," appearing in the March, 1954, issue of Industrial Arts and Vocational Education" magazine.

Authors of the article are Dr. T. E. Fleming, assistant professor of English and journalism at The Stout Institute, and John Debrauske and Donald Leach, both 1953 graduates of Stout.

The article describes a plan by which Debrauske and Leach, as Stout cadet teachers in Menomonie high school, increased interest and enrollment in high school classes of architectural drafting with a novel project which provided clear learning for the students and displayed the importance of architectural design in an actual building situation.

Working with the cadet teachers were Dr. J. E. Ray, head of The Stout Institute's department of drafting; and K. T. Olsen, associate professor of woodworking and carpentry at Stout.

The high school class built a scale model of a 12 by 24 foot garage from a complete set of plans, to selecting and simulating a building site to constructing the actual model.

Approval which the enterprise received from W. G. Ballentine, superintendent of Menomonie public schools and R. H. Bongey, principal of Menomonie high school, resulted in display of both the drawings for the garage and the scale model itself at a public showing in the high school.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR BANQUET APRIL 10

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet will be held on Saturday, April 10. It will be held at 5:15 in the evening. This year the dinner will be at Peace Lutheran Church. Plans are now underway for the selling of tickets from March 29 to April 5. The cost of each ticket will be $1.60. All freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior women are invited to ask their mothers to this banquet.

The program will be based on the general theme "Roses for Mother" and includes a speaker and musical selections.

PHI U TO INITIATE MARCH 19

Persons invited to become members of Phi U, National Home Economics honorary fraternity are Elise Bush, senior, juniors, Jean Baker and Delores Saury; and sophomores, Dorothy Belisle, Ardis Carr, and Joyce Fraedrick.

Initiation of these prospective members will take place on March 19.

CERAMICS KEEP CRAFT CLASSES BUSY

Making tiles and forming pottery out of clay have been the main projects of the crafts class this semester. The coil method and the slab method, which is clay rolled out like pie are the two methods of construction which have been used in the making of pottery. By next week the class will have completed the painting and firing of the pottery.

A movie on weaving will also be shown shortly and this will be the next project which the class will undertake.

ATTENTION ALL ALUMNI

In recent years the number of scholarships available to new Stout Institute students has greatly increased. Last year a record number of scholarships were awarded to outstanding high school seniors to help defray their educational expenses. Do you know any well-qualified young men and women who would like to attend The Stout Institute but who also need financial assistance?

The Stout Institute Alumni Association will offer two cash awards of $84.00 each. Candidates must be recommended by Stout alumni. The final selection of scholarship winners will be handled by a faculty scholarship committee.

There are many other scholarships available. The Wisconsin Statutes authorize legislative scholarships given to those who rank first, second, and third in graduating classes of high schools enrolling a specified number of students. Some of these scholarships are valued at as much as $84.00 or $94.00 in the form of fee exemptions during the freshmen year.

Out-of-state tuition exemptions in the amount of $200.00 per year are granted in accordance with the provisions of Wisconsin Statutes to eight or nine students each year.

Other available scholarships are designed primarily for those with great financial need who have sufficient scholastic promise to insure college success. These are provided by service clubs, business firms, professional organizations, and private individuals.

It is our hope that you can provide us with the names of students whose interests and aptitudes appear suitable for professional education in home economics and industrial education. They need not necessarily be applying for a scholarship, but we want you to know that a good number of scholarships are available to assist students who may otherwise find college attendance difficult or impossible. As the funds available are limited, the financial aid program is designed to provide a modest amount of assistance to a large number of students rather than to give larger amounts to a few individuals.

Please complete the following form and return to your Alumni Secretary, The Stout Alumni Association, Menomonie, Wisconsin. The deadline for submitting names of applicants to be considered for scholarships is May 1st.

I wish to submit the following person (or persons) to be considered as prospective students at The Stout Institute for the year of 1954-55.

MAJOR CHANGE IN SCHOLARSHIP SELECTION

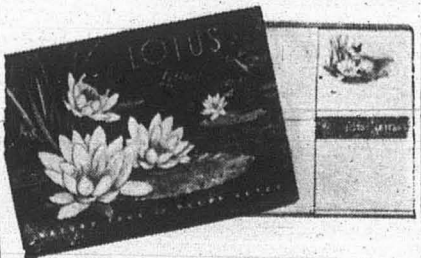

Dear Alumnus:

There has been a major change made this year in the way in which the selection of scholarship winners will be handled. In the past, forms were mailed out to all alumni members and the applications were made directly to the alumni scholarship committee. This year, all alumni members are urged to submit names of prospective students and scholarship candidates for The Stout Institute on the blanks provided in the Stoutonia and Newsletter. These names will be given to the faculty scholarship committee for consideration. This faculty committee will in turn send out an introductory letter and a copy of the regular admission blank, used by The Stout Institute, in order to obtain the necessary data about the student. The student will be told in the introductory letter that they have been recommended as college material and will urge them to apply for admission in order that they may be considered for a scholarship.

It is hoped that the alumni member who did the recommending will help extol to the students and their parents the values of Stout. Literature about the college will be sent to this person to help them with their job of orientating the students and parents. We also urge you to help the student fill out the necessary admission papers.

The final selection of scholarship winners will be handled by the faculty scholarship committee, but our alumni funds will be used only for scholarship candidates recommended by Stout Institute alumni. It is felt that in this way our scholarship committee efforts will be more closely coordinated with the overall scholarship plan of the college.

Scholarship Committee

WHAT WILL HAPPEN IN NEXT 100 YEARS?

By 2045 space travel will create new problems with a race among nations for the colonization of habitable planets. Charts of insurance companies will show the average life-span to be 114 years.

These predictions made in manuscripts received to date from students in the $2,000 collegiate science fiction contest sponsored by IF Magazine for undergraduates in the U.S. and Canada.

Early response shows that young people are eager to express their opinions and speculations on what their country will be like a century from now.

Students are asked to make their predictions in novelette form of approximately 10,000 words which will be judged for ideas and imagination more than actual writing skill.

A copy of the contest rules may be had by sending a post card to IF Magazine, Kingston, New York. Students submitting manuscripts must have them mailed before midnight May 15, 1954. Winners will be announced nationally the first week in September.

BLUEDEVILS SET 3 AND 15 RECORD FOR '54

The Blue Devils have concluded their 1953-54 basketball series with not too impressive a record. The record stands at 3 wins and 15 losses. But there were many close games.

Highlight of the season was an overtime thriller with Platteville, the Conference champs who defeated the Blue Devils 88-86, but only after a hot battle in which there were many exciting moments when the game could have easily gone either way.

Another thrilling game was played the same weekend, with Stout winning 95-90 from LaCrosse, one of the better teams in the Conference.

The high scorer for the season was Roger Lowney with a total of 263 points and an average of 14.6 points per game. Tom Stewart was runner up with 257 points and a 14.2 points per game average.

CLOTHING CLASS SEES TOP DRESS DESIGNS

Costumes designed by some of the top dress designers were viewed by the class of Applied Dress Design on a field trip Saturday, March 6.

The class was a guest of Dayton's, enjoying the atmosphere of the Oval Room where they saw lovely creations by such designers as Traina, Norell, Hattie Carnegie, Mongone and Trene. The girls all agreed that the gowns were beautiful, but a little too expensive for their wardrobes. The class also enjoyed a luncheon at the Sky Room at Dayton's. Later in the afternoon, the girls visited Amluxsons to view the new spring fabrics.

HOW DOES YOUR DIET RATE WITH SURVEY?

Do you feel your best EVERY day? How much does your diet contribute to this well-being? Do you think your diet is adequate? You may have taken part in one of the recent diet surveys done here at The Stout Institute, and if you are like over 75% of the students you do think your diet is all right. Yet only a little more than 6% of these people actually had diets which met the dietary standards.

Appetite is not a guide to adequate eating, for most of the student's indicated the food which they could eat more often was meat, and almost everyone already was eating enough to fulfill the dietary requirements. Meat, incidentally, is the most expensive food item, so we might question the argument that a nutritionally desirable diet is too costly. Fruits and vegetables were found to be lacking in the student's diets more than any other food. The fellows, especially, failed to include citrus fruits in their meals. Sufficient milk was also found to be lacking in the diets of about one out of every three persons.

Do you know what you should eat every day for a sound nutritional diet? Every day you should include these foods in your meals: meat, 1 serving; other protein food (i.e. eggs, cheese, dried legumes, nuts), 1 serving or an additional half serving of meat; milk, 3 glasses; vegetables, 3 servings at least one of these three a green or yellow vegetable; fruits, 2 servings, at least one of these a citrus fruit; bread and cereals, 3 servings; and butter. These basic foods comprise an adequate diet, and you may want to add other foods or more of the same to give you enough total food to eat.

The Dietetics Club is sponsoring a nutrition week March 22 through 26, which will give you an opportunity to learn more about good nutrition. Watch for further developments.

SPRING PLAY DEPICTS STAGE- STRUCK GIRL

Delightful, humorous, and depicting the fantastic determination of Ruth Gordon is the comedy, Years Ago, soon to be presented by the Manual Arts Players.

Ruth Gordon Jones is a young teenager living with her hard-working mother and retired sea-captain father in 1910 Boston. Ruth idolizes the current actresses and aspires to become a celebrated actress on Broadway. Her girlfriends, Kathryn and Anna, also yearn for stardom, but are content just to listen to Ruth talk about her future acting career. Ruth is full of unfaltering ambition and is determined to get to New York and launch her career even if she has to cast aside love and romance. But Mama's and Papa's ideas do not coincide with Ruth's; Papa wants Ruth to become a physical culture teacher and Mama would rather see her married. Papa even brings the athletic Miss Glavin to visit Ruth and persuade her to join the physical culture profession. Miss Glavin attempts to improve Ruth's posture and the visit proves to be a failure; instead, Ruth hates her father's wish even more violently and makes drastic plans to go to New York and learn to be an actress.

Whose wish is fulfilled, Ruth's, Mama's, or Papa's? To discover the answer see the coming play, Years Ago, April 8, 9, and 10 at the Stout Auditorium.

RADAR CONTROL EQUIPMENT IS DEMONSTRATED

Sponsored in cooperation with the Wisconsin State Traffic Patrol, all students in the Driver Education class of The Stout Institute recently obtained a demonstration of radar traffic speed control equipment, the highway patrol's new weapon to curtail speeding on Wisconsin highways.

Demonstrating the equipment were patrol officers Lewis Versnik, James Karns, and Micheal Degiman. Representing The Stout Institute was Ray F. Kranzuseh, director of safety and driver education at the college.

Officers and class members met at Menomonie's Wakanda Park, which offered unobstructed roadways upon which to conduct the tests. All three officers were used in the demonstration.

Two officers remain in a patrol car which sends out radar beams and receives any interruption from vehicles passing through the beams. The speed of the vehicle interrupting the beam is recorded on a meter. One officer notes the speed of the offending vehicle while the other takes down its make and license number to be radiated to an officer in a patrol car a half mile ahead.

This officer, upon receiving information of the offending vehicle, makes the arrest and provides information as to when and where the speeder must appear in court.

Participating officers gave several demonstrations to dispel various "rumors" regarding radar speed control. Several trial runs were made with student observers to prove the accurate synchronization of automobile speedometers with checking equipment used. The speeds were further verified by radio calls to cooperating patrol cars.

Officers emphasized the fact that before any actual radar traffic speed checks are made on highways, a number of tests are always made to guarantee that all apparatus is functioning accurately.

Officer Versnik also gave several demonstrations of the infallibility of the equipment in overcoming such supposed violation tricks as attaching tinfoil or other material to cars to prevent an accurate reading of the checking devices.

According to members of the Wisconsin State Highway Patrol, the demonstration with The Stout Institute students were very successful, and Patrol members are happy to acquaint the public with the radar equipment and its uses. As a result of the Stout demonstration, 80 Menomonie high school students in Driver Education and Practice Driving courses, will soon be given a similar showing.

LESSON ON "HOW TO BE MARRIAGEABLE"

Marcia Carter was twenty-nine, stuck in a small town, and single. "How to Be Marriageable," the first of a new series in the March LADIES' HOME JOURNAL, begins to tell how Marcia accomplished her aim—marriage.

The startling results of a Marriage Readiness Course conducted by the American Institute of Family Relations are reported to the public for the first time here. Since fifty per cent of American women who marry are married by their 22nd birthday, unmarried women in their late twenties and early thirties have, statistically only about one chance in five of finding a mate. Are these women "unmarriageable"?

"Our experience in studying the personality problems of thousands of young women over the years has produced evidence that the majority of women who do not marry, but wish to, have not learned how to be marriageable," says Paul Popenoe, Director of the Institute of Family Relations.

Dr. Popenoe believes that any young woman who wants to marry can of she will admit her own dilemma and then do something about it. In the Institute's Marriage Readiness Course, each woman student is assigned a counselor who is a married woman. The student has a series of tests to determine the balance or lack of balance in her life and personality. Then the counselor helps the student to work out a program that will help her to overcome the handicaps that have kept her from marriage. An overly independent woman, for instance, may be subconsciously unwilling to submit to the "yoke" that she believes marriage to be. "It takes most unmarriages about a year," says Dr. Popenoe, "... to be able to bring themselves to the point where they will work at achieving lovability."

FUTURE STUDENTS SHOULD SEE CAMPUS

A small item in the "La Crosse Briefs" has several ideas which seem worth while passing along to Stout Institute alumni. Speaking of techniques of recruitment, La Crosse recommends

"We (on campus) can't visit all the schools but we know we can count on your continuing help in looking for outstanding young men and women who should be told the merits (of our college).

"The Director of Student Personnel Services and the Admissions Office will always be glad to work with you in getting information to students who are interested. And, better yet, bring small groups of students to the campus to see our program in action and have their questions answered."

Sounds like a swell idea. Why not try it for Stout?

F.O.B. WILL SPONSOR ANNUAL STUNT NIGHT

ORGANIZING FOR '55 TOWER STAFF BEGINS

At this March 17 Tower meeting, present staff members and advisors submitted a list of names. From this list the 1955 Tower staff was chosen. Staff officers for next year are Norma Schlottman, editor; Lois Mallen, associate editor; Dorothy Dieter, literary editor; Dick Treise, production manager; Jim Daines, photographer Joeline Chryst, business manager, and Orville Nelson, assistant production manager.

Pictures of spring sports and activities have already been ordered for the 1955 Tower, and preliminary steps for the new dummy will be underway before the end of the semester.

CHENOWEHT-SANDER GAVE MUSICAL CONVO

The Chenoweht-Sander Duo from the University of Wisconsin presented a musical program at the convocation Wednesday.

Mr. Sander opened the program by playing a Romanian Dance on the piano. After he played it, he described how the composer used only a few notes for the theme and he then explained how the theme was carried out in the piece. Mr. Sander then played more classical music by Beethoven, Rockmoninoff, and others. He displayed much artistic ability in all his pieces. In several numbers the audience was entranced by his ability to literally "make the piano talk."

Miss Chenoweht played a Swedish folk song on the marimba as her first number. She then went into classical music. One piece by Bach showed her skill in using four mallets. She delighted the audience with "Flight of the Bumblebee."

They closed the program by playing several classical selections together. The audience demanded an encore before they would let the players leave.

LIBRARY HAS EXHIBIT ON OUR FREEDOM

Residents of the Menomonie area, as well as students and faculty of The Stout Institute, are invited to view an outstanding exhibit on American freedoms as depicted in the Columbia University Bicentennial Exhibit "Man's Right to Knowledge and the Free Use Thereof."

The 25 panels describing various aspects of the Bicentennial theme will be shown through April 3 at The Stout Institute's new library. The exhibit was obtained and arranged by Stout's Division of Home Economics, of which Dr. Alice J. Kirk is dean.

The five aspects of freedom of knowledge to be depicted in the exhibit include "The Inclusiveness of Man", "The Values of Knowledge," "Man's Right to Knowledge," "Man's Right to the Free Use of Knowledge," and the "Responsibilities of Knowledge."

Typical of the panels is a section devoted to "Development of Citizens." Portraying elder citizens at a town meeting, the panel calls attention to James Madison's statement on representative government: "A popular government, without popular information, or the means of acquiring it, is but a prologue to a farce or a tragedy; or, perhaps, both."

According to Richard R. Powell, director of Columbia's Bicentennial, "The struggle to know is one of the most exciting dramas of history." It is this drama, according to sponsors of the exhibit, that has provided the inspiration for the panels.

Cooperating with The Stout Institute in bringing the exhibit to Menomonie is Columbia University's Alumni Regional committee for this area, of which A. D. Hyde, vice-president of General Mills is chairman. The exhibit will be shown in elected colleges and universities throughout the nation.

Nine Organizations Work

On Skits They Will Present in Contest

The Phi Omega Beta (F.O.B.) fraternity of The Stout Institute is sponsoring their annual Stunt Night on Saturday night March 27th at 8 P.M. in the Stout auditorium.

Stunt Night is the night that fraternities, sororities, and other organizations at Stout get together to put on a show consisting of ten acts. Acts range from snake charmers to Spacemen from Mars. Between the acts, special entertainment will be provided by the F.O.B. derby boys. And as an extra special treat, the Leinenkugel Quartet has offered to sing a few numbers.

Those who will judge the acts are: Miss Carol Seims, Menomonie High School dramatics teacher; Mr. Paul Hassett, the Dunn County News; Mrs. Howard Whitmen, Campus Cafe; Mr. Alex Bark, the Bake Shop; and Mr. Jim Reed, Reed's Shoe Store.

So for a night of fun, laughter, and excitement, plan to come and see Stunt Night. This event is open to the public and tickets may be obtained from any F.O.B. member or may be purchased at the door Saturday night. The admission to this great event is 30 cents. Come early as no seats will be reserved and a full house is expected.

HOME EC CLUB ELECTED NEW OFFICERS

The election of new officers was the main business of the evening at the meeting of the Home Economics Club, Monday night in the cafeteria. Serving on the executive council next year with the president, Gloria Voigt, will be the new president-elect, Doris Hutchinson; vice president, Dickie Nelson; secretary, Nancy Dexheimer, and treasurer, Nyla Bock.

Miss Shirley Young, Dunn County Home Agent, presented the main address of the evening on "A Career in Extension Work". She spoke of the work that is done by extension workers with 4-H Homemakers groups. In connection with this she remarked, "Every good teacher has a little bit of the missionary in them. They have real concern for the people they are trying to teach. Still, an extension worker needs philosophical point of view and accepts people as they are."

Opening the meeting, out-going president Mary Detlor introduced the 1953-54 cabinet officers and thanked them for the job they had done.

Included in the business of the evening were reports given by Dorothy Belisle, Doris Hutchinson, and Ardis Carr on the Province VII meeting they attended in Chicago on February 18, 19, 20. Suggestions for improving the organization were given and state and national business was discussed.

At the next meeting to be held April 26, a bridal consultant from the Treasure Linens in Eau Claire will speak to the girls on "Planning Your Trousseau." The college clubs relation to the AHEA will also be discussed by Doris Hutchinson.

She began her career as a home economics teacher, holding positions from 1919 to 1951 on the staff of the Milwaukee Vocational school. After a period as home economics teacher, she was assigned to the Vocational school placement department as a counselor and held that position until her retirement in 1951.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR STOUT GRADUATES

A question frequently asked by high school seniors inquiring about The Stout Institute is, "If I graduate, what can I be?" Many unusual opportunities assure Stout graduates of professional success, social service, and financial reward.

Industrial education graduates often choose the following positions in education: high school, vocational school, and college teachers; coordinators of cooperative education; directors of vocational schools; department chairman in industrial arts department; personnel workers and counselors; and occupational therapists.

In industrial fields they are qualified to enter such positions as technical instructors, training officers, and personnel workers. Positions in business include: proprietors or managers of businesses, factories, and supply companies; building construction contractors, foremen, and draftsmen; salesmen of technical products; plant engineers and supervisors; and newspaper publishers and administrators in the printing industry.

Home economics graduates enter such positions as those as the following: homemaking, teaching in high schools, vocational schools and colleges; extension work; dietetics in hospitals (both civilian and military) in industry, and dormitory and union systems; public health and nutrition in health departments, welfare agencies, and educational institutions; field service management in restaurants; industrial food service management; commercial demonstration (including radio and television); experimental work for food or equipment companies; and merchandising.

If a prospective student is concerned about the values his training at Stout would have in military service, he need not worry. The Stout Institute men are in demand in the technical training program of the Armed Forces. For instance, at one time during World War II more than 75 Stout alumni were serving as instructors at Chanute Field, Illinois. Other positions frequently occupied by Stout men include training responsibilities in plants producing military goods; supervisory assignments, including instructor training; and curriculum specialist duties for training programs.

Employment opportunities for The Stout Institute alumni continue to be excellent. By last June, every home economics graduate had already been placed. Every industrial education graduate of the 1952-53 class was also placed. You will find Stout alumni in every state of the Union, in Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, Philippine Islands, Japan, South America, and in other parts of the world. The prestige of the college, the nation-wide shortage of home economists, and the great demand in education, industry, and the Armed Services for professionally trained technical personnel assure the Stout graduates of a bright future.

If you know of any high school seniors that are potential college material please send their names to your alumni secretary. Use the blank form below.

STOUT NAMED FOR SELECTIVE SERVICE TESTS

Announcement the The Stout Institute has been named a testing center for the April 22 Selective Service College Qualification Test has been made by Dr. E. R. Oetting, who will conduct the tests at Stout. The tests will be given in Room 411 of Harvey Hall.

Dr. Oetting informs all prospective applicants that their request to take the examination must be postmarked no later than Monday, March 8, 1954. Rules for obtaining the necessary blanks and other rules of the examination follow:

1. Eligible registrants should obtain a bulletin of information and a card (SSS Form No 106 and attached SSS Form No. 107) and a mailing envelope from a Selective Service local board or from Dr. Oetting in his office at Stout.

2. They then should fill out the application in exact accordance with instructions of the bulletin, and insert it in envelope, and mail immediately. The envelope is preaddressed, but applicants must fill in their own name and return address in the appropriate place and affix a stamp.

3. In his application the registrant must designate a testing center (listed in the bulletin) and its code number opposite the testing center (listed in the bulletin) and its code number opposite the testing date. Registrants will be assigned the center of their choice, or the nearest alternative.

4. Because the test is being given during Stout's spring vacation, many out-of-town students will elect to take the test in a center in or near their home towns. Applicants may select such a center on the basis of information in the Selective Service Information Bulletin.

5. An admission ticket to the examination will be mailed to eligible registrants upon receipt of their applications.

6. Persons taking the test must bring with them to the test an official document listing their selective service number and the exact designation number and address of the selective service board having jurisdiction over them.

Persons eligible for the test are:

1. Selective Service registrants who intend to request occupational deferments as students.

2. Such persons must be satisfactorily pursuing a full-time college course, undergraduate or graduate, leading to a degree.

3. Registrants must not previously have taken the test. The selective Service System has established the testing program to provide Selective Service local boards with evidence of the relative qualifications of registrants of college study. The best scores will provide local boards with evidence of registrants aptitude for continued college work.

CLASS PLANS COLOR SCHEME FOR HOUSE

A house which will be used by someone near Menomonie is now being built by Mr. K.T. Olsen's woodworking class. The house is called a modular house because all the measurements are based upon multiples of the same number.

The first semester house furnish-class, under the supervision of Miss Amon, drew floor areas of the house to scale and placed standard sized furniture into the rooms.

The second semester house furnishings class is planning color schemes with regard to the position of the rooms in the house and the direction these rooms face. A model of the house was made by the woodworking class, and it is being used by the girls. It is to be divided into rooms with geometric shapes being used to represent furniture.

RED CROSS HELPS EVERYWHERE

Traditionally in March millions of citizens in every part of the country open their hearts and their purses to support the humanitarian services of the American Red Cross. This organization is a great fellowship of good will in which all citizens are welcome.

When you join the Red Cross, you identify yourself with each individual act of mercy this great organization performs anywhere in the world, as surely as if you personally extended a helping hand.

You were there in Wisconsin the last fiscal year of 1952-53, when tornado after tornado dipped out of the skies to wreak havoc and death, and when floods and other calamities left chaos in their wake. In all, 120 persons were killed or injured and 566 buildings were destroyed or damaged, as five disasters struck in 13 counties of the state. You spent $23,410 to help 308 persons who suffered disaster injury or loss, including 24 persons who were given mass care.

You helped prevent loss of life, too, as you and the Red Cross trained 19,795 persons in first aid, 24,533 in swimming and life saving, and 4,850 in home nursing.

But your efforts didn't stop there. You came to the aid of 17,475 servicemen or veterans and their families in Wisconsin and, when money was needed, spent $74,929 in their behalf. To an additional 24,165 individuals and families, you provided information and similar Red Cross services.

Through your help, 501,940 youngsters were introduced to Red Cross principles through the Junior Red Cross program, now active in 4,530 elementary and secondary Wisconsin schools. There students filled and sent overseas 18,293 gift boxes for needy foreign children, and raised $6,402 for the National Children's Fund.

Your generosity, not only in terms of money but of your own time, caused a grand total of 279,448 volunteer hours of service to be chalked up in Wisconsin, as 3,654 trained volunteers worked to provide Red Cross services to their communities, to their hospitals, and to military personnel. In all, you helped produce 173,531 garments, surgical dressings, and comfort items in your state last fiscal year.

Nationally, the helping hand of the Red Cross collected 4,121,200 pints of blood in that year—life giving blood for service men and civilians, blood that prevented or modified polio when processed into gamma globulin.

During the fiscal year, there were 100 Red Cross volunteers to every paid worker, and three of these volunteers were on duty every minute of that year to bring Red Cross services to neighbors. You spent $164 each of those minutes to meet human needs—an incredible record of good deeds.

LIKE STRESSES NEED FOR TEACHERS

President Eisenhower said in his State of the Union Message on January 7th: "Youth - our greatest resource—is being seriously neglected in a vital respect. The nation as a whole is not preparing teachers or building schools fast enough to keep up with the increase in our population." He did not tell us something that we didn't already know, but he did remind us that the teacher shortage is still United States education's most painful problem.

"Estimates of the annual need for teachers to fill new positions and to replace those leaving the profession or retiring run to 125,000," Lawrence G. Derthick of Chattanooga, Tennessee, told newsmen at the American Association of School Administrators meeting held in Atlantic City, New Jersey, in February. Mr. Derthick, outgoing president of the AASA, predicted that U.S. school enrollment will swell by about nine-million more children between now and 1959-60. For these new pupils alone, over 50,000 new teachers will be needed each year.

Teaching must be more attractive to high-type students. We should all help to solve this problem; help make teachers' salaries compare more favorably with those in other professions, drive for more adequate and efficient school plants, increase requirements for certification of teacher to help make teaching more truly a profession, promote better retirement programs, create wider community interest in schools, be a "walking advertisement" yourself.

Many organizations are co-operating in state-wide teacher-recruiting programs. In Virginia, businessmen, Parent-Teachers Associations, and members of the American Legion in 51 counties are working for "pay plus prestige" for their teachers. "Why I Teach" was the theme of a nationwide contest. "Operation Blackboard," sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary to focus attention on the attractive feature of a teaching career.

Several communities have adopted "in school" training programs for promising high-school students. As in Santa Barbara, California, senior students observe classroom work and assist the teacher in a directed program. The Future Teachers or America, a recruiting organization affiliated with the National Education Association, now numbers 32,859 high school students and 23,883 in colleges and universities.

These measures are steps in the right direction, but they cannot be effective without support from everybody. Can't you help? Right now, if you know the names of prospective Home Economists and Industrial Educationists, will you fill out the blank form provided in the Stoutonia or the Alumni Newsletter to nominate them for admission to The Stout Institute. Any assistance will help to relieve the critical shortage which exists in these areas.

100 STUDENTS GO ON ANNUAL CONCERT TOUR

With 100 students taking part, The Stout Institute's annual spring tour is taking the college musical organization to 10 Wisconsin cities where the group will appear before thousands of music lovers between March 29 and April 4.

Traveling in their chartered buses, the musicians and vocalists are giving 13 concerts before returning to Menomone. Directing their performances is Victor H. Hardt, head of The Stout Institute music department. Traveling with the group are Mrs. Floyd Keith and Mrs. Otto Nitz, wives of faculty members of The Stout Institute.

Vocalists with the touring group are members of the Stout Symphonic Singers, nationally known mixed choir of the college. They are accompanied by 35 instrumentalists.

Among cities in which the group is appearing are Abbotsford, Pulaski, West De Pere, Neenah, Menomonee Falls, and Shawano. Several concerts are scheduled for Milwaukee, and the organization will also present a concert for students and faculty of Northwestern college.

Following their return to Menomone, Stout's combined musical groups will offer their tour concert program to residents of the Menomonee area at Stout's annual spring concert on Wednesday, May 5. That concert will be held in the Stout auditorium beginning at 8 p. m.

NEWSPAPER TO RUN FEATURE ABOUT STOUT

Both the City of Menomonee and The Stout Institute will be highlighted in a portion of a Madison Sunday newspaper on April 4 when the Wisconsin State Journal includes an article on the city and college in its "Scenic and Historic" series.

This series is a weekly part of the State Journal, with a text by Harold McClelland, travel editor, and sketches by Frank S. Moulton. Later the text and sketches will be combined into a book describing the cities and educational institutions of Wisconsin.

Working with McClelland on the project have been Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout; Dr. Thomas Fleming, public relations officer of the college; and Lloyd Whydowski and Ray Cornwell, both of the audio-visual center at Stout.

F.O.B. STUNT NIGHT PROVES REAL SUCCESS

F.O.B. Stunt Night, which was held on Saturday, March 27 in the Stout Auditorium, proved a success with nine skits entered in the activity.

The Pallas Athenes placed first in the competition with their presentation of "Fair, Fat, and 33". Second place was secured by the Hyperians in their interpretation of the "Tragedy of Women". The Delta Kappas took third in the "D Kappers".

The other skits were: "Hollywood Bound," Eichelberger Hall; "The Hands of Time," Alpha Sigma Alpha; "Annex Cinderella," Tainter Annex; "Phi Sig Fantasy," Phi Sigma Epsilon; "The Tale of Bill Tell," Tri Sig; and "Hot Stuff," Tainter Hall.

In between numbers members of the F.O.B. entertained the audience with jokes and stories. Leroy Zwick did an especially fine job of impersonating and acting various records. During intermission the "The Collegiates" played a few numbers.

While the judges were totaling the results of the competition, "The Leinenkugel Four", composed of Stan Nelson, Ed Phelan, George Chamberlin, and Bud Medlie, presented some well known barbershop harmonies.

The judges for the evening were Mrs. Peggy Whitmer, Miss Simms, Mr. Axel Bark, Mr. Paul Hassett, and Mr. Jack Goodrich.

MISS MEILLER ATTENDS FOOD INSTITUTE

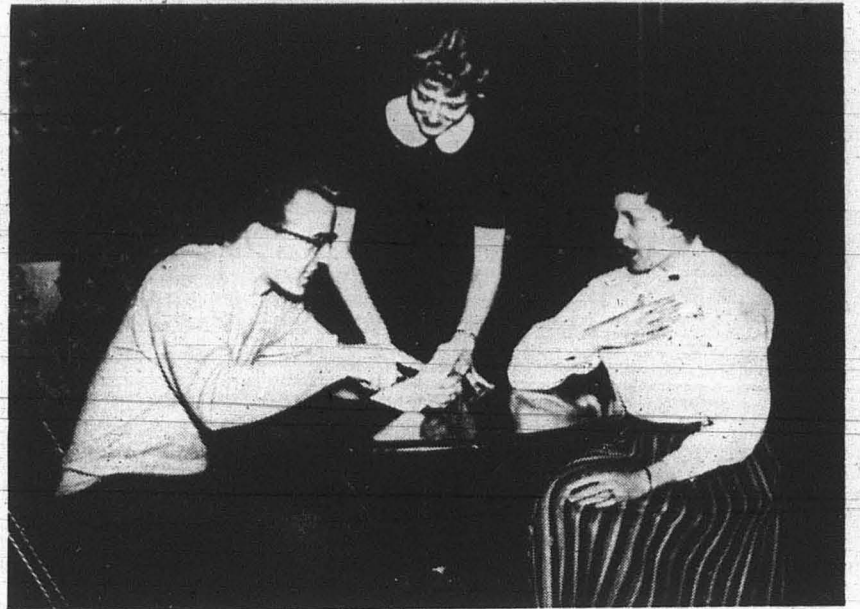

Representing Stout Institute at the recent Institute in Foods and Nutrition held on the University of Wisconsin campus, was Miss Ella Jane Meiller, chairman of the department of food and nutrition at Stout.

Attended by over 200 participants, the institute attracted dietitians, college and high school teachers of home economics, public health representatives, nutritionists, extension specialists, and vocational home economists.

Among leading educators who discussed current nutritional activities was Dr. Gladys Vail, chairman of foods and nutrition at Purdue university; Dr. Conrad Elvehjem, internationally-known biochemist; Dr. Genevieve Stearns, professor of pediatrics at the University of Iowa School of Medicine; and Professor Lenore Sullivan, of the Iowa State college department of institution management.

The field of commercial home economics was represented by Mrs. Breta Griem, home economist of WTMJ-TV Milwaukee. She spoke to delegates on "Effective Methods of Presenting Foods and Nutrition Information Through Television."

"Years Ago" Will Take Its Audience Back To The Era of 1912

Transporting the audience into the era of 1912 will be the cast of "Years Ago". The spring play, produced by the Manual Arts Players under the supervision of Miss Marguerite Cain and Norman C. Ziemann, will be staged April 8, 9, and 10 beginning at 8:00 in the Stout auditorium.

Playing the lead role of a stage-struck 16-year old, Ruth Gordon Jones is Judy Goehring of Menomonee. The autobiographical story, written by Ruth Gordon, evolves around the ambition that controls Ruth's life. No matter what objections are raised by her father, Clinton Jones, played by Larry Loveland, of Madison, Ruth is determined to go to New York to begin her career. Ruth's mother, played by Bertie Harris of New Castle, Indiana, would much rather see her settle down and marry Fred Whitmarsh, played by Rich Dirschel of Long Prairie, Minnesota. But, urged on by her two girlfriends, Anne, portrayed by Joan Mountford of Poynette, and Katherine, played by Ardis Carr of Barron, Ruth is determined to stick to her goal of being a "wonderful, extravagant actress".

When Ruth's father tries to sidetrack her ambition, and brings in two physical culturists, Miss Glavin, portrayed by Gloria Voigt of Reedsville, and Mr. Bagley, played by Don O'Brien of Menomonee, Ruth becomes thoroughly disgusted.

The arrival of a telegram, delivered by Mr. Sparrow, played by Don Pritchard of Columbus, brings important news to Ruth. Even Punk, the family cat, played by the Cornwell's feline, enters into the excitement.

Yes, excitement, humor, and tears are included in this delightful story. The set is nearing completion and promises to be one of the most realistic that has ever been produced by the Manual Arts Players. The properties and costume committees are completing arrangements for the opening night. All that is needed now is the audience—see you there?

ELECTION OF OFFICERS HELD BY P.A.'S MARCH 11

At the last meeting, the Pallas Athene sorority elected new officers. They are: Delores Sauey, president; Barbara Rushing, vice-president; Barbara Brown, secretary; Ann Switzenberg, treasurer; and Irene Novinski, historian. The new officers were installed at the same meeting.

On March 11, formal initiation was held at the Belis residence in Menomonee. The five girls initiated were Irene Novinski, Barbara Brown, Ardis Carr, Elene Sweet, and Mary Adams. After the initiation, the sorority serenaded the girl's dormitories.

Joyce Fraedric and Mary Ann Smith were co-chairmen for the skit presented at Stunt Night. It was entitled "Fair, Fat, and Thirty-three". As a result of a lot of work and planning, the skit took first place.

GOVERNING BOARD NEWS
The S. S. A. now owns four spotlights, so students won't have to borrow from the Manual Arts Players any more. They purchased plastic bags to hang the Homecoming Queen's robes in, too. The idea of picture post cards of Stout has been discussed, and within the next week 3 shots of the campus will be chosen to put on the cards.
Next year's Governing Board is being chosen. Each class has already handed in 8 names, of which the Governing Board will choose four. These four will be open to all-school election. The four from each class that are chosen must have their qualifications in the S.S.A. office by April 6, and the all school election will take place on April 13.
Punch ladders were promised the S.S.A. by the Arts and Crafts Club, and have not yet been made. The Club was reminded by the Governing Board of this promise that was made in 1951.
A Safety Education program was proposed, which would emphasize fire. It seems that fire exits are not clearly marked and many students do not know where the exits are. This will be discussed more fully at a later date, Dean Price was made chairman of the fire committee.

"ROSES FOR MOTHER" IS THEME OF BANQUET
"Roses for Mother" is the theme of the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet which will be held on April 10. The affair is sponsored by the Y.W.C.A., and all women students are invited to bring their mothers as guests.
Mr. Clarence Guthrie, Director of the Y.W.C.A. at Eau Claire will be the guest speaker. Mr. Guthrie is well known in this area for his Christian service and is now interim pastor at the Congregational Church in Menomonie.
Also on the program will be Carol Hahn from Oshkosh, who will sing a solo.
The banquet will be held at the Peace Lutheran Church and will begin at 5:15 p.m. It will end at about 7:45 p.m. in time to go to the M.A.P. play.
Decorations will follow the theme of roses.

ALPHA SIGMA ALPHA INSTALLS OFFICERS
The Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority installed its newly elected officers of 1954-1955 on Sunday, March 28. The Installation ceremony took place in the Harvey Memorial at 10:30 A.M. Preceding this the members of the sorority attended the Peace Lutheran and Catholic church early morning services together as is customary for them to do on special occasions throughout the year. After the ceremony the members ate dinner together in the Tea Room. Miss Killian, who has consented to be their advisor for the remainder of the year, surprised them with a treat of beautifully decorated cake and ice cream.
Newly elected officers are as follows: President, Colleen Ceminsky; Vice-president - Virginia Ehlers; Secretary - Dorothy Neis; Treasurer - Nancy Brackett; Registrar - Dorothy Brownell; Editor - Mary Gehler; Chaplain - Verna Dunn; Delegate to Panhellenic-Ann Shemick; Song Leader - Vera Dale.
Plans are now under way for the annual Dinner Dance which will take place at the Country Club on May 22.

MR. KAMEN'S PICTURES PROVE EDUCATIONAL
Mr. Clifford Kamen presented an illustrated lecture on "Our Fabulous Great Lakes" Wednesday morning. He opened his lecture by showing how the lakes were formed by glaciers. Then he displayed scenes of people vacationing around the lakes.
He showed scenes of the Chicago yacht club and the annual Makkinhaw sail boat race. He said that yachting is a superb sport on the Great Lakes.
Around the Great Lakes there is one of the greatest collections of natural resources in the world. The audience viewed the Hurlst iron deposits at Hibbing, Minnesota. They saw how the iron was dug and transported in the mammoth iron ore boats.
Boats were shown going through the locks at Sue Saint Marie. Mr. Kamen stated that more commerce boats pass through these locks than the other three of the four largest locks of the world. This is an astonishing fact when it is noted that the Sue St. Marie locks are open about eight months of the year and the others are open all year long.
Another important resource found around the Great Lakes is limestone. At Rogers City near Lake Huron the audience saw how limestone is handled. It was interesting to note that all the machines used in the handling of the resources are operated at high efficiency and low cost.
Mr. Kamen appeared before the Stout audience several years ago. Everyone will agree that his lecture was very interesting and that he will be welcome to return again in the near future.

NEWMAN CLUB ATTENDS CONFERENCE MARCH 28
Last Sunday, March 28, a group of Newman Club members attended a Marian Conference at LaCrosse, Wisconsin. 1954 has been proclaimed as the Marian Year. There were representatives from other colleges which are located in this vicinity.
The conference was opened by Bishop Tracy, Bishop of the LaCrosse Diocese. Representatives of the various colleges comprised a panel discussion group and other members attended conferences throughout the day. The conference came to a close at 3 o'clock with a social hour.
The next regular meeting of the Newman Club will be on Sunday, April 11, following the 9:30 mass. This will be a breakfast meeting and all members are urged to attend.

WILL YOU SEE PETER COTTONTAIL?
Here comes Peter Cottontail, Hoppin' down the bunny trail, Bringin' Stout students a vacation, 9 1/2 days of complete relaxation.
Yes, twelve o'clock noon, Friday, April 16 is the gateway to the annual Easter and spring vacation. You, the Stout students are looking forward with great anticipation to this day when you'll be free from schoolwork and be able to board buses, trains, and cars homeward bound.
But don't hurry home in cars like jet-propelled planes or you'll become one of the 32,000 people killed yearly in America's automobile accidents. A few years ago, drivers between the age of 18-24 were involved in 27% of all fatal accidents. This percentage is declining, but the problem is not licked. When you drive or ride home for a pleasant Easter vacation, drive or ride to "live and let live." Good attitudes of attention, self-control, kindness, sportsmanship, courtesy, poise, and courage are found in the expert driver.
This Easter vacation, April 16-25 must be happy for all of you, the Stout students, so be a safe driver or rider and you'll live to see Peter Cottontail!

M.M. PRICE HELPS PLAN INVENTORY

A member of a state-wide committee interested in improving instruction in conservation, M. M. Price, dean of men at The Stout Institute, is among a number of Wisconsin educators who formulated the recently-released "Self Inventory of Conservation Education for Wisconsin Teacher Training Institutions."

Aim of the publication is a realization that "The importance of conservation education in American life and economy is receiving more and more recognition. The teachers in our schools have major responsibility in bringing this important problem to our youth."

"How well they do this will be dependent at least in part upon how well our teachers are prepared in this field." Members of the committee have invited Wisconsin's teachers to examine the materials and techniques of conservation education in their schools and to take a self-inventory of all conservation education in their institutions.

MR. CORNWELL ATTENDS AUDIO-VISUAL MEET

Active in recent audio-visual activities in the Midwest has been Ray C. Cornwell, instructor in the printing department and audio-visual center of The Stout Institute.

Cornwell attended the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction meeting, held at Stevens Point the first week in April. There he heard audio-visual specialist from throughout the state discuss such matters as planning audio-visual facilities for new buildings and improving audio-visual facilities of older buildings.

Other highlights of the meeting included discussions of maintenance and repair of audio-visual equipment, a preview of new materials, and a teaching demonstration. Harold McCarty, director of WHA-TV spoke on "New Developments in Educational TV."

A panel of specialists described audio-visual programs in Missouri, Minnesota, California, and for the nation as a whole. A number of exhibits were also open.

Earlier, Cornwell had attended the Tenth Annual Audio-Visual Institute, held at the Center for Continuation Study at the University of Minnesota. Speakers at the institute included such nationally-known specialists as Walter Wittich, director of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction at the University of Wisconsin.

Professor Wittich will also be the principal speaker for The Stout Institute's second annual audio-visual conference, to be held in Menomonee on April 13.

Participants at the institute then heard a discussion of information necessary in a beginning audio-visual course and the laboratory experiences to be included in such a course. A field trip through the studios of KUOM, University of Minnesota radio station, was also featured.

GESELL REPORTS ON TEEN-AGE BEHAVIOR

Dr. Arnold Gesell, American's foremost child scientist and founder-director of the Yale Clinic of Child Development, and his co-workers have just finished preparing for publication a sequel to their famous earlier volumes on child behavior. The study will neither depreciate nor defend teenagers. The investigators will simply set down a systematic year-by-year account of the pattern of adolescent behavior.

The Gesell investigators have found that 10 to 16 year olds undergo year to year, stage to stage changes just as children do in the first 10 years of life. Dr. Gesell admitted that he and his co-workers suspected that behavior in adolescence was patterned just as in infancy and early childhood, but he never realized how definite the pattern was.

A detailed charting of the trends of development in teen-agers is underway. Such a charting of trends can be of great value to parents and teachers. It can make them more aware of the timing and direction of development, and reduce unwarranted anxieties. The findings have found that not every youngster travels through the stages of development in the same way or at the same speed. Each child has his own pattern of growth—depending on his body type, environment and temperament—which is the key to his individuality.

Here is a summary of the Gesell findings on the development trends of the 10 to 16 year old.

Ten is a pleasant, even joyful, age an age of equilibrium and calm. This is an excellent age to teach tolerance.

Eleven, on the other hand, can be exasperating. The 11 year old is apt to argue about everything and in fact be generally obnoxious. He has scant desire for things to run smoothly.

Twelve is a happier age. Beginning to care about parental approval, the child is somewhat neater and cleaner. Nearly all are now also bothered by their consciences.

At 13, children drift sharply away from their parents. Moody, quiet and withdrawn, they have smoldering inner feelings. Learning to discriminate, 13 year olds are more selective in their choice of companions.

At about 14, the child's prevailing mood again changes perceptibly. The youngster is outgoing once more and there is marked improvement. Bursting with enthusiasm for school activities, intellectual problems and great causes, they can hardly find time to do the things they want.

The teenager at 15 becomes neater especially where clothes are concerned. The child is still withdrawn from his parents.

At 16 things are much smoother. Many teen-age problems are solved. The child usually returns to the warm family circle and is on the road to becoming well-adjusted adult.

Dr. Gesell feels that these year to year adolescent swings are one of the great mysteries of growth.

MR. H. C. MILNES HONORED AT STOUT MEETING

Many men associated with Stout Institute gathered on the evening of April 12 to honor H. C. Milnes, associate professor of industrial education at Stout, who is retiring after having been a faculty member at the college since 1916. Recognition was also given two other faculty members who are leaving the college teaching staff.

Highlight of the evening's entertainment was a parody on Ralph Edwards' "This is Your Life" television program. A complete photographic record of his life was shown to a very surprised H. C. Milnes, and he was later presented with a bound volume of the photographs.

President Verne C. Fryklund and several other members of the Stout faculty paid tribute to the honored guest as citizen, teacher, and family man. Following presentation of a workshop jointer, a gift from the men of the faculty, Mr. Milnes made an appropriate response.

SYMPHONIC SINGERS RETURN FROM TOUR

The Stout Institute's Symphonic Singers recently returned from a successful concert tour of 13 Wisconsin cities. They have launched into practice for their annual Spring Concert in the college auditorium on Wednesday evening, May 5, at 8 p.m.

The 65 vocalists and 35 instrumentalists presented their tour concert to audiences totaling nearly 8,000 persons. Highlights of the tour were two Milwaukee appearances, one in West Milwaukee High School and the other in Milwaukee's Kingsley Methodist church, one of the cities largest churches.

Attending the latter concert were students and faculty from the University of Wisconsin, Milwaukee State College, Milwaukee Conservatory of Music, and the president of the Wisconsin Federation of Music Clubs. Many Stout alumni were present from a number of cities throughout the state.

Especially impressed with the performance of Victor H. Hardt, director, and his musicians was Frank L. Summann, president of the Milwaukee chapter of the Stout Alumni Association. In a letter to Director Hardt, Summann said:

"From the very first selection that was sung by the choir at your concert on Sunday evening in Milwaukee, I was entranced with its musical beauty.

"Roses to the entire choir and band for a splendid performance. Also a special bouquet to you for whipping into shape such a group of voices and instruments to perform so richly.

"Events like this make me proud to be an alumnus of The Stout Institute."

The Symphonic Singers will present their tour concert with several innovations at the group's performance, being offered especially for Menomonie residents and citizens of the surrounding area.

Tickets, 75c for adults and 25c for children, are now available at Lee's Drug Store and City Drug Store. They are also being sold by music students of The Stout Institute.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG EVENT

Giving a last-minute check to equipment used at Stout Institute's second annual audio-visual conference held at the college on Tuesday, April 13, was Raymond Cornwell, who directed the meeting as a member of Stout's audio-visual center. Audio-visual specialists from a wide area attended the conference.

STOUT INSTITUTE HOST TO A-V CONFERENCE

First Conference Was Held In The New Stout Library

Audio-visual specialists from several states participated in The Stout Institute's second annual audio-visual conference, held on the college campus last Tuesday, April 13. The conference was the first such group to use Stout's new library.

Conference leader was Dr. Walter Wittich, director of the Bureau of Audio-Visual Instruction for the University of Wisconsin Extension division. Directing activities was Raymond L. Cornwell, of Stout's audio-visual center.

Following a 9-9:30 a.m. registration in Harvey Hall, delegates were welcomed by Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of The Stout Institute. With Raymond Cornwell presiding, the general session heard two addresses.

Dr. Wittich chose as his keynote speech, "Improvement of Instruction Through Audio-Visual Techniques." "Air Age Wisconsin" was the topic given by Carl E. Guell, educational consultant for the Wisconsin Aeronautics commission, at the noon luncheon.

Two sectional meetings were included in the morning program. R. A. Petrie, director of audio-visual education for the Milwaukee public schools, served as chairman for the group dealing with "Teaching with Pictures." Donald Mereen, Stout alumnus and assistant director of audio-visual activities for the Milwaukee public schools, worked with Mr. Petrie.

Dr. Wittich lead a panel giving a "Progress Report on Educational TV and Radio." A display of Minneapolis school telecasts was made available to the panel by Madeline S. Long, educational radio and television consultant for the Minneapolis public schools.

Following the luncheon and a visit to the numerous exhibits of commercial audio-visual and educational equipment firms, conference participants gathered for a choice of two or more panels. One was entitled "Administering an Audio-Visual Program," and conducted by chairman Aaron Mickelson, director of audio-visual education for the Eau Claire public schools.

Panel members assisting Mr. Mickelson were Henry Borgen, superintendent of schools for St. Croix county; Homer DeLong, superintendent of the Eau Claire public schools; and LeRoy Jensen, supervising principle of an Elmwood school.

"New Methods of Using Slides and Filmstrips" was the title of the conference section moderated by Robert Fisler, director of audio-visual education for River Falls State College. Demonstrator for the section was Kenneth Anderson, representative of the Central Audio-Visual Supply Co.

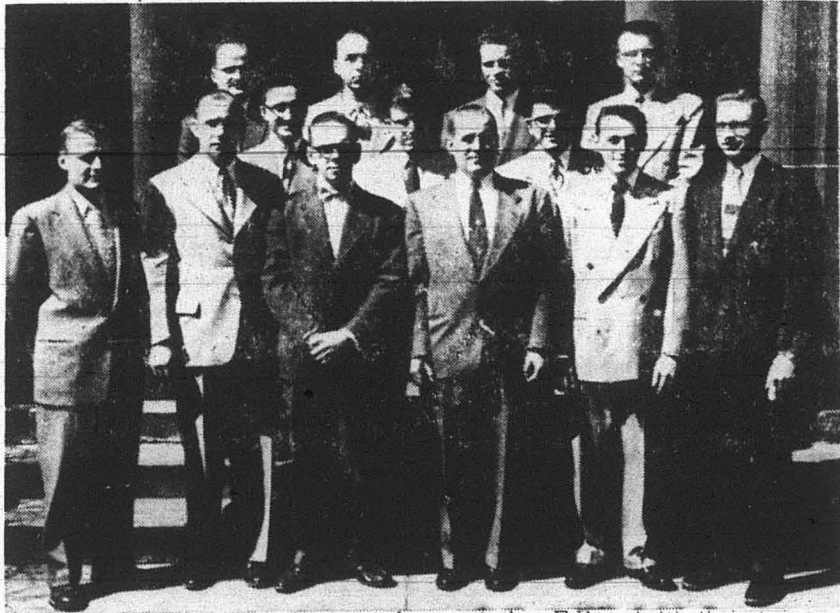

Cooperating with The Stout Institute in presenting the conference was the Wisconsin Department of Audio-Visual Instruction, an affiliate of the National Education Association. A number of commercial educational supply and audio-visual film services were also represented.

EMMET ORMSBY RECALLS MANY GREAT PLAYS

Baseball fans at The Stout Institute received a special treat at the college convocation the morning of Wednesday, April 14, when Emmet (Red) Ormsby, former big-league umpire, described the triumphs and tribulations of his 19 years as an American League baseball arbiter.

Aim of Ormsby's talk is to spread his baseball gospel "Play the Game Hard, But Play it Clean." He spiced his address with humorous anecdotes of the many colorful personalities and events which observed in his 19 years in big-league baseball.

EPSILON PI TAU INITIATES NEW MEMBERS

Five New Members Welcomed Into Theta Chapter

Theta Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau has accepted five new members into its organization following an oral examination held on Monday, April 5. The formal initiation and banquet was held Saturday, April 10.

The five new members welcomed by Theta Chapter are Jerome Abbott, Robert Erickson, George Francis, Harold Halfin, and James Young.

An initiation team consisting of Edward Treise, Bill Stern, Tom Kitto, Robert Swanson, Phillip Mann, Howard Vetter, Philip Ruehl, and John A. Jarvis performed the rites of the formal initiation.

A banquet was held at the Hotel Marion following the formal initiation. Edward Treise, president of Theta Chapter, acted as toastmaster and Dean M. M. Price gave the welcome address to the new members. Dr. Dwight Agnew, head of the department and associate professor of Social Science, delivered the main address.

Dr. Agnew spoke on the chain of events leading to the beginning of The Stout Institute. The speaker discussed briefly the events leading to the beginning of manual training in the United States, and how Professor Woodward pioneered a manual training school in St. Louis. With this foundation, Dr. Agnew proceeded to relate the interest developed by a young man, James H. Stout, which led to the development of the Stout Manual Training School, and the subsequent changes which resulted in Stout as a teacher-training school. Dr. Agnew's talk was interesting as well as informational.

Tom Kitto was recently elevated to the post of secretary-treasurer to replace Dick Kadotani who was recently elected treasurer of the S.S.A. John Walters was elected assistant secretary-treasurer.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

With this issue of the Stoutonia, a new editorial staff takes command. This staff was chosen after much thought and planning, and we feel they are well-qualified for the difficult tasks which will face them next year.

There is not much glory or recognition for the workers on the school paper, in fact complaints seem to be the order of the day, however, those who have been publishing the Stoutonia feel they have received valuable training which will be of help to them in many ways, and they have enjoyed doing their respective jobs.

We, who edited the paper this year, want to thank everyone for their co-operation. We also wish the new staff the best of luck in the coming year.

THE EASTER RABBIT

Easter rabbits and Easter eggs are a common sight now, but where do they originate? In the grasses or behind chairs? No, these theories are only told to the younger generation. The egg is an emblem of Easter; it is believed to hold the seed of life. In some places eggs were forbidden as food during Lent and then on Easter Sunday, they were served. The pagans regarded the rabbit as the emblem of fertility and thought rabbits laid the eggs!

In ancient times, the hare was a symbol for the moon because the moon was considered the open-eyed watcher of the world, and hares were born with open eyes. Now in countries where hares are uncommon, rabbits are used as the Easter symbol and in the United States, it's not unusual to hear the Easter rabbit called the Easter 'bunny'.

Perhaps mothers and dads do tell their children that the Easter bunny brings the eggs, but this American tradition arose years ago from Easter. Some people also say that Easter is an anniversary, but it is not. It is the celebration of the event of Christ's resurrection, the most joyous day in the Christian year. This festival is observed on the first Sunday after the full moon in spring.

The name Easter originates from the Teutonic goddess, Eostre. She represented the east, morning, and spring. Some believed the sun dances at rising and watched for the sun dance from hilltops. Now sunrise services observe memories of the early morning resurrection.

Easter is the most joyous of all celebrations during the year and the Easter rabbits and Easter eggs help this occasion to be a happy one.

It is significant that 95 per cent. of college men are trying to stop smoking, while 95 per cent. of the girls are trying to start.

ARTS AND CRAFTS CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Arts and Crafts Club held annual elections at their business meeting on March 29. The new officers are: Donald Hiller, president; Thomas Kitto, vice president; Patricia Casberg, secretary; and Marlon Scharf, treasurer. The officers who retired are Norm Schultz, president; Carol Zuege, secretary; and Richard Kadatoni, the treasurer.

The card party which the Arts and Crafts Club sponsored was a great success. Marie Strodthoff was the lucky gal of the evening. She walked off with the lovely card table which was the door prize. At the party four new cribbage boards were presented to the union.

DELTA KAPPA MEMBERS PLAN DINNER DANCE

The past few weeks have been busy ones for the Delta Kappa members. They are currently planning their annual spring dinner dance to be held at the Menomonie Country Club on May 7.

This week-end, the chapters of Delta Kappa from the state of Wisconsin are to meet in Menomonie to discuss some problems of expansion which are currently facing the fraternity. Members from Milton College, Whitewater College and Milwaukee State will be present at the meeting. Plans are also being made to have a pre-prom dinner. The advisers for the fraternity are Dr. Agnew and Dr. Oetting.

E. P. T. AND PHI U HEAR ASSEMBLYMAN

The members of E.P.T. and Phi U were given an insight regarding the complexity of federal aid to education Monday evening, April 5, by Assemblyman Arthur L. Peterson. Mr. Peterson stated at the outset of his talk that a person could study the topic all his life and still not be familiar with all its many ramifications. He pointed to semantic difficulties as further complicating the understanding of the federal aid programs.

The speaker traced the history of federal aid to education from 1789 to legislation pending in our Congress to date. He entered into discussion of many of the important pieces of legislation regarding education pointing out some of the waste and unfairness of certain legislation. He remarked that much of the past federal legislative action regarding education was necessary for the development of higher education on a broader level.

Regarding the present administration's views on additional federal aid Mr. Peterson quoted one administration official as saying that the state and local governments must find some way to solve their own problems regarding education. Assemblyman Peterson produced several charts to support his statement that additional help from the federal government would not necessarily increase the quality of education.

Mr. Peterson closed by saying that proponents on both sides of the question of federal aid to education have strong points in their favor.

Assemblyman Peterson was brought to the Stout campus through the combined efforts of John Burnett and Willis Capps.

EDUCATION PROVIDES INVALUABLE BENEFITS

We are sure that each of you recognizes the value of obtaining a college education. It not only trains one to assume greater responsibilities of leadership, but it provides one with innumerable benefits which cannot be measured in dollars and cents. We, as representatives of The Stout Institute, are in a position to convey this idea to the June high school graduates who have ability, initiative, and interest in higher education — particularly in the fields of home economics and industrial education.

In order for each of us to do a better job of selling the benefits of attending a school such as Stout, this is another in a series of articles being written to assist you when questions are asked. Today we would like to present the approximate costs of attending Stout.

Some of the costs will be fixed while others will depend upon the wants and needs of the individual student. In many instances this will become an excellent lesson in planning a budget and then living within reasonable limits. The following list includes fixed and flexible cost items which you may use to guide your students in obtaining their monetary needs for one semester.

Tuition
Residents $ 12.00
Non-Residents 100.00

Fees
Physical education, laboratories, shops 30.00
Health, entertainment, extra curricular activities, student publications, athletic contests 19.00

Room
Dormitories 76.50
City homes 68.00

Board
Women's dormitories 175.00
Stout cafeteria or city restaurants 185.00

The fixed costs will amount to approximately $300.00 for the residents of Wisconsin and $400.00 for the non-residents. To this figure the student must add the needs under miscellaneous. Yes, a college education does cost money, but as was initially mentioned — it is a priceless possession which pays for itself many times.

S. T. S. MEMBERS ON TOUR

S. T. S. MEMBERS TAKE THREE-DAY FIELD TRIP

April 7 at 6 a.m. fifteen members and the adviser of the Stout Typographical Society assembled at the circle of the Stout campus to begin their three-day fieldtrip to the Twin Cities area. It was the twelfth annual trip for the STS.

First stop on the trip was Samuel Bingham's and Son Manufacturing Company in Minneapolis where the printers saw printing press rollers being manufactured. R. H. Gydesen, of the company, conducted the members on a personal tour of the roller-making firm.

Minneapolis Vocational School was the second stop for the day. Here the group was conducted on a tour of the school by H. C. Bertelsen, coordinator of Trades and Industry for the school. Raymond B. Nord, principal, and Mr. Johnson, head of the department of printing answered the questions that arose.

The Beissel Electrotype Company in Saint Paul was the first afternoon visit for the organization. Joe Achterling of the electrotype department and William Pinotti, representative of the composition department conducted the group. Members were extremely interested in a Photosetting Linotype machine which was in operation by the company.

To close out the day, the STS members visited the Process Display Company in Minneapolis. Here George Raichert showed the group the industrial method of silk screen along with the newer photo silk screen method of reproduction.

Shortly after four o'clock the members checked into the Andrews Hotel in Minneapolis.

Thursday morning began with the organization visiting Marshall High School in Minneapolis where K. H. Patrick, printing instructor demonstrated a very impressive method of teaching printing. Discipline problems did not seem to exist and his students were interested in learning.

John Leslie Paper Company was next on the agenda for the printers. Here the group was introduced to the methods of merchandizing paper by Frank Leslie, Jr., Ralph C. Schever, Bob Laven, and Harry Jerran. An excellent meal at Charles Exceptional Cafe concluded the fine hospitality of the Leslie Company.

The Bureau of Engraving in Minneapolis began the afternoon activities for the printers. Hosts at the company were Art Seigel and Ray Jordon.

Jenson Printing Company concluded the activities of the second day. William J. Henetty, personal director for the company showed the group large scale offset lithography reproduction.

Vernon G. Eck and Arthur Baird, head of the printing department and principal, respectively, conducted the STS members on a grand tour of Dunwoody Institute, the first visit for the final day. Members were much impressed by the quality and quantity of printing equipment in the school.

Members saw the covers of the 1954 Tower in the process of completion at the A. J. Dahl Company. The printers also saw how books were bound by mass production. Ed. Mjos and his brothers, owners and operators of the company proved to be very enlightening hosts.

The STS group returned to Saint Paul for the final stop of their three day tour where they visited the North Central Publishing Company. An award winning Christmas publication was exhibited for the group along with other printing methods. Al Kronebusch and Alfred G. Muelleile were hosts for the visit.

Members then boarded buses for the return trip to Menomonie.

BLUEDEVILS TO OPEN AGAINST BLUEGOLDS

The Bluedevils baseball season will open April 27 against Eau Claire at Wakanda Park. Coach Jack Wink's team will play a 12 game schedule. The Bluedevils have four double headers on the schedule, playing St. Cloud and Winona at home and Mankato and LaCrosse on the road.

Ten of the 12 games are Minnesota Wisconsin conference tussels with the games with LaCrosse being non-conference tilts.

The golf and tennis teams will follow the same schedule as the baseball team and will play eight matches. Bill Stern will student coach tennis, but as yet the golf coach hasn't been selected.

Coach Wink has five returning lettermen from a team which finished in fourth place last year. Returning lettermen are Louis Kort, pitcher, Jerry Henderson and LeRoy Sharkey, infielders, and Don Beran and Vernon Wills, outfielders. Other members from last year's team are George Ueda and Chuck Houge, catchers; Gerald Bauman pitcher, Bob Noltner and Jim Dailey, infielders.

The team has been practicing since March 15 when the battery men started work outs. With the new freshmen and these returning capable players Jack Wink is planning on giving Winona, last year's champs, and the rest of the conference a tough run for their money.

The golf situation is not as good as baseball. Veterans Bob Takasaki and Rollie Seager have been let through graduation so the team will have to make a fresh start.

The tennis team will have to center around the two returning lettermen Bill Stern and James F. Warnecke.

MARVE WESTROM WINS DORM PING PONG TITLE

If you have walked past the dorms within the last two weeks you more than likely have heard the clatter of ping pong balls. There's a reason — there has been an eliminati ping pong tournament with 32 participants taking an active part.

The finals saw slamming Don Prichard and spiking Marv Westrom battling it out for the best 4 or games.

Marve made short work of it and now defending champ — winning of 5. Congratulations Marv.

INFORMATION FOR STUDENT RECRUITMENT

Have you had any inquiries from June high school graduates concerning the availability of part-time work or a loan while attending Stout? Many students require such assistance at some time during their college career. Therefore, we would like to discuss some of the possibilities.

First, may we say that the curriculum has first demand upon a student's time and effort. For that reason first year students with insufficient funds are not encouraged to enter college. Those who find it necessary to earn a part of their expenses are expected to take a reduced program.

An employment bureau is maintained by the school to locate jobs for needy students. On campus, students work in the library, laboratories, and cafeteria. Off campus agencies in Menomonie offer added opportunities.

The state of Wisconsin provides a loan fund for resident students who need assistance. Such loans are limited to $200 per year for fees and $120 per semester for maintenance. Generally, these loans are granted after a semester of work, but in some cases may be granted after four weeks of work. The loans are non-interest bearing while the student is in attendance. However, they mature two years from the date of last attendance and during this period bear 4% interest.

Another source for a loan is the Eichelberger fund. A committee selects the recipients on the basis of scholarship, character, personality, and professional promise. Freshmen are not eligible to use this money. One year after the student leaves college, such loans must be repaid.

Whether the student decides on part-time work or to request a loan, each of us should emphasize that going to college is a full-time job which requires the student's best efforts.

EVERYONE IS INVITED TO "CASTLE IN THE CLOUDS"

Pal Thede Will Provide Music For 1954 Junior Prom Tomorrow Evening

Attention! Another new beautiful building has been erected on the Stout campus! This richly ornamented structure is in an atmosphere of clouds and will be open for exhibition tomorrow night, May 1. All students will want to and must see this "castle" now located inside the Menomonie High School Gym for the annual Stout Junior Prom.

In the kingdom surrounding the castle will be Pal Thede's orchestra providing dreamy music to set the mood for a heavenly evening. Opposite the orchestra will be the refreshment stand where all attending can sip punch.

An added attraction in the kingdom will be the photographers' booth, disguised by blue and white crepe paper. All subjects of the kingdom or couples attending will be able to have their picture taken.

Situated across from the picture booth is the throne where King George Fink will crown his wife as Queen of the 1954 Prom.

All princes are urged to ask a princess to have an enjoyable and heavenly time in the "castle in the clouds" kingdom. Tickets are on sale in Harvey Hall and can be purchased at the entrance to the Prom tomorrow night, May 1.

TWO NEW POSITIONS FILLED FOR SCHOOL PAPER

PICTURED ABOVE are the Editor, Gordon Maves, and the Associate Editor, Jean Schwertel, who take over their new positions on the paper for the new term

FILL POSITIONS FOR 54-55 STOUTONIA STAFF

Gordon Maves Named As Editor; Jean Schwertel Is Associate Editor

Only two persons have been named thus far to fill positions on the Stoutonia staff for the 1954-55 term. They are Gordon Maves, editor, and Jean Schwertel, associate editor.

Gordon Maves is a Sophomore. During his freshman year he reported for the Stoutonia. This past year Gordon has served in the capacity of associate editor.

A freshman from Arcadia, Wisconsin, Jean Schwertel has had experience reporting for the Stoutonia, as well as being editor of the high school paper during her senior year. Jean will assume the duties of associate editor.

He received his college education at Chicago, and obtained a music degree from the Vander Cook College of Music in the Windy City. He taught in Chicago suburb high school before World War II.

After 3½ years in the Army Signal Corps during which he spent time in the Philippines and Japan, the future Stout choir director received his masters degree in music from the University of Minnesota. Then he taught in Minnesota and Chicago for four years, working meanwhile on a doctor's thesis in music. He taught at Vander Cook College of Music. This summer he will receive his doctorate of Music from Columbia University.

Does Arranging
All this training has aided his natural ability for the job at hand which demands arranging numbers for both band and choirs. This necessitates considerable labor on his part, for very little music is available for such use.

This training might indicate a tendency towards "heaviness" in Director Hardt's selections; however, his choir-band combination has prepared both, and in a concert for the general public Director Hardt has displayed a keen sense of selecting those popular and special novelty numbers that have general audience appeal.

Next Wednesday night the Stout Symphonic Singers will feature such numbers as "Younger Generation," which will please the audience with its choice of words, and the "Ballad of Brotherhood," a very modern number.

Choir and band numbers include the ever popular "Battle Hymn of the Republic", the "Syncopated Clock," selections from "Porgy and Bess" and "Joshua" among others.

Some of the very best numbers, most pleasing for audience appeal are included among the alternate numbers which may be moved up into the regular program. These include "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now", "Melancholy Me", "Kiff Riders," and "Northern Lights March" for band, "Malaguena" for choir and band, and "Without A Song" and "Ten Little Indians" for the Girls' ensemble.

HISTORY IN BACK OF STOUT'S CHOIR

For many years, one of the features of Menomonie was the Stout Symphonic Singers. Concerts had standing room only. The Stout choir was the product of Harold Cooke, now of Rochester, and that choir—along with the Menomonie high school choir—was one of Menomonie's pride.

Mr. Cooke left Stout and Menomonie for Rochester where he now directs the symphony and helps out with the Hormel Girls chorus. He was a showman, and his musical work delighted the audience, not to mention his choir members.

Now the good news is out: Stout again has a top rated choir.

Not only that, but the Stout band is also highly regarded, and this year as a special feature which is being attempted by only two other Universities in the country, the Stout Symphonic Singers and the band appeared together on the stage in special arrangements.

INVITED TO NATIONAL MUSIC CONVENTION

The Stout Symphonic Singers and Band auditioned in Milwaukee during its recent state tour, was notified last week that it had been selected to appear at the National Federation of Music Clubs Convention in Miami, Fla., next year.

The convention will be held between April 20 to 30, and the Stout combined band-choir will be presented April 20-21, 1955. Stout's appearance in Miami will be part of a two weeks concert tour through ten states and covering over 4,000 miles, stated Director Victor Hardt.

The man responsible for Stout's musical rise to the top is a man who is all music.

He is Victor H. Hardt, director of both band and choir.

He hit on this unique feature; use of both band and choir on the stage at one time with over 100 musicians, because he was originally a band man. He did not wish to emphasize the band more than the choir in his college directorship, so he planned on using both in concert tours.

It was a grand success.

Menomonie people will be able to judge for themselves next Wednesday night, May 5, starting at 8 p.m. at the Stout auditorium.

Hardt Born in Canada

The director is a story in his own right. He was born in Alberta, Canada, son of missionary parents, who never stayed longer than three years in any one place. As a result Mr. Hardt traveled throughout the country, entering the United States at the age of three, and moved from Ohio to Minnesota, to Washington, and eventually graduated from a Chicago high

LAST CONVO WITH JASON APRIL 28

Mr. George Jason gave the Stout audience a rare treat at the convocation Wednesday. His program was divided into three parts. He began by giving a short talk about himself. Being a native of Georgia he said that Stalin lived a short distance from him when he was young. He couldn't get along with Stalin; so he left the country and has been here for 31 years. At one time he was a teacher but he decided he wanted to eat regularly so he "quit."

Mr. Jason gave his definition of a communist. It is "a guy who would like to borrow your pot to cook your goose in."

Next he played several selections on the piano. He had a sore finger and told the audience he would play the best he could. He played his version of Valse Caprice and followed it with Malgoniaia.

During the third part of his program he said he would attempt to do some magic tricks. He did several attempts and clowned them up.

This was the last convocation of this year.

"APRIL SHOWERS" WAS THEME OF WRA TEA

"April Showers" was the theme of the W.R.A. Tea which was held in the Harvey Memorial, Wednesday from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Mary Kane and Jane Gargulak were co-chairmen of the tea. Those other girls who worked on the W.R.A. Tea committee were Margaret Schuette, Gwen Somers, Judy Benson, Jane Spurgat, Sylvia Robinson, and Carol Viestenz.

Small cupcakes, mints, nuts, and lime ice with ginger ale were served. The decorations consisted of umbrellas, raindrops, and daisies.

DORIS HUTCHINSON IS M.A.P. PRESIDENT

NEWMAN CLUB MAKES PLANS FOR PICNIC

The Newman Club held its regular meeting on Sunday, April 11, following the 9:30 a.m. Mass. The breakfast was served by the fellows, with Larry Bruno acting as Chairman.

A door prize was given away. This was won by Bob Tennesen.

Mary Kane and Don Walters reported on the Marion Congress which they attended a few weeks ago at La Crosse. Mr. Hughes told of the Catholic Action Convention which was held in Milwaukee.

The next meeting of the Newman Club will be a picnic and will be held on Sunday, May 16, at Wakanda Park. The picnic will begin at about 3:00 p.m., and the members are to meet in the circle at school at this time and transportation out to Wakanda Park will be provided.

There will be a notice posted and all members who are interested in attending this picnic are asked to sign it. Each member is allowed to bring a guest. Make it a point to sign up and attend the picnic!

PHI SIGS PLAN DINNER DANCE NEXT WEEK

Members, wives, sweethearts, and friends of the Phi Sigma Epsilon fraternity are looking forward to an enjoyable evening of dining and dancing on Saturday, May 8, at the Hotel Marion. With Lawrence Bruno, Gordon Maves and Daniel Wielgus in charge of arrangements, the social fraternity will enjoy an evening of swing and sway in the beautiful Cardinal Room of quaint Hotel Marion.

HAVE YOU HAD YOUR CARDS PROTECTED?

May 5th will be your last chance to get billfold cards and pictures laminated for this school year! Don't take the chance of spoiling valuable paper cards because of water, moisture, other liquids, and just plain hard use this summer.

A booth will be set up in Harvey Hall to take cards for lamination on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 3, 4, 5, by the A.P.O. The cost will be less than 35c and delivery is guaranteed before the close of school.

Plastic lamination works very well for the following suggested items: Driver's license, social security card, organization membership and alumni cards, billfold size pictures, military service discharge and release cards, SSA activity card, and many others. Be sure to have that card protected this summer.

RIFLE CLUB HAD OPEN HOUSE APRIL 14

Twenty persons attended "Open House" in Bowman Hall, April 14, in an event held by the Rifle Club.

To promote interest in shooting and the safe use of firearms, The Stout Institute Rifle Club held the Open House in the upper gym of Bowman Hall, Wednesday evening, April 14.

A short talk on shooting by advisor Dick Klatt and shooting by interested guests highlighted the activities for the educational evening.

NOTICE!

Members of the Stout Typographical Society are now in the process of printing calling cards for the graduating seniors of 1954.

Orders are expected to be completed in the near future. A notice will be posted on the bulletin boards indicating when Seniors may pick up their cards from the printshop.

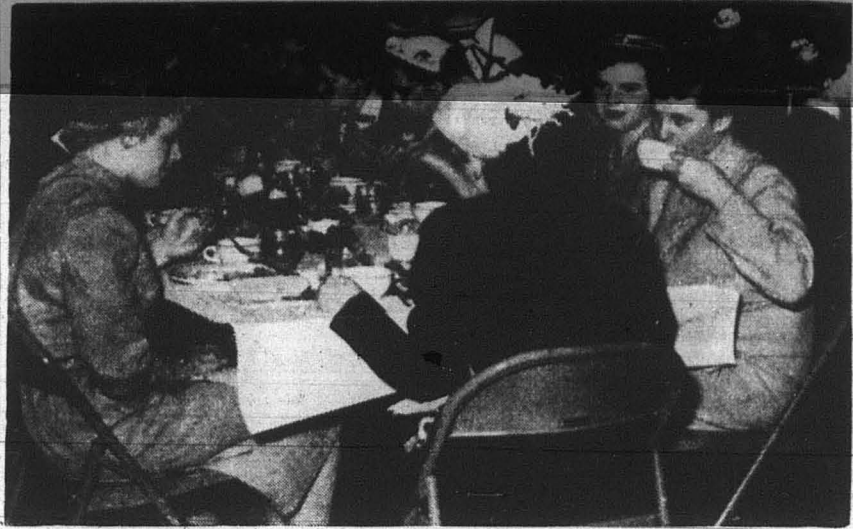

An old lady living far back in the hills was the proud possessor of a cow. One day the cow visited a neighbor's still and ate so much whisky mash that it died. The old lady promptly presented a claim to the neighbor. "I won't pay," said the neighbor. "My whisky mash didn't kill that cow. The cow gave egg nog and your old man milked it to death!"

VIEWING THE MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

SHOWN ARE a few of the many mothers and daughters who attended the recent dinner. They heard an interesting speaker and saw the spring play.

RECORD ATTENDANCE AT BANQUET

Over two hundred persons attended the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet on Saturday evening, April 10. The dinner was held at Peace Lutheran Church.

Mr. Guthrie, director of the YMCA at Eau Claire, and interim pastor in this area, was the main speaker of the evening.

The "Toast to the Mothers" was given by Eunice Nulton, president of the YWCA. Mrs. Nulton gave the "Toast to the Daughters". Toastmistress of the evening was Barbara Ray, president-elect of the organization.

The decorations followed the theme of "Roses-to-Mother". Artificial red roses and white candles decorated the tables.

In the afternoon, tours were scheduled for the campus buildings.

Following the banquet, the mothers were guests of their daughters at the MAP play.

CENTRAL AMERICAN DISPLAYS HIS SKILL

Demonstrating some of the machine shop skills which he learned in technical schools of South America is Marcos Argudo, right, industrial education student from Ecuador now attending The Stout Institute. Keeping an eye on his work is H. C. Milnes.

he disliked the fact that only academic subjects were taught. Then he enrolled in a vocational school, where he took a complete course in machine shop. Still pursuing his interest in things mechanical, he went to Chile and studied for four years at Escuela de Artes of Oficios. If he had taken a year's internship in industry. After graduation, he would have received a degree. "In my country, a teacher must constantly keep abreast of new trends in his field to do the best possible teaching and, in fact, even to hold his job. If our students don't like a teacher or don't think he knows his subject, the results are sudden and positive—they make him leave!"

In Ecuador, Marcos will be promoted to being supervisor of the same department of Colegio Central Tecnico where he was a teacher for two years. However, with his education complete and two years training in American vocational methods, the young Ecuadorean hopes to contribute some definite plans for the improvement of vocational education in his country:

"Over 25 percent of our young people go to other countries to complete their education. It is obvious that they feel Ecuador's education is not meeting all their needs. I hope that I can contribute to making the education of my nation more useful to our citizens."

Marco's is thoroughly "sold" on American educational techniques, which he is eager to introduce to the schools of his homeland:

"I want to bring home economics to our schools. Girls of my country could benefit a great deal from well-planned lessons in cooking and home-making. American young ladies take such courses and they become as practical as they are beautiful. We in Ecuador can certainly do as well!"

MR. ARGUDO GETS AMERICAN TECHNIQUES

"How do American coeds do it? Girls in my country spend twice as much time trying to make themselves beautiful, but American young ladies seem to have discovered the secret of perpetual glamour."

This is the flattering estimate of American coeds, based on nearly a year's experience in the United States expressed by Marcos Argudo, exchange student from Ecuador who is studying at The Stout Institute.

Marco's home city is Quito, the capital city of Ecuador, near which his father owns and operates a large farm. Although the principal crop raised on this farm is bananas, nevertheless coffee, rice, and almost every tropic fruit and vegetable are also grown there. In spite of the size and importance of the family farm, Marcos admits he has never seen it:

"I've been so busy learning to be a school teacher, and then teaching, that I still haven't gotten around to making a trip out to the family acreage. Anyway teaching is my career, not farming."

Marco attended an Ecuadorean high school for only a short time, as

FIRST GAME OF SEASON WON BY STOUT

The Stout men rallied for six runs in the eighth inning to overcome a 4 point deficit. The win was credit to reliever Glen Tobias who pitched two and two thirds hitless innings. The loss was hung on Kenny Anderson by the devastating eighth splurge by the spunky Stout nine.

Louie Kort pitched brilliant ball during the first five innings as he fanned 7. During this time however, Anderson was doing some fancy hurling of his own so the score at the end of 5 innings stood at 0-0. The sixth inning saw a hit and error giving up two runs. Then the seventh saw another hit and another run scored; This is when Tobias stepped in to give up two more runs, but then to hold the Bluegolds for the final two innings.

In the eighth with two out, Gene Batist swung out, but Eau Claire's Cather dropped the ball and Gene beat the throw to first. Waly Klosterman walked, Vern Wills rapped a single and Jerry Henderson walked forcing in a run. Bob Noltner's hit was bobbled by the shortstop and it rolled into the outfield. Dick Klug's long single sent two more across the plate.

At this point the Bluedevils made a spectacular squeeze play with Noltner ridding out Tobias' bunt to score. This ended the fun and one more scoreless inning saw the bluedevils win their first game of the season.

MARY DETLOR DISPLAYS BAKING

Showing that she is already familiar with Danish pasteries and coffee is Mary Detlor (left), Stout Institute senior from Plainfield, whose outstanding 4-H achievements have won her a 6-months appointment as a "grass roots ambassador" to Denmark. Mary is shown serving Danish culinary delights to Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics at Stout, the division of the college in which Mary majored.

MARY DETLOR WILL VISIT DENMARK

Tradition and custom have long decreed that a nation's "ambassadors" usually be men. However, the emancipation of women has gained such momentum that Mary Detlor, a senior coed at The Stout Institute, has been named as a "grass roots ambassador" to Denmark.

Announcement of Miss Detlor's selection was made this week by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the home economics division at Stout, in which Miss Detlor is training to become a home economics teacher. Sponsoring the trip is the nation's 4-H Club organization. The 4-H group and a number of interested American business organizations will furnish the several thousand dollars needed to underwrite the new ambassador's expenses.

A "grass roots ambassador" can be defined as a young 4-H representative who participates in the program called the International Farm Youth Exchange. The program is designed, through exchange experiences of American and foreign rural young people, to foster understanding and cooperation between the United States and other nations of the world.

Miss Detlor's responsibilities will be anything but the hurried, superficial visits for which American tourists are noted. She will undergo a complete transformation into a Danish farm girl, residing with four farm families in that nation and assuming her share of farm and household duties. She will exchange her American college wardrobe for the clothing of a Danish farm girl. According to Miss Detlor, becoming a new person has a definite psychological goal.

"By living, dressing, and working as a member of a Danish family, I will be accepted as a participant in all of their activities instead of looking on as a tourist. The families and I can really come to know one another on this basis."

Miss Detlor must discard one other cherished possession when she reaches Denmark—her ability to speak English. Instead of current American college slang, she will converse entirely in German and Danish, the language of the families with whom she will live. Using phonograph records, Miss Detlor now labors three hours daily to "master" both languages before her June 1 departure.

However, the 4-H organization and the U. S. Department of Agriculture are leaving nothing to chance in training a coed who will represent the nation to a whole segment of Denmark. Prior to sailing, Mary will undergo a six-day orientation session in Wash-

Dean of the division of industrial education at The Stout Institute, Dr. John A. Jarvis, has received national recognition as an educator having been awarded the Laureate Citation of Epsilon Pi Tau, international honor society in industrial arts and industrial-vocational education.

The honor was bestowed upon Dr. Jarvis through nomination of the board of trustees of Epsilon Pi Tau and confirmed by them in a unanimous vote at their recent annual business meeting.

According to the citation which announced the recognition being given Dean Jarvis, he is being commended for:

"A notable career as master craftsman, scholar, teacher, organizer, and dean of the industrial education division at The Stout Institute in Menomonie, Wisconsin, for a distinguished war record in the United States Navy during World War II, and for an exemplary trusteeship of the Theta Chapter of Epsilon Pi Tau."

Theta chapter of the national industrial education group is located at The Stout Institute. Dean Jarvis has served as one of the trustees of that group.

VIEWING APPLE COOKERY

Dorothy Ann Neis, Stout Institute sophomore demonstrates her skill in judging the qualities of various types of cooked apples to Miss Ann Noble, head of the department of home economics education at Stout. Miss Neis undoubtedly has such skill, for she has recently been named one of four Wisconsin delegates to represent thousands of this state's 4-H members at the National 4-H Club camp, to be held in Washington, D. C., this June. In addition, Miss Neis' cooking skills will aid her in her chosen career as one of Wisconsin's county home agents.

MR. DAVID BARNARD VISITS THE CAMPUS

Visiting The Stout Institute campus from May 1-3 was David Barnard, director of The Stout Institute audio-visual center. Mr. Barnard is now on leave of absence, working toward his doctorate at the University of Indiana.

While at Stout he completed a number of administrative details and visited with faculty members and students.

STUDENTS WILL HAVE MAIL BOXES

The days of cluttered bulletin boards and "unreachable" students at The Stout Institute will become only a memory before long when a new bulletin board will be installed in Harvey Hall, as will be locked, regulation mailboxes for students and faculty.

The bulletin board, larger and more attractive, will be affixed in a suitable place in the main corridor of the home economics building. The former cluttered, inconvenient board, long a center of students congestion outside the old library, will be removed.

Much of the bulletin board "clutter" at Stout has been necessitated by personal messages which remain attached to the boards until the recipient discovers his or her note.

Attractive, modern student and faculty mailboxes, each fitted with a combination lock, will make it possible for every person on campus to contact any student or faculty member personally, and with a minimum of lost time.

Opportunity for improving the bulletin board and mail facilities at Stout has been made possible by remodeling of quarters once occupied by the old library and by a revamping of the registrar's office and the business office.

DEAN PRICE WAS MAIN SPEAKER APRIL 24

Main speaker at the Nebraska Industrial Education Association at Beatrice, Nebraska, on April 24 was M.M. Price, Dean of Men and Associate Professor at The Stout Institute. He spoke on "Living in and with an Age of Tension."

President of the Association during the past year was Fred H. Brockman who received his M.S. degree from Stout in 1951. Attending as members of the Association were Arvid Johnson (B.S. 1933, M.S. 1940) now at Lincoln, Nebraska and Don Thiel (M.S. 1953) now teaching at Omaha.

A feature of the convention was an industrial arts equipment and materials display. Also on display were student projects from junior high, senior high, and adult divisions of Nebraska schools.

DOROTHY NEIS TO ATTEND 4-H CAMP

Chosen as one of only four delegates who will represent thousands of Wisconsin 4-H club members at the National 4-H Camp in Washington, D. C., this June is Dorothy Ann Neis, Stout Institute sophomore.

Miss Neis, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neis, Juneau, is enrolled in the Home Economics division of Stout. Her selection as National 4-H delegate continues a lengthy tradition in which many Stout home economics majors have previously been honored for their achievements by a trip to the National 4-H camp.

Dorothy Ann will meet in Chicago with other representatives from Midwestern states. Together with their chaperones, the 4-H delegates will travel to Washington to join conference participants from all 48 states, the American territories and foreign countries.

Nine years of achievement in Dodge county's 4-H program won for Miss Neis her state-wide recognition. She was five times elected president of her 4-H club. In addition, she served as county secretary for the 4-H club program designed for older youths.

At the 1953 Wisconsin State Fair, Dorothy Ann won top honors for her sewing demonstration and also was chosen as a hostess for the State Fair youth building. She had earlier been selected to demonstrate at the 1952 fair.

Miss Neis was awarded the coveted D.A.R. award for her high school achievements. She also has carried on 4-H projects in dairying, clothing, food preservation, gardening, and junior leadership.

She believes all these experiences, plus her home economics training at The Stout Institute, will prove valuable in the career for which she is preparing herself—becoming a county home agent.

MISS NELSON RECEIVES POSITION

Appointment of Miss Ellen Nelson, associate professor of home economics at The Stout Institute, as a member of the summer session faculty at the 1954 summer session of the University of Illinois, has been announced this week.

Miss Nelson received her appointment from Dr. B. L. Dodds, dean of the college of education at the University. Miss Nelson will teach Curriculum problems and also Trends in Home Economics Education, the latter a four credit course on the graduate level.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Last fall several students at Stout formed a swimming group and called themselves the Synchronized Swimmers. One night each week they met at the swimming pool and practiced and swam for the enjoyment of swimming. While practicing, Elene Sweet, one of the swimmers came up with the idea to put on a swimming show for the Stout students. With the help of Miss Erditz, a water ballet was planned. After many weeks of hard and diligent practice, the swimmers, sponsored by W.R.A., put on a very successful water show for the Stout students. Because the ballet was such a great success, and because so many students took an active interest in the activity, the group will organize into a club and call themselves the Synchronized Swimmers.

Hats off to all of you who took part in the water show! You did a swell job. The students are proud to know that the Synchronized swimmers will become an organization on campus.

ington, D. C. There she will conclude her language preparation and familiarize herself with important aspects of Danish history, geography, customs, foreign trade, and farming.

As a home economist, Miss Detlor is looking forward with anticipation to sampling famous Danish pastries.

"I plan to bring home a notebook full of Danish recipes. How can a person understand a nation's way of life unless that person understands the country's cooking secrets as well?"

However, in exchange for losing their pretty daughter for half a year, Mary's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Detlor, who operate a farm near Plainfield, hope to play host to a Danish boy who for six months will be Denmark's gross roots ambassador to Wisconsin.

Miss Detlor's selection as an American representative to Denmark was based on her achievement in 4-H work during the past ten years. She was first nominated as an "outstanding achiever" by her local 4-H organization. She was then invited to Madison, where her 4-H records received another check, and she participated in a day-long interview to determine her personal qualifications. At the end of a day of tension and hope, Miss Detlor was selected.

"I was so excited by the news that for several minutes I thought that my heart had stopped beating."

Following her stay with her "adopted" Danish families, Mary will round out her European experiences with a month's tour of other continental nations. She will return to this country in November, when she plans to enter county extension work.

An efficiency expert who was hired to work out some time-saving improvements in a plant had only one suggestion, that the curve near the time clock be banked.

"STRING OF PEARLS" IS THEME OF DANCE

The country club will be appropriately decorated in accordance with the theme "String of Pearls" tonight at the Tri Sigma dinner dance. The color scheme that will be used through out the decorations is purple and white. After the dinner, the couples will enjoy dancing the music of Lawrence Farwell's orchestra.

Riverside Park will be the site of the Tri Sigma Senior Send-Off on May 13th. The Seniors will be treated with awards and gifts by the underclass members of the sorority.

A picnic lunch is being planned. All alumni are invited to attend this Senior Send-Off.

Junior and his mother were looking through the family album. "And here said his mother, is your Aunt Mamie and there is your Uncle Ned and there is grandma."

Pretty soon they came to a picture of a handsome young man with a mustache and a crop of wavy hair. "Who's that?", asked Junior.

"Why, that is your father!"

"Yeah!" said Junior skeptically. "Then who is the bald-headed guy that has been living with us?"

SCHOLARSHIPS: HOW THEY ARE AWARDED

As the time is at hand for the final selection of scholarship winners, you may wonder just how the committee decides what students should receive certain scholarships. A number of criteria shall be used in this selection. Minimum standards may be established, however, for each criterion. Otherwise the criteria may be considered of equal significance.

Among the criteria which will be used for the selection process are:

 4. Character and personality - is determined by ratings contained in Application for Admission and by interviews with the applicant whenever possible.
 5. Special talent - is determined by personal interview or by statements of reference.
 6. Health - is determined from Health Examination form.
- Scholarships are considered as a part of the total financial aids program. Therefore, the type of aid granted shall be one which will contribute maximally to the development of the particular student under consideration. RECORD CROWD ENJOYS SPRING CONCERT

With the impressive piece, "May the Good Lord Bless and Keep You," the Stout Symphonics Singers closed a very successful annual spring concert on Wednesday evening, May 5, before a large responsive audience. The Stout student body had enjoyed the same concert at a student assembly Wednesday morning.

Attending the concert as guests of the Symphonic organization were Robert L. Pierce, President of the Board of Trustees; President Fryklund, the administrative staff, and members of the faculty, Dr. and Mrs. McMahon, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hassett. Complimentary tickets had also been sent to high school music directors within a 40 mile radius of Menomonie. From 30 to 40 musical minded Colfax high school students attended the concert.

Something unique for the audience of this spring's concert was a contest in which five prizes were given away. Everyone was asked to estimate the year in which several bars of music were written. The individuals who came the closest to the year 1225, the correct year in which the music was written, received the prizes. They were Mr. Phil Ruehl, first prize; Mr. Alden R. Peterson, Mr. Melvin Gulstad, Mr. Henry Borgen and Miss Goldette Wold won second, third, fourth, and fifth prizes respectively.

Following the concert, members of Stout Symphonic Singers and their guests met in the cafeteria for a party given by Mr. Hardt. Ken Geske presented Mr. Hardt with a tape recording of "Porgy and Bess," a light meter for his camera, and The Glenn Miller record album as gifts from the Symphonic Singers. After this presentation, Mr. Hardt asked Elsie Bush to sing one of his own compositions which he adapted to the group present. Virgil King, Jerry Loushin, Donovan Wagner, Tom Huetsen, and Gordon Zimmerman provided other musical entertainment.

This concert was the second last appearance of the Stout Symphonic Singers for the school year 1953-54. Their last appearance will be on June 4 at the library dedication and commencement.

Once upon a time, May 1, 1954 B. C., a new short-lived kingdom was formed in Menomonie, Wisconsin. Reigning over the Stout kingdom was King George Fink and his real-life wife, Queen Betty. The happy royal couple used social grace to rule their home and headquarters, the "castle in the clouds", for 4 hours earth time.

In a heavenly atmosphere, dreamy music was provided by Pat Thede's 7 man orchestra from the outside world of Rochester, Minn. The subjects attending this kingdom all enjoyed the spell cast upon them by the beautiful blue decorations.

FIVE FILMS FOR CHILDREN CAN BE PREVIEWED

PTA members, parents, teachers and officials of any organization interested in films suitable for showing to parents or to their children had an opportunity to view five of such films, free of charge, on Thursday, May 13, at 4 p. m. in the audio-visual theatre of the new Stout Institute library. All other residents of this area were also invited.

Films shown included "The Littlest Angel," popular in children's books; "The Princess and the Dragon," a play in which puppets act out an old fairy tale; "Spring Comes to the Pond," a description of the forms of life in and around a pond; "Squeak the Squirrel," the story of how a squirrel adapts to his environment; and "Understanding Basketball," an explanation of that sport for children and parents having young basketball hopefuls.

Presenting the films was the audio-visual center of The Stout Institute, with Raymond L. Cornwell in charge of arrangements. Announcement will soon be made of the titles of five films in the area of religion and ethics, to be shown at 4 p. m. on Thursday, May 27, also in Stout's new audio-visual theatre.

WEAVING IS TED TAYLOR'S AVOCATION

Stout Student Produces Ladies' Handbags for Warm Weather Trade

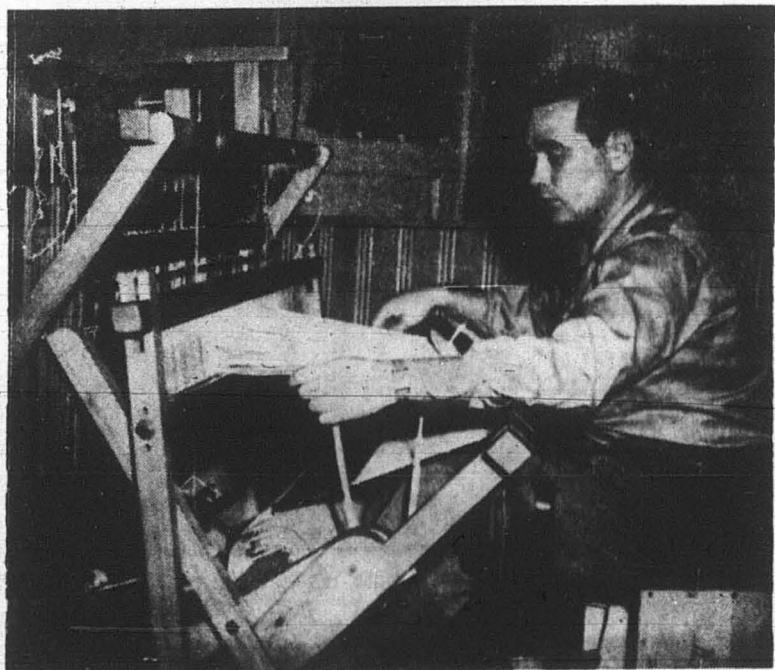

American women are spending lots of time these days choosing the right handbag to match their spring ensembles.

What's unusual about that? Nothing. But when a Menomonie male is puzzled about what handbag he should choose for warm weather, that's a different story.

The man in this case is Ted Taylor, a junior student at The Stout Institute. He has to make his unusual choice because he must keep one jump ahead of the women. Why? Well, he weaves the purses that the ladies buy! When Ted enrolled in Stout last September, he was faced with the problem of financing both himself and his wife through college. He decided that he must select part-time work that he could do at home, work that he could start and stop in accordance with his schedule of college classes.

Earlier, Ted had attended the University of Wisconsin and had lived next door to Helen Louise Allen, Professor of weaving at the University. Ted admits that Professor Allen made an impression on him: "She was a very unusual woman and had traveled a lot. Besides describing to me the cultures of other lands, she demonstrated the basic fundamentals of weaving and thus I gained my first appreciation and understanding of that art."

AT THE LOOM

Hard at work weaving a new creation in a woman's spring handbag is Ted Taylor, junior student at The Stout Institute, who pays his way—and that of his wife—through college with his original handiwork. His purses have been sold by two Menomonie stores, by Ted personally, and through outlets in Madison.

MR. KRANZUSCH CHOSEN COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Newly-elected chairman of the Driver Education committee for the Wisconsin Association for Vocational and Adult Education is R. F. Krantzusch, associate professor on industrial education at The Stout Institute and director of the driver education program at the college. Mr. Krantzusch will hold the office for 1955.

Joseph Longe, also a Stout graduate, has been named to the five-man Driver Education committee.

PHI U INSTALL NEW OFFICERS IN CEREMONY

Installations of Phi U officers were held last Tuesday evening in the Harvey Memorial. Officers for the coming year are president, Kay Wedin; vice president, Pat Jensen; recording secretary, Mary Anderson; corresponding secretary, Jo Fritz; marshal, Joeline Chryst; chaplain, Carol Bredlow; historian, Jean Baker; editor Gloria Voigt; and librarian, Delores Sauey.

The annual Stoutonia banquet will be held Monday evening, May 17, 6:15 at the Hotel Marion. Sign up on the bulletin board in Harvey Hall by Saturday.

Ted's sister has done quite well financially making braided rugs. First Ted tried that craft, but it was a slow process. Remembering his knowledge of weaving, he journeyed to Minneapolis to confer with Siegfried Marcusen, who is well-known among weaving enthusiasts for his skill in the Danish weaving crafts. Mr. Marcusen set Ted up with a loom.

Since the first of this year, when he got his loom, Ted has produced over one hundred purses and sold every one of them. Each takes about two and one half hours to weave. Ted's basic sequence is the Rum River pattern, and from it he can produce variations. He has been using summer colors—White and pastels—in most of his handbags for the warm weather trade.

Being a resourceful man, and also a potential industrial arts teacher, he has made the shuttles he used and now is working on a bobbin-winder. Ted has even expanded into the field of fashion, designing his own handbags and seeking to develop new styles.

"Right now I am experimenting on an envelope-type purse with snap openings. This style seems to be quite popular with the ladies and a man has to please the ladies if he wants to eat."

Ted transferred to The Stout Institute because, as he puts it, "I wanted to learn to do things." Eventually he plans to build his own home and make all its furnishings himself.

Yes, when a man goes window-shopping to keep up-to-date on women's fashions, there's bound to be a reason. And Ted Taylor has his reasons—purses of them.

NOTICE

The bulletin board must be kept clean and neat. Lately many signs have been put on crooked, and most of the notices have not been removed promptly. All future notices are to carry a date, and each evening the board will be cleaned by some student appointed to the job. Important notices and library fines are still posted on the old bulletin board. Be sure to read it!!

Another item that has come to the attention of the Student Governing Board has been student loans. Many students have borrowed money from the fund, and have neglected to pay it back. The fund is for all students, and if you make an agreement to pay back the money, do so soon so that other students may have the benefit of a loan too. If it is impossible for you to pay your loans in the given time, a renewal may be had. Please pay your loans promptly.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

Lately there has been a great deal of discussion about offering a physical education minor here at Stout. The idea has been presented to the faculty and it has been discussed and is being given a great deal of thought.

There are several advantages of a physical education minor. First of all, it would benefit students, especially the education majors. There is a great deal of demand at the present for teachers with phy ed minors because teaching of the course is a state requirement for public schools in Wisconsin. Higher salaries are paid to teachers with this qualification because they can teach phy ed classes besides their regular ones.

A phy ed minor offered at Stout would also benefit the college. Many outstanding high school athletes who go to college are interested in obtaining such a degree. If this minor were offered, it would mean a better college and higher salaries for Stout graduates.

Anyone is invited to come and see the movie which will be shown in the sanctuary of the Trinity Methodist church.

Awards will be presented on award day, at the assembly, to those girls who have worked hard in W.R.A. and have compiled enough points to merit awards.

The high school area play day which had been planned for May 15 was called off because so few schools responded to the invitations which had been sent by Stout's W.R.A.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB WORKING ON PROJECTS

Freshman girls will have visitors May 18th. This is the night that the Home Ec. Club will be selling all occasion cards at the dorms immediately after dinner.

Plans are near completion for the Senior Breakfast to be held in honor of the Senior girls. Barbara Ray, chairman, hopes to see you at the cafeteria Sunday morning, May 30. Advance tickets will be on sale in Harvey Hall.

Doris Hutchinson viewed the relationship between Stout's Home Ec. Club and the American Home Economics Association.

Mary Dettlor deserves much praise for establishing a successful year.

She concluded her term as president with the installation ceremony for the new officers.

DIETETIC CLUB WILL HONOR SENIOR MEMBERS

Grandma Anderson's dining room of the Armeron Hotel in Wabasha, Minnesota will be the scene of a Senior dinner for the Dietetic Club on Sunday afternoon, May 16. The afternoon event will include a scenic drive along the shore of Lake Pepin.

Each spring the Dietetic Club travels to some outstanding eating place in this area for a dinner in honor of the senior members of the group. Grandma Anderson's is a country style hotel dining room with a reputation for wonderful food. It is noted especially for the delicious assortment of Dutch breads which is served with every meal.

A bus will leave the circle at 2:15 p.m. on Sunday, so Dietetic Club members are urged to be there on time.

RULES OF HOOKY

Spring (including snowstorms) brings an important social issue to the Stout student; it is how to play hooky correctly and in good taste! Many theories are offered by Stout alumni, but the best hypothesis is expressed by old Goodyquinton, "former" Stout graduate, who says:

10. Make a motion that you have a headache, feel sick, or sprain a toe so you can secure an "aspirin."

9. If an assignment is due, review it at home, then poke and plumb town (you poke your head out of the window and you're plumb out of town) for a long week end of about seven days.

8. Never be over 50 min. late for class.

7. When debating with instructor about too many cuts, tap his head lightly with a baseball bat to scatter his thoughts.

6. Be well dressed all the time in spring clothes so you'll get clothes-trophobia.

5. Men, be interested in surrounding outside activities, mainly women.

4. Women, before you skip with a boyfriend, read the slogan inside his car. It will say, "Some of the world's bravest women pass through these doors."

3. Women, explain to housemother that you're going babysitting (at least call him "baby" when you drive away.)

2. Men, get "full-time" work to pay back folks. (Although by the time a boy gets old enough to know how much he owes his parents, some Stout girl comes along and gets most of his "interest.")

1. Take another skip. Say to teachers, "I'll see you soon; hope you have a nice summer."

SIG TAU MEMBERS PLAN ANNUAL SPRING PICNIC

The cottages of Dave Samdahl and Buff Walter will be the scene of Sigma Tau Gamma's annual picnic. The date has been set for May 23, and everyone is looking forward to a swell time.

Letters were received last week from three members who are now stationed overseas. They are Robert Adkins, Marshall Islands; Jerry Schemansky, Austria; and Fred Kajihara, Germany.

STUDENTS LEARN LIBRARY PROCEDURE RAPIDLY

Miss Froggatt Summarizes use Of Library Equipment and Describes Special Rooms

"The Stout Institute students have already adjusted themselves to the new college library as if they had been using it for years. They found no difficulty whatever in familiarizing themselves with our new library facilities."

The preceding comment is that of Miss Lillian Froggatt, head librarian at Stout, in describing the rapidity with which Stout students have become accustomed to the larger and more varied facilities which are available to them in the new college library.

Now that this completely-modern library is in operation, the Stoutonia has asked Miss Froggatt to summarize rules of library procedure, explain the location and use of certain library equipment, and describe some special rooms in the library building.

According to Miss Froggatt, rules governing the checking out of library materials remain the same. The two-week, three day and two-hour time limits for using library materials remain in effect. Books checked out for two weeks are obtainable at the large circulation desk facing the library lobby. Three-day and two-hour books will be checked out at the smaller desk facing the reading room.

Students may enter the stacks, as they were permitted to do in the old library, upon signing a stack record pad which is kept at the main circulation desk. Students are also permitted in the stacks to obtain back copies of magazines.

Location of certain library material is especially important, Miss Froggatt points out. The card catalog, vital in drawing out books, is located in the circulation area of the library lobby. Two other categories of library materials, the occupational file and the file for films and film strips, have been included in the card catalog.

Cards in the occupational file enumerate the library's collection of books, pamphlets, and government publications describing varied occupations. Material in the file is segregated on the basis of specific occupations. Both the occupational file and the file listing available films and film strips are located toward the right-hand side of the card catalog.

Miss Froggatt has also called attention to the location of other materials important to students. Library indices, such as the Reader's Guide and the Education Index, are now available on specially-designed tables in the reading room. Such reference books as encyclopedias have been placed in the stack area facing the reading room. There they are easily available to students, yet are cut off from stack books by metal "stack barriers."

Newly-acquired library books, which always attract much attention from library patrons, will be displayed on shelves near the reading room entrance. In the display will be the library's new offerings in fiction, education and other areas of reading interest.

The location of magazines, a matter of consequence in student research has been carefully explained by the head librarian. A single copy of the current issue of each of the library's magazines is kept in the special periodical section of the reading room. A change has been made in the arrangement of these current issues, the issues now being displayed according to broad subject matter area.

Magazine issues which extend back to and include 1945 are kept on the main floor. Magazine issues of years before 1945 are filed on the mezzanine. A limited number of special materials, such as original copies of Stout Institute theses, are kept in the library vault.

A number of special facilities are also an integral part of the new library building. Miss Froggatt has outlined the regulations governing use of the audio-visual theatre facilities, the four seminar rooms and the text book library, all located on the ground floor of the building.

Twenty four study carrels are distributed between both the main floor and the mezzanine level, the latter floor also containing Stout's new typing room. The Memorial Browsing Room, located on the main floor, will not be occupied until its furnishings arrive.

Use of the audio-visual theatre and and projection room, and also the seminar rooms, is scheduled by President Fryklund's office. The theatre accommodates nearly 100 persons in opera-type seats which have writing arms attached. The seminar rooms offer facilities for conference groups and small classes. Opening from the end of one seminar room are two small "studios," especially planned for faculty members who are engaged in study or research which requires privacy.

The textbook library, formerly in Harvey Hall, is open on the ground floor of the library each Tuesday and Friday from 4:30 to 5:00 p.m. The 24 individual study nooks or carrels are available to any person in the stacks on either floor. No previous reservation is necessary, at least until the demand for carrels makes scheduling imperative.

For the purpose of the picture only, Barney Styer and Nancy Hanshus demonstrate another feature of the new library.

Jean Baker takes advantage of one of the twenty-four study carrels of the new library. These carrels are provided near the book stacks on both floors of the building.

On the mezzanine is the typing room, a facility long desired by many Stout students. Two typewriters will soon be made available in the room. additional furnishings will also provide space for students who wish to bring their own typewriters for use in the typing room.

The Memorial Browsing room, dedicated to faculty members who have previously served Stout Institute and to friends of the college, is designed for informality and the encouragement of varied readings. Memorial book collections will also be made available in this room.

Thus Stout's new library, a distinct contrast to the outmoded library space recently vacated in Harvey Hall, has rapidly become an important, much-used part of The Stout Institute campus.

MR. WIGEN REPRESENTS STOUT AT CONFERENCE

Representing The Stout Institute at the National Education Association of Regional Instruction conference, held recently in Minneapolis, was R. A. Wigen, director of graduate studies at the college.

Theme of the conference was "Working Together for Better Teaching in These Times." Delegates were addressed by national education leaders and then formed panels to discuss problems of elementary and secondary education.

Among major topics were Some Constant Schoolwide Fundamentals, Understanding and Working with Pupils, Creating an Environment for Learning, and Evaluating Educational Work.

Mr. Wigen was appointed to represent the Wisconsin Industrial Arts association and the American Industrial Arts association as a consultant for the "Experience Sharing Group." Topic for that group was "Helping Children Develop the Habits of Problem Solving and Critical Thinking."

MAGAZINE CARRIES ITEMS OF INTEREST

Two items of interest to college students and faculty members have recently been reported in "Higher Education and National Affairs," a periodic publication of the American Council on Education.

One significant piece of data is a report by the Veterans Administration indicating that in February there were 144,393 veterans enrolled in institutions of higher learning under Public Law 550, an increase of 13,887 over the number in January.

Since institutions of higher learning have been paying $6,000,000 annually in federal admission taxes, recent enactment into law of H.R. Bill 8224 means that federal taxes are removed on admissions to athletic events between educational institutions during the regular athletic season. This exemption applies on tickets where the admissions occur on or after April 1, 1954.

NEW COURSES ARE ADDED TO CURRICULUM

Recent approval by the curriculum and instruction committee of The Stout Institute of two new courses in the college curriculum will increase the course work available to Stout students. The committee also approved additional courses for Stout's approaching summer session and acted upon a proposed change in credit hours for student teaching in the Division of Home Economics.

Especially designed for officers and members of student organizations and for students who will later have active roles in community affairs, a new speech department course will be offered in "Techniques of Group Leadership." The course would be offered both semesters of the college year for two class hours of credit.

Aims of the course, as stated by Norman Ziemán, chairman of Stout's speech department, include improving the student's skill in oral communication, increasing reflective thinking, offering training in democratic methods, helping a student to realize the advantages of group action, and strengthening the attitudes and skills of students in leading or participating in group discussion.

According to Ziemán, class participants will receive valuable training, both for membership in college societies and for citizenship, from training in principles of parliamentary law and in proper parliamentary procedures.

A suggested course of study in "Tool and Die Making, as proposed by Dick G. Klatt, of the general metals departments of the Division of Industrial Education, also received committee approval. The course, for two credits, would be offered each semester of the regular college year and also in summer sessions.

Planned for advanced metalworking students and graduate students seeking additional technical training in metals, the class will offer a broad concept of the field of work in the metals area, give an additional elective course of an exploratory nature, broaden the student's consumer knowledge of certain industrial products, develop manual skills, and improve the background of students interested in industrial work rather than teaching.

Problems will be analyzed and necessary materials, lay-out work, methods of fabrication, and necessary machine tools operations will be planned by the student and checked by the instructor prior to each construction project. Certain prerequisite courses, for which substitutes can be made at the discretion of the instructor, have been set up for the student interested in Tool and Die Making.

committee approved five additional courses in the approaching summer session. One will be "Home Economics on Radio and TV," taught by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of home economics at Stout. The course will include script writing, speech techniques, program materials, critical analysis, and other aspects of preparing and presenting materials on radio and TV.

The Department of English of The Stout Institute will offer a new course, "New Techniques in Reading and Composition." The class will study and analyze new approaches to communication, survey books and magazine articles concerned with new techniques and philosophies, and encourage group discussions and reports.

Also to be offered this summer is "Nutrition Education for the Elementary Grades," a course designed especially to further the understanding of the role of nutrition as it pertains to children in the elementary grades.

Not a specialized home economics offering, the course will aid teachers of elementary grades by emphasizing the general educational values of nutrition for all.

"Teaching High School Food Classes in One Period" will be a course on meal planning, preparation, and service. It has as a primary emphasis equipping high school teachers of home economics to complete successfully all aspects of preparing a meal within the 50-60 minute limits of the average high school class period.

"Supervision in Home Economics Teaching" and a "Coordinator's Workshop" are also part of the summer session offerings. These two exceptional opportunities will be more fully publicized at a later date.

PLACEMENT IN ASIA AND AFRICA

Students at The Stout Institute may be interested in a recent release of the International Development Placement Association, Inc., a non-profit organization for the selection, counseling, training and placement of qualified persons for technical assistance in social and economic development work in Asia, Africa, and Latin America.

According to the association, the following general information is of value to students contemplating employment through the association's facilities:

The following opportunities for local employment in social and economic development work in Asia and Africa are open to qualified applicants selected by the International Development Placement Association [IDPA]. Salaries are at the local scale in the country. Contracts run generally for two to three years; occasionally for shorter periods.

These positions offer unusual opportunities for experience in adapting Western skills and education to the needs of underdeveloped areas. IDPA field workers will work as equal partners with the people in these areas in indigenous development programs. In this way, they can acquire a useful understanding of peoples and cultures in Asian and African countries.

To those selected as IDPA field workers, IDPA will provide assistance in arranging travel, specified medical assistance and insurance, and advisory services throughout the term of service. Full details of the IDPA program are contained in the brochure "Trained Personnel for Technical Assistance Work."

Application Procedure: Please enclose with your initial inquiry a brief statement describing your education experience, family status, draft status period of time for which you will be available, and five personal or professional references. There is no fee for IDPA's services.

Placement Procedure: In most instances, final arrangements for placement in the positions announced cannot be worked out with the employer until he is presented with a suitable roster of available personnel. Therefore, it is not usually possible to announce definite dates of appointment and unless specified otherwise the appointment may be arranged for any suitable date through June, 1955. Details will be arranged individually with approved applicants.

Since industrial education teaching positions are included among opportunities listed by the IDPA placement bureau, the following data is particularly relevant:

West Africa - Secondary schools, government and privately run, in Sierra Leone, Liberia, Gold Coast and Nigeria are planning expanding programs as well as seeking to fill present needs. Most urgent need is for science teachers in all branches (see 2TG), but openings are expected also in languages, industrial arts, textile technology, radio-electricity, machine shop instruction, commercial subjects, art, music and drama, as well as in school administrative positions. Details are now under consideration by the employing agencies concerned. Their plans will depend in great nature on trained personnel available for this challenging work. In almost all instances, duties, in addition to teaching, will involve the organization and development of curricula, in some cases, for the first time.

India - An outstanding university in India is seeking a Visiting Professor in Arts, Science or Technology for the 1955 academic year.

Other fields listed by the association's placement facilities include those of engineering and architecture, general science, physics, chemistry, mathematics, biology, agricultural and biological science, botany, social science and social work, medicine and health veterinary science.

Address of the organization is the International Development Placement Association, Inc., 345 East 46th Street, New York 17, New York.

MAGAZINE RUNS ARTICLES ON STOUT PEOPLE

The Stout Institute and its personnel are well represented in the April, 1954, issue of "Industrial Arts and Vocational Education," national professional magazine for industrial education teachers.

Among the lead articles is a feature "Training Girl Linotype Operators for the School Print Shop," by Gary Gore, Stout Institute senior. The article, which describes Stout's methods of training feminine linotypers, was written in the Stout class in Feature Writing.

Also described is Stout Institute's recent guidance conference which was attended by over 300 specialists from several states. Pictured with this article are Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of Stout, and Dr. Ralph G. Iverson, director of student personnel services at the college.

Also receiving national notice is a report of the Wisconsin Builders conference, held on the Stout campus in January. The names and roles of a number of Stout faculty members are given.

Author of another feature, "The Racine Plan for In-Service Training," is Kenneth L. Schank, Stout alumnus now in the Racine school system. Schank and John Woolley, former Menomonie resident and Stout graduate, are pictured with the article.

TEACHER'S ROLE IN COLLEGE SELECTION

During the past four years your graduating seniors have been preparing themselves to enter our society in the capacity for which each is best suited. For some, this means higher education. What is your role, as a teacher, in guiding college-caliber students in selecting the school at which they will study?

It is likely that you are doing a good job of teaching if your students come to you with questions concerning careers and colleges. If you speak encouragingly about your work and are enthusiastic about your subject matter, some of that spirit is going to "rub off" on your students. We know that a goodly number of young people are being led into the field of education, and to Stout, by such teachers.

Make every effort — once the student has a particular area of study in view, to help him in analyzing 1) his own abilities, 2) his financial condition, and 3) his personal tastes regarding the informality of a small college versus the complexities of university life. It is not fair to project your opinions upon him. Instead, help him gain an accurate picture of the demands and facilities of each school. If he asks questions be truthful, but let him make the final decision.

Such counselling will greatly assist college bound students and be a satisfying experience for you.

DAVID BEYL ELECTED PRESIDENT OF S.T.S.

Election of officers, discussion of the Wazygoose, and completion of senior name cards featured a regular meeting of the Stout Typographical Society on May 5, in the printshop. David Beyl, sophomore from Clear Lake, Wisconsin, was elected president of the printer's fraternity at the meeting. Other officers elected were Don Woelffer, sophomore from Stevens Point, Wiscon'n, vice president; Gene Kirscht, freshman from Albertville, Minnesota, secretary; John Posawitz, junior from Sheboygan, Wisconsin, treasurer; John St. Jacques, freshman from Escanaba, Michigan, shop foreman.

All officers other than the shop foreman were elected on a temporary basis because of the fact that all men elected to temporary offices may assume their offices on a permanent basis when they reach the degree corresponding to their office.

The printer's holiday, the annual Wazygoose, will be held at Talmier Lake on May 22, starting at 2 p.m. In addition to all the members, several faculty and honorary members will be invited.

It is said if you grin
When your troubles begin,
You are certain to wind up on top;
So I grin, ear to ear,
And my cares disappear —
But they always return when I stop!

The Lord provides the fishes,
But we gotta dig the bait.

MR. HAROLD C. MILNES IN MACHINE SHOP

MR. MILNES is shown repairing a grinder in the college Machine Shop. He also has been instructor in the Foundry and Pattern-making shops.

MR. MILNES CONCLUDES HIS TEACHING CAREER

His Forty-Five Years
Of Teaching Give Him
Pleasant Memories

If you were suddenly called upon to instruct 12,000 students, that assignment would undoubtedly seem a bit terrifying to you, whether you were a trained teacher or not.

But when 12,000 students have been distributed among your classes throughout a distinguished 45 year teaching career, that total—although still immense—might not be so alarming. Instead it could well represent a lifetime of pleasure and challenge.

Such has been the experience of Mr. Harold Milnes, who will retire this June from the faculty of The Stout Institute, after 45 years of teaching shop, foundry and patternmaking, 38 of these years at the college.

Mr. Milnes' interest in industrial education—then called "manual training"—began long ago in Kansas City, Missouri, when Milnes, then a student in the Kansas City Manual Training high school, built a five horsepower motor which was placed in the machine shop exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair in 1904.

"It was the recommendation of my former principal in the Kansas City school that started me on my teaching career," says Mr. Milnes. "And his memory will be dear to me as long as I live."

After graduation from the Manual Training high school, Mr. Milnes attended school at the Armour Institute of Chicago, and later was employed for a year and a half by the Western Electric Company.

Returning to Missouri, he then was employed by the Kansas City Electric Light and Power Company, before going to Evansville in 1909 on his first teaching job. And, it was in Evansville also that Mr. Milnes, working at the Vulcan Plow Company during summer vacations, acquired a background of foundry and pattern-making. He continued to instruct machine shop at Evansville high school for seven years before coming to The Stout Institute, where he has taught ever since.

After earning credits toward a Bachelor of Science degree at Columbia University and Chicago University Mr. Milnes transferred those credits to The Stout Institute, where he received his degree in 1922. He was granted his Master of Science degree at Iowa State college in 1936, after

DURBAHN'S TV SUCCESS IS GROWING

Growing television success of a Stout graduate, Walter Durbahn, is reflected in the fact that his "Walt's Workshop" TV program has now been put on film and is being shown over a steadily increasing number of television stations.

According to Frank J. Haylick, assistant to the president of Reid H. Ray Film Industries, who are filming and distributing Mr. Durbahn's program, the Stout alumnus' television offering has a real place in the entertainment field.

Not only is Mr. Durbahn an expert in his field, but we have had considerable comment about the fine type of program which he presents. There is so much presented on television that is surrounded by murder or some other type of violence that a program which interests the whole family is refreshing to many viewers.

Television stations which have recently begin to carry "Walt's Workshop" include WHO Des Moines and K L Z Denver. Stations will also handle the show within the next thirty days in Philadelphia; Cleveland; Montgomery, Ala.; Tulsa; Wichita; Omaha, Austin, Minn.; Colorado Springs; Holdrege, Neb.; Springfield, Mo.; and Bismark, N.D.

"Walt's Workshop" has been shown "live" over WNBQ-TV, Chicago, for the past six years. It is a half-hour presentation. Fifty-two such TV films are now being made.

MAY 24 MARKS DAY OF E.P.T. SPRING PICNIC

Epsilon Pi Tau's annual spring picnic will be held at Wakanda Park on Monday, May 24 instead of the previously scheduled date, May 23. If precipitation should occur, the group will move into the park pavilion.

Robert Rupercich, chairman of the picnic committee, urges every member to come early and participate in your favorite pastime. The picnic luncheon will be served at 6:00 p.m.

By all indications, this year's attendance will be the largest that it has been for many years. Over forty members have signed up at the time of this writing.

DEAN KIRK ANNOUNCES DIETETIC APPOINTMENTS

Announcement of the appointment of five Stout Institute senior coeds to one year hospital internships has been announced by Dr. Alice J. Kirk, dean of the division of home economics at Stout.

Throughout the United States, dietetic internship appointments are simultaneously announced by the American Dietetic association, through heads of home economics departments in colleges and universities approved by the National association.

The coeds receiving appointments, their home cities, and the location of their appointments are as follows:

Elaine Hansen, Bloomer, University hospitals of the University of Iowa Medical Center, Iowa City, Ia.; Joanne Hosford, Menomonie. St. Mary's hospital, Rochester, Minn; Grace Laudon, Tomah, Peter Bent Brigham hospital, Boston, Mass.;

Elinor Lehman, Menomonie, Good Samaritan hospital, Portland, Oregon; and Jeanette Oetting, Menomonie, St. Mary's hospital, Rochester.

MISS KILLIAN ATTENDS RECENT CONVENTION

Representing The Stout Institute at the recent American Restaurant association convention, held on Chicago's Navy Pier, was Miss Mary Killian, associate professor of food and nutrition at Stout. Miss Killian is also director of the college cafeteria.

Highlights of the convention included displays of all modern institutional food service equipment. The famous "Chefs' Cuisine," a demonstration of preparation of fancy food dishes for which Chicago chefs are famous, also delighted delegates.

Lectures and discussions, led by experts in food service techniques, dealt with such relevant topics as food cost control and determining of food portions. Miss Killian was also impressed by the extreme hospitality of all exhibiting suppliers, convention participants and those handling convention details.

MISS AMON ATTENDS ART CONVENTION

Representing The Stout Institute at a recent meeting of the Wisconsin Art Education association was Miss Martha Ruth Amon, head of the department of related art at Stout. The meeting was held at Cardinal Stritch college in Milwaukee.

Other delegates included faculty members from the University of Wisconsin, the Wisconsin State colleges, and many public schools. The Wisconsin Arts Education group is an affiliation of the Wisconsin Education association, and each year holds meetings at various member organizations throughout the state.

Directing conference activities was Sister Mary Thomasita, head of the art department at Cardinal Stritch college. Recently the subject of an article in "Life" magazine, Sister Thomasita discussed her work at Cardinal Stritch and displayed to delegates the art rooms and other art facilities at that college.

PHI U MEMBERS SERVE SMORGASBORD

For many years it has been known that Stout trains its students along practical and applicable lines. Thursday, May 6, again proved this fact to residents of Menomonie. The members of Phi Upsilon Omicron on that day served an "Appreciation Smorgasbord" for Don's Super-Valu store. The fraternity worked in cooperation with the directors sent out by the chain line Super-Valu.

All day long girls worked at the store preparing the food—ham, cold meats, cheese, sea foods, coffee, and other delicacies—for the zero hour at 4:00. Working in shifts, the girls, between the hours of 4:00 and 9:00 served 4,883 plates of food.

The organizing of the "operation smorgasbord" was done by Rose Deuber. She reports that approximately 100 hours of work were put in by the members of Phi U. Part of the money earned will be used for the expenses of the president, Kay Wedin, when she attends the national convocation to be held in Texas this summer.

SENIORS HAVE CHOICE OF POSITIONS

With placement a popular topic of conversation among The Stout Institute students who will be completing their education at The Stout Institute this year, Miss Gertrude M. O'Brien, chairman of the college has released the following information pertinent to that subject:

During the past three months, superintendents from Wisconsin and such adjoining states as Michigan, Minnesota and Illinois have visited the Stout campus to employ teachers of home economics and industrial education.

Some of these employing officials have been successful in their quest and many others have not. If there is only one Stout Institute candidate available for ten positions which are open, nine superintendents will not be able to employ Stout graduates this year.

Calls for home economics teachers began as early as February this year. Consequently, most of the 38 home economics majors had accepted positions early or at least by the end of April.

Over 600 placement requests were received for Stout Institute graduates to teach home economics. This gave the 38 graduates who were available for teaching an opportunity to select a position in any desired locality.

The situation in regard to available Stout Institute male graduates is also restricted. Since the Korean incident of 1951, from 25 to 30 Stout industrial education graduates from each class have entered military service following commencement. In addition, many underclassmen were drafted into military service and not permitted to complete college.

Therefore, the number of this year's industrial education graduates is small. Because 18 such men will enter service following commencement, only 35 Stout Institute industrial education majors are available for placement.

Placement calls indicate that salaries for all The Stout Institute graduates are good, but that they vary considerably according to the area of the nation in which the job exists and the size of the city from which the placement request comes. Statistics indicate that, aside from salaries available in Pacific Coast states and metropolitan areas, the best salaries are to be found in Wisconsin and neighboring states.

CLASS TO GIVE "SUPPRESSED DESIRES"

Next Monday, May 24, 1954, students are invited to attend the play, Suppressed Desires, which is being presented by this semester's play production class. The play is at 7:30 in the Stout auditorium.

In this day and age nearly everyone is frustrated. But, do most individuals do anything about it. Henrietta Brewster, played by Delores Saucy, is an avid fan of psychoanalysis. She believes that "suppressed desires" should be brought out into the open. Henrietta has her sister, Mabel, played by Colleen Cernisky, going to be "psyched" to discover her suppressed desires. Steve, Henrietta's husband who is portrayed by Ronnie Johnson, is rather skeptical about all of this. To discover these desires, you are all invited to attend the play this Monday.

The play production class under the direction of Norman C. Ziemann has been working on this play all semester. It is a new way of learning play production by actually having the experience of producing a real live play.

Gossip of the week! Coeds from the dorms with sunburned noses, college-manned canoes tipping over in the lake, students taking "extra cuts" provide the spice of the present gossip and spell out spring on the Stout campus. Yes, the 1953-54 school term is nearing its end and ahead lies the glorious summer vacation. But behind lie the memories of the big bonfire, new acquaintances, cramming for exams, Christmas vacation, semester tests, favorite teachers, hated required courses, the Prom, and picnics. All Stout students are sad, remembering the 1953-54 school year, for it has been a wonderful term, hasn't it?

Last night Pallas Athene had its annual Senior Dinner at Jeatran's Supper Club. Each senior received a gift from her sisters.

The Pallas Athenes would like to thank the students for making the Easter sale a success. Gloria Voigt was the winner of a basket.

M.A.P. INITIATES NINE NEW MEMBERS

In a stilled, dramatic atmosphere with candlelight, nine new members were initiated into the Manual Arts Players Chapter of the Alpha Psi Omega fraternity on Monday, May 10. Immediately following the ceremony the annual initiation banquet was held at Jeatran's Supper Club.

Those becoming new members of the fraternity are Ardis Carr, Dorothy Disrud, Carl Spint, Barbara Hilts and Janice Jenquin. With the reading of the purposes of the fraternity and an explanation of its traditions the new members received their membership cards and recognition plaques.

The chicken supper which followed gave a fitting end to an evening of ceremony, fellowship, and fun.

A large number of senior members will be leaving Stout's chapter of this organization. Those leaving will be Sam Wikstran (this year's president), Bob Brunswick, Jeanette Oetting, Louise Wenger, Carol Zuege, Jackie Frisbie, Vivian Barnhart, Roberta Harris, and Charolyn Schauf.

CONGO CLUB HOLDS ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Ed Clary, retiring president, called a meeting of the Congo Club to order on Sunday, May 17, after the group had enjoyed their evening meal. Election of officers was the main business of the evening.

The results of the election are: president, Elwin Amyx; vice president, Shirley Brask; secretary, Jean Crichton, and treasurer, Walter Kratsch. Donald Sweet was elected as Program Chairman. Elwin Amyx and Shirley Brask will represent the Congo Club on the Inter-religious Council.

The group voted favorably to assist the Young Couple's Club and the Pilgrimage Fellowship group in purchasing a new ping pong table top.

A picnic meeting is planned for Sunday, May 23, at Point Comfort. Installation of officers will be the business of the evening. All those interested will meet at the Congregational Church at 4:30. Everyone is welcome.

L.S.A. MEMBERS PLAN CANOE TRIP

Let's all have a wonderful time on Sunday evening, May 23, by attending the L.S.A.'s Canoe Trip to Point Comfort. Everyone is to meet at 3:30 at the boat dock. Wear old clothes. There will be a picnic supper for everyone.

Next Sunday evening, May 30, will be the Baccalaureate Services at Our Savior's Lutheran Church. The service will begin at 8 o'clock P.M. All Lutheran seniors and any other seniors wishing to come are invited. The speaker will be Pastor Marcus Gravdahl, who is assistant pastor at Grace Lutheran Church in Eau Claire, and director of youth activities there. Rev. Gravdahl is, at the present time, President of the International Young Peoples Luther League.

Remember to wear your old clothes and come to the L.S.A. Canoe ride to Point Comfort on Sunday evening. Let's have all L.S.A. students and their friends turn out for the last meeting of the year.

HOME EC CLUB COUNCIL PLANS NEW PROGRAM

Plans for next year are under way by all organization heads, and the Home Economics Club is no exception. Last Wednesday, May 12, the old and new executive councils of the Home Economics Club met at Miss Noble's apartment for the annual spring council meeting. After the serving of a buffet supper, suggestions and ideas for next year's program were given.

The theme of next year's program will be "The House Around Us." Tentative programs are: Mr. Soderberg on Finishing of Woods; Mr. Ruchl on Electricity in the Home; Mr. Olson on Construction of Homes; Treasure Lins on Selecting your Trouseau; Mary Dettler on her trip to Denmark.

A new handbook of the College Clubs Department of the American Home Economics Association is being ordered for the officers of the organization. Next year membership cards will be made to order for the club and given out in the fall. A new system of taking roll call at meetings will also be established. The system will be run on the same order as convocation roll calls.

Record dances, style shows, and food sales are again on the agenda. Beginning with the dance to welcome the freshmen in the fall, the Home Economics Club promises to have a busy and worthwhile year.

Looking forward to next year brings back memories of this past year's activities. The Home Economics Club Executive Council wishes to thank all members for the splendid cooperation that was received. Without the cooperation of all the members, this year would not have been the successful one that it was.

DIETETIC CLUB DINES AT ANDERSON HOTEL

Members of the Dietetic Club journeyed to the Anderson Hotel at Wabasha, Minnesota for their annual senior dinner on Sunday afternoon, May 16. A delicious dinner was served from a large tray that was passed several times during the meal. After the meal a scenic trip along Lake Pepin was taken. The drive was taken along the lake shore as far as Lake City. Beautiful weather contributed to the enjoyment of the day.

Dear Alumni:

Another school year is rapidly drawing to a close, and in a few weeks, the class of 1954 will pass into history. We hope that The Stout Institute Alumni have guided some of the talented high school graduating seniors to the doors of their alma mater to become a part of its class of 1958.

This year, through a series of Stoutonia articles, your Alumni Scholarship Committee has tried to give you information that would be of help to you in giving guidance to prospective students. It is our hope that you will never cease to acquaint young men and women interested in industrial arts and home economics of the advantages an education at The Stout Institute has to offer to them.

We wish to extend our most sincere thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Eriksen for their help on the committee, to Dr. Robert Rudiger for his suggestions and guidance to our committee, and to Dr. Iverson for his help in supplying necessary materials.

Sincerely yours,
Mr. and Mrs. Omer Benn,

The M.A.P. held their annual spring picnic at Point Comfort Sunday, May 16. Old and new members and under-studies took part in the picnic which consisted of grilled cheeburgers, potato chips, milk, and ice cream.

having attended the University of Minnesota.

Now that he's finally achieved the eminence of being the pioneer instructor on the Stout faculty, Mr. Milnes' reaction is one of fond reminiscence: "I'm leaving Stout feeling that I've been associated with a wonderful faculty and a fine institution. My memories of Stout will always be pleasant ones."

As for his future after retirement, Mr. Milnes says, "I'm in sound health and I plan on getting into something that will keep me active, both physically and mentally. And in my spare time, I'll visit my three children in Kansas City, Rogersville, Tennessee, and Portland, Oregon."

As his 45 years of classroom and laboratory teaching draw to a close Harold Cooper Milnes feels that he has amassed an inexhaustible fund of good wishes and of pleasant associations with his students:

"Among enjoyable experiences which I have had in the last few years has been receiving Christmas cards and other remembrances from students whom I have had the opportunity to instruct and later start on the road toward a happy future. That part of my teaching career is the recompense which will give me comfort and happiness in all my days of retirement."

MR. MILNES will be hanging up his work clothes for the last time as he is doing above.

HOTEL MARION

LYNWOOD RESIDENTS ENJOY DINNER MAY 15

On May 15th, 1954, the Lynwood Hall residents held their first spring banquet in the spacious dining room of the Hotel Marion. The dinner, which consisted of turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, peas, and a dessert of ice cream, began at 6:30 p.m.

The committee in charge of arrangements consisted of Lee Johnson, Morry Ellis, Don Prichard, and Reiny Meihnsner. Chairman of the committee was Jiggs Kuboyama.

Following the dinner a gold trophy was awarded to Mary Westrom for winning the Lynwood Hall ping-pong tournament. The presentation was made by Irvin "Red" Carpenter.

Bob Olstrom took over the duty of entertainment and played several accordion selections.

President Fryklund then showed colored slides of his trip to Japan. He snapped the pictures while he was on special duty with the United States Army in 1948. The scenes depicted Washington D.C., San Francisco, Hawaii, and Japan.

Honored guests present at the event were President Verne C. Fryklund, Dean and Mrs. Merle M. Price, and Mrs. Smith.

Dancing was the grand finale of the Lynwood dinner. Music was furnished by Glenn Miller and his orchestra, through the courtesy of the R. C.A. Victor recording company.

A total of ninety eight guests attended the elaborate banquet and helped to make it a complete success.

I'M A NATURE LOVER

Though often I stroll through the meadow,
The same thing will happen, I vow:
I'll scan the blue sky, when a lark sings above,
And step where there's been a cow!

Every young man should realize there is a big difference in yearning for a young woman before and earning for her after.

Y.W.C.A. HOLDS PICNIC AT RIVERSIDE PARK

The annual picnic honoring the graduating seniors was Wednesday, May 12, at Riverside Park. The lake on a beautiful sunny evening made a perfect setting for the songfest which followed the picnic supper of weiners, potato chips, potato salad, cheerios, and pop.

Installation of officers was a very important part of the evening. Miss McCallmont conducted the installation ceremony and also gave a little talk to the parting seniors.

Miss Lenice Larkin, the guest and Regional YWCA representative from the Geneva region gave an enlightening talk on the history of the YWCA and made the members all feel even more proud that they were a part of such a worthy world-wide organization.

HISTORIC LIFE OF OUR SCHOOL'S FOUNDER

First National Bank Gives Paper Facts On Life of James Stout

As part of its 75th Diamond Jubilee, the First National Bank in Menomonie presents to Stoutonia readers some phases of the life of James Huff Stout, founder of The Stout Institute, who at the time of his death on December 8, 1910 was president of the First National Bank, having served since 1906.

A resolution passed by the Board of Directors at the time says in part, "Mr. Stout was a man fully understood by but a few, but he was one of the noblest characters that has ever touched our lives, and he has always proved to be a benefit to every life with whom he came in contact."

James Huff Stout was born September 25, 1848 at Dubuque, Iowa, the son of Henry L. and Evelyn Deming Stout. In his ancestry were men and women of pioneer spirit, intellectual strength and great business ability. He was educated in the schools of Dubuque and spent some time at the old University of Chicago.

In 1871 he joined the organization of the Knapp Stout and Co., one of the largest lumbering concerns in the country, with headquarters in Menomonie, Wisconsin. He worked in the several branches of the industry at Dubuque, at Reed's Landing in Wisconsin, and in St. Louis before coming to Menomonie in 1889 to make his home here. He had also spent two years in Washington, D. C. in connection with lumbering legislation and made many friendships there which were helpful to him in his later work in educational fields.

In St. Louis he became interested in the manual training classes taught in the public schools, and through helping several boys financially and observing their educational improvement during the new type of schooling, he came to the conclusion that instruction of various sorts could be given along with the academic work

BETTY KLEBER GIVES DANCING LESSONS

Many little feet have danced one coed through Stout Institute. This coed is Betty Kleber, who has earned her college education by giving dancing lessons to Menomonie's younger generation. She began dancing at the age of six and took lessons for a time from the MacPhail School of Music in Minneapolis, Minnesota. She began teaching dancing when she was a Sophomore at Stout.

Betty gives lessons in ballet, toe and tap dancing every Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in coordination with the Menomonie School of Music. She teaches about 40 students ranging in age from 2½-15 years. Since the beginning of 1954 students from the surrounding communities of Knapp, Glenwood City, and Boyceville have been given the opportunity to enroll in the classes.

A dance recital presented by Betty's students was given Saturday evening, May 22, in the Stout Auditorium. Betty was the sole director of the recital, and besides that she used her original arrangement of dance steps and designed the costumes. Novelty numbers included "Dance of the Baby Mice", "Saber Dance", and "Swanee River". Her father, George Kleber, of the original Harry Brown Shows, acted as master of ceremonies at the recital.

In addition to her dancing lessons, Betty teaches lessons in baton, sax, and clarinet.

Anyone who knows Betty knows that she enjoys her dancing classes very much, even to the extent of going without Saturday lunch. Betty adds, "I've enjoyed working with these young dancers very much and will miss them next year."

Betty, a senior from Amery, Wisconsin, will receive her B.S. in Home Economics education in June. She has signed a contract to teach Home Economics in Grantsburg High School next year.

Meet at 8:15 for the processional Undergraduates Auditorium Seniors Tearoom Faculty Harvey Memorial

To the Seniors:

Very shortly you will become alumni of The Stout Institute. Your relationship with the college will become considerably less close. The familiar paths you have taken for the last four years will become part of your memories. We who are alumni of Stout formed an organization some years ago called The Stout Institute Alumni Association. Our national office is here on campus and we have chapters in a number of cities in the Midwest. Through our organization the Stoutonia is mailed to former students. A newsletter is issued periodically with items concerning your former classmates. Homecoming activities are sponsored and individual chapters sponsor local meetings.

Each of you is given a one year complimentary membership in the alumni association upon graduation. Your only responsibility in obtaining it is to let us know your address. At one of the rehearsals for graduation you will be given a post card addressed to us. As soon as you know where you are going to be next year fill out the card and mail it. If you are not sure of your plans for next year, give us your home address so that we can start your Stoutonia with the first issue next fall.

May we hear from you soon?

GLORIA VOIGT TO TRAVEL TO SAN FRANCISCO

Gloria Voigt, president of the Stout Institute Home Economics club, will attend the national American Home Economics Association convention in San Francisco on July 6-9. Gloria will be among the 3000 home economists in all occupational groups of the home economics field who will gather to discuss the convention's theme, "Today's Challenge to the Home Economist."

That theme will be discussed in five subject matter areas of home economics: (1) foods and health, (2) textiles and clothing, (3) family relations and child development, (4) home management, and (5) housing and household equipment. These discussions will be held during the general session.

Miss Voigt is a junior from Reedsville, Wisconsin, and is majoring in home economics education at The Stout Institute. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Alpha social sorority and is "Alpha Girl" of that chapter, an honor awarded for outstanding leadership, scholarship, and participation in activities. Gloria is editor of Phi Upsilon, an active member in Alpha Psi Omega, and a reporter on the Stoutonia Staff. She was president of her freshman class and counselor of a girls' dormitory during her sophomore year.

Gloria has contributed much to the Stout Home Economics club. As a freshman, she was active on the finance, senior breakfast, and style show committees. She was treasurer during her sophomore year. Gloria became president-elect of the Home Economics club, and just recently she has assumed duties of president.

Proceeds from the club's recent card sale were designated to the fund for an AHEA delegate from The Stout Institute. The completion of a successful Home Economics club year has also made this trip possible for Gloria.

COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD FRIDAY, JUNE 4

CAROL LUNDEEN WINS HOME EC SCHOLARSHIP

Recipient of the annual Wisconsin Home Economics association scholarship for 1954-55 is Carol Lundeen, Stout Institute sophomore from Frederic. She was chosen by a faculty committee who reviewed the records of many outstanding home economics students in all colleges offering home economics in Wisconsin.

Now in training to become a teacher of home economics, Miss Lundeen has put her homemaking training and aptitude into practice by managing a household for her father and two brothers. She holds a rigorous summer job, but in spite of these responsibilities, has maintained a 2.6 grade point average in college, out of a possible perfect 3 point average.

Accepting the award for Miss Lundeen at the recent Stevens Point meeting of the Wisconsin Home Economics association meeting was Gloria Voigt, Stout junior from Reedsville. Dean of the home economics division at Stout, in which Miss Lundeen is enrolled, is Dr. Alice J. Kirk.

Frederic high school will next year become a Stout Institute home economics cadet teaching center. The Stout division of home economics will work closely with Frederic high school in further development of the present home economics program at the high school.

NOTICE

All girls attending the Home Economics Club breakfast should meet at the school by 8:15.

FROM THE EDITOR'S DESK

The last time you, a Stout Senior, greet your friends in the union, the last time you enter a clothing lab and thread a needle on a machine, the last time you eat in the cafeteria, the last time you make a dash to get to a shop on time, the last time you ride on the elevator—these are your thoughts on the last day of school as a Stout Student. Yes, you are sad remembering the moments of your college career. But, ahead lies graduation with a college degree, the goal of your youth and a doorway to a world of unlimited opportunity. It's up to you as a 1954 Stout senior to make your future life a success or failure. Good luck!

SSA MESSAGE

Dear Graduates,
It seems to be the fate of all graduates to listen to speeches of praise and promise—to hear wishes of good luck and success. And when the time of speeches is over and you march up to the platform in your cap and gown, you will come to the full realization that you're about to leave Stout. You will remember the past four years—the study, the fun, the hard work—and you begin to remember all you've done. You look around and see the friends you will leave behind.

Yes, and we who stay behind will be sorry to see you go. You're kind of an institution to us. We've known you for 2 or 3 years, and yet we look to you as guides. Your position as a senior is something for which we too strive. The goal which you have reached is the one we hope to reach someday too.

We'll miss you. In ten years we won't recognize some of your faces or remember your names, but, nevertheless, you'll remain in the back of our memories. You'll be the boy we doubled with the night of the all-school mixer—or the girl who sat next to us in class.

We don't want you to leave, but you must. We'll remember the good times we've had with you—and that will be your gift to us—a pleasant thought about each and everyone of you. And so we say good-bye, Seniors. May you always find life full of joy.

Sincerely,
Stout Student Association

The annual "Green Up" picnic for members of the Phi Sigma Epsilon Fraternity was held Saturday, May 22, at Boy Scout Island. It marked the close of social activities for the fraternity for the school year.

Members of the organization spent the afternoon playing softball and enjoying refreshments provided for the occasion.

GRADUATE MEN'S CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

Taking advantage of the warm springtime weather, the Graduate Men's Club enjoyed their annual spring picnic at Wakanda Park last Tuesday afternoon.

All members and guests wearing ties were informed about the long standing custom of the Graduate Men's Club, namely no ties allowed to be worn at picnics.

This custom was amiably enforced by a distinguished member of the faculty to the extent that two ties were hastily discarded.

A luncheon of baked beans, ham sandwiches, potato chips, pretzels, pickles, and coffee was served at the close of the picnic.

PHI U'S HONOR SENIORS AT DINNER MEETING

Representatives of the alumnae chapter and members of Tau Chapter of Phi U bid farewell to the seniors at a dinner which was held last Monday evening at Jean's Supper Club. Guest speaker was President Frylund. Other talks were given by Dean Kirk, Joan Fairweather and Kay Weidner.

Each of the seniors also told where she would be going and what she expects to be doing next year.

Following the dinner, the seniors went to the home of Dean Kirk where they were initiated into the alumnae chapter.

E.P.T. PICNIC IS HELD AT WAKANDA PARK

The annual E.P.T. picnic, held last Monday afternoon at Wakanda Park, turned out to be a great success. The married men engaged the bachelors in a softball game and trounced them 14 to 7 in the first game. But, the single men, having far more endurance, defeated the married men in the second game by a score of 23 to 21.

The playoff was interrupted by the call to lunch. Robert Ruporeich, chairman of the picnic committee, had arranged a picnic luncheon of baked beans, potato salad, ham sandwiches, pickles, coffee, pop, and ice cream sundae.

The group had the largest attendance, percentage wise, that they have had in several years.

Hear about the gal who stepped out with a lumberman and ended up with a little shaver?

A supper in honor of the Alpha Sigma Alpha seniors was held Thursday in the tearoom.

The seniors were presented with gift certificates from the organization.

Immediately following the supper a business meeting was held. Reports were given by Dorothy Brownell, Colleen Ceminsky and Vera Dunn; who attended a meeting at De Kalb University, De Kalb, Illinois. Also plans were discussed for the coming year. Ann Shemick, ASA Panhellenic representative reported on meetings of that group.

LETTER TO ALUMNI

Dear Alumni:

Again we are drawing to the close of another successful year of activities in our organization. It has been a busy year with many things being accomplished.

The filing system of alumni addresses was changed to facilitate mailing services. Successful alumni gatherings were held at homecoming, the WEA Convention in Milwaukee, and the AVA Convention in Chicago. One issue of the Newsletter was sent to all members and another issue is now in the hands of the printers.

This year we started offering life memberships on an installment basis and more than forty members took advantage of the plan. In addition to this, six other persons purchased full life memberships. This is the greatest yearly growth in life memberships that our organization has ever witnessed. More than a hundred of our married members have converted to the new joint membership plan, thereby saving money and at the same time enabling us to better keep our files up-to-date.

An information blank was sent to all alumni and excellent cooperation was received. As a result of this splendid response we were able to present a greatly improved alumni news section in the Stoutonia each week. A change was also made in the selection of alumni scholarship award winners in order to better coordinate our presentation with the over all plan of the college.

Local alumni chapters continued to be active this year with a new chapter being organized in the immediate surrounding Chicago area.

Special thanks are due to Omar Benn and the Scholarship Committee, Herb Anderson and Phil Ruehl of the Local Chapters Committee, Bob Swanson of the Membership Committee, Dick Klatt of the Auditing Committee, and Ellen Nelson of the Life Membership Committee.

May you have a pleasant summer. Plan now to take part in next years alumni activities.

Sincerely,
Bob Rudiger
Alumni Secretary

with special benefit to the students.

He paid special attention, too, to the Manual Training School at Toledo, which was the first in the country to offer courses to girls as well as boys on the secondary plane in connection with high school.

Mr. Stout loved children and believed that each boy and girl had an inherent right to receive the best, well-rounded education possible. He made the statement, "There are plenty of men with large means ready and able to give for the maintenance of higher education. What little money I have to give I wish to put into the elementary and secondary fields."

To the Board of Education in Menomonie in October, 1890, Mr. Stout presented a proposition to place upon the school grounds—a building of proper kind and size, furnished with all the equipments necessary for the instruction of classes of boys and girls in the subjects included in the manual training. I will also pay the salaries of the necessary teachers, the cost of all necessary materials and supplies and all the contingent expenses for three terms—except such a part thereof as shall be paid by $500, which is to be provided by the Board of Education."

This proposition was accepted and a building was erected on the high school grounds to serve a probationary stage. It consisted of two stories, equipped to serve the boys on the first floor and the girls on the second. Two teachers for the girls and one for the boys were secured from Toledo Manual Training School. The school opened January 5, 1891 teaching woodworking and mechanical drawing for the boys, and cooking and sewing for the girls.

In the second year of the school's existence there was a tremendous interest shown in the growing enterprise, and it was soon concluded that a new building must be erected which would be much bigger and contain additional classrooms for other phases of manual training and domestic science work. The new building was erected in 1893 at the expense of possibly $100,000 which was borne entirely by Stout. Its equipment was splendid, including every appliance known at that time for teaching wood and iron work, mechanical drawing, domestic arts, pen, pencil, and charcoal drawing, as well as painting in water color and oil.

In 1897 this manual training school building and the high school were burned to the ground. While the personal loss to Stout was about $60,000, he offered at once to put up another training school if the City of Menomonie would spend another $60,000 to erect a suitable high school. The city agreed and in September of 1898 the new school was opened for school classes. This time the two buildings were built of red brick with a bridge joining them at the second floor. All classes were under the city school system, and all matters of administration of the manual training courses and building were under the control of the Board of Education. Mr. Stout was repeatedly elected school commissioner-at-large and served continuously as president of the board. Thus, from the standpoint of donor and public representative he presided over and shaped the policy of the school.

In 1901 Stout erected and paid for the natatorium and gymnasium at an expense to him of $80,000 and employed teachers to take charge of physical education for the public schools. This building was a community center, too, being used by the Commercial Club and several women's organizations.

In 1903 The Stout Training schools for the preparation of teachers of manual training and domestic science were organized. Two men and twenty-three women were enrolled. Prof. Lorenzo Dow Harvey, former state superintendent of schools, and through the efforts of Stout now the city superintendent of schools in Menomonie, was placed in charge of this training of teachers in the two fields.

Separation of the Stout Training Schools from the school system of Menomonie was accomplished in 1908 after a survey which indicated that financial maintenance of this feature of the system would always entail a deficit which would be a heavy expenditure for the city to bear. Up to this time Stout had always paid the deficits. It was recommended by Harvey that provision for the future should be made through a separate corporate body under the management of a Board of Trustees for The Stout Institute.

Before any definite arrangement for personal financial support could be made, Mr. Stout died on December 8, 1910 without leaving a will to indicate the disposition of his estate. Up to the time of death, he had spent over $500,000 on the schools. It was the desire of Mrs. Stout and the other heirs that the Stout school should pass into the control of the state and become a part of its educational system. This was accomplished in 1911, and today The Stout Institute is a member of the school system in the state of Wisconsin.

In Dunn County, he worked to found the Agricultural and Normal schools, trained teachers in kindergarten work, equipped and maintained thirty-five traveling libraries, served as trustee of Mabel Tainter Memorial Library and of the County Asylum Board, built a piece of road named Stout Road after him, served as president of the First National Bank and a number of other local organizations, and took great pride in his lumbering interests.

While he was a man of wealth, he believed in unselfish service to others, making real plans for his philanthropic ventures. He was careful as to details, gave and expected a square deal. His main thought was to help humanity at large through the individual. Although he personally is no longer here, the influence of his school and its graduates is felt throughout the world.

Gary Gore, Sauk City senior, was honored by the Stout Typographical Society. Carol Schilstra, Sheboygan, won the annual achievement recognition of the college newspaper. Honors for the college yearbook went to Charles Houge, Houston, Minn.

Fraternity and sorority honors, for scholarship and professional standards, were awarded as follows: Sigma Sigma Sigma, Nancy Dexheimer, Sheboygan; Delta Kappa, Willis Capps, Alma; Pallas Athene, Judy Day, Ashland; Hyperion, Gloria Voigt, Reedsville. Stephen Hanson won the Phi Omega Beta award to the outstanding junior athlete.

Award of Phi Upsilon Omicron, national honorary home economics organization, went to Ellen Steinhoff, Wilton freshman coed, for high scholarship and other professional attributes. Epsilon Pi Tau, national honor society in industrial education, recognized the professional qualities of Marvin Kreuger, Wausau senior.

Presentation of the senior gift, money to be spent on the memorial browsing room of Stout's new library, was made by James Kichefski, Rhinelander. A tribute to the senior class was paid by Jerome Sommer, Thiensville. Lawrence Styer, Menomonie, senior class president, passed the traditional torch of learning to George Fink, president of the junior class.

National recognition of their college achievements, by nomination to "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities," was received by the following:

SENIOR GIRLS OFFER HELP IN CHILD CARE

Does your child have temper tantrums? Does he refuse to eat? Do you have trouble getting him off to bed at night?

Senior women enrolled in the child guidance course at The Stout Institute are considering these and many more topics on the care and guidance of the pre-schooler. Some of the oral reports given by the students in this class have been taped for radio and will be given in a child guidance services that can be heard over WMNE at one o'clock on Saturday afternoons.

These talks were prepared as a class project requiring oral reports on some phase of child care or guidance. This project helps the students to gain a better understanding of the young child, and aids them in their work in the Stout Nursery School. It helps them to find available information on problems of child care. All of the women in this course are home economics students preparing for teaching.

OUTSTANDING STUDENTS RECEIVE RECOGNITION.

Outstanding students at Stout Institute were recently recognized at the annual Honors Day and Senior Recognition ceremonies. Dr. Verne C. Fryklund, president of the college, presided. Dorothy Belisle and Carol Schilstra, Stout coeds, provided music during the event.

Winners of the Alpha Psi Omega awards for outstanding work in dramatics were Larry Loveland, Madison, freshman award, and Sam Mikitarian, Bettendorf, Ia., senior award. Mary Lois Anderson, Racine, received the Dietetics club gift for outstanding professional and personal qualities.

Recipient of the award of the Home makers' club of South Milwaukee was Patricia Seibert, Milwaukee freshman.
